NOTIFICATION.

The 28th December 1880.—The following statement of the boundaries of the Barrackpore Cantonment is published for general information:—

No.	DESCRIPTION.	OBSERVED BEARINGS.		CALCULATED BEARINGS.		DISTANCE TO NEXT PILLAR.
		Front.	Back.	Front.	Back.	Measured.	Calculated.
1	Situated on the bank of the river Hooghly at the south-west corner of the compound of house No. 19 near Mistry (thāt, about 100 feet east of the main drain west of the cantonment. Four bearings have been taken from this pillar: 1st, to north-west corner of the north out-house to No 18 riverside house; near gateway of compound of No. 19; it bears 92°13'20" and its distance 379 feet; 2nd, to north-west corner of house No. 19 riverside road; it bears 115°36'40" and its distance 187½ feet; 3rd, to south-west corner of the same; it bears 125°9'10" and its distance 196 feet; and 4th, to the steeple of the Sreerampore Church on the other side of the river, it bears 161°57'. The boundary line runs east-north-east to pillar No. 2, which is invisible from No. 1 on account of out-house to No. 19 house being in the way.	65°32'	465 ½
2	Situated on the south bank of the main drain and on the north berme of the road leading to Monerampore water-works, and east of the culvert over the drain across the same road. The boundary runs east by south, and follows the north berme of the road excluding the main drain.	99°11'50"	245°32'	158
3	Situated on the north of the pucca road leading to the Monerampore water-works at south-west corner of house No. 67, and on south of the main drain. The boundary line runs north-east by north to pillar No. 4, across the compound of houses Nos 67 and 68.	32°41'20"	279°11'50"	427
4	Situated on the north west corner of the compound of house No. 68 and on east bank of the drain at the extremity of the road leading to the house No. 68. The boundary line runs north-north-east to pillar No. 5.	25°53'	212°41'20"	450
5	Situated on east bank of the drain at south-east corner formed by the intersection of the drain and the Moolia mahal road leading to Gantee, and nearly 42 feet south-west of the Lal Beebie's musjeed. The boundary line follows the east bank of the drain, excluding it from cantonment, and runs north by east to pillar No. 6.	14°31'40"	205°53'0"	124
6	Situated at the inner angle of a bend of the main west drain north west of the Lal Beebie's musjeed and south of the Suddar Bazar south latrines for the natives. The boundary line runs west-north-west to next pillar, and follows the north bank of the above drain, thus excluding it from the cantonment.	292°14'50"	191°31'40"	116½
7	Situated at the inner angle of a bend of the main west drain south-west of the Suddar Bazar south latrines for the native. The boundary line runs north by east to next pillar, and follows the east bank of the above drain, thus excluding it from the cantonment.	16°9'0"	112°11'50"	154½
8	Situated at the inner angle of the bend of the main west drain of the cantonment north-west of the Suddar Bazar south latrines for the natives. The boundary line runs east by south to the next pillar, and follows the south bank of the above drain, thus excluding it from the cantonment.	98°9'0"	196°9'0"	149
9	Situated at the inner angle of a bend of the main west drain of the cantonment north-east of the Suddar Bazar south latrines for the natives. The boundary line runs north-north-east to the next pillar, and follows the east bank of the above drain, thus excluding it from the cantonment.	23°28'40"	278°9'0"	311

No.	DESCRIPTION.	OBSERVED BEARINGS.		CALCULATED BEARINGS.		DISTANCE TO NEXT PILLAR.
		Front.	Back.	Front.	Back.	Measured.	Calculated.
10	Situated on the east bank of the main west drain of the cantonment at south-east corner formed by crossing of the Kumarpara road leading to Moneranipore and the above drains. The boundary line runs north-east to the next pillar and follows the east bank of the drain.	39°2'40"	203°28'40"	253
11	Situated on the east bank of the main west drain of the cantonment at north-west corner of a small tank. The boundary line runs south-east by east to the next pillar.	120°4'10"	219°2'40"	77
12	Situated at the north-east corner of the above small tank. The boundary line runs north-east by north to the next pillar.	38°39'10"	300°4'10"	207
13	Situated on west bank of the Suddar Bazar Dhoobee tank. The boundary line runs north-east by north to pillar No. 11.	32°8'10"	218°39'10"	161
14	Situated on middle of the west bank of the Suddar Bazar Dhoobee tank. The boundary line runs west-north-west to pillar No. 15.	290°23'10"	212°8'10"	306
15	Situated at the outer angle of a bend of the main west drain of the cantonment. The boundary line runs west-north-west to the next pillar, and follows the south bank of the above drain, including it into cantonment.	289°11'10"	110°23'16"	117½
16	Situated at the outer angle of a bend of the main west drain of the cantonment. The boundary line runs north-north-east to the next pillar, and follows the west bank of the above drain, including it inside the cantonment.	22°30'20"	109°11'10"	151½
17	Situated at the outer angle of a bend of the main west drain of the cantonment. The boundary line runs east-south-east and crosses the above drain to the next pillar; thus a portion of it is inside and a portion outside the cantonment.	109°1'20"	202°30'20"	50½
18	Situated at the inner angle of a bend of the main west drain of the cantonment. The boundary line runs north-north-east and crosses the above drain; thus a portion of it is outside and a portion inside the cantonment.	24°9'50"	289°1'20"	248
19	Situated on west side of the main west drain of the cantonment. The boundary line runs east, and follows the west bank of the drain, thus including it inside the cantonment.	89°56'50"	204°9'50"	58
20	Situated at the outer angle of a bend of the main drain. The boundary line runs east-south-east and crosses the above drain; thus a portion of it between the next pillar is excluded.	114°19'50"	263°36'50"	329½
21	Situated at the outer angle of a bend of the main west drain of the cantonment. The boundary line runs north-north-east and follows the east bank of the above drain, which is excluded from the cantonment.	27°21'20"	294°19'50"	115½
22	Situated at the inner angle of a bend of the main west drain of the cantonment at north of the Suddar Bazar Allegole. The boundary line runs east by south, crosses the drain, passes through a tiled lot north of it, then recrosses the same, and then follows its south bank to pillar No. 23.	207°21'20"	98°34'	521-3
23	Situated on the south bank of the main drain at north-east of Suddar Bazar Allegole, close to the culvert across the Suddar Bazar road over the main drain, which from this point runs east towards the north of the left N. I. line. Here the boundary line deviates from the main drain, crosses it, then follows the west border of a kutchra road leading to Dheetara, it runs north to pillar No. 24.	5°10'30"	278°34'	299
24	Situated on south-east corner formed by the junction of the kutchra road from Suddar Bazar Nyabastee with the Dheetarah kutchra road. This pillar bears to the cross fixed over the west gateway of the new cemetery 77°48'30". The boundary line runs north-east by east along the side of the kutchra road to pillar No. 25, which is not visible.	35°11'0"	185°10'30"	135

Examination of Candidates for Pleadership and Mooktearship in Mofussil Courts subordinate to the High Court.

The next examination of candidates for Mooktearship will be held on the 28th and 29th of January next at Calcutta, Patna, Dacca, Cuttack, and Gowhatti.

The examination for Pleadership, will be held at Calcutta and Gowhatti on the same days.

The Calcutta Examination will be held in the Senate House of the Calcutta University, and will commence at 10 A. M. punctually on each of the above days.

No candidates will, under any circumstances, be admitted to the examination-room after 10 A. M.

The candidates will be required to produce at the examination the extracts from the register which will be furnished to them by the District Judges through whom their applications have been sent to the Board of Examiners.

The candidates will also be required to produce receipts for the portion of their fees not paid by them at the time of sending in their applications.

H. T. HYDE,
Offg. Secy. to the Board of Examiners, Pleadership and Mooktearship.

Department Public Works Half-yearly Examination

The half-yearly examination of candidates for promotion and employment in the Public Works Department will be held at the Government Engineering College, Howrah, at 10 o'clock, on Monday, the 7th February 1881, and the following days. Applications, with fees for admission to the examination, are required to be filed before the 15th of January 1881. Candidates for the grade of Accountant who are not in Government service should be under 25 years of age, and must prove to the satisfaction of the Principal that they are under that age.

The following are the centres of examination sanctioned by the Government of India as stations where candidates for Fourth Grade Accountantships are to appear for examination:—

Agra, Ajmere, Ahmedabad, Allahabad, Akyab, Balaram, Durbhunga, Howrah, Indore, Jabalpur, Lucknow, Lahore, Mhow, Moulton, Mount Abou, Meerut, Nagpore, Neemuch, Rawalpindi, Rangoon, Saidpore, Shillong, and Simla.

Candidates for the Accountant's examination are therefore requested to select one of the places mentioned above.

The 8th December 1880.

S. F. DOWNING,
Principal, Government Engineering College, Howrah.

Orders by the Vice-Chancellor and Syndicate of the Calcutta University.

• The following are the conditions of sale:—

1.—The Opium will be sold for exportation by sea only, and no certificate will be granted except to cover such export.

2.—The Opium will be ordinarily offered for sale at an upset price of Rs. 800 per chest and sold to the highest bidder above that price, except under the circumstances for which provision is made by Clause 13 of these Conditions of Sale. The bids must advance by Rs. 5 at a time.

3.—The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A.M. of the day fixed by previous notification, and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P.M.; but if at that hour any of the lots advertised for sale shall remain unsold, the sale may, at the discretion of the Board of Revenue, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday), at the hour of 11 A.M., and so on until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of; or, if the whole quantity advertised shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Board of Revenue may dispose of the lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

4.—Each lot shall contain five chests.

5.—A Promissory Note for a sum, calculated according to the scale noted in the margin,

DEPOSIT.
When the amount bid is less than
Rs. 1,200 per chest, Rs. 900 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,200 and upwards, but less than Rs. 1,600 per chest, Rs. 300
per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,600 and upwards, but less than Rs. 2,000 per chest, Rs. 400
per chest.
And so on, Rs. 100 being added to the deposit for every bid additional, to the extent of Rs. 400.

shall be taken as a deposit on each lot from the purchaser in the sale-room and before the lot is registered in the sale-book, and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this Office by Bank of Bengal Receipts, or by substitution of other public securities of the Government of India, on or before 3-30 P.M. in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the said notes must be redeemed by 1-30 P.M. or, on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Bank of Bengal Receipts or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Board of Revenue shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

7.—The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the fifth condition, if remaining unredeemed at 3-30 P.M. of the fifth day following the day of sale, or 1-30 P.M. if the last day falls on a Saturday, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

8.—No tender of money, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or public securities, on account of opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before the prescribed time in clause 5 on the fifth day following the day of sale, will be afterwards accepted, provided always that money so subsequently tendered may be taken in payment of the said Promissory Note, but such acceptance of money shall in no way entitle the payer thereof to any right to delivery of the lot or lots in respect whereof the said note was given, or to any of the rights of a purchaser thereof, or release the payer from liability for any unpaid balance of such note or from the additional liability for the loss and expenses of such re-sale as provided for in clauses No. 5 and No. 6.

9.—The opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than by 3-30 P.M. of the fifteenth day from the day of sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the opium must be paid for by 1-30 P.M.; and in case any lots of such opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the 5th condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Board of Revenue shall think fit; and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good all expenses and any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale, and the liability for the loss or difference of price and expenses shall be in addition to, and wholly independent of, the amount of the deposit so forfeited.

10.—Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of opium after making full payment as above prescribed shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots, or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests originally required to be included in each certificate or order.

11.—No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present conditions will be received in this Office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale-book, or his authorized agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

12.—The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall, on demand tender at the time a deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or Government Securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these conditions.

13.—With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually until a bid is obtained, and the first bonâ fide bidder for a lot after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 800 specified in the second of these conditions.

14.—The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same Agency opium not exceeding altogether twenty-five lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the opium to complete the said twenty-five.

15.—In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

16.—The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue:—No. 1, certificate of the opium advertised for sale; No. 2, report of the examination of such opium.

17.—The public are hereby informed that, in providing the investment of the opium manufactured at the Patna factory and the opium manufactured at the Ghazee pore factory for the year 1879-80, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug when packed at the Patna and Ghazee pore factories, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken for the purpose of comparison from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue.

18.—The attention of the public is particularly drawn to the fact that of the aforesaid 15,201 chests of the opium manufactured at the Ghazee pore factory, of the season 1878-79, 1,729 chests consist of opium specially manufactured at a consistence of 75°, and also to the fact that the ordinary opium manufactured at the Ghazee pore factory of that season is of unusually high consistence. The numbers and the distinctive marks of the 1,729 chests of 75° consistence will be duly mentioned in the notifications of the sales in which they will be brought forward.

19.—Any further information respecting weight or quality of the opium advertised for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue. But, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Board of Revenue entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the opium for shipment.

20.—It is hereby further notified that under the 6th Article of the Convention between Great Britain and France, dated the 7th March 1815, quoted below, the Agents in India of the French Government, or persons duly appointed by them, are entitled to demand that out of the quantities of opium manufactured at the Patna and Ghazee pore factories declared as above for sale at the twelve sales of the year 1881, there shall be delivered to them, at the average of the particular sale or sales to which the opium so applied for may belong, a quantity not exceeding in the aggregate 300 chests, and the Agents of the French Government must make requisition specifying the quantity of opium required by them at any particular sale within thirty days from the advertisement of such intended sale: provided, however, that the Agent of the French Government may make such requisition for the whole quantity within thirty days from the publication of this notification. If the Agent of the French Government shall not make the requisition for opium within the time above mentioned, the entire quantity of about 56,400 chests of opium manufactured at the Patna and Ghazee pore factories, as above estimated, will be brought to sale in the usual manner; and if they shall make application for a quantity of opium to be delivered to them out of the quantity advertised for sale at each or any of the twelve sales above mentioned, but shall not pay for it within the prescribed period of payment, the Government of Bengal reserves to itself the right of disposing of the opium which the French Authorities may so fail to pay for, either by increasing the quantity reserved at the sale next ensuing after the date fixed for payment, or by selling such opium, or any portion of it at any subsequent monthly sale in addition to the quantity which in this advertisement is approximately mentioned as the quantity to be sold at such sale; or by selling such opium at a sale to be held expressly for the purpose.

Article of the Convention above referred to.

Article VI.—"With regard to the trade in opium, it is agreed between the high contracting parties that at each of the periodical sales of that article there shall be reserved for the French Government, and delivered upon requisition duly made by the Agents of His Most Christian Majesty, or by the persons duly appointed by them, the number of chests so applied for, provided that such supply shall not exceed three hundred chests in each year, and the price for the same shall be determined by the average rate at which opium shall have been sold at every such periodical sale, it being understood that if the quantity of opium applied for at any one time shall not be taken on account of the French Government by the Agents of His Most Christian Majesty within the usual period of delivery, the quantity so applied for shall nevertheless be considered as so much in reduction of the three hundred chests hereinbefore mentioned. The requisitions for opium, as aforesaid, are to be addressed to the Governor-General at Calcutta within thirty days after notice of the intended sales shall have been published in the Government Gazette."

Of the 2,350 chests of the opium manufactured at the Gazeepore Factory, 500 are of a consistence of 75°. The usual consistence of the opium manufactured at the Gazeepore Factory is 70°. These 500 chests are numbered 18947 to 19446, and are marked with a red x on each end.

2. The general conditions of the sale now advertised will be the same as usual. They may be ascertained by reference to the Notification issued on the 4th December 1880, and published in the Government and Exchange Gazettes, or on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue.

3. The latest dates for deposit and clearance will be the 7th and 16th February 1881, respectively, that is to say, no Bank of Bengal Receipts, Government Promissory Notes, or other public securities that may be tendered for deposit in redemption of Promissory Notes given by purchasers in the Sale-room will be received after 3-30 P.M. of Monday, the 7th February 1881, and no Bank of Bengal Receipts in full payment of lots will be accepted after 3-30 P.M. of Wednesday, the 16th February 1881.

4. The following table shows the quantity of opium that will be brought to sale in the next twelve months. The Board of Revenue, however, reserve to themselves the right of altering these dates should circumstances render it expedient to do so:—

No. 713.—VOLUNTEER CORPS—*Darjeeling Volunteer Rifle Corps.*Mr. R. M. Waller, Commandant, to be Major,— 19th October, 1880.RETIREMENTS.The 1st January, 1881.No. 1.—With the sanction of Her Majesty's Government, the Right Hon'ble the Governor General in Council is pleased to notify that :—I. During the year 1881 ninety (90) officers of the Staff Corps, and Cavalry and Infantry of the Indian Army, will be permitted to retire from the service, receiving, in addition to the pension to which they may be entitled by length of service under existing regulations, not exceeding the full-pay pension of a Colonel (£456-5-0 per annum), an annuity representing the estimated value of their prospective claim to the Colonel's allowance, or its capitalized value as they may prefer.II. This offer is restricted to substantive Lieutenant-Colonels who shall have completed 28 years' service, from the date of first commission, on or before the date from which they apply to retire, who may either, 1st, have been appointed to one of the Staff Corps on or before the 12th September 1866, and can claim the Colonel's allowance under the provisions of G. G. O. No. 808 of the 26th September 1866, or 2ndly, may be entitled, under G. O. G. G. of the 12th September 1862, to the Colonel's allowance after 12 years' service in the rank of Lieutenant-Colonel.III. The number allowed to retire under these conditions will be distributed as follows :—

For Bengal	...	40
„ Bombay	...	20
TOTAL	...	90

In the event of the whole of the retirements allotted to a particular presidency not being taken up in that presidency, those remaining will be distributed in such manner as may be determined by the Government of India.

IV. Applications to retire will be considered and disposed of successively according to priority of proposed dates of retirement until the number of retirements allotted to the service shall have been accomplished, when retirements under this order will cease for the year. In the event of its becoming necessary to select one from among two or three applicants for retirement on the same day, preference will be given according to seniority from the date of first commission.V. Officers wishing to retire under the terms of this order must, whether in or out of India, submit their applications to the office of the Adjutant-General of their respective presidencies, through the heads of their departments, naming such prospective dates for their retirements as will admit of the receipt of their applications by the Adjutant-General on or before the date named, such date not to be earlier than the 1st April 1881.VI. Officers whose applications are accepted, will be gazetted out from the dates named by themselves, but will continue to perform their duties and receive the pay and allowances of their positions until officially informed of their removal from the effective list, either by direct communication, or by publication in the Gazette at the station at which they may be serving.

VII. Officers retiring under this arrangement will forego both the good service pension, if they are in receipt thereof, and all claim to bonus compensation under the terms of the despatch of the 8th of August 1866,* No. 160.VIII. Applicants to retire must state—1st.—Their rank and service.2nd.—Their age (supported by certificate of birth, or, in its absence, by a formal declaration).3rd.—Whether they wish to receive commutation for their prospective allowances in the shape of an annuity, or to capitalize its value; if the latter, whether they desire to receive payment of the capitalized value wholly, or in part, in India, or in England. Officers who desire to receive the capitalized value of the annuity must attach to their applications a certificate in the form given in Appendix A. In the case of officers retiring out of India, the health certificate required will be called for and furnished under instructions from the India Office in London.4th.—Their address subsequent to retirement.5th.—They must also attach to their application or arrange to forward subsequently a no-demand certificate dated within three months of the date of their proposed retirement.IX. The table given in Appendix B shows the rates at which the expectation of the Colonel's allowance will be calculated in carrying this order into effect in the case of officers of various ages and service.X. For the purpose of arriving at the amount payable in each case, whether as an annuity or in a single payment, officers' ages will be calculated from their birthday next succeeding the date from which they propose to retire, and the number of years they have to serve before becoming entitled to the Colonel's allowance will be calculated from the date of the proposed retirement. When the period to serve contains a fraction of a year, the fraction, if it be six months or under six months, will be excluded altogether; if it exceeds six months, it will be reckoned as a complete year.XI. Payments of the capitalized value of the annuity made in India under this order will be at the rate of exchange fixed for the adjustment of financial transactions between the Imperial and Indian Governments for the time being. Capitalized annuities of officers retiring in India can, on receipt of telegram announcing retirement, be paid to their agents in England, under power of attorney to be lodged at the India Office.XII. Officers who elect to receive an annuity in preference to the capital sum, will not, after their retirements have appeared in the Gazette, be allowed to capitalize such annuity under the provisions of this order; and it is to be understood that no separate applications of individual officers to retire after the present retirements have been allotted will be entertained on the basis of this order.

XIII. Officers of the half-pay list of the Staff Corps will be permitted, if disposed to retire from the service, to avail themselves of this scheme of retirement, provided they are eligible thereto by the fulfilment, previously to their transfer to the half-pay list, of all the conditions required. The time passed by an officer on the half-pay list of the Staff Corps will not count towards the 12 years in the grade of Lieutenant-Colonel required to qualify for promotion to the Colonel's allowance. XIV. No application from officers to cancel their retirement, or to change the date of such retirement, will be entertained after it has been announced in the official Gazette of the presidency to which they belong.

DIRECTIONS FOR THE USE OF THE TABLE.

Find in the marginal column to the left of the table the number of years the officer has to serve before becoming entitled to the Colonel's allowance, and then in the same line of the table the officer's age—(in column 2).

The figure in the same line to the right of this age (in column No. 3, "Annuities") shows the annuity, and the figure to the left of his age (under column No. 1, "Values,") shows the capitalized value of the annuity offered to him under this order.

EXAMPLE.—Lieutenant-Colonel A. applies to retire on the 1st April 1881. He will be 49 years of age on the 1st May 1881. He will become entitled to the Colonel's allowance on the 1st August 1886. For the purpose of making the calculation his age is 49, and the time he has to serve, for the Colonel's allowance, being five years and four months, the time he has to serve, for the purpose of the calculation under para. X of the order, is five years. The annuity offered to him is £364-8-0, and its capitalized value is £4,260.

LAND SALE NOTICES.

NOTICE is hereby given that the proprietary right of Government as specified in the conditions of sale below to the undermentioned estates situate in the district of Dacca will be put up to sale at the Dacca Collectorate on Wednesday, the 12th January 1881, corresponding with the 29th Pous 1287 B.S.

The purchasers will be subject to the following conditions of sale:—

Conditions of Sale.

1st.—The estate to be sold to the highest bidder above the upset price. The purchaser of this estate will be considered as the proprietor of the estate, and the entire proprietary right of Government in such estate will be transferred to him subject to the revenue fixed in perpetuity.

2nd.—The sale to be subject to existing leases and to the rights conferred by the settlement proceedings and by the laws in force; and purchasers to be bound to respect the rights of resident cultivators who have signed the schedule of assessment prepared by the revenue authorities.

3rd.—If the amount of purchase-money do not exceed Rs. 100, the whole amount to be paid down at once.

4th.—If the amount of purchase-money exceed Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount bid to be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by noon of the fifteenth day after the sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, or if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale to be cancelled (the sum deposited being forfeited to Government), and the estate to be again put up to sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser, after issue of advertisement, as in the case of original sale.

Pearl Fishery.

NOTICE is hereby given that a Pearl Fishery will take place at Sillavaturai in the Island of Ceylon, on or about the 20th of February 1881, and that the bank to be fished is the North-West Cheval, estimated to contain oysters sufficient to employ 100 boats for thirty days, with average loads of 10,000 oysters each per day.

It is therefore recommended that such boat owners and divers as may wish to be employed at the said fishery should be at Sillavaturai on or before the 15th February next, and it is notified that the first day's fishery will take place on or about the 20th of February, weather permitting.

The fishery will be conducted on account of Government, and the oysters put up to sale in such lots as may be deemed expedient.

The arrangements of the fishery will be the same as have been usual on similar occasions.

All payments to be made in ready money in Ceylon currency.

Drafts on the Banks in Colombo or Bills on the Agents of this Government in India at ten days' sight will be taken on letters of credit being produced to warrant the drawing of such Drafts or Bills.

For the convenience of purchasers the Treasurer at Colombo, and the different Government Agents of Provinces, will be authorized to receive cash deposits from parties intending to become purchasers, and receipts of these officers will be taken in payment of any sums due on account of the fishery.

No deposit will be received for a less sum than five hundred rupees.

By His Excellency's Command.

J. DOUGLAS, Colonial Secretary.

Amended Notice of Sale.

CALCUTTA JUTE MILLS COMPANY IN LIQUIDATION.

FOR sale at the Exchange, Calcutta, on Saturday, the 22nd day of January 1881, at the hour of noon, by Messrs. Mackenzie, Lyall and Company,

The valuable jute manufacturing business of the Calcutta Jute Mills Company, Limited, together with the lands (about 53 beeghas, more or less), buildings and machinery appertaining thereto, situate on the banks of the river Hooghly at Ishera, 14 miles from Calcutta.

Eight beeghas and two-fifths of land upon which the office of the mill premises is built are freehold.

Twenty beeghas of land are chur lands and are held in perpetual lease at an annual rental of Rs. 100.

The land (about 24 beeghas) upon which the manager's house and the mill premises are built, together with the house, is held on a perpetual lease at a rental of Rs. 100 monthly.

The land (about 7 beeghas) upon which another house for foremen, is built, together with the house, is held on a lease which expires in August 1885, the rent being Rs. 60 a month.

The buildings for manufacturing purposes are all built of brick and roofed with flat arches turned upon iron girders, and, besides having side doors and windows, there are numerous roof sky-lights to give increased light and ventilation.

The preparing and spinning rooms are driven by two pairs of compound horizontal engines each 50 H-P, and made by Messieurs Musgrave and Sons. The spinning rooms contain 3,878 spindles, and the preparing machinery is ample.

The weaving factory is driven by one compound horizontal engine of 60 H-P made by Pearse Brothers. There are 260 looms; 24 are 36" reed space and 20 are 45 reed space.

For supplying steam to these engines there are six double-flued boilers, each 30 feet long by 7 feet diameter; two are made by Musgrave and Sons and four by Pearse Brothers.

The presses are two in number, one by John Kerr and Co., Dundee, the other by Fawcett, Preston and Co. of Liverpool, who are also the makers of the set of hydraulic pumps (Watson's patent) which work these presses; in the same room are the callenders, the measuring and cutting machines, and there is ample space for storing bags loose and baled.

The mechanic's and smith's shops are well provided with machines and tools, and for driving the former there is a 15 H-P horizontal engine, but for economy the machines are driven from the factory engine.

The sewing sheds are tiled structures supported by pillars.

There are three jute godowns roofed by brick arches turned on girders supported by cast iron columns.

The following are their dimensions:—

100'	0"	×	12'	0"
88'	0"	×	41'	0"

The water-supply is drawn from the river by two portable engines driving centrifugal pumps.

There is a jetty and five covered cargo-boats.

Reserve stores which have not been issued for use in the mills to be taken by the purchaser of the mills at a valuation to be made by an independent mill-owner or manager.

Upset price exclusive of reserve stores Rs. 5,10,000.

For further particulars and inspection orders apply to Mr. A. R. McIntosh, Official Liquidator, 3, Fairlie Place, Calcutta.

Conditions of sale will be advertized shortly.

The Indian Law Reports.

Published under Authority of the Governor-General in Council.

THE Reports appear in monthly parts, published as soon as possible after the first of each month as Calcutta, Madras, Bombay and Allahabad, and will comprise four series.—one for the Calcutta High Court, a second for the Madras High Court, a third for the Bombay High Court, and a fourth for the Allahabad High Court. The cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from each High Court will be reported in the Series for that High Court. Cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from Provinces in India not subject to any High Court will be reported in the Calcutta Series.

The Parts of each Series can be had separately, or all four Parts can be had stitched into one wrapper at the option of subscribers and purchasers. It will be observed from the following statement of the terms of subscription and sale, that a considerable reduction is allowed to persons taking the complete set.

Terms of subscription, payable annually in advance.

Without postage. With postage.

NOTE.

Barometric Pressure.—The pressures in column 2 of the above table for all stations below 500 feet are reduced from those given in column 3 of the table on the previous page, by adding the weight of a column of air of the temperatures given in column 18. For stations above 500 feet, elevation the reduction is made by Captain Allan Cunningham's table, "Prof., Papers on Indian Engineering, No. CXIII." The temperatures at the sea-level are taken from column 3 of the above table.

Temperature.—The temperatures in column 3 are reduced from those in column 18 on the preceding page, by adding 1° Fahrenheit for every 450 feet.

Wind Resultant.—The resultant wind direction and its comparative predominance are calculated from the whole number of wind observations recorded during the month. The relative predominance in the direction of the resultant is given as a percentage of the whole number of observations. The direction is computed in the usual way by Lambert's formula.

Cloud.—This column gives the average proportion of clouded sky, a cloudless sky being indicated by 0, and one completely overcast by 1 0.

The above, being all comparable, afford the data for constructing a meteorological chart for the month, which will show the isobaric and isothermal lines and the resultant wind directions, which last may be represented by arrows of varying length, proportioned to the prevalence of the wind. To these may be added the rainfall from the previous tables.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the barograph and thermograph.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction and movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

METEOROLOGICAL OFFICE, INDIA,
The 3rd January 1881.

HENRY F. BLANFORD,
Meteorological Reporter to the Government of India.

Remarks on Traffic of the East Indian Railway for the five weeks ending 27th November 1880.

The approximate figures for the period are as follows:—

	Coaching.		Goods.		Total.	Material carried on revenue account, including maintenance.
	No.	Rs.	Mds.	Rs.		Mds.	Rs.
1880	786,155	12,67,114	63,85,962	29,62,370	32,29,194	18,07,701	67,535
1879	702,023	12,50,122	55,38,533	20,92,011	39,42,166
Increases	84,133	16,996	8,47,429	2,70,326	2,97,322	18,07,701	67,535
Decreases

A marked improvement is apparent in the revenue derived from both coaching and goods during November. The fluctuations in goods traffic which call for comment are:—

Increases.	Decreases.
Cotton.	Coal.
Ghee and oil.	Government stores.
Grain.	Hides and horns.
Indigo.	Railway material, Foreign.
Iron.	Saltpetre.
Jaggree.
Piece-goods.
Salt.
Seeds.
Spelter.

INCREASES.

Cotton Mds. 1,65,760 Rs. 2,21,680.
Owing to an advance of prices in the Calcutta market a considerable quantity of this staple was despatched from the stations in the North-West above Cawnpore.
Ghee and oil Mds. 2,980 Rs. 10,750.
The demand in Bengal being good, and favourable prices obtainable, despatches were heavier than usual.
Grain.

	Increase.		Decrease.
	Mds.	Rs.	Mds.	Rs.
Rice	32,140	51,670	...
Wheat	2 26,170	17,330
Other grains	81,630	20,710
Pulses	48,970	1,680
Total	3,56,770	70,180	51,670	1,680
Net increase	3,05,100	68,500

The rice traffic earnings have improved owing to a demand having arisen at Cawnpore, Agra, and other North-West stations where there was a partial failure of the autumn crops, supplies being sent up from loop-line stations. The decrease in weight is due to a falling off in rice despatched via Allahpur last year to Loodiana for the troops. Towards the middle of November the Calcutta market became brisk owing to the large demand for wheat for London, and prices rose 9 per cent.

Indigo Mds. 25,180 Rs. 58,500
The season appears to have been a good one and the produce to have been sent down for sale earlier than usual.
Iron Mds. 19,580 Rs. 32,760
This increase is at Howrah, whence despatches of 1st and 2nd class iron were made chiefly for the markets of Cawnpore, Agra, and Delhi.
Jaggree Mds. 19,780 Rs. 12,550
The greater portion of this increase is in Jaggree received from the Gya State Railway via Bankipore, and despatched chiefly to Howrah and via Jubbulpore to stations west of it, and via Agra to Rajpootana.
Piece-goods Mds. 19,830 Rs. 37,750
The increase is at Howrah and appears in the first week of the period under review when active business was resumed after the holidays. Despatches were principally to Cawnpore and Delhi.
Salt Mds. 39,630 Rs. 15,980
In 1879 the salt golahs at Howrah were closed for a portion of the period, hence the small increase this year.
Seeds Mds. 2,13,050 Rs. 77,730
Calcutta prices for linseed were favourable to sellers, and there appears to have been a good demand.
Spelter Mds. 7,380 Rs. 12,220
This increase, together with those shown against copper and brassware, appear at Howrah.

DECREASES.

	Increase.		Decrease.
	Mds.	Rs.	Mds.	Rs.
Coal, np	29,630	17,220
Locomotive coal in 1879	+ 16,038	- 5,708
Total	45,668	11,512
Down coal	29,550	- 2,360
Net	+ 16,148	- 13,872

In upwards coal, although the quantity carried has increased, the receipts have fallen. This is owing to the despatches from Giridi this year being for shorter distances than last.

Government, Commissariat, and Ordnance Stores Mds. 16,420 Rs. 60,700
Despatches to the Frontier and to the several Government depôts were limited this year.
Hides and Horns Mds. 36,820 Rs. 21,280
For some months past the traffic in hides has been below that of last year.
The reason appears to be that home advices are discouraging and supplies short.
Railway Materials, Foreign Mds. 1,02,560 Rs. 1,97,630
This very large decrease is due to the limited despatches of material and stock for Foreign lines this year.
In 1879 we were busy despatching largely for the Kandahar State Railway.
Saltpetre Mds. 36,670 Rs. 14,180
In 1879 there was an active business in Saltpetre for export to America and other countries. This year demand has been nominal.

Train-mileage for the period has been, excluding maintenance,—

				Coaching.	Goods.	Total.
1860	216,401	491,101	737,562
1879	209,327	470,898	739,223
Increases	20,205
Decreases	21,866	1,061

Earnings per train-mile, excluding materials carried on Maintenance and Revenue Account,—

				Coaching.	Goods.	Total.
				Rs. A. P.	Rs. A. P.	Rs. A. P.
1860	5 2 3	6 0 6	5 11 9
1879	4 10 7	5 11 6	5 5 4
Increases	0 7 8	0 5 0	0 6 5
Decreases

Shunting-mileage has increased by 753 hours and this is due to the location of a shunting engine at Patna

NOTIFICATION.

The 28th December 1880.—The following statement of the boundaries of the Barrack-pore Cantonment is published for general information:—

No.	DESCRIPTION.	OBSERVED BEARINGS.		CALCULATED BEARINGS.		DISTANCE TO NEXT PILLAR.
		Front.	Back.	Front.	Back.	Measured.	Calculated.
1	Situated on the bank of the river Hooghly at the south-west corner of the compound of house No. 19 near Mistry Ghât, about 100 feet east of the main drain west of the cantonment. Four bearings have been taken from this pillar: 1st, to north-west corner of the north out-house to No 18 riverside house, near gateway of compound of No. 19; it bears $92^{\circ}13'20''$ and its distance 379 feet; 2nd, to north-west corner of house No. 19 riverside road; it bears $115^{\circ}36'40''$ and its distance $187\frac{1}{2}$ feet; 3rd, to south-west corner of the same; it bears $125^{\circ}9'10''$ and its distance 196 feet; and 4th, to the steeple of the Sreerampore Church on the other side of the river, it bears $161^{\circ}57'$. The boundary line runs east-north-east to pillar No. 2, which is invisible from No. 1 on account of out-house to No. 19 house being in the way.	$65^{\circ}32'$	465½
2	Situated on the south bank of the main drain and on the north berme of the road leading to Monerampore water-works, and east of the culvert over the drain across the same road. The boundary runs east by south, and follows the north berme of the road excluding the main drain.	$99^{\circ}11'50''$	$245^{\circ}32'$	158
3	Situated on the north of the pucca road leading to the Monerampore water-works at south-west corner of house No. 67, and on south of the main drain. The boundary line runs north-east by north to pillar No. 4, across the compound of houses Nos. 67 and 68.	$32^{\circ}41'20''$	$279^{\circ}11'50''$	427
4	Situated on the north west corner of the compound of house No. 68 and on east bank of the drain at the extremity of the road leading to the house No. 68. The boundary line runs north-north-east to pillar No. 5.	$25^{\circ}53'$	$212^{\circ}41'20''$	450
5	Situated on east bank of the drain at south-east corner formed by the intersection of the drain and the Moolia mahal road leading to Gantee, and nearly 42 feet south-west of the Lal Beebie's musjeed. The boundary line follows the east bank of the drain, excluding it from cantonment, and runs north by east to pillar No. 6.	$14^{\circ}34'40''$	$205^{\circ}53'0''$	124
6	Situated at the inner angle of a bend of the main west drain north-west of the Lal Beebie's musjeed and south of the Suddar Bazar south latrines for the natives. The boundary line runs west-north west to next pillar, and follows the north bank of the above drain, thus excluding it from the cantonment.	$292^{\circ}14'50''$	$194^{\circ}34'10''$	146½
7	Situated at the inner angle of a bend of the main west drain south-west of the Suddar Bazar south latrines for the native. The boundary line runs north by east to next pillar, and follows the east bank of the above drain, thus excluding it from the cantonment.	$16^{\circ}9'0''$	$112^{\circ}14'50''$	154½
8	Situated at the inner angle of the bend of the main west drain of the cantonment north-west of the Suddar Bazar south latrines for the natives. The boundary line runs east by south to the next pillar, and follows the south bank of the above drain, thus excluding it from the cantonment.	$98^{\circ}9'0''$	$196^{\circ}9'0''$	142
9	Situated at the inner angle of a bend of the main west drain of the cantonment north-east of the Suddar Bazar south latrines for the natives. The boundary line runs north-north-east to the next pillar, and follows the east bank of the above drain, thus excluding it from the cantonment.	$23^{\circ}28'40''$	$278^{\circ}9'0''$	311

No.	DESCRIPTION.	OBSERVED BEARINGS.		CALCULATED BEARINGS.		DISTANCE TO NEXT PILLAR.
		Front.	Back.	Front.	Back.	Measured.	Calculated.
10	Situated on the east bank of the main west drain of the cantonment at south-east corner formed by crossing of the Kainarpara road leading to Monerampore and the above drains. The boundary line runs north-east to the next pillar and follows the east bank of the drain.	39°2'40"	203°28'40"	253
11	Situated on the east bank of the main west drain of the cantonment at north-west corner of a small tank. The boundary line runs south-east by east to the next pillar.	120°1'10"	219°2'40"	77
12	Situated at the north-east corner of the above small tank. The boundary line runs north-east by north to the next pillar.	38°39'10"	300°4'10"	207
13	Situated on west bank of the Suddar Bazar Dhoohee tank. The boundary line runs north-east by north to pillar No. 11.	32°8'10"	218°39'10"	161
14	Situated on middle of the west bank of the Suddar Bazar Dhoohee tank. The boundary line runs west-north-west to pillar No. 15.	290°23'10"	212°8'10"	306
15	Situated at the outer angle of a bend of the main west drain of the cantonment. The boundary line runs west-north-west to the next pillar, and follows the south bank of the above drain, including it into cantonment.	289°11'10"	110°23'10"	117½
16	Situated at the outer angle of a bend of the main west drain of the cantonment. The boundary line runs north-north-east to the next pillar, and follows the west bank of the above drain, including it inside the cantonment.	22°30'20"	109°11'10"	161½
17	Situated at the outer angle of a bend of the main west drain of the cantonment. The boundary line runs east-south-east and crosses the above drain to the next pillar; thus a portion of it is inside and a portion outside the cantonment.	109°1'20"	202°30'20"	50½
18	Situated at the inner angle of a bend of the main west drain of the cantonment. The boundary line runs north-north-east and crosses the above drain; thus a portion of it is outside and a portion inside the cantonment.	21°9'50"	289°1'20"	248
19	Situated on west side of the main west drain of the cantonment. The boundary line runs east, and follows the west bank of the drain, thus including it inside the cantonment.	83°56'50"	204°9'50"	68
20	Situated at the outer angle of a bend of the main drain. The boundary line runs east-south-east and crosses the above drain; thus a portion of it between the next pillar is excluded.	114°19'50"	263°36'50"	329½
21	Situated at the outer angle of a bend of the main west drain of the cantonment. The boundary line runs north-north-east and follows the east bank of the above drain, which is excluded from the cantonment.	27°21'20"	294°19'50"	115½
22	Situated at the inner angle of a bend of the main west drain of the cantonment at north of the Suddar Bazar Allehole. The boundary line runs east by south, crosses the drain, passes through a tiled tank north of it, then recrosses the same, and then follows its south bank to pillar No. 23.	207°21'20"	98°34'	521-3
23	Situated on the south bank of the main drain at north-east of Suddar Bazar Allehole, close to the culvert across the Suddar Bazar road over the main drain, which from this point runs east towards the north of the left N. J. lines. Here the boundary line deviates from the main drain, crosses it, then follows the west border of a kutchu road leading to Dhectara, it runs north to pillar No. 21.	5°10'30"	278°34'	299
24	Situated on south-east corner formed by the junction of the kutchu road from Suddar Bazar Nyubastee with the Dhectarah kutchu road. This pillar bears to the cross fixed over the west gateway of the new cemetery 77°48'30". The boundary line runs north-east by east along the side of the kutchu road to pillar No. 25, which is not visible.	35°11'0"	185°10'30"	135

The following are the conditions of sale:—

1.—The Opium will be sold for exportation by sea only, and no certificate will be granted except to cover such export.

2.—The Opium will be ordinarily offered for sale at an upset price of Rs. 800 per chest and sold to the highest bidder above that price, except under the circumstances for which provision is made by Clause 13 of these Conditions of Sale. The bids must advance by Rs. 5 at a time.

3.—The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A.M. of the day fixed by previous notification, and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P.M.; but if at that hour any of the lots advertised for sale shall remain unsold, the sale may, at the discretion of the Board of Revenue, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday), at the hour of 11 A.M., and so on until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of; or, if the whole quantity advertised shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Board of Revenue may dispose of the lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

4.—Each lot shall contain five chests.

5.—A Promissory Note for a sum, calculated according to the scale noted in the margin,

DEPOSIT.
When the amount bid is less than Rs. 1,200 per chest, Rs. 200 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,200 and upwards, but less than Rs. 1,600 per chest, Rs. 300 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,600 and upwards, but less than Rs. 2,000 per chest, Rs. 400 per chest.
And so on, Rs. 100 being added to the deposit for every bid additional, to the extent of Rs. 400.

shall be taken as a deposit on each lot from the purchaser in the sale-room and before the lot is registered in the sale-book, and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this Office by Bank of Bengal Receipts, or by substitution of other public securities of the Government of India, on or before 3-30 P.M. in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the said notes must be redeemed by 1-30 P.M. or, on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Bank of Bengal Receipts or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Board of Revenue shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

6.—The said promissory notes shall be absolutely payable in any event and the amount thereof shall be absolutely forfeited upon such default as before mentioned, and the amount thereof shall not go or be credited in reduction of any loss on re-sale or expenses thereby incurred, but shall be recoverable whether such re-sale shall be had or not, or whether there shall be a loss on such re-sale or not.

7.—The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the fifth condition, if remaining unredeemed at 3-30 P.M. of the fifth day following the day of sale, or 1-30 P.M. if the last day falls on a Saturday, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

8.—No tender of money, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or public securities, on account of opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before the prescribed time in clause 5 on the fifth day following the day of sale, will be afterwards accepted. Provided always that money so subsequently tendered may be taken in payment of the said Promissory Note, but such acceptance of money shall in no way entitle the payer thereof to any right to delivery of the lot or lots in respect whereof the said note was given, or to any of the rights of a purchaser thereof, or release the payer from liability for any unpaid balance of such note or from the additional liability for the loss and expenses of such re-sale as provided for in clauses No. 5 and No. 6.

9.—The opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than by 3-30 P.M. of the fifteenth day from the day of sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the opium must be paid for by 1-30 P.M.; and in case any lots of such opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the 5th condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Board of Revenue shall think fit; and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good all expenses and any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale, and the liability for the loss or difference of price and expenses shall be in addition to, and wholly independent of, the amount of the deposit so forfeited.

10.—Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of opium after making full payment as above prescribed shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots, or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests originally required to be included in each certificate or order.

11.—No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present conditions will be received in this Office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale-book, or his authorized agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

12.—The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall, on demand tender at the time a deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or Government Securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these conditions.

13.—With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually until a bid is obtained, and the first bona fide bidder for a lot after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 800 specified in the second of these conditions.

14.—The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same Agency opium not exceeding altogether twenty-five lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the opium to complete the said twenty-five.*

15.—In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

16.—The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue:—No. 1, certificate of the opium advertised for sale; No. 2, report of the examination of such opium.

17.—The public are hereby informed that, in providing the investment of the opium manufactured at the Patna factory and the opium manufactured at the Ghazee pore factory for the year 1879-80, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug when packed at the Patna and Ghazee pore factories, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken for the purpose of comparison from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue.

18.—The attention of the public is particularly drawn to the fact that of the aforesaid 15,201 chests of the opium manufactured at the Ghazee pore factory, of the season 1878-79, 1,729 chests consist of opium specially manufactured at a consistence of 75°, and also to the fact that the ordinary opium manufactured at the Ghazee pore factory of that season is of unusually high consistence. The numbers and the distinctive marks of the 1,729 chests of 75° consistence will be duly mentioned in the notifications of the sales in which they will be brought forward.

19.—Any further information respecting weight or quality of the opium advertised for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue. But, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Board of Revenue entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the opium for shipment.

20.—It is hereby further notified that under the 6th Article of the Convention between Great Britain and France, dated the 7th March 1815, quoted below, the Agents in India of the French Government, or persons duly appointed by them, are entitled to demand that out of the quantities of opium manufactured at the Patna and Ghazee pore factories declared as above for sale at the twelve sales of the year 1881, there shall be delivered to them, at the average of the particular sale or sales to which the opium so applied for may belong, a quantity not exceeding in the aggregate 300 chests, and the Agents of the French Government must make requisition specifying the quantity of opium required by them at any particular sale within thirty days from the advertisement of such intended sale: provided, however, that the Agent of the French Government may make such requisition for the whole quantity within thirty days from the publication of this notification. If the Agent of the French Government shall not make the requisition for opium within the time above mentioned, the entire quantity of about 56,400 chests of opium manufactured at the Patna and Ghazee pore factories, as above estimated, will be brought to sale in the usual manner; and if they shall make application for a quantity of opium to be delivered to them out of the quantity advertised for sale at each or any of the twelve sales above mentioned, but shall not pay for it within the prescribed period of payment, the Government of

Bengal reserves to itself the right of disposing of the opium which the French Authorities may so fail to pay for, either by increasing the quantity reserved at the sale next ensuing after the date fixed for payment, or by selling such opium, or any portion of it at any subsequent monthly sale in addition to the quantity which in this advertisement is approximately mentioned as the quantity to be sold at such sale; or by selling such opium at a sale to be held expressly for the purpose.

Article of the Convention above referred to.

Article VI.—"With regard to the trade in opium, it is agreed between the high contracting parties that at each of the periodical sales of that article there shall be reserved for the French Government, and delivered upon requisition duly made by the Agents of His Most Christian Majesty, or by the persons duly appointed by them, the number of chests so applied for, provided that such supply shall not exceed three hundred chests in each year, and the price for the same shall be determined by the average rate at which opium shall have been sold at every such periodical sale, it being understood that if the quantity of opium applied for at any one time shall not be taken on account of the French Government by the Agents of His Most Christian Majesty within the usual period of delivery, the quantity so applied for shall nevertheless be considered as so much in reduction of the three hundred chests hereinbefore mentioned. The requisitions for opium, as aforesaid, are to be addressed to the Governor-General at Calcutta within thirty days after notice of the intended sales shall have been published in the Government Gazette."

Of the 2,350 chests of the opium manufactured at the Gazeepore Factory, 500 are of a consistence of 75°. The usual consistence of the opium manufactured at the Gazeepore Factory is 70°. These 500 chests are numbered 18947 to 19446, and are marked with a red x on each end.

2. The general conditions of the sale now advertised will be the same as usual. They may be ascertained by reference to the Notification issued on the 4th December 1880, and published in the Government and Exchange Gazettes, or on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue.

3. The latest dates for deposit and clearance will be the 7th and 16th February 1881, respectively, that is to say, no Bank of Bengal Receipts, Government Promissory Notes, or other public securities that may be tendered for deposit in redemption of Promissory Notes given by purchasers in the Sale-room will be received after 3-30 P.M. of Monday, the 7th February 1881, and no Bank of Bengal Receipts in full payment of lots will be accepted after 3-30 P.M. of Wednesday, the 16th February 1881.

4. The following table shows the quantity of opium that will be brought to sale in the next twelve months. The Board of Revenue, however, reserve to themselves the right of altering these dates should circumstances render it expedient to do so:—

PART I A.

Orders and Notifications by the Government of India, &c.

[Reprinted from the Gazette of India.]

The following order, issued by the Government of India in the Legislative Department, is republished for general information :—

NOTIFICATION.

Port William, the 6th January, 1881.

No. 1.—The following Statute is published for general information :—

43 & 44 VIC., CAP. 43.

An Act to provide for the safe carriage of Grain Cargoes by Merchant Shipping. [7th September 1880.]

Be it enacted by the Queen's Most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows :—

1. This Act may be cited as the Merchant Shipping (Carriage of Grain) Act, 1880, and shall be construed as one with the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854, and the Acts amending the same, and together with those Acts may be cited as the Merchant Shipping Acts, 1854 to 1880.

2. This Act shall come into operation on the first day of January, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-one (which day is in this Act referred to as the commencement of this Act).

3. Where a grain cargo is laden on any British ship all necessary and reasonable precautions (whether prescribed by this Act or not) shall be taken in order to prevent the grain cargo from shifting.

If such precautions have not been taken in the case of any such ship, the master of the ship and any agent of the owner who was charged with the loading of the ship or the sending her to sea, shall each be liable to a penalty not exceeding three hundred pounds, and the owner of the ship shall also be liable to the same penalty, unless he shows that he took all reasonable means to enforce the observance of this section, and was not privy to the breach thereof.

4. Where a British ship laden with a grain cargo at any port in the Mediterranean or Black Sea is bound to ports outside the Straits of Gibraltar, or where a British ship is laden with a grain cargo on the coast of North America, the following precautions to prevent the grain cargo from shifting shall be adopted ; that is to say,

(a) There shall not be carried between the decks, or, if the ship has more than two decks, between the main and upper decks, any grain in bulk, except such as may be necessary for feeding the cargo in the hold, and is carried in properly constructed feeders.

(b) Where grain (except such as may be carried in properly constructed feeders) is carried in bulk in any hold or compartment, and proper provision for filling up the same by feeders is not made, not less than one-fourth of the grain carried in the hold or compartment (as the case may be) shall be in bags supported on suitable platforms laid upon the grain in bulk; Provided that this regulation with respect to bags shall not apply—

(i) To oats, or cotton seed; nor

(ii) To a ship which is a sailing ship of less than four hundred tons registered tonnage, and is not engaged in the Atlantic trade; nor

(iii) To a ship laden at a port in the Mediterranean or Black Sea if the ship is divided into compartments which are formed by substantial transverse partitions, and are fitted with longitudinal bulkheads or such shifting boards as hereafter in this section mentioned, and if the ship does not carry more than one-fourth of the grain cargo, and not more than one thousand five hundred quarters, in any one compartment, bin, or division, and provided that each division of the lower hold is fitted with properly constructed feeders from the between decks; nor

(iv) To a ship in which the grain cargo does not exceed one-half of the whole cargo of the ship, and the rest of the cargo consists of cotton, wool, flax, barrels or sacks of flour, or other suitable cargo so stowed as to prevent the grain in any compartment, bin, or division from shifting.

(c) Where grain is carried in the hold or between the decks, whether in bags or bulk, the hold or the space between the decks shall be divided by a longitudinal bulkhead or by sufficient shifting boards which extend from deck to deck or from the deck to the keelson and are properly secured, and if the grain is in bulk are fitted grain-tight with proper fillings between the beams.

(d) In loading, the grain shall be properly stowed, trimmed, and secured.

In the event of the contravention of this section in the case of any ship, reasonable precautions to prevent the grain cargo of that ship from shifting shall be deemed not to have been taken, and the owner and master of the ship and any agent charged with loading her or sending her to sea shall be liable accordingly to a penalty under this Act.

Provided that nothing in this section shall exempt a person from any liability, civil or criminal, to which he would otherwise be subject for failing to adopt any reasonable precautions which, although not mentioned in this section, are reasonably required to prevent grain cargo from shifting.

Definitions.

10. For the purposes of this Act—

The expression “grain” means any corn, rice, paddy, pulse, seeds, nuts, or nut kernels.

The expression “ship laden with a grain cargo” means a ship carrying a cargo of which the portion consisting of grain is more than one-third of the registered tonnage of the ship, and such third shall be computed, where the grain is reckoned in measures of capacity, at the rate of one hundred cubic feet for each ton of registered tonnage, and where the grain is reckoned in measures of weight, at the rate of two tons weight for each ton of registered tonnage.

11. Section twenty-two of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1876, is hereby repealed as from the commencement of this Act:

Provided that any offence against that section committed before the commencement of this Act may be prosecuted, and the penalty recovered and enforced, in like manner as if the said section had continued to remain in force.

The following orders, issued by the Government of India in the Military Department, are published for general information:—

Port William, the 7th January 1881.

FURLOUGH AND LEAVE.

No. 10.—Surgeon-Major R. Bird, M. D., is allowed furlough to the date of his arrival at Bombay, in extension of that granted to him in G. G. O. No. 470 of 1879.

MEDICAL DEPARTMENT.

No. 13.—His Excellency the Governor-General in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following Warrant, dated the 16th November 1880, regulating the promotion, relative rank, &c., of the Indian Medical Service:—

VICTORIA, by the Grace of God, of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, Queen Defender of the Faith, Empress of India.

WHEREAS We deem it expedient to revise the rules for the promotion and relative rank and allowances of Our Indian Medical Service, Our will and pleasure is that Our Warrants of 10th May 1873 and 14th September 1876 be cancelled, and that from and after the date of this Warrant the following rules shall be established, and that by these rules Our Viceroy and Governor-General in Council, and the Governors in Council of Madras and Bombay respectively, shall be governed.

1. The grades of Medical Officers in our Indian Military Forces shall be five in number, viz.:—

1. Surgeon-General.
2. Deputy Surgeon-General.
3. Brigade Surgeon.
4. Surgeon-Major.
5. Surgeon.

2. The relative rank of the Medical Officers of Our Indian Military Forces shall be as follows:

Surgeon-General as Major-General, according to the date of his Commission.

Deputy Surgeon-General as Colonel, according to the date of his Commission.

Brigade Surgeon as Lieutenant-Colonel, according to the date of his Commission, or according to the date upon which he completed 20 years' service as Surgeon and Surgeon-Major.

Surgeon-Major as Major, according to the date of his Commission, and, after 20 years' service as Surgeon and Surgeon-Major, as Lieutenant-Colonel.

Surgeon as Captain, according to the date of his Commission.

3. Such relative rank shall carry with it all precedence and advantages attaching to the rank with which it corresponds [except as regards the presidency of courts-martial, where Our will and pleasure is that the senior combatant Officer be always president], and shall regulate the choice of quarters and the rates of prize-money.

4. A Surgeon shall be promoted to Surgeon-Major on completion of 12 years' service from date of first Commission.

5. In cases, however, of emergency, or when the good of the service renders such alteration desirable, it shall be competent for the Secretary of State for India, on the recommendation of Our Viceroy and Governor-General of India in Council, to shorten the period of service above mentioned, in such manner as he shall deem fit and expedient.

6. All promotion from the rank of Surgeon-Major to that of Brigade Surgeon shall be given by selection for ability and merit.

7. All promotion from the rank of Brigade Surgeon to that of Deputy Surgeon-General and from the rank of Deputy Surgeon-General to that of Surgeon-General, shall be given by selection for ability and merit, and the grounds of such selection shall be stated to Us in writing, and recorded in the office of the Secretary of State for India in Council.

8. With a view to maintain the efficiency of the service, all Medical Officers of the ranks of Surgeon-Major and Brigade Surgeon shall be placed on the Retired List when they shall have attained the age of 55 years, and all Surgeons-General and Deputy Surgeons-General when they shall have attained the age of 60 years; but as respects Surgeons-Major and Brigade Surgeons who entered the service prior to the 13th January 1860, this rule shall be relaxed, and an Officer who has attained the age of 55 years, without having obtained the rank of Deputy Surgeon-General, shall be permitted to remain in the service for three years more, on his perfect competency and fitness being certified in such manner as Our Secretary of State for India may direct. In any special case where it would appear to be for the good of Our Service that the Officers should continue in employment, he may be so continued, subject in each case to the sanction of Our Secretary of State for India in Council.

9. Medical Officers shall be entitled to all the allowances granted to Our Indian Military Forces on account of wounds and injuries received in action, as combatant officers holding the same relative ranks.

10. Their families shall in like manner be entitled to all the allowances granted, under existing regulations, to the families of combatant Officers holding the same relative ranks.

11. A Medical Officer, retiring on a pension after a service of 20 years and upwards, may, if recommended for the same by the Government of his Presidency, receive a step of honorary rank, but without any consequent increase of pay.

12. Six of the most meritorious Medical Officers of the service shall be named Our Honorary Physicians, and six Our Honorary Surgeons.

13. It is further Our will and pleasure that the promotions to the rank of Brigade Surgeon made in the first instance under this Our Warrant shall have effect from the 27th November 1879.

Given at Our Court at Balmoral, this sixteenth day of November in the year of Our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty, and in the forty-fourth year of Our reign.

By Her Majesty's command,
HARTINGTON.

Amended Notice of Sale.

CALCUTTA JUTE MILLS COMPANY IN LIQUIDATION.

FOR sale at the Exchange, Calcutta, on Saturday, the 22nd day of January 1881, at the hour of noon, by Messrs Mackenzie, Lyall and Company,

The valuable jute manufacturing business of the Calcutta Jute Mills Company, Limited, together with the lands (about 53 beghas, more or less), buildings and machinery appertaining thereto, situate on the banks of the river Hooghly at Ishera, 14 miles from Calcutta.

Eight beghas and two-fifths of land upon which the office of the mill premises is built are freehold.

Twenty beghas of land are chur lands and are held in perpetual lease at an annual rental of Rs. 100.

The land (about 24 beghas) upon which the manager's house and the mill premises are built, together with the house, is held on a perpetual lease at a rental of Rs. 100 monthly.

The land (about 7 beghas) upon which another house for foremen is built, together with the house, is held on a lease which expires in August 1885, the rent being Rs. 60 a month.

The buildings for manufacturing purposes are all built of brick and roofed with flat arches turned upon iron girders, and, besides having side doors and windows, there are numerous roof sky-lights to give increased light and ventilation.

The preparing and spinning rooms are driven by two pairs of compound horizontal engines each 50 H-P, and made by Messieurs Musgrave and Sons. The spinning rooms contain 3,878 spindles, and the preparing machinery is ample.

The weaving factory is driven by one compound horizontal engine of 60 H-P made by Pearse Brothers. There are 240 looms; 240 are 36" reed space and 20 are 45 reed space.

For supplying steam to these engines there are six double flued boilers, each 30 feet long by 7 feet diameter; two are made by Musgrave and Sons and four by Pearse Brothers.

The presses are two in number, one by John Kerr and Co., Dundee, the other by Fawcett, Preston and Co. of Liverpool, who are also the makers of the set of hydraulic pumps (Watson's patent) which work these presses; in the same room are the callenders, the measuring and cutting machines, and there is ample space for storing bags loose and baled.

The mechanic's and smith's shops are well provided with machines and tools, and for driving the former there is a 15 H-P horizontal engine, but for economy the machines are driven from the factory engine.

The sewing sheds are tiled structures supported by pillars.

There are three jute godowns roofed by brick arches turned on girders supported by cast iron columns.

The following are their dimensions:—

100'	0"	×	42'	0"
88'	0"	×	41'	0"

The water-supply is drawn from the river by two portable engines driving centrifugal pumps.

There is a jetty and five covered cargo-boats.

Reserve stores which have not been issued for use in the mills to be taken by the purchaser of the mills at a valuation to be made by an independent mill-owner or manager.

Upset price exclusive of reserve stores Rs. 5,10,000.

For further particulars and inspection orders apply to Mr. A. R. McIntosh, Official Liquidator, 3, Fairlie Place, Calcutta.

Conditions of sale will be advertized shortly.

Pearl Fishery.

NOTICE is hereby given that a Pearl Fishery will take place at Sillavaturai in the Island of Ceylon, on or about the 20th of February 1881, and that the bank to be fished is the North-West Cheval, estimated to contain oysters sufficient to employ 100 boats for thirty days, with average loads of 10,000 oysters each per day.

It is therefore recommended that such boat owners and divers as may wish to be employed at the said fishery should be at Sillavaturai on or before the 15th February next, and it is notified that the first day's fishery will take place on or about the 20th of February, weather permitting.

The fishery will be conducted on account of Government, and the oysters put up to sale in such lots as may be deemed expedient.

The arrangements of the fishery will be the same as have been usual on similar occasions.

All payments to be made in ready money in Ceylon currency.

Drafts on the Banks in Colombo or Bills on the Agents of this Government in India at ten days' sight will be taken on letters of credit being produced to warrant the drawing of such Drafts or Bills.

For the convenience of purchasers the Treasurer at Colombo, and the different Government Agents of Provinces, will be authorized to receive cash deposits from parties intending to become purchasers, and receipts of these officers will be taken in payment of any sums due on account of the fishery.

No deposit will be received for a less sum than five hundred rupees.

The Indian Law Reports.

Published under Authority of the Governor-General in Council.

THE Reports appear in monthly parts, published as soon as possible after the first of each month as Calcutta, Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad, and will comprise four series.—one for the Calcutta High Court, a second for the Madras High Court, a third for the Bombay High Court, and a fourth for the Allahabad High Court. The cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from each High Court will be reported in the Series for that High Court. Cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from Provinces in India not subject to any High Court will be reported in the Calcutta Series.

The Parts of each Series can be had separately, or all four Parts can be had stitched into one wrapper at the option of subscribers and purchasers. It will be observed from the following statement of the terms of subscription and sale, that a considerable reduction is allowed to persons taking the complete set.

Terms of subscription, payable annually in advance.

Without postage. With postage.

The penalty for the contravention of this bye-law shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 20, and a further fine not exceeding Rs. 2 for each day during which the offence is continued after the offender is required by notice in writing to desist.

60. Within municipal limits no person shall fire any mine, or blast in or near any public road, except between the hours of 6 A. M. to 8 A. M., nor without having taken precautions to warn passers-by that the blast or mine is to be fired.

The penalty for infringement shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 20.

COLMAN MACAULAY,
Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

[Second Publication.]

NOTIFICATION.

The 8th January 1881.—Under Section 4, Act VII of 1871 (the Colonial Emigration Act), the Lieutenant-Governor approves of the appointment of Mr. Eales, Emigration Agent for Mauritius, to act as Emigration Agent for Trinidad, Jamaica, St. Vincent, St. Lucia, Grenada, and Fiji, during the absence, on leave, of Mr. Mitchell, the Emigration Agent for those colonies.

A. MACKENZIE,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

[Second Publication.]

NOTIFICATION.

The 8th January 1881.—In accordance with the provisions of Section 35 of Act V (B.C.) of 1870, the Lieutenant-Governor sanctions the plan specification, and estimate, submitted by the Port Commissioners with their Vice-Chairman's letter No. 2870, dated 22nd December 1880, for the construction of a new Hopper barge to replace the one lost off Prinsep's Ghât, and for the purchase of new engines for the remaining barge, at a cost of Rs. 61,900.

A. MACKENZIE,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

NOTIFICATION.

The 18th January 1881.—In supersession of the notifications, dated 10th June 1865 and 17th June 1878, published in the Calcutta Gazette of the 14th June 1865 and 26th June 1878, respectively, the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal sanctions the following alterations of thana jurisdictions and sites of police stations in the district of Shahabad. The existing boundaries of the sub-divisions and thanas of the district, as thus revised, are described below.

1. A new thana consisting of a portion of thana Arrah has been established at Belowtee.
2. A new thana consisting of portions of thanas Buxar and Arrah has been established at Dumraon.
3. The outpost of Mohaneeah, formerly under thana Bhubhooa, has been converted into a thana with jurisdiction comprising the entire thana of Ramghur, and parts of thanas Durgawati, Bhubhooa, Khurghur and Sasseceram.
4. Thana Durgawati has been abolished, and its jurisdiction divided between thanas Mohaneeah and Bhubhooa.
5. Thana Ramghur (the boundaries of which were described in the notification, dated 10th June 1865) has been converted into an outpost, and made subordinate (together with the outpost at Noan) to the new thana of Mohaneeah.

NOTIFICATION.

The 13th January 1881.—It is hereby notified that the Lieutenant-Governor authorizes the extension of the provisions of Act II (B.O.) of 1867 (an Act for the punishment of public gambling and the keeping of common gaming-houses), to the towns of Daltongunge, Shahpore, and Chainpore, in the district of Lohardugga, as defined by the boundaries mentioned below :—

DALTONGUNGE, INCLUDING NOWATOLI.

On the north.—An irregular line drawn due west from the junction of the Behar and Ranchee roads along a dhorha rising behind the bungalow of Mr. Hodges and running behind those of Thakurai Janki Singh occupied by the Assistant Conservator of Forests, and of the Inspector of Police to that point in the Koel river near village Kund, where the dhorha falls into the Koel.

On the east.—A straight line drawn due south from that point where the northern boundary begins across two dhorhas and fields, and going outside the houses of Bundhun Bhuya and Dobra Bhuya in Nowatoli to a rock in the bed of the Koel river off Nowatoli where the river turns to the west.

On the south and west.—The Koel river.

SHAHPORE.

On the north.—The Koel river.

On the south.—A straight line drawn due west from the masonry altar of the goddess Debi (known as Debisthan) across fields and a dhorha to the middle of Mr. Forbes's lake (commonly called Forbes's Bund) where a dhorha takes its rise.

On the east.—An irregular line drawn due north from that point where the southern boundary begins, going outside a mangoe-tope and the ruins of a masonry building of the late Rajah of Palamow, to the big chilbil tree on the bank of the Koel river near Chhokouri Sahoo's Temple.

On the west.—An irregular line drawn due north from that point where the northern boundary ends along the dhorha which rises there to a big seemull tree where the dhorha falls into the Koel.

CHAINPORE.

On the north.—A slightly irregular line drawn due west from that point in the Mandhata river where the footpath from Shahpore to Kunkuree crosses that river through rice fields and a reservoir of water for irrigation to the north-west corner of Baghubar Sahoo's tank where there is a temple.

On the east.—A straight line drawn due south from that point where the northern boundary begins along the footpath from Shahpore to Kunkuree to the masonry well of Thakuri Ram Sarun Sing on the boundary between Kunkuree and Bhaigan.

On the south.—An irregular line drawn due west from the well where the eastern boundary ends through fields going outside the houses of Chhattu Kahar and Bigun Kahar on the south of Mandhata river and then crossing that river to an old tank of the Thakuris of Chainpore in the mangoe-tope called the Andheri Bagicha.

On the west.—A straight line drawn due north from the tank where the southern boundary ends to the north-west corner of Baghubar Sha's tank where the northern boundary ends.

This notification will have effect from the 3rd February 1881.

HORACE A. COCKERELL,

deposit for every bid additional, to the extent of Rs. 400.

shall be taken as a deposit on each lot from the purchaser in the sale-room and before the lot is registered in the sale-book, and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this Office by Bank of Bengal Receipts, or by substitution of other public securities of the Government of India, on or before 3-30 P.M. in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the said notes must be redeemed by 1-30 P.M. or, on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Bank of Bengal Receipts or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Board of Revenue shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

6.—The said promissory notes shall be absolutely payable in any event and the amount thereof shall be absolutely forfeited upon such default as before mentioned, and the amount thereof shall not go or be credited in reduction of any loss on re-sale or expenses thereby incurred, but shall be recoverable whether such re-sale shall be had or not, or whether there shall be a loss on such re-sale or not.

7.—The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the fifth condition, if remaining unredeemed at 3-30 P.M. of the fifth day following the day of sale, or 1-30 P.M. if the last day falls on a Saturday, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

8.—No tender of money, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or public securities, on account of opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before the prescribed time in clause 5 on the fifth day following the day of sale, will be afterwards accepted. Provided always that money so subsequently tendered may be taken in payment of the said Promissory Note, but such acceptance of money shall in no way entitle the payer thereof to any right to delivery of the lot or lots in respect whereof the said note was given, or to any of the rights of a purchaser thereof, or release the payer from liability for any unpaid balance of such note or from the additional liability for the loss and expenses of such re-sale as provided for in clauses No. 5 and No. 6.

9.—The opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than by 3-30 p.m. of the fifteenth day from the day of sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the opium must be paid for by 1-30 p.m.; and in case any lots of such opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the 5th condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Board of Revenue shall think fit; and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good all expenses and any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale, and the liability for the loss or difference of price and expenses shall be in addition to, and wholly independent of, the amount of the deposit so forfeited.

10.—Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of opium after making full payment as above prescribed shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots, or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests originally required to be included in each certificate or order.

11.—No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present conditions will be received in this Office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale-book, or his authorized agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

12.—The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall, on demand tender at the time a deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or Government Securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these conditions.

13.—With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually until a bid is obtained, and the first bona fide bidder for a lot after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 800 specified in the second of these conditions.

14.—The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same Agency opium not exceeding altogether twenty-five lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the opium to complete the said twenty-five.

15.—In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

16.—The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue: No. 1, certificate of the opium advertised for sale; No. 2, report of the examination of seem opium.

17.—The public are hereby informed that, in providing the investment of the opium manufactured at the Patna factory and the opium manufactured at the Ghazee pore factory for the year 1879-80, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug when packed at the Patna and Ghazee pore factories, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken for the purpose of comparison from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue.

18.—The attention of the public is particularly drawn to the fact that of the aforesaid 15,204 chests of the opium manufactured at the Ghazee pore factory, of the season 1878-79, 1,729 chests consist of opium specially manufactured at a consistence of 75°, and also to the fact that the ordinary opium manufactured at the Ghazee pore factory of that season is of unusually high consistence. The numbers and the distinctive marks of the 1,729 chests of 75° consistence will be duly mentioned in the notifications of the sales in which they will be brought forward.

19.—Any further information respecting weight or quality of the opium advertised for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue. But, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Board of Revenue entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of for adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the delivery of the opium for shipment.

10.—It is hereby further notified that under the 6th Article of the Convention between Great Britain and France, dated the 7th March 1815, quoted below, the Agents in India of the French Government, or persons duly appointed by them, are entitled to demand that out of the quantities of opium manufactured at the Patna and Ghazepore factories declared as above for sale at the twelve sales of the year 1881, there shall be delivered to them, at the average of the particular sale or sales to which the opium so applied for may belong, a quantity not exceeding in the aggregate 300 chests, and the Agents of the French Government must make requisition specifying the quantity of opium required by them at any particular sale within thirty days from the advertisement of such intended sale: provided, however, that the Agent of the French Government may make such requisition for the whole quantity within thirty days from the publication of this notification. If the Agent of the French Government shall not make the requisition for opium within the time above mentioned, the entire quantity of about 56,100 chests of opium manufactured at the Patna and Ghazepore factories, as above estimated, will be brought to sale in the usual manner; and if they shall make application for a quantity of opium to be delivered to them out of the quantity advertised for sale at each or any of the twelve sales above mentioned, but shall not pay for it within the prescribed period of payment, the Government of Bengal reserves to itself the right of disposing of the opium which the French Authorities may so fail to pay for, either by increasing the quantity reserved at the sale next ensuing after the date fixed for payment, or by selling such opium, or any portion of it at any subsequent monthly sale in addition to the quantity which in this advertisement is approximately mentioned as the quantity to be sold at such sale; or by selling such opium at a sale to be held expressly for the purpose.

Article of the Convention above referred to.

Article VI.—"With regard to the trade in opium, it is agreed between the high contracting parties that at each of the periodical sales of that article there shall be reserved for the French Government, and delivered upon requisition duly made by the Agents of His Most Christian Majesty, or by the persons duly appointed by them, the number of chests so applied for, provided that such supply shall not exceed three hundred chests in each year, and the price for the same shall be determined by the average rate at which opium shall have been sold at every such periodical sale, it being understood that if the quantity of opium applied for at any one time shall not be taken on account of the French Government by the Agents of His Most Christian Majesty within the usual period of delivery, the quantity so applied for shall nevertheless be considered as so much in reduction of the three hundred chests hereinbefore mentioned. The requisitions for opium, as aforesaid, are to be addressed to the Governor-General at Calcutta within thirty days after notice of the intended sales shall have been published in the Government Gazette."

By order of the Board of Revenue, L. P.,

FORT WILLIAM, the 4th December 1880.

A. FORBES, Offg. Secretary.

No. 1455B.

Notice is hereby given that the Second Sale of Opium, the provision of 1878-79, will be held at the Government Opium Sale-room, No. 2, Bankshall Street, on Tuesday, the 1st February 1881, at 11 A.M., and will comprise 4,700 chests, viz.—

	Chests.

Do. do. do. Ghazepore Factory ...	2,350
Total ...	4,700

Of the 2,350 chests of the opium manufactured at the Ghazepore Factory, 500 are of a consistence of 75°. The usual consistence of the opium manufactured at the Ghazepore Factory is 70°. These 500 chests are numbered 18947 to 19446, and are marked with a red x on each end.

2. The general conditions of the sale now advertised will be the same as usual. They may be ascertained by reference to the Notification issued on the 1th December 1880, and published in the Government and Exchange Gazettes, or on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue.

3. The latest dates for deposit and clearance will be the 7th and 16th February 1881, respectively, that is to say, no Bank of Bengal Receipts, Government Promissory Notes, or other public securities that may be tendered for deposit in redemption of Promissory Notes given by purchasers in the Sale-room will be received after 3-30 P.M. of Monday, the 7th February 1881, and no Bank of Bengal Receipts in full payment of lots will be accepted after 3-30 P.M. of Wednesday, the 16th February 1881.

4. The following table shows the quantity of opium that will be brought to ^{be} in the next twelve months. The Board of Revenue, however, reserve to themselves the right of altering these dates should circumstances render it expedient to do so:—

Amended Notice of Sale.

CALCUTTA JUTE MILLS COMPANY IN LIQUIDATION.

FOR sale at the Exchange, Calcutta, on Saturday, the 22nd day of January 1881, at the hour of noon, by Messrs. Mackenzie, Lyall and Company.

The valuable jute manufacturing business of the Calcutta Jute Mills Company, Limited, together with the lands (about 53 beeghas, more or less), buildings and machinery appertaining thereto, situate on the banks of the river Hooghly at Ishera, 14 miles from Calcutta.

Eight beeghas and two-fifths of land upon which the office of the mill premises is built are freehold.

Twenty beeghas of land are chur lands and are held in perpetual lease at an annual rental of Rs. 100.

The land (about 24 beeghas) upon which the manager's house and the mill premises are built, together with the house, is held on a perpetual lease at a rental of Rs. 100 monthly.

The land (about 7 beeghas) upon which another house for foremen is built, together with the house, is held on a lease which expires in August 1885, the rent being Rs. 60 a month.

The buildings for manufacturing purposes are all built of brick and roofed with flat arches turned upon iron girders, and, besides having side doors and windows, there are numerous roof sky-lights to give increased light and ventilation.

The preparing and spinning rooms are driven by two pairs of compound horizontal engines each 50 H-P, and made by Messieurs Musgrave and Sons. The spinning rooms contain 3,878 spindles, and the preparing machinery is ample.

The weaving factory is driven by one compound horizontal engine of 60 H-P made by Pearce Brothers. There are 260 looms; 240 are 36" reed space and 20 are 45" reed space.

For supplying steam to these engines there are six double-flued boilers, each 30 feet long by 7 feet diameter, two are made by Musgrave and Sons and four by Pearce Brothers.

The presses are two in number, one by John Kerr and Co., Dundee, the other by Fawcett, Preston and Co., of Liverpool, who are also the makers of the set of hydraulic pumps (Watson's patent) which work these presses; in the same room are the callenders, the measuring and cutting machines, and there is ample space for storing bags loose and baled.

The mechanics and smith's shops are well provided with machines and tools, and for driving the former there is a 15 H-P horizontal engine, but for economy the machines are driven from the factory engine.

The sewing sheds are tiled structures supported by pillars.

There are three jute godowns roofed by brick arches turned on girders supported by cast iron columns.

The following are their dimensions:—

152' 0" x 78' 0"

100' 0" x 42' 0"

88' 0" x 41' 0"

The water-supply is drawn from the river by two portable engines driving centrifugal pumps.

There is a jetty and five covered cargo-boats.

Reserve stores which have not been issued for use in the mills to be taken by the purchaser of the mills at a valuation to be made by an independent mill-owner or manager.

Upset price exclusive of reserve stores Rs. 5,10,000.

For further particulars and inspection orders apply to Mr. A. R. McIntosh, Official Liquidator, 3, Fairlie Place, Calcutta.

Conditions of sale will be advertized shortly.

JOSELINE F. WATKINS, R. BRICHAMBERS, Solicitor for Official Liquidator. Registrar. (587-4)

Conditions of Sale.

1. No person shall advance a less sum than Rs. 200 at a bidding or retract a bidding.
2. The property other than the reserved stores on the premises will be put up in one lot at an upset price of Rs. 5,10,000, and the highest bidder above the upset price shall be the purchaser; and if any dispute shall arise as to the last or highest bidding, the property shall be put up again at a former bidding and resold.
3. The purchaser shall at the time of sale subscribe his name and address to his bidding, and the abstract of title and all written notices and communications and summonses shall be deemed duly delivered to and served upon the purchaser by being left for him at such address unless or until he is represented by an attorney.

4. The purchaser shall at the time of sale pay a deposit of 10 per cent. on the amount of his purchase-money to the auctioneers, otherwise the property shall be again immediately put up and resold.

5. The Official Liquidator of the Calcutta Jute Mills Company, Limited, shall, as soon as possible after the sale, proceed to certify the result to the Court.

6. The purchaser shall be bound to purchase and take over the reserve stores on the premises sold at a valuation to be made thereof by a mill owner or manager to be appointed by the said Official Liquidator, and the purchaser, or, if they cannot agree upon such valuer, then by the Registrar of the High Court. The price of the reserve stores, to be ascertained as aforesaid, shall be paid with the balance of the purchase-money at the time appointed for payment of the latter.

7. The said Official Liquidator shall within seven days after the sale deliver to the purchaser or his attorney an abstract of the title to the property sold, subject to the stipulations contained in these conditions.

8. All recitals and statements contained in any deed or other document dated 20 years or upwards prior to the day of sale shall be deemed conclusive evidence of the facts and matters recited or stated therein or to be assumed or implied therefrom.

9. The purchaser shall not be entitled to require the production of or enquire into or make any objection or requisition in respect of the title of the zemindars under whom the lands described as chur lands are held or in respect of the title of the lessors under whom the portion of the property which is held on a five years' lease is held.

10. The purchaser shall not be entitled to make any requisition in respect of the vendor's title, or want of title, to the road or pathway through the property leading from the leasehold premises on the west to the river Hooghly, nor to claim any compensation in respect thereof.

11. The vendor shall not be required to show any further title than is contained in the title deeds in their possession to four cottahs of land part of the property which is described in the earlier title deeds as held under lease from the zemindar, and the purchaser shall acquire the said four cottahs subject to the payment of any rent that may be payable to the zemindar in respect thereof.

12. The purchaser shall not be entitled to call for any further evidence than is in the possession of the vendors of the transfer from Messrs. Borrodaile and Lee, two of the three members of a former firm of John Borrodaile & Co., former mortgagees of part of the property, of their interest in the mortgage security to their successors in business.

13. The purchaser shall not be entitled to the possession or production or to proof of any power-of-attorney not in the possession of the vendors under which any document forming part of the title purports to be executed.

14. The property is believed to be of the area mentioned in the particulars of sale, but in case any portion or portions of it should turn out to be less than the quantity stated, the purchaser shall not on account thereof be entitled to annul or rescind the sale, nor shall he be entitled to any allowance or deduction from his purchased money or to any other compensation on account or in respect of any such deficiency in quantity; and on the other hand should any portion or portions of the property exceed the area stated, the vendors shall not be entitled to annul or rescind the sale on account thereof, nor shall they be entitled to any increase of the purchase-money or other compensation on account or in respect of such excess in quantity.

15. The production and inspection of all deeds, evidences and muniments of title which are not in the possession or power of the vendors, and the procuring and making of all certificates attested or other copies or extracts of or from any registers, deeds, wills, or other documents and of all declarations or other evidences as to identity, whether required for the verification of the abstract or for any other purpose, shall be at the expense of the purchaser.

16. The purchaser shall within fourteen days after the actual delivery of the abstract deliver at the office of Mr. Josceline Frederic Watkins, the Attorney of the said Official Liquidator, at No. 2, Old Post Office Street, in the town of Calcutta, a statement in writing of his objections and requisitions (if any) to or on the title as deduced by the abstract, and upon the expiration of such last mentioned time (and in this respect time is to be deemed of the essence of the contract) the title shall be considered as approved of and accepted by the purchaser subject only to such objections and requisitions, if any.

17. The purchaser shall pay the balance of his purchase money including the price, to be fixed as aforesaid, of the said reserved stores to the Bank of Bengal to the credit of the said Official Liquidator within one month from the day of sale, and if the same be not so paid then the purchaser shall pay interest on his unpaid purchase-money at the rate of 10 per cent. per annum from the end of one month from the day of sale to the day on which the same is actually paid.

18. Upon payment of the balance of the purchase money in manner aforesaid, the purchaser shall be entitled to possession of the property purchased as from the day of such payment and shall be entitled to a proper conveyance, and if the parties differ about the same it shall be settled by the Registrar of the High Court. Such conveyance shall be prepared by and registered at the expense of the purchaser and shall be tendered and left by him at the office of the said Mr. Josceline Frederic Watkins for execution by the proper parties.

19. The purchaser shall not be liable to pay the outgoings previous to the day of payment of the balances of the purchase-money, and the rents and outgoings shall be apportioned if necessary.

20. The Trustees for the holders of the Debentures of the said Calcutta Jute Mills Company, Limited, will, pursuant to the order of Court under which the sale is made, join in and execute the conveyance to the purchaser of the property which is charged with the payment of the Debentures and will give a discharge for the amount of such Debentures, but the purchaser shall not be entitled to require the concurrence of any of the Debenture-holders in the sale or conveyance, or to require any receipt or discharge from them for the money secured by the Debentures or by the Collateral securities.

21. As one of the Trustees for the Debenture-holders is in England, the conveyance to the purchaser and discharge for the Debenture debt will be executed and registered on his behalf under a power-of-attorney.

22. If any error or misstatement shall appear to have been made in the particulars or description of the property or any part thereof such error or misstatement, if of a nature capable of compensation, shall not annul the sale nor entitle the purchaser to be discharged from his purchase, but (in any case other than that of an error or misstatement as to area or quantity) a compensation shall be made to or by the purchaser, as the case may be, and the amount of such compensation shall be settled by a Judge in Chambers.

23. If the purchaser shall not pay his purchase-money at the time above specified or at any other time which may be named in any order for that purpose, or in all other respects perform these conditions, an order may be made by a Judge in Chambers for the resale of the property and for payment by the purchaser of the amount of the deficiency (if any) in the price which may be obtained upon such resale and of all attorney and client costs and expenses occasioned by such default.

24. If a resale is directed and for want of bidders the property cannot be resold the purchaser at the present sale shall pay the whole amount of his purchase-money into Court or into the Bank of Bengal to the credit of the said Official Liquidator jointly with Messrs. George Yule, George Jamieson Scott, and Samuel Bird; but if the property be resold, and if the price obtained at the resale be less than the purchase-money payable by the original purchaser, he shall pay the amount of the deficiency. The costs occasioned by the default of the original purchaser shall also be paid by him. An order containing these directions may also be obtained from a Judge in Chambers. (640-1)

THE lost Deed of Mortgage referred to in the advertisement of 29th December 1880, 5th and 12th January 1881, was through mistake described as having been registered as No. 1160, dated 23rd July 1880, instead of No. 1144, dated 23rd July 1880. Any one producing the right Deed will be rewarded by the undersigned.

RAM COOMAR CHATTERJEE.

Pearl Fishery.

NOTICE is hereby given that a Pearl Fishery will take place at Sillavaturai in the Island of Ceylon, on or about the 20th of February 1881, and that the bank to be fished is the North-West Cheval, estimated to contain oysters sufficient to employ 100 boats for thirty days, with average loads of 10,000 oysters each per day.

It is therefore recommended that such boat owners and divers as may wish to be employed at the said fishery should be at Sillavaturai on or before the 15th February next, and it is notified that the first day's fishery will take place on or about the 20th of February, weather permitting.

The fishery will be conducted on account of Government, and the oysters put up to sale in such lots as may be deemed expedient.

The arrangements of the fishery will be the same as have been usual on similar occasions.

All payments to be made in ready money in Ceylon currency.

Drafts on the Banks in Colombo or Bills on the Agents of this Government in India at ten days' sight will be taken on letters of credit being produced to warrant the drawing of such Drafts or Bills.

For the convenience of purchasers the Treasurer at Colombo, and the different Government Agents of Provinces, will be authorized to receive cash deposits from parties intending to become purchasers, and receipts of these officers will be taken in payment of any sums due on account of the fishery.

No deposit will be received for a less sum than five hundred rupees.

By His Excellency's Command,

J. DOUGLAS, Colonial Secretary.

E. C. GEORGE, Presidency Postmaster.
Calcutta General Post Office, the 31st October 1880.

THE public are informed that on and from the 15th January 1881, the Mails from Northern Bengal and Assam will be issued at the 3rd delivery at 1-30 P.M. in place of at 4-30 P.M., as at present.

Registered and bearing articles will, however, continue to be delivered by the 4th delivery issuing at 4 P.M.

This change is due to the earlier receipt of the above Mails, to have effect from the said date.

The Eastern Bengal Mails, which will arrive from the above date at Sealdah at 6-25 P.M., will be issued at the 1st delivery the following morning instead of by the 4th delivery the previous afternoon. Registered and bearing covers received by these Mails will go out by the 2nd delivery at 9 A.M.

PAINA DIVN.—contd.	28 Durbhanga, Jan. 15 '81	Nil	Weather—seasonable; cool. Rubbee promising everywhere. Sugarcane pressing in progress. New rice selling in the market, and prices varying from 21 to 25 seers. Fever abating in Tappore sub division.
	29 Mozafferpore, „ 15 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable; cold. Aghani harvest nearly completed; outturn for the district estimated to be 12 muns. Selling of new rice has commenced. Prospects of rubbee crops excellent everywhere; but a fall of rain would improve these crops. Prices of food grains falling.
	30 Sarun, „ 15 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable; cold. West wind prevailing. State and prospects of rubbee crops continue promising throughout district. New rice coming into market.
	31 Chumpran, „ 15 „	Nil	Prices falling. Public health good.
BRAGULPORE DIVN.	32 Monghyr, Jan. 15 '81	Nil	Weather—fine; cool. State and prospects of crops good.
	Begousserai „ „	Nil	Weather—cold and seasonable. Prospects of crops fair. From Begousserai some mustard reported to have been spoiled by labe insect.
	33 Bhagalpur, „ 15 „	Nil	Weather—seasonably cold. Rice almost all harvested, except in Banka sub-division, where one quarter still remains to be cut. Prospects of rubbee crops favourable. A few cases of small-pox reported from Banka and elsewhere. A little rain would be beneficial.
	34 Barneah, „ 15 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable. Late rice harvest all but finished; outturn unusually large. Encouraging reports regarding cold-weather crops have come from all stations.
	35 Arrereah „ 15 „	Nil	Weather—continues cold and bracing. Kalai almost harvested. Other rubbee crops, except mustard, doing well. Rice is sold from 20 to 38 seers a rupee. Public health fair.
	36 Moidan, „ 15 „	Nil	Weather—clear and cold. All reports good.
ORISSA.	37 Cuttack, Jan. 14 '81	Nil	Weather—seasonable. Reaping of sarud rice very near completion. Winter crops continue to be harvested. Rice sells from 15 to 30 seers per rupee. Cases of cholera and small pox here and there. Fever still prevalent.
	38 Poores, „ 13 „	Nil	Weather—fair and seasonable. Rice harvest nearly over. Moong being sown. Common rice selling from 26 to 36 Calcutta seers per rupee. Cholera and small-pox still reported.
	39 Balasore, „ 14 „	Nil	Weather—cloudy and hot at beginning of week, but a shower on 12th has reduced temperature. Rubbee harvest commenced. A few cases of fever generally reported from all stations, and here and there cholera and cattle-disease. General health, however, good.
CHOTA NAGPORE
South West Frontier Agency.
40 Hazaribagh, Jan. 14 '81		Nil	Weather—seasonable. Prospects of crops now standing on the ground continue good. Public health good.
41 Lohardugga, „ 15 „		Nil	Weather—seasonable. Rubbee promises well, but rain wanted. Prices of rice have slightly risen in some thanas; in others they continue stationary. Public health from Palarow sub division reported to be good.
42 Singhbhum, „ 14 „		0.25	Weather—seasonable. Rubber doing well. General health good.
43 Manbhum, „ 15 „		Nil	Weather—fine and cool. Prospects of winter crops favourable. Mustard, wheat, barley, and arhar on the ground. Pressing of sugarcane rapidly going on. Public health good. Small pox in certain villages in thanas Puralia and Chas.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the barograph and thermograph.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction and movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA—MARINE BRANCH—MILITARY DEPARTMENT.

NOTICE TO MARINERS.—(No. 1.)

INDIA—BAY OF BENGAL.

RIVER HOOGHLY SANDHEADS.

Light Regulations for Pilot Brigs.

THE Port Officer, Calcutta, has notified that on and after the first day of July 1881, the Pilot Brigs at the Hooghly Sandheads will, when under weigh and cruising about, show the usual red and green side lights. When they are hove-to, engaged in supplying or taking out a Pilot, and thus not under command, the side lights will be obscured, and the bright mast-head light exhibited according to the Regulations of the Board of Trade. On the near approach of a vessel, a white light will be shown over the Brig's stern.

2. While Pilot Brigs are at anchor, the usual anchor light will be hoisted at the star-board fore yard-arm.

3. The maroons, or flare-up lights, will, as heretofore, be burnt by the Brigs every quarter of an hour, whether under weigh or at anchor, from sunset to sunrise, in accordance with the aforesaid Regulations.

By Direction of the Government of India,

A. DUNDAS TAYLOR, Comdr. (late I. N.),
Superintendent, Marine Survey of India.

MARINE SURVEY DEPARTMENT, CALCUTTA, the 8th January 1881.

This Notice affects Taylor's Sailing Directory, Vol. I, page 474.

If this Notice is received on boardship, the substance of it should be introduced into the Sailing Directions to which it relates.

NOTIFICATION.

NOTIFICATION.

The 13th January 1881.—It is hereby notified that the Lieutenant-Governor authorizes the extension of the provisions of Act II (B.C.) of 1867 (an Act for the punishment of public gambling and the keeping of common gaming-houses), to the towns of Daltongunge, Shahpore, and Chainpore, in the district of Lohardugga, as defined by the boundaries mentioned below:—

DALTONGUNGE, INCLUDING NOWATOLI.

On the north.—An irregular line drawn due west from the junction of the Behar and Ranchee roads along a dhorha rising behind the bungalow of Mr. Hodges and running behind those of Thakurai Janki Singh occupied by the Assistant Conservator of Forests, and of the Inspector of Police to that point in the Koel river near village Kund where the dhorha falls into the Koel.

On the east.—A straight line drawn due south from that point where the northern boundary begins across two dhorhas and fields, and going outside the houses of Bundhun Bhuya and Dobra Bhuya in Nowatoli to a rock in the bed of the Koel river off Nowatoli where the river turns to the west.

On the south and west.—The Koel river.

SHAHPORE.

On the north.—The Koel river.

On the south.—A straight line drawn due west from the masonry altar of the goddess Dehi (known as Debisthan) across fields and a dhorha to the middle of Mr. Forbes's lake (commonly called Forbes's Bund) where a dhorha takes its rise.

On the east.—An irregular line drawn due north from that point where the southern boundary begins, going outside a mangoe-tope and the ruins of a masonry building of the late Rajah of Palamow, to the big chilbil tree on the bank of the Koel river near Chhokouri Sahoo's Temple.

On the west.—An irregular line drawn due north from that point where the northern boundary ends along the dhorha which rises there to a big seemull tree where the dhorha falls into the Koel.

CHAINPORE.

On the north.—A slightly irregular line drawn due west from that point in the Mandhata river where the footpath from Shahpore to Kunkuree crosses that river through rice fields and a reservoir of water for irrigation to the north-west corner of Baghubar Sahoo's tank, where there is a temple.

On the east.—A straight line drawn due south from that point where the northern boundary begins along the footpath from Shahpore to Kunkuree to the masonry well of Thakuri Ram Sarun Sing on the boundary between Kunkuree and Bhaigan.

On the south.—An irregular line drawn due west from the well where the eastern boundary ends through fields going outside the houses of Chhattu Kahar and Bigun Kahar on the south of Mandhata river and then crossing that river to an old tank of the Thakuris of Chainpore in the mangoe-tope called the Andheri Bagicha.

On the west.—A straight line drawn due north from the tank where the southern boundary ends to the north-west corner of Baghubar Shah's tank where the northern boundary ends.

This notification will have effect from the 3rd February 1881.

SENATE HOUSE,
The 25th January 1881. }

CHARLES H. TAWNEY,
Registrar.

NOTIFICATION OF THE BOARD OF REVENUE.

No. 1382B.

NOTICE is hereby given that the Provision Opium to be brought forward for sale by public auction in the year 1881 will consist of about 28,200 chests prepared at the Patna factory, each chest of which is believed to contain 1 maund 18 seers 12 chittacks of pure opium, besides 9 seers 6 chittacks used for pasting the leaves of the shell, and about 28,200 chests prepared at the Ghazepore factory, each chest of which is believed to contain 1 maund 18 seers 12 chittacks of pure opium, besides 9 seers 6 chittacks used for pasting the leaves of the shell; being of the two seasons 1878-79 and 1879-80 in the proportion marginally noted.

2. The dates on or about which the sales will be held, and the total quantity of opium as well as the respective quantities manufactured at the Patna and Ghazepore factories, which will be brought forward for sale every month, are specified below. The Board of Revenue reserve to themselves the right of altering the dates, should circumstances render it expedient to do so. Agreeably to the terms of the notification of the Government of India, No. 1212, dated 8th March 1879, the monthly provision of 4,700 chests of opium will neither be increased nor diminished until at least twelve calendar months after notice published either in the Gazette of India or in the Calcutta Gazette; nor will the division of the monthly provision of 4,700 chests into 2,350 chests of opium manufactured at the Patna factory, and 2,350 chests of opium manufactured at the Ghazepore factory be modified until at least six calendar months after notice published in like manner:—

The following are the conditions of sale:—

1.—The Opium will be sold for exportation by sea only, and no certificate will be granted except to cover such export.

2.—The Opium will be ordinarily offered for sale at an upset price of Rs. 800 per chest and sold to the highest bidder above that price, except under the circumstances for which provision is made by Clause 13 of these Conditions of Sale. The bids must advance by Rs. 5 at a time.

3.—The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A.M. of the day fixed by previous notification, and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P.M.; but if at that hour any of the lots advertised for sale shall remain unsold, the sale may, at the discretion of the Board of Revenue, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday), at the hour of 11 A.M., and so on until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of; or, if the whole quantity advertised shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Board of Revenue may dispose of the lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

4.—Each lot shall contain five chests.

5.—A Promissory Note for a sum, calculated according to the scale noted in the margin, shall be taken as a deposit on each lot from the purchaser in the sale-room and before the lot is registered in the sale-book, and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this Office by Bank of Bengal Receipts, or by substitution of other public securities of the Government of India, on or before 3-30 P.M. in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the said notes must be redeemed by 1-30 P.M. or, on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Bank of Bengal Receipts or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Board of Revenue shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

7.—The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the fifth condition, if remaining unredeemed at 3-30 P.M. of the fifth day following the day of sale, or 1-30 P.M. if the last day falls on a Saturday, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

8.—No tender of money, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or public securities, on account of opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before the prescribed time in clause 5 on the fifth day following the day of sale, will be afterwards accepted. Provided always that money so subsequently tendered may be taken in payment of the said Promissory Note, but such acceptance of money shall in no way entitle the payer thereof to any right to delivery of the lot or lots in respect whereof the said note was given, or to any of the rights of a purchaser thereof, or release the payer from liability for any unpaid balance of such note or from the additional liability for the loss and expenses of such re-sale as provided for in clauses No. 5 and No. 6.

9.—The opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than by 3-30 P.M. of the fifteenth day from the day of sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the opium must be paid for by 1-30 P.M.; and in case any lots of such opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the 5th condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Board of Revenue shall think fit; and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good all expenses and any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale, and the liability for the loss or difference of price and expenses shall be in addition to, and wholly independent of, the amount of the deposit so forfeited.

10.—Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of opium after making full payment as above prescribed shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots, or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests originally required to be included in each certificate or order.

11.—No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present conditions will be received in this Office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale-book, or his authorized agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

12.—The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall, on demand

DEPOSIT.

When the amount bid is less than Rs. 1,200 per chest, Rs. 200 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,200 and upwards, but less than Rs. 1,600 per chest, Rs. 300 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,600 and upwards, but less than Rs. 2,000 per chest, Rs. 400 per chest.
And so on, Rs. 100 being added to the deposit for every bid additional, to the extent of Rs. 400.

tender at the time a deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or Government Securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these conditions.

13.—With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually until a bid is obtained, and the first bond fide bidder for a lot after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 800 specified in the second of these conditions.

14.—The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same Agency opium not exceeding altogether twenty-five lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the opium to complete the said twenty-five.

15.—In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

16.—The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue:—No. 1, certificate of the opium advertised for sale; No. 2, report of the examination of such opium.

17.—The public are hereby informed that, in providing the investment of the opium manufactured at the Patna factory and the opium manufactured at the Ghazee pore factory for the year 1879-80, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug when packed at the Patna and Ghazee pore factories, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken for the purpose of comparison from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue.

18.—The attention of the public is particularly drawn to the fact that of the aforesaid 15,204 chests of the opium manufactured at the Ghazee pore factory, of the season 1878-79, 1,729 chests consist of opium specially manufactured at a consistence of 75°, and also to the fact that the ordinary opium manufactured at the Ghazee pore factory of that season is of unusually high consistence. The numbers and the distinctive marks of the 1,729 chests of 75° consistence will be duly mentioned in the notifications of the sales in which they will be brought forward.

19.—Any further information respecting weight or quality of the opium advertised for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue. But, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Board of Revenue entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the opium for shipment.

20.—It is hereby further notified that under the 6th Article of the Convention between Great Britain and France, dated the 7th March 1815, quoted below, the Agents in India of the French Government, or persons duly appointed by them, are entitled to demand that out of the quantities of opium manufactured at the Patna and Ghazee pore factories declared as above for sale at the twelve sales of the year 1881, there shall be delivered to them, at the average of the particular sale or sales to which the opium so applied for may belong a quantity not exceeding in the aggregate 300 chests, and the Agents of the French Government must make requisition specifying the quantity of opium required by them at any particular sale within thirty days from the advertisement of such intended sale: provided, however, that the Agent of the French Government may make such requisition for the whole quantity within thirty days from the publication of this notification. If the Agent of the French Government shall not make the requisition for opium within the time above mentioned, the entire quantity of about 56,400 chests of opium manufactured at the Patna and Ghazee pore factories, as above estimated, will be brought to sale in the usual manner; and if they shall make application for a quantity of opium to be delivered to them out of the quantity advertised for sale at each or any of the twelve sales above mentioned, but shall not pay for it within the prescribed period of payment, the Government of Bengal reserves to itself the right of disposing of the opium which the French Authorities may so fail to pay for, either by increasing the quantity reserved at the sale next ensuing after the date fixed for payment, or by selling such opium, or any portion of it at any subsequent monthly sale in addition to the quantity which in this advertisement is approximately mentioned as the quantity to be sold at such sale; or by selling such opium at a sale to be held expressly for the purpose.

Article of the Convention above referred to.

Article VI.—"With regard to the trade in opium, it is agreed between the high contracting parties that at each of the periodical sales of that article there shall be reserved for the French Government, and delivered upon requisition duly made by the Agents of His Most Christian Majesty, or by the persons duly appointed by them, the number of chests so applied for, provided that such supply shall not exceed three hundred chests in each year, and the price for the same shall be determined by the average rate at which opium shall have been sold at every such periodical sale, it being understood that if the quantity of opium applied for at any one time shall not be taken on account of the French Government by the Agents of His Most Christian Majesty within the usual period of delivery, the quantity so applied for shall nevertheless be considered as so much in reduction of the three hundred chests heretofore mentioned. The requisitions for opium, as aforesaid, are to be addressed to the Governor-General at Calcutta within thirty days after notice of the intended sales shall have been published in the Government Gazette."

PART IV.

Bill of the Bengal Council.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

THE following papers are published for general information:—

THE REPORT OF THE COMMISSION

ON

THE LABOUR DISTRICTS EMIGRATION ACT.

WE the Commissioners appointed by the Bengal Government Resolution of the 13th December 1880, to consider and amend the Labour Districts Emigration Act, VII (B.C.) of 1873, have the honor to make the following report.

2. We submit a copy of the proceedings at our meetings, and the draft of a Bill embodying the amendments which we consider desirable in the system of inland labour transport. Owing to the illness of Mr. Forsyth, Assistant Secretary to the Bengal Government in the Legislative Department, we have had no professional assistance in drawing up the Bill. This fact may perhaps serve to explain or extenuate any defects that may be found in its form and phraseology.

3. From the official and other papers laid before us, and from our own personal knowledge of the subject, we find that the present "Labour Districts Emigration Act" is defective in respect chiefly of the points numbered I to IV below—

I.—In that it does not afford sufficient encouragement to free emigration.

II.—In that it imposes unnecessary restrictions upon sirdari recruiting.

III.—In that it fails to provide for the enforcement of contracts made otherwise than under the provisions of the Act itself, even in the case of imported labourers.

IV.—In respect of the remedies provided for employers in the event of the unlawful absence, idleness, or desertion of their contract labourers.

4. The proceedings of the Bengal Legislative Council show that in 1873 the local Government recognized in some degree the propriety of encouraging "free emigration" and "free recruiting;" by the former of which terms was apparently meant the spontaneous and unsolicited emigration of natives of other parts of India to the labour districts, while the latter term was intended to apply to a system of inducing such natives to emigrate, and furnishing them with the means of doing so, carried on by, or on behalf of employers, without any supervision or control on the part of Government officers. The Lieutenant-Governor (Sir G. Campbell) seems indeed to have held that it was only the difficulty and expense then attending the conveyance of labourers to Assam which rendered it expedient to give to both employer and labourer the protection of a special law. Had communication been easy, and emigration for the purpose of finding employment common, no case would, in his view, have existed for applying any other than the ordinary law of master and servant. Sir G. Campbell does not, however, appear to have fully noticed the difficulties attendant upon the control of native imported labour in a country like Assam, and the impossibility of working it successfully without some more stringent sanctions than are afforded by the ordinary contract law. He did not specially consider whether the ordinary law of master and servant was in itself sufficient to meet the exigencies of the case. His first idea therefore, when amending Act II (B.C.) of 1870, was to allow any native of India to go as a free emigrant to the labour districts, but not to recognize any contract made by him before his arrival.

there, unless it were made under the provisions of the Labour Act. After arrival, this free immigrant might enter into any contract he pleased, but only under the ordinary law. He would be liable merely in damages if he broke it; and it was, owing to the competition for labour in the districts, generally to his interest to break it as soon and as often as he could. It was moreover at that time practically impossible for a native of the districts of Western Bengal and Behar to transfer himself and his family to the labour districts without substantial assistance in money from some source or other. But the scheme proposed by Sir. G. Campbell held out absolutely no inducements to an employer to incur the risk of making advances to defray the expenses of such emigration. While the labour law and this suggestion of the Lieutenant-Governor were under the consideration of the Bengal Council, the anticipations of scarcity in Behar gave the subject of emigration increased importance. It was contemplated that Government and private employers desiring labour should assist emigrants to reach the labour districts, and in order to draw forth such assistance from the tea planters, the Lieutenant-Governor modified his first suggestion so far as to propose that the law should recognize contracts made by emigrants at any place, and for any time, up to the limit of one year from the date of their arrival in the labour districts. But this contract was still only to be an agreement enforceable by suit under the ordinary civil law of contract: and the provisions of section 7 of Act VII (B. C. of 1873, in which the suggestion was ultimately embodied, have, so far as the free recruiting of emigrants and placing them upon contracts in their own districts is concerned, remained practically a dead letter.

5. No employer at present enters into a contract with an intending emigrant in the district of the emigrant's home, otherwise than under the provisions of the Act, and the impression has been general, among both employers and the officers of Government, that to recruit labour in Bengal or Behar, otherwise than in accordance with these provisions, was altogether illegal. This misconception of the law was exposed in a circular to district officers issued the year before last by the Government of Bengal on the representation of the Chief Commissioner of Assam; but it is certain that, so far as the districts of the Assam Valley are concerned, very little advantage has been taken hitherto of the concession embodied in section 7 of the Act. It is still not fully understood that a free emigrant may be put upon civil contract for a year in the district of his recruitment, and an Assam planter, especially in the remoter districts, does not care to run the risk of taking such an emigrant up to the garden at considerable expense, only to have him, in the absence of all legal engagement, enticed away by the liberal offers of some other employer, or to be met by a refusal to contract except upon the further payment of a substantial bonus.

6. In the case of Cachar and Sylhet there has been the same indifference to the permission given by the law to put an intending emigrant on contract for a year before he leaves his own district; but owing probably to the fact that transport to the Surma Valley has usually been by country boat, and subject therefore to but little interference and supervision, a practice has grown up of extensive free recruiting to supply the wants of those districts, the labourers being put upon contract for a year on their arrival there. (In some instances indeed the law has been directly evaded, and three-year contracts taken from such immigrants, on the theory that after arrival they became local labourers.) But, of course, no contract which is not made under the Act can be enforced otherwise than under the ordinary law, and though Act XIII of 1859 has been doubtfully applied to such local contracts in some districts, its provisions were obviously never intended to meet such cases. There is therefore a universal complaint that the employer is, in the absence of a penal law, insufficiently protected in respect of local contracts, and recourse is only had to the system of free recruiting in places where it has been tried, because the alternatives of contractors' recruiting and sirdari recruiting are under present restrictions unduly expensive.

7. The general conclusion arrived at not only by us but by all who have been consulted in the matter, is that, looking to the increased facilities of communication with the labour districts, to the fact that the conditions of labour there are now thoroughly understood by the class from which the labourers are drawn, to the greatly ameliorated condition of the labourers themselves in the tea districts, to the great importance of colonizing the eastern and relieving the pressure of population in the western districts of the Bengal Provinces, and to the urgent necessity at the present time of assisting the tea industry in which so much capital has been embarked, no unnecessary obstruction should now be thrown in the way of the emigration of natives of other parts of India to the labour districts under contracts made as in the Act provided; and that nothing should interfere with the making of such contracts by free emigrants and other local and time-expired labourers within the labour districts themselves.

8. Those employers who can draw a sufficient supply of labour to their tea gardens, without incurring the expense of employing a regular agency to recruit and to execute contracts in the recruiting districts, may be left to make their own arrangements. When free emigrants arrive ready to work for such employers, or where local labourers or others are willing to enter into contracts with them under the Act, they should be allowed to do so, it being provided that every labourer placing himself under the penal provisions of the Act shall be entitled also to benefit by its protective clauses. If any employer objects to this, he should be at full liberty to make with his labourers any contract which the ordinary law of the country will recognize and enforce.

9. On the other hand, there are districts more remote, and employers so locally circumstanced, as to make it necessary in their case that the emigrants going to recruit their labour force should be actually put on contract before leaving the province of their engagement. We propose to meet their wants by relieving sirdari recruiting of many of the restrictions which now apply to it.

10. At present the garden-sirdar is regarded with suspicion by the law, by the Magistrates of recruiting districts, and by his employer. The law compels him to present himself at the Magistrate's court of the district where he proposes to work, that he may get his license countersigned—a requirement which at once brings him into dubious relations with the cutcherry amlah. His certificate is only allowed to run for six months. He is not permitted to travel in company with another sirdar, if the total number of their united bands of emigrants exceeds twenty. If he recruits more than twenty emigrants himself, he must take them to a contractor's depôt, becoming to all intents and purposes a contractor's recruiter. The local Magistrates in the recruiting districts have done little to help, and in some instances much to hinder, the work of even bond fide garden-sirdars. The sirdars are kept hanging about the courts while enquiries are made by the police in regard to their recruits; or while the Magistrate is absent from the station or engaged on other work. They have to fee underlings to assist them in getting registration effected, and they find it often impossible, owing to the delays and 'hustling,' to keep together the emigrants they have with pains collected. At the same time the employer finds that he on his part has no control over the sirdar when once he has left the garden. His contract was to remain and labour on the garden, and when he arrives at his home, he not unfrequently ignores his employer entirely, and decides to remain where he is. He sometimes disappears altogether with the advances made to him, or fritters the money away, and then declares his inability to move until he gets further supplies. He is tempted by contractors' recruiters and crimps to make over to them for a consideration emigrants recruited at his employer's expense; either filling up their places with worthless substitutes, or declaring that the labourers deserted after taking the advances he had been instructed to offer them. When he is placed under the control of a contractor or his local representative, as is sometimes done, he generally becomes merely a recruiter with a free license, who collects emigrants for the contractor rather than for his employer, receiving a commission on every man he brings in. It must be remembered also that the whole of the local influence of the contractors and their professional recruiters is thrown into the scale against the bond fide garden-sirdar, who works only by himself and for his employer.

11. We have no doubt whatever that most of the abuses attendant upon the engagement of natives of India for emigration purposes have been attributable to the operations of professional contractors and recruiters: and we believe that the only way to put interprovincial emigration on a sound and natural basis, and at the same time to diminish the cost of procuring labour, is to sever all connection between garden-sirdars and contractors' depôts, and to give the widest scope to the working of the sirdari system; providing at the same time, in the employer's interests, for the effective control of the sirdars when engaged on recruiting duty. The fiction that the garden-sirdar is sent back to induce only his own immediate relatives to return to the garden where he has prospered must be given up. He must be recognized as a recruiter, but as a recruiter directly commissioned by the employer himself, with personal knowledge of a labourer's life, and of whom his employer has personal knowledge. He should not be allowed to degenerate into a professional crimp, and his certificate should therefore run only for a limited period, and be renewable only with the consent of the Magistrate of the Labour District.

12 We should have been glad to see the contractor and his recruiter abolished altogether. But apart from the injury to individuals which the summary closing of an industry would certainly inflict, it is probable that there are some gardens which are not yet in a position to employ sirdari recruiters, and must for the present depend upon professional assistance in procuring labour. Provision has, however, been made in the Bill drawn up by us for supplying by means of specially Licensed Local Agents the wants of new gardens when (as may be hoped will soon be the case) contractors and their depôts shall no longer exist.

13. On the subject of the defective provision in the present Act for the enforcement of locally-made contracts, and the treatment of unlawful absence and desertion of labourers in the labour districts, we can add nothing to the facts and arguments set forth in the letter to the Government of India from the Secretary to the Chief Commissioner of Assam, No. 2065 of the 28th October last, and its enclosures. It is only necessary emphatically to endorse all that is there said as to the absolute necessity of providing a penal contract law to secure employers in the tea districts against the serious losses to which they would be liable under a system of purely civil contract. But we hold equally strongly the view that, if a labourer consents to subject himself to a penal labour law, he is entitled to demand also the protection of law in respect of his general relations with his employer. If he surrenders to some extent his freedom, the law must compel the employer to provide for his wants, must secure to him his wage, must protect him against overwork, and must shield him from ill-usage of all kinds. This being so, it seems by far the simplest plan that all penal contracts to labour should be made under the same Act. There is good reason to believe that local and time-expired labourers in the tea districts are fully alive to their own interests, and not likely to be coerced or deceived into making any contract of the terms of which they are in doubt, or which they disapprove. In deference to the almost unanimous wish of the tea-planters, we propose to permit the extension of the maximum term of contract under the Act to five years; but we think it probable that in most cases local contracts will continue to be made for shorter terms, and the only effect of bringing such contracts under the Act will be, that there will be no sudden disruption or change in the position of imported labourers when the term of their first engagement comes to an end. They will simply make a fresh bargain in full knowledge of all its conditions, and will continue to receive the same protection as during the first term of their residence in the labour districts.

14. With these preliminary observations, explanatory of the general policy we have adopted, we proceed to notice in detail the amendments and alterations proposed by us in the Labour Law.

Sections of Act VII (B.C.) of 1873.	Corresponding sections of the Draft Bill.	Explanatory remarks by the Commission.
Preamble	Preamble	The last clauses of the preamble have been altered to indicate the extended purview of the proposed law. Instead of providing merely for the protection of persons proceeding under contract to the labour districts, and for the enforcement of contracts of service entered into by them, it is proposed to provide generally for the enforcement of contracts of service made under the Act, and for the protection of all persons entering into such contracts.

Sections of Act VII (B.C.) of 1873.	Corresponding sections of the Draft Bill.	Explanatory remarks by the Commission.
1 & 2	1 & 2	The necessary verbal changes have been made in the 'Title' and 'Repealing Section.'
3	3	In the interpretation clause the following additions and alterations have been made :—
		(1).—A definition of the term 'Local Government' has been given, by which the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal and the Chief Commissioner of Assam respectively will exercise within the districts subject to their several jurisdictions the powers given by law to the 'Local Government.' There being two 'labour districts' under the Lieutenant-Governor, it is necessary to employ a phrase that will cover both the Lieutenant-Governor and the Chief Commissioner in respect of matters with which both must deal. (2).—To simplify the wording of many sections, the phrases 'Inspector' and 'Assistant Inspector' are defined to mean respectively 'Inspector of Labourers' and 'Assistant Inspector of Labourers' under the Act. (3).—To remove doubts, it is expressly stated that a 'garden-sirdar' may be either 'male or female.' The employment of female sirdar recruiters, who are generally the wives of garden-sirdars, is very desirable. The Magistrate can always refuse to countersign the certificate of any objectionable female. (4).—The 'Local Agent' is practically a new creation of this Bill, although in some districts, Calcutta Agency houses at present employ a class of local agents, taking out for them either contractors' or recruiters' licenses. His duties and responsibilities are defined in sections 21 to 23. The intention is that he should control the operations of garden-sirdars in the recruiting districts, provide them with the necessary funds, and act generally as the representative of his employer. He can never, under any circumstances, be a contractor; but with the special permission of his employers, and special license from Government, a local agent may be allowed to engage labourers for new gardens without the intervention of a garden-sirdar. (5).—A provision is made in section 45 for licensing 'sub-contractors,' and a 'sub-contractor' is here defined to be a contractor's local representative. It is better to bring such men under control by recognizing them formally in the Act, than, as at present, either to ignore them, or compel them to take out recruiters' licenses. (6).—The definitions of 'Emigrant' and 'Labourer' have been modified to suit the policy of the Bill. 'Emigrant' will now merely mean a Native of India, of the age of 16 years or upwards, who proceeds to emigrate, while 'labourer' will mean any labourer who has made a contract under the Act. A definition of 'dependent' has been inserted to meet doubts which have arisen in practice, and save a separate section in the body of the Bill.

(7).—'Estate' is defined to mean the lands upon which any labourers (as well labourers defined in this Act as others) have been engaged to labour. This, with the definition of 'Manager,' is necessary to meet the case of gardens employing imported free labour from which returns are necessary for statistical purposes.

(8).—'Rule,' is defined to mean a rule formally made and duly notified under sections 5 and 6 of the Bill.

4 A power is given to the local Government to exempt any labour district from the provisions of the Bill. It is probable that Sylhet, and very possible that Cachar, may be able shortly to do without any special Labour law.

4 5 & 6 A distinction has been drawn in section 5 between those rules which either of the two local Governments concerned may be called upon to make for its own province, and those which the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal alone, or the Chief Commissioner of Assam alone, will have to frame. The description of the subject matter of the rules has been made in some instances more precise, and in some more general. Any changes made in substance will be more conveniently noticed in connection with the sections of the law to which the clauses severally refer.

We would, however, specially draw the attention of Government to the importance of having all rules carefully framed as far as possible in consultation with the leading representatives of the interests affected by them. So much important detail is left to be regulated by rules that full publicity and opportunity of discussing their bearing should be given to those concerned before they are finally passed by Government.

7 This is a new section, and provides that any sums advanced by any Government officer under certain sections of the Bill on behalf of an employer, a garden-sirdar, a contractor, or the master of a vessel, shall be recoverable under the Public Demands Recovery Act, VII (B.C.) of 1880, which it is presumed will be extended to Assam. If it is not so extended, the advances should be made recoverable by civil suit.

5 8 All contracts under the Act, and all arrears of wages due under such contracts, are made, as at present, a charge upon the estate, and will be transferred therewith. When the labourer contracts to labour upon any one of several estates belonging to the same employer, it is provided that the contract is to be a charge upon the estate on which the labourer may for the time being actually labour.

6 9 The present Act enables a native, when above the age of 16 years to make a valid contract under the Act. It is proposed to say of or above that age, which is practically the way in which the law is interpreted and worked.

Sections of Act VII (B.C.) of 1873.	Corresponding sections of the Draft Bill.	Explanatory remarks by the Commission.
15	10	The section regulating the terms of a contract under the Act is brought into the preliminary chapter as being now intended to be a section of general application, regulating the contracts of local as well as of immigrant 'labourers.' We have raised the maximum limit of time to five years, and provided for payment in accordance with the system of task-work universal in the labour districts. It has been thought essential to provide for a minimum rate of wage for a fully completed task, and for a higher minimum in the fourth and fifth years of service, to which it is proposed that the contract term may now be extended. These changes have been made in accordance with the almost unanimous demand of those interested in the tea industry, concurred in by both the Chief Commissioner of Assam and the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal. The argument in favour of the extension of term is that it is only thus that the employer can be fairly recompensed his preliminary outlay and risk in importing the labourer and maintaining him while he gets acclimatized and learns his work. Looking, however, to the fact that a time-expired labourer can now always command a bonus on re-engagement, we consider that he is entitled to higher wages for the same amount of work in the later years of his service. He will, moreover, ordinarily be able to get through his task more quickly, and thus earn by extra work a full remuneration for his own improved capacity. Provision is further made for the deputation of a garden-sirdar on recruiting duty during the currency of his contract.
Schedule A	Schedule A.	It is proposed that the contract should be either to work upon any specified estate, or upon any estate belonging to the employer in the same labour district, as the parties to the contract may desire. Labourers frequently wish to work on some particular and favourite garden. On the other hand they may be ready to work indifferently on any garden belonging to their employer in a certain neighbourhood. But where the engagement is thus general in terms, the labourer is protected against separation from his immediate family. The form of contract has been simplified, so as to be suitable for execution either in the recruiting districts or in the labour districts. Specific reference is made in it to the supply of house accommodation, medical attendance, food-grain and rations, because those are matters which ought to be brought under the notice of the intending labourer. It is presumed that the rules of the local Government on the supplying of food-grains will be furnished to every registering officer, so that he may be in a position to give the necessary information to emigrants brought before him for registration.
7	11	Section 7 of the present Act prevents the execution of contracts to labour in the labour districts for more than one year, save under the provisions of the Act. In accordance with the policy already explained, section 11 of the Bill permits the free execution of contracts to be enforced only under the ordinary civil law. It also declares in unequivocal terms the legality of free emigration. But

		it maintains the protection now given to emigrants (i.e. to persons not natives of the labour districts), who may accept in ignorance an engagement to work on a garden declared unfit for the residence of such emigrants when on contract under the Act.
8	12	No change has been made in the general section regarding penalties; but to remove doubts, it is provided that all fines under the Act are to be recoverable under the Criminal Procedure Code.
9	13	The section relating to procedure on trial of offences remains unchanged.
10 & 11	14 & 15	The section conferring on the local Government the power of forbidding emigration and immigration under the Act has been made more general, but the previous sanction of the Supreme Government ought, in our opinion, to be required to an order affecting the interests of more than one province.
12	16	The section providing for the appointment of officers and their subordinate establishments is made more general in its wording. It will probably be found desirable to appoint more than one Superintendent of Emigration. The Government can under the rules define the duties of each; and it is provided elsewhere in the Bill that Government shall also determine which of the Superintendents under it shall license contractors, &c. The same remarks apply in respect of embarkation officers, and their power to license vessels. We attach special importance to the appointment of as many registering officers as possible. At present the delay and expense caused by there being only one Magistrate at each station empowered to register are very serious. There seems to be no good reason why the Civil Surgeon, or any other officer of Government, or any Honorary Magistrate, should not act as a registering officer.
13, 16 to 32	17 to 44	Sections 17 to 44 contain our scheme of sirdari recruiting. In the first place, the certificate granted to the sirdar must set forth the principal points in the instructions given him by his employer, and, as disobedience in respect of certain of these instructions will subject him to penalties, he is required to accept and sign the certificate in the presence of the Inspector or a Magistrate of the labour district. The certificate will be in force for 12 months; but if the employer finds that any sirdar is a good recruiter, he may, with the consent of the Inspector or Magistrate of the Labour District, renew his certificate from time to time. The certificate need not be countersigned by the Magistrate of the recruiting district; nor is the sirdar bound to take his recruits for registration to such Magistrate. He may do so if most convenient, or he may start on his journey with them, and put them on contract at any registering station to which he may come on his way to the labour districts: provided only that he puts them on contract before he leaves the province of Bengal. This provision is intended to save delays, and to enable an employer to secure the registration of his labourers at the place where he may find it most.

		convenient to keep a 'local agent.' The Government of Bengal will, it is hoped, multiply the facilities of registration by recognizing as many stations as possible. It is not proposed that special stations should be set apart for the registration of emigrants belonging to particular tracts of country. But no doubt in practice the tendency will be to put emigrants on contract at such places as Raneeunge and Hooghly, where there would ordinarily be a break in the journey; Raneeunge being the station where Chota Nagpore emigrants would take advantage of the railway, and Hooghly being the place where emigrants booked through to the Northern Bengal State Railway might be required to cross the river, so as to avoid Calcutta. The garden-sirdar will take emigrants with him out of their own district at his proper risk. If they decline on reasonable grounds to contract when brought before a registering officer, they will be returned to their homes at the employer's expense. No medical examination as to an emigrant's fitness to labour will be made as a matter of course; but if the employer wishes to secure such an examination, he will only have to note this on his sirdar's certificate, and the registering officer will see that the instruction has been attended to. Any Government medical officer will be bound to make the examination on payment to him of a fee of eight annas per labourer; or the employer or his local agent may make their own arrangements with any qualified medical man. An emigrant who unreasonably refuses to contract after money has been spent in bringing him to a district other than his own, will be liable to penalty. Any registering officer may prevent the emigration of any native brought before him who seems unfit to travel, or affected with disease dangerous to others, if on medical examination these facts are established. Garden-sirdars are to be allowed to make their own arrangements for the accommodation of their emigrants; and any central depôts provided by them will be subject only to reasonable sanitary supervision. No restriction will be imposed on the number of labourers a sirdar may recruit; but every gang of 20 labourers going to the labour districts must be in charge of a responsible person, who will look after them and pay their way. To further economy, it is provided that a garden-sirdar may, with the consent of his employer's local agent, take charge of emigrants engaged for another employer, so long as his gang does not exceed twenty. Garden-sirdars failing to carry out their orders with reference to putting emigrants on contract, or deserting or embezzling moneys, or abandoning labourers en route, will be liable to prosecution wherever found, and the employer's local agent may prosecute in all such cases. The sirdar is made liable to minor penalties if he play into the hands of contractors, or have any working connection with contractors or contractors' subordinates. Every gang of labourers will be accompanied by a nominal way-bill, on which all casualties will be noted, and which will eventually be returned by

33 to 51	45-66	the employer to the Superintendent of Emigration. There with thus be a complete record of the working of the system of sirdari recruiting in the Superintendent's office, obtained with the minimum amount of trouble to all concerned. Any Magistrate or Embarkation Agent or Inspecting Officer en route may detain any labourer or dependent found unfit to travel, or diseased in a manner to be dangerous to others. If any employer desires to have his labourers brought through Calcutta and inspected by his agents there, this can be done under section 43, even although the contract may have already been executed at another registering station. But little substantial alteration has been made in the sections relating to contractors and the operations of contractors' recruiting. Provision has been made, as above noticed, for the licensing of sub-contractors. The power of the Superintendent to cancel licenses during their currency for misconduct has been made more clear. The forms of licenses have been left to be regulated by rule. Contractors are to be bound to establish depôts wherever the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal considers these necessary. They have also been made civilly liable for the conduct of their subordinates. The medical examination of intending emigrants has been restricted to ascertaining whether they are fit to travel and free from contagious disease. It has been made clear here (as well as in the chapter on sirdari recruiting) that the registration fee is to be paid on every native produced for registration, whether eventually rejected or not. The work imposed on a registering officer is greater in the case of a rejected than in that of an accepted labourer.
52 to 60	67 to 76	The sections for the regulation of contractors' depôts remain substantially unaltered. The functions of the Medical Inspector in connection with the depôt have been more clearly defined, and his examination of the labourers is confined to ascertaining their continued freedom from contagious disease, and their fitness to travel to the labour districts. In section 76 provision is made for the supply of way-bills to gangs of labourers sent from contractors' depôts in the same manner as in the case of sirdari gangs.
61 to 91	77 to 99	An important change has been made in the provisions relating to transport. The present law deals only with the transport of 'emigrants' as there defined; that is to say labourers under contract, and natives of India under actual engagement to contract with some particular person special provision being made in certain matters for the protection of the former class. In view of the fact that, if free emigration develops, the number of native passengers by river steamer and country boat who are under no actual engagement may form the majority of those travelling by such means of conveyance, it seems necessary to give the Government a power of enforcing general sanitary regulations without reference to the classification of passengers. Accordingly provision is made for licensing all vessels carrying more than twenty native passengers, and a power is taken in section 5 to mak

Sections of Act VII (B.C.) of 1873.	Corresponding sections of the Draft Bill.	Explanatory remarks by the Commission.
		rules for the ventilation, cleanliness, and water-supply of all such vessels, and for their inspection on the Assam rivers. But, lest any such system of licensing should interfere unduly with the ordinary river traffic in country boats, the local Government is authorized to relieve any vessels or class of vessels from the obligation of obtaining license. This being the general principle on which the Chapter on 'Transport' has been framed, we proceed to notice a few of the modifications in detail.
	77	The transport of native passengers and emigrants to Chittagong must apparently be regulated by the Native Passengers Act of 1876; accordingly we have declared that the provisions of the Bill will not apply to such transport.
62 & 63	78 & 79	These sections are modified in accordance with the general principle above described; but the fee for license for a single voyage is reduced to a maximum of Rs. 16, instead of four annas per labourer carried, and provision is made for the grant of periodical licenses to vessels running regularly. It is probable, that very shortly there may be, if not a daily, at any rate a bi-weekly, accelerated steam service between Dhubri and Debrooghur. It would be intolerable to subject these vessels to measurement for license before every voyage, or to charge them a heavy license fee on each occasion. The provisions of the law to ensure punctual despatch, and prevent overcrowding have been modified to suit the new system.
61, 67 & 68	83	It is believed that, with a proper system of way-bills, it is unnecessary to maintain any express provisions of law for embarkation passes and lists. The way-bills of all gangs of labourers received on board should be kept by the master during the voyage, and the master (or medical officer) should enter on these all casualties occurring on board. He need then only submit such returns of "gangs" and casualties as the Government may by rule prescribe. The long nominal lists and multifarious passes, may be entirely dispensed with.
69 & 70	84 & 85	The arrangements for labourers on board must continue to be regulated by rule, but as under arrangements now coming into force the provisions and medical officer will be supplied by the steamer companies, these sections have been modified to meet the present requirements. All medical officers employed must hold a Government license, and be liable to removal for misconduct.
72	87	It is unnecessary to provide in the law for detention of vessels at all Magistrates' stations. The local Government can most conveniently arrange by rule all such points of detail, and the section has been modified accordingly.
73 to 78	90	The powers of an Inspecting Magistrate to detain vessels on account of disease among the passengers are restricted somewhat, in order to meet the requirements of the present accelerated service.
81 to 88	95	It is proposed to leave all the procedure for disembarking labourers, and despatching them to their destination, to be regulated by rules, which can be modified to suit local and varying circumstances.

Sections of Act VII (B.C.) of 1873.	Corresponding sections of the Draft Bill.	Explanatory remarks by the Commission.
89	96	At present the Magistrate of the district or division can only depute a subordinate Magistrate to do inspection duty. It is proposed to allow him also to depute any medical or gazetted police officer.
93 & 94	...	These sections are rendered unnecessary by the changes made in other parts of the draft Bill.
95-99	100 102	We propose in sections 27 and 61 to reduce the registration fee to a maximum of one rupee per head. In section 105 a similar fee is proposed for the registration of local contracts under the Act. In section 100 the same maximum is provided for the yearly rate. Looking to the large number of locally engaged labourers that are likely to come under the Act, it is probable that a very much smaller sum will bring in the income necessary to defray the cost of working the Act. We strongly recommend that the Government should adopt a sliding scale of registration fees with reference to the length of the contract term. It is not advisable to throw any obstacle in the way of the registration of local agreements under the Act, and if local contracts are generally made for one year only, it will be unfair to charge the full registration fee on every renewal. For the reasons set forth in the proceedings of our Fifth Meeting, to which we would specially invite a reference, we have decided to recommend that no more income should be raised by fees and rates than is actually sufficient to pay for the Government machinery required to work the Act. Any surplus accruing should, as in the case of the zemindari dāk cess, be appropriated to reducing the fees and rates for the following year. These sections are modified to give effect to these views; but the rate is made recoverable under the Public Demands Recovery Act, 1880. If that Act is not extended to Assam, the provisions of the present law may be restored.
	103-106	These sections provide for the execution of contracts under the Act by locally engaged labourers, whether immigrants or residents.
98-105	107-111	The provisions of the law regarding returns and registers to be made and kept by employers have been modified in the manner recommended by us at our Fourth Meeting. It is necessary for statistical purposes to provide for the submission of returns of imported labour in certain cases even when not on contract under the Act, and for the inspection of such labourers, and this has been done. The duties of Inspectors are left to be more particularly defined by rules. But we would suggest that in any such rules it should be provided that the Inspector shall, if possible, give notice of his intention to visit a garden for the purpose of mustering the labourers. It may often be very inconvenient to an employer to have to call them off their work without notice or preparation.
106 to 109.	112 to 116.	The procedure for regulating task-work, and the payment of the labourer, is made more precise; and while the employer is relieved of the obligation of submitting the schedule to the Inspector in the first place, the Inspector is empowered to order the alteration of anything that seems unreasonable, subject only to an appeal by the

110 to 112.	117 to 120.	employer to a Committee. As the employer will now under section 131 have an easy remedy in all cases of unlawful absence from work, we have made it clear that every labourer is entitled to his weekly day of rest, and to wages on that day. If he absents himself from work on other days, the proper course for his employer to follow is to report him to the Inspector, not to compel him to work on the only day he can claim for marketing or going about his own affairs. A new provision is inserted to meet the case of labourers who, though not actually sick, are weakly and unable to earn as much as half the minimum rate of wage. In the sections relating to "Incapacity to labour," a new provision has been made for occasional absences of the labourer, caused by sickness, not being of such a permanent character as to warrant the interference of the Inspector and the suspension of the contract. It is proposed to allow 30 days' grace on this account in the year on half-pay only, after which the days of absence will be added to the contract, unless the labourer shall refund the subsistence allowance drawn by him during absence. This section will only apply to absence from work caused by sickness; and seems therefore a concession which it is reasonable to make to the labourer, especially as we have below given the employer an easy remedy against unauthorised absence of other kinds.
113 to 117.	121 to 127.	The most important change under the heading "Necessary provision for labourers" is the omission from the contract of all reference to the supply of rice. In the prospect of emigrants from Behar forming in future a large majority of the labour force of the province, it seemed unreasonable to stipulate for the supply of rice only. On careful consideration of the whole question, we have come to the conclusion that the best plan is to give power to the local Government to make rules for the supply to labourers of the staple food-grain suited to each class, when this is not procurable at reasonable rates in the local markets. The Government may, we think, be trusted to determine, on equitable principles, what are reasonable rates, and at what prices the employer should supply his labourers. Local circumstances vary so greatly that what may be reasonable in one district would be most unfair in another, but no doubt the matter would always have to be regulated by reference to the labourer's wage as the ultimate standard. We have also made provision for a modified system of rationing in exceptional cases. In the case of Behar labourers a reasonable system of rationing in the early months of service will, we believe, often prevent serious mortality. We recognise, however, all the difficulties attendant on the introduction of any such system; and our proposals are therefore of a moderate and tentative character. The wording of the section regarding hospital accommodation and medical attendance has been made more general, so as to enable the Government to sanction necessary arrangements in a manner as little burdensome as possible to individual employers.

118 to 120	128 to 130	The only change in the chapter relating to localities unfit for the residence of labourers is that provision has been made for closing a garden against some particular class of labourers without barring the employment of all labourers.
121	131	At present the penalty for unlawful absence of the labourer from his work can only be enforced by complaint before a Magistrate. An employer cannot, however, spare time to make journeys to court every time one of his labourers plays truant. It is proposed therefore to allow him to submit to the Inspector a monthly list of defaulters, giving at the same time notice to each such defaulter that he has entered him in the list. The Inspector will, on his next visit, enquire into each case and endorse the days of absence on the contract, unless the labourer agrees to forfeit four annas for each day of absence. Prolonged and repeated absence may still be punished by a Magistrate, if the employer chooses to complain, and the penalties for this have been made more severe.
122	132 to 134	The sections regarding "desertion" have been modified in the manner recommended by the Chief Commissioner of Assam. The deserter may be arrested without warrant, but he must be taken to the nearest police-station where, after his statement and that of the captor have been recorded, he may be taken back to the estate of his employer. The Magistrate will, on perusal of the statements, judge if further enquiry is necessary and act accordingly.
	135	A new section has been inserted, providing a punishment for habitual drunkenness and wilful disregard of sanitary regulations. In most Colonial Ordinances cognizance is taken of the former offence: and as regards the latter, it seems to us that, where the consequence of sanitary neglect may be so serious to the employer, he should have some means of punishing wilful offenders against duly promulgated orders.
128	111	As recommended by the Chief Commissioner of Assam, rigorous imprisonment for one month has been provided as a possible punishment for enticing away or harbouring labourers.
129	142	Under the heading of 'Complaints by labourers,' it is provided that a labourer desiring to complain must be sent by his employer to the Inspector or Magistrate. But to prevent stoppage of work by the labourers complaining en masse , it is proposed that, if more than ten labourers come forward to complain, the employer shall send notice to the Inspector or Magistrate to come and enquire. The present Act only takes notice of complaints to an Inspector; but it seems desirable to extend the procedure under the chapter so as to allow complaints to any Magistrate. Such complaints would not always fall within the purview of the Indian Penal Code and Criminal Procedure Code or even necessarily have reference to a distinct offence under the Labour Act and Rules. The labourer should be allowed to bring anything that he feels to be a grievance before the nearest protective officer. When a labourer is sent in to make his complaint, the employer would

Sections of Act VII (B.C.) of 1873.	Corresponding sections of the Draft Bill.	Explanatory remarks by the Commission.
134	147	probably send a peon with him to prevent desertion. Provision is therefore made in section 142 for the award of compensation to the employer if the complaint is shown to be untrue or frivolous.
136, 138	149	Provision is made for the immediate recovery of wages due to a labourer whose contract has determined. The employer has no right to keep such a man on his garden by detaining his wages.
137	150	Instead of leaving the completion of the contract to be registered and endorsed by the Inspector, the obligation is thrown upon the employer of endorsing on the contract of each labourer the fact of its determination. The labourer will keep this as equivalent to a discharge certificate, and the other endorsements on the contract will show any new employer what the labourer's conduct has been during his former engagement.
Sche- dules B to F	The labourer is given the right to redeem the contract of any member of his family as well as his own, and the value now fixed for the unexpired period of the third year of any contract has been declared to extend to unexpired periods of the fourth and fifth years.
		It is much more convenient to leave all forms to be laid down by rules of the local Government.

15. In conclusion, we desire to urge upon Government, not merely in the interests of the tea industry, but in those of the whole province, the importance of devoting continued attention to the improvement of communications with and throughout the Labour Districts of the Assam and Surmah Valleys. We believe that it is in this way, rather than by any scheme of Government emigration, that the waste lands of Assam will ultimately be colonised and reclaimed. Every year sees an increase in the numbers of the resident population, brought there in the first instance to meet the requirements of tea cultivation. If communication is made easy, rapid, and cheap, we cannot doubt that in time there will set in a natural spontaneous emigration from the over-peopled districts of North Behar to the fertile rice-tracts of Assam. Every Behari labourer who can be kept in health during his contract term, and returned to his home as a garden-sirdar, serves as a living stimulus to bring about such a movement. It is to Behar and the North-West that the tea-planters must in the future mainly look for their supply of labour. It is to Behar and the North-West that the Government must look for the working population to reclaim the wastes of its North-Eastern Frontier. In this view we feel it right to place in the very foreground of all schemes of improvement (apart from the introduction of an accelerated river service, which the local administrations are already doing much to secure, and the making of good roads in the labour districts themselves), the completion of those links in the interprovincial railway system which will make it a simple and easy matter for the Behari labourer to journey to Assam for work, and which will at the same time serve to stimulate his settling there, by removing those sentimental ideas of distance and separation that more than anything else at present act as a deterrent upon voluntary and permanent emigration. We have the less hesitation in urging this matter, because experience seems to prove that almost any railway in Bengal must be a profitable investment for Capital. Already lines are under construction which will, when completed, link Bettiah, near the Eastern Frontier of the Ghazipore district in the North-Western Provinces, with Peepra Ghat on the eastern limit of Durbhunga. If that line were continued through Purneah and North Dinagepore to Parbuttipore on the Northern Bengal State Railway, the whole of North Behar and the trans-Gangetic portion of the North-West Provinces would, when the Kawnia-Dhubri tramway is finished, be in direct railway communication with Assam. A line from Caragola to Parbuttipore would place the districts of South Behar, Monghyr, and Bhagulpore in an equally favourable position. Each of these lines would pass through tracts of country rich and fertile in ordinary years, but still not altogether secure against famine. Apart, therefore, from their value as emigration routes, they would serve the double purpose of bringing the surplus produce of those tracts more readily to market, and of insuring the districts through which they run against the worst effects of scarcity. On the other side of Bengal we would point out that almost everything has yet to be done to develop the trade of the teeming districts of Dacca, Mymensingh, Sylhet, and Cachar. The Government of Bengal is, we have reason to know fully alive to the great commercial and administrative value of the schemes to which we have referred; and we trust that it will lose no opportunity of pressing them upon the favourable consideration of the Government of India and of Her Majesty's Government.

MINUTE BY MR. H. F. BROWN.

PARAGRAPH 15 alludes to an accelerated river service, which, the Committee has been informed, is being undertaken by Government. I am interested in river steamers. I agree that a daily and accelerated steam service to Assam would be an advantage to that district, and I am aware that European opinion in Assam is almost unanimous upon that point. That is natural. A similar, and probably equally unanimous, opinion prevails amongst passengers by other goods-carrying services, such as the P. & O. Company for example. I do not agree that the proposed acceleration is so urgent as to demand Government interference—certainly not in competition with the liberal offers of private steamer companies.

The history of the river steamer companies is that, when plying on the Ganges, all but one were ruined by the competition of a State-guaranteed railway. The one survivor and another resuscitated company transferred their fleets to the Brahmaputra, where, after having, by much labour and expense, developed an important traffic, they are again threatened with State competition.

This tendency of the Government to engage in trade is alarmingly on the increase, and unless that policy be authoritatively reversed, no private enterprise can be regarded as secure. Thus, we should not be tempted, by the anticipation of special conveniences, to countenance a policy which must seriously interrupt the development of private enterprise in this country.

*Proceedings of the Commission appointed to amend the Labour Districts
Emigration Act VII (B.C.) of 1873.*

THE Commission met at the Bengal Legislative Council Office on Monday, 20th December 1880.

PRESENT :

The President and all the Members of the Commission, and Mr. Forsyth, Assistant Secretary to the Government of Bengal in the Legislative Department.

The President intimated that he had caused to be furnished to each Member of the Commission a selection of the more important papers bearing on the working of Act VII (B.C.) of 1873, and a note showing the history of previous legislation on the subject of emigration to the tea districts. Mr. Macaulay would supplement these papers by a note embodying the result of his recent visits to the recruiting districts of Chota Nagpore and Behar.

2. The President invited an expression of the views of the Members as to the order in which the various questions calling for consideration should be taken up, and as to the most convenient mode of reducing to shape the results of the discussions.

3. Responding to this invitation, Mr. Aitchison submitted a memorandum setting forth his individual opinions as to the policy which the law ought to follow in the matter of the recruitment and protection of labourers.

4. The Commission proceeded to discuss the general subject of free emigration and sirdari recruiting, being the first matter adverted to in Mr. Aitchison's paper.

5. It was agreed that, for the present at any rate, and while the subjects under consideration are of a wide and general character, the most convenient course to follow would be that one or more such subject should be discussed orally at each meeting, without any formal record of the conversation being made, and that, at the following meeting, each Member should come prepared to submit his proposals in a formulated shape for definite acceptance, rejection, or modification by the Commission as a body.

6. In accordance with this arrangement, Members were requested to be prepared at the next meeting of the Commission to submit definite suggestions in connection with the following points:—

Free recruiting; sirdari recruiting; registration of emigrants; medical inspection of intending emigrants; the appointment of local agents to control sirdari recruiters; the control of local depôts for sirdari emigrants in the recruiting districts; the position to be held by contractors in the future.

A. MACKENZIE,

President.

*Proceedings of the Commission appointed to amend the Labour Districts
Emigration Act (VII. B.C. of 1873).*

SECOND MEETING OF THE COMMISSION.

Thursday, 23rd December 1880.

PRESENT :

The President and all the Members, and Mr. Forsyth.

The Commission took into consideration a Note circulated by the President, containing a series of proposals on the subjects of free emigration, sirdari recruiting, contractors, and local agents. The President intimated that Mr. Macaulay concurred in the Note which had been drawn up after discussion with him, and in view of all that had passed at the first meeting of the Commission.

2. On the subject of free emigration the Commission adopted unanimously the following proposition:—

1. Any person coming into or residing in the labour districts, not being an imported labourer under the (new) Act, may enter into a labour contract under the Act for any term permitted by the Act. The employer shall notify the making of each such contract, and shall forward the contract itself for registration to the Inspector within one month from the date of its execution; but it shall not be necessary for the purposes of such registration that the employer should send the contracting labourer before the Inspector: provided that the Inspector may, on his next visiting the garden on which such labourer is employed, cancel any such contract, if the labourer come forward and show good cause for this, but not otherwise. It shall be open to the employer, instead of himself putting the labourer on contract as above provided, to produce the intending labourer before the Inspector or before any Magistrate, and have the contract executed in the presence of such Inspector or Magistrate, and attested by him. No contract so attested shall be liable to be cancelled by the Inspector in the manner above provided.

3. It is implied in the foregoing proposition that the Act need take no cognizance of persons emigrating to the Labour Districts of their own free will, even though they may procure the means of doing so from an employer of labour, provided that no contract or engagement to contract is recognized as subsisting between the emigrant and his would-be employer. The employer takes all the risk of any advances he may make, and recover them, if at all, only as an ordinary debt. It was resolved that the proposition should be held to apply to all classes of free immigrants, time-expired labourers, and local labourers whom it was desired to bring under the provisions of any special local contract law, such as may be hereafter proposed for embodiment in the new Act. It remains of course open to any such labourer to enter only into an ordinary civil contract, and to any employer to engage his local labourers only under the sanction of the ordinary contract law.

4. On the subject of contractors and their recruiters, it was resolved that, while it was very desirable to get rid absolutely of the whole system, it was better to effect this indirectly by making sirdari recruiting more simple and effective. The following proposition was adopted:—

II. The provisions of the existing law on the subject of contractors and their recruiters shall be maintained, subject only to such alterations in detail as may be rendered necessary by the other changes proposed in the law, or may be suggested by past experience.

5. As a matter of general principle, it was resolved that the Act should be simplified as much as possible in the earlier chapters, regarding such subjects as contractors, recruiters, and transport, by giving a power to Government to make and revise rules providing for all points of detail.

6. On the subject of sirdari recruiting, the following propositions were adopted:—

III.—Employers may appoint any contract labourer, male or female, in their employ to act as a sirdar-recruiter.

IV.—Every such sirdar shall receive from his employer a certificate, in which shall be set out clearly—

- (a) the name of the employer and of the sirdar;
- (b) the estate for which the sirdar is authorized to engage labourers;
- (c) the remuneration the sirdar is to receive while on recruiting duty;
- (d) the number of labourers he is authorized to engage;
- (e) the terms he is empowered to offer them;
- (f) the place at which he is to register and put them on contract;
- (g) whether he is required to have them medically examined as to their fitness for labour before registration;
- (h) the local agent (if any) to whom he is to report himself for orders;

- (i) the amount of money advanced him, or for which he is to account;
- (j) the term of absence allowed him from the garden,
- (k) such other special conditions or directions as the employer may deem necessary.

The certificate must be produced by the sirdar before the Inspector or the Magistrate of the district or sub-division in which the employer's estate is situated, and be signed and accepted by him in the presence of such Inspector or Magistrate, who shall himself countersign the certificate, unless he consider that the sirdar is an improper person to be employed as a recruiter, when he may refuse his countersignature. The certificate shall, subject to any special limitations imposed by the employer, hold good for the term of one year from the date thereof, but may be renewed on the application of the employer to the countersigning Inspector or Magistrate, without the personal appearance of either the employer or the sirdar.

V.—The sirdar shall be liable to punishment on conviction before a Magistrate in any district where he may be found, and on the prosecution of his employer, or his attorney, or his local agent (as defined below), for failure to report himself to a local agent, failure to return within the specified term, or failure to account for moneys advanced (the penalty to be fixed in the Act; but such provision shall not interfere with any penalty to which the sirdar may be liable under the Penal Code, provided that he shall not be twice punished for what is practically the same offence).

VI.—The sirdar's certificate may be cancelled, and he himself punished by fine, on conviction by any Magistrate, on the complaint of the employer or his local agent, for the following offences:—

- (a) If he make over any labourers recruited by him to any contractor or contractor's recruiter, or to the sirdar or local agent of any other employer.
- (b) If he allow any labourers recruited by contractors or their recruiters to share the accommodation provided by him for his employer's labourers, or place his employer's labourers in any contractor's dépôt.

VII.—The sirdar must either himself accompany the labourers recruited by him to the labour districts, or send with them some competent deputy approved by the employer's local agent, or, if there be no local agent, by the registering officer in the district of recruitment.

VIII.—The sirdar may, subject to the conditions of his certificate, recruit any number of labourers; but there shall be at least one sirdar or deputy sirdar in personal charge of each gang of 20 labourers (exclusive of dependents) despatched from the recruiting district. With the written consent of the local agent of his employer, a sirdar or his deputy may take charge of the labourers of other employers proceeding to the labour districts, up to the aforesaid limit of 20 for the amalgamated gangs. There shall be no restriction on gangs travelling together, provided that each is in personal charge of a sirdar or his deputy.

IX.—The sirdar may have his labourers registered and put on contract either in the district of recruitment, or at any one of such registering stations on the way to the Labour Districts as the local Government may from time to time appoint for that purpose.

X.—Any such registering officer as is referred to in the preceding proposition may decline to register any labourer, if it appear that the labourer does not understand the terms of the contract, or is for any reasonable cause unwilling to enter into the same; and if the district in which such labourer is produced before him is not the district of the labourer's recruitment, may cause him to be returned to such district at the cost of the employer of the recruiting sirdar.

XI.—Any labourer who, without reasonable cause or excuse, refuses to enter into contract after being brought before a registering officer in any district other than the district of his recruitment, shall, on conviction before a Magistrate, be punishable with fine, which shall not exceed the expense incurred on his account by the sirdar or his deputy, up to a maximum of Rs. 20.

XII.—For each labourer produced before any duly authorized officer for registration, there shall be paid a fee of Rs.

XIII.—Any registering officer, and any Superintendent of Embarkation, may, if himself a medical man, examine, and if not himself a medical man, send for examination by such, any labourer or dependent who may appear to him unfit to travel, or affected with any disease dangerous to others: and if such labourer or dependent be on examination pronounced to be unfit to travel, or so diseased as to be dangerous to others, he may be detained in hospital until his recovery: after which he shall be forwarded to the labour district or returned to his home as the employer may request. All costs of such detention and forwardal or return to be borne by the employer. No fee shall be charged for the medical examination under this proposition. Near relations of any labourer or dependent detained shall have the option of remaining with him.

XIV.—If the employer, in his sirdar's certificate, has directed a medical examination of the labourers before registration, the registering officer shall satisfy himself that the sirdar has carried out this instruction. Such medical examination may be made by any medical officer in the service of Government, on payment of a fee of eight annas for each labourer examined, or by any qualified medical man, on such terms as the employer may arrange. The medical examiner shall, if so required, satisfy himself that the labourer is in a fit state of physical health to journey to and undertake agricultural labour in the labour district, and shall in all cases grant the sirdar an acknowledgment of the fee paid to him on account of each labourer examined.

XV.—Failure on the part of the sirdar or his deputy to put the labourer on contract as above provided, in accordance with the terms of his certificate, or abandonment of the labourer anywhere on the road to the labour district, or failure to supply the labourer with proper food and accommodation on the way, shall warrant any Magistrate in returning the labourer to his home at the expense of his employer, and render the sirdar liable to punishment on conviction before a Magistrate.

XVI.—Any sirdar proposing to collect labourers at any central spot, with a view to their subsequent despatch to the labour districts, shall notify to the Magistrate of the district or sub-division the position and nature of the accommodation provided for such intending labourers. Such Magistrate shall have power to inspect such accommodation, or cause it to be inspected and visited from time to time, in order to see that proper sanitary arrangements are made, such as would be enforceable under any law for the regulation of municipalities in the district in question, but shall not otherwise interfere. Such Magistrate shall, however, have power to order the release of any intending labourer unwillingly detained, or deemed by a medical officer unfit to travel, or so diseased as to be dangerous to others.

XVII.—For the better control of his sirdars, any employer may apply to the local Government to license a local agent or agents to represent him in the recruiting districts or elsewhere. One local agent may represent any number of employers, but the name of each such employer shall be distinctly specified in the license. Additional names shall be inserted in the license only by the Magistrate of the district or sub-division in which the agent works, in accordance with the orders of Government passed on the application of such additional employers. No person holding a contractor's license shall be licensed as a local agent.

XVIII.—Local agents shall be competent to prosecute sirdars for breach of the conditions of their certificates, and shall generally represent their employers in all matters connected with the engagement of labourers. Their licenses may be cancelled by the Magistrate of the district (subject to an appeal to Government), if it be shown to his satisfaction that they have employed contractors' recruiters to engage labourers, or permitted any contractors' labourers to use the accommodation provided for sirdars' labourers, or allowed any sirdar under their control to transfer labourers to contractors or their recruiters, or to any other employers, or themselves taken over any sirdars' labourers for despatch to any other employer, or failed to see that any orders of the Magistrate under proposition XVI have been duly carried out by any sirdars under their control.

XVIII.—A local agent holding a license under proposition XVII may be specially licensed by Government to engage labourers in any particular district direct and without the intervention of sirdars for any employer specified in his license.

President.

*Proceedings of the Commission appointed to amend the Labor Districts
Emigration Act, VII (B.C.) of 1873.*

THIRD MEETING OF THE COMMISSION.

27th December 1880.

PRESENT:

The President, and all the Members, and Mr. Forsyth.

THE Commission considered, settled, and finally approved the record of the proceedings at its last meeting. On the question raised by Dr. Grant, whether a sirdar recruiting labourers should be bound to register them in the district or at the first registering station passed by him, it was held to be undesirable to impose any such limitations. Registration would ordinarily take place where the employer had his local agent, and it was obviously to the interest of the employer to save the risk of unnecessary expense in returning a labourer to his district under the orders of the registering officer, by having him put on contract as soon as possible.

2. The Commission then proceeded to discuss a joint note by Messrs. Hare and Aitchison, on the subject of the labour contract and other cognate matters. The following propositions were unanimously agreed to:—

I.—Contracts under the Act may be for any term desired by the parties, up to a maximum limit of five years.

II.—The minimum rate of wages shall be prescribed by the Act, and shall for the first three years of the contract be, in the case of men Rs. 5 per mensem, and in the case of women Rs. 4 per mensem for a completed daily task, and at those rates for tasks not completed in proportion to the work actually done. In the fourth and fifth years of the contract the minimum rate of monthly wages for the same amount of task work shall be Rs. 6 in the case of men and Rs. 5 in the case of women.

III.—Every employer shall from time to time fix the daily tasks to be executed by his labourers, and shall frame a schedule of the same, and file a copy of every such schedule in a book which shall be open to the examination of the Inspector. A copy of each such schedule in the Bengali language shall be posted at the door of the pay office or some other convenient place accessible to the labourers. But it shall not be necessary to obtain the previous sanction of the Inspector to the schedule, and it shall not be necessary to send him a copy of the same unless he shall so request. The minimum payment for each daily task shall be the quotient resulting from dividing the minimum monthly wage of the labourer concerned by the whole number of days in the current calendar month.

IV.—No labourer shall be bound to work more than six days in one week, or more than six hours consecutively, or more than nine hours in any one day; and the labourer shall, on one day in seven, receive wages as for a full task done, without being required to work for the same. The employer shall, on six days in each week, provide for each labourer work sufficient to enable him to earn at least his minimum daily wage. Failing such due provision of work, the labourer shall be entitled to claim his minimum daily wage; but no such payment need be made to any labourer who absents himself on any working day for his own pleasure or convenience.

V.—The Inspector shall have power at any time, if he considers any schedule of daily tasks, or any part thereof, to be unreasonable, to order in writing a reduction of the same. The employer, if dissatisfied with the Inspector's order, shall be at liberty, after in the first place carrying it out, to request a reference to a Committee constituted in the manner provided in section 108 of the present Act. The decision of the Committee shall be final. The Inspector may, notwithstanding the existence of such a general schedule of tasks as is above provided for, order that any individual labourer who is from weakness unable to earn by his labour the sum of $1\frac{1}{2}$ annas per diem, shall receive subsistence allowance at the rate of $1\frac{1}{2}$ annas per diem, or diet on a scale to be approved by the Inspector.

3. The Commission considered that the foregoing provisions in regard to the contract and the regulation of labour would fully meet the requirements of tea-planters, without being unfair to the labourers. It was deemed undesirable to fix any higher minimum rate of wage than Rs. 6 in the later years of contract, because to do so would disturb the existing rate for local labour in many parts of the labour districts. At the same time it was believed that if care were taken that no increase in the amount of task-work were allowed, merely on the ground of increased efficiency of the labourer, labourers in their fourth and fifth years, and even earlier, would generally be able to earn much more than the minimum wage. Dr. Grant suggested for consideration that the higher minimum (of Rs. 6 and Rs. 5 for men and women respectively) might be given in the third year of contract; but a strong opinion being expressed by other members that the rates proposed above were fully as high as the tea industry could afford, it was resolved to maintain the proposition in the foregoing shape (II).

4. The Commission discussed the provisions of Chapter XI of the existing Act, regarding Incapacity for labour. It was agreed to supplement section 110, which empowers the Inspector to suspend the contract of labourers temporarily unfitted for labour, by the following proposition:—

VI.—Any labourer may absent himself from work, on account of sickness, for a period which shall not exceed the number of 30 days in any twelve calendar months, reckoning from the date of his contract, and shall receive for each such day of absence subsistence allowance at the rate of $1\frac{1}{2}$ annas, or, if in hospital, sick diet on a scale to be approved by the Inspector.

If the absence is for sufficient reason prolonged beyond the number of 30 days in any one year, subsistence allowance or sick diet shall be supplied as above, but each such day of absence in excess of 30 may be added to the term of the contract, unless the labourer shall refund to the employer the sum of $1\frac{1}{2}$ annas for each such day of absence in excess of 30. The employer shall be bound to give to the labourer a written notice when he has been in this manner absent from work for the permitted number of 30 days, and the Inspector shall from time to time, when visiting the garden, endorse on the labourer's contract, after such enquiry as may be necessary, the number of days which he has thus to make good.

It was held that the foregoing was a reasonable way of providing for cases of casual absence from sickness, section 110 being left to meet prolonged incapacity from serious illness, pregnancy, and similar causes. The Commission saw no reason for altering the provisions of sections 110, 111, or 112 of the present Act.

5. Chapter XII of the Act, regarding "Necessary provision for labourers," was then discussed. At present Government has, under section 4, clause 12 of the Act, power to make rules regarding the supply of rice, which is the only article of food that the employer is bound under section 113 to provide for his labourers. The Commission, in view of the large number of Behar coolies now likely to go to the labour districts, and after considering the other provisions of Chapter XII, agreed to the following propositions:—

VII.—The Government shall be empowered to make rules to provide for the supply to the labourers by their employers of the staple grain ordinarily used by each class of labourers, when this is not procurable at reasonable prices in the local markets near the gardens. The local Government shall from time to time determine, either generally or for each district or part of a district, what shall be deemed to be reasonable prices in the local markets, and the prices at which food-grains shall be supplied by employers.

VIII.—The Inspector shall have power to order that (a) any particular class of labourers on any garden, or (b) all the labourers on any particular garden, shall be furnished with rations by their employer for any period dating from their arrival on the garden up to three months. The Inspector may exempt any individual labourer from the effect of any such general order, if it be shown that he is able to earn a full wage, and desires to provide himself with proper food. The Inspector may at any time order that any individual labourer shall be put on rations for any term up to six months, and may from time to time renew such order. The scale of rations shall in all cases be determined by the Inspector, who shall also direct whether they are to be given cooked or uncooked. The cost of each labourer's ration, calculated at current rates as determined from time to time by the Inspector, shall be deducted from any wages earned by the labourer during the period for which the Inspector's order is in force. Any person buying labourers' rations, and any labourer selling his rations, shall be punishable with fine or imprisonment, on conviction by any Magistrate.

IX.—The employer shall not be bound by law to provide hospital accommodation on every garden, or to entertain a particular class of medical attendant for any specific number of labourers. The law shall merely provide that the employer shall satisfy the Inspector that sufficient accommodation has been provided and is available for his labourers within a reasonable distance of their habitations, and that due provision has been made for their medical care and treatment. The Local Government shall have power to make rules regarding these points, providing for central hospitals, circle doctors, and the payment by employers of charges for treatment of their labourers in any Government hospital.

X.—In other respects the provisions of chapter XII of the Act call for no change.

Proposition VIII embodies the conclusions of the Commission as to the extent to which it is safe to go in the introduction of the system of rationing advocated by Dr. DeRenzy and the Chief Commissioner.

Proceedings of the Commission appointed to amend the Labour Districts Emigration Act VII (B.C.) of 1873.

FOURTH MEETING OF THE COMMISSION.

Thursday, 30th December 1880.

PRESENT:

The President, and all the Members, and Mr. Forsyth.

THE Commission considered, settled, and finally approved the record of the proceedings at its last meeting.

2. Chapter XIII of the Act, relating to "Localities unfit for the residence of Labourers," was then considered. The President pointed out that, as the law now stands, under section 118 it is only when a garden appears unhealthy from natural causes—"climate, situation, or condition"—that the opinion of a committee is invited to determine the question of its being closed. Under section 119, when a high mortality induces the local Government to order a medical officer to investigate its causes, it is only if this mortality be shown to arise from the want of due care and precaution, and of the adoption of proper and available sanitary measures on the part of the employer, that the Government can order the garden to be closed; but it can give this order without any reference to a committee. The Commission, after deliberation, resolved that no change was necessary in the provisions of chapter XIII, beyond embodying in section 118 the provisions of Assam Regulation IV of 1877, under which a garden may, if necessary, be closed against any particular class of labour, without being altogether prevented from employing imported labour, or other labour under the Act.

3. The Commission next considered chapter XIV of the Act,—"Offences committed by Labourers." To meet the case of unlawful absence from work, it was decided that section 121 of the Act, providing a penalty on a conviction for such absence before a Magistrate, should be amended in accordance with the following proposition:—

I.—Instead of proceeding before the Magistrate, the employer may certify to the Inspector, on or before the 15th of each month, the names of all or any of his labourers unlawfully absent from work during the preceding calendar month, and shall at the same time notify the fact that he has done so to each labourer concerned. The Inspector shall, when next visiting the garden, enquire, in the presence of the labourer charged, into each such case of unlawful absence, and shall endorse such days of unlawful absence on the labourer's contract, and add them to the term of the contract, unless the labourer shall consent to forfeit to his employer the sum of four annas for each such day of absence. If any labourer has been unlawfully absent from work for more than seven days, he may be prosecuted before a Magistrate, and on conviction may be sentenced to lose all claim to wages for the period of such absence, and to forfeit to his employers the sum of four annas for each such day of absence, and may be further rigorously imprisoned for a term not exceeding fourteen days: and if his unlawful absence has extended to twenty days in any two consecutive months, this period of imprisonment may be extended to one month.

4. It was decided to adopt the recommendations of the Chief Commissioner on the matter of "Desertion" (section 123 of the Act), as set forth in paragraph 26 of his Secretary's letter No. 2065 of the 28th October 1880, that is to say—

II.—An employer may arrest a deserting labourer without warrant, wherever found, in any part of the labour districts, provided he be not found in the service of another employer. The employer shall forthwith take such arrested labourer to the police-station nearest to the place of arrest, and there the statements of both parties shall be recorded and forwarded for orders to the Magistrate having jurisdiction. The employer may then convey the labourer direct to the garden. The Magistrate may, however, if he think fit, summon both parties before him, and require the employer to proceed by complaint, as provided in the latter clauses of section 122. If the garden be not situated within the jurisdiction of the Magistrate to whom the statements are in the first instance forwarded by the police, such Magistrate shall at once send them for disposal to the Magistrate within whose jurisdiction the garden lies.

5. The Commission considered the advisability of recommending the repeal of section 124 of the Act, under which the labourer's contract is cancelled after he has actually suffered six months' imprisonment for desertion. It was resolved that the section should stand, the cases in which it comes into operation being rare, and such as are probably most equitably met by the cancellation of the contract.

6. It was decided, in accordance with the recommendation of the Chief Commissioner, to adopt the following modification of section 128 :—

III.—The punishment for enticing away, harbouring or employing, or attempting to entice from his employment, any labourer under contract, shall be fine (the whole or any portion of which may be awarded to the labourer's employer) or rigorous imprisonment which may extend to one month, or both.

7. The following proposition was also adopted :—

IV.—Any labourer guilty of habitual drunkenness, or wilfully disregarding any sanitary regulation approved by the Inspector and duly notified for the guidance of the labourers, shall be liable, on conviction by a Magistrate, to fine which may amount to Rs. 5, or rigorous imprisonment which may extend to one week.

The offence of habitual drunkenness is taken cognizance of in several of the colonial ordinances, and is a subject of complaint on many gardens. Looking to the responsibility placed on the employer of carrying out proper sanitary regulations, and the risk he runs of having his garden closed on account of preventible mortality, it was considered only fair to give him the means of punishing reculant labourers who may set at defiance any sanitary order endorsed by the Inspector as proper and necessary.

8. The Commission next considered chapter XV of the Act, relating to "Complaints made by Labourers." It was decided that sections 129 and 130, which require the employer to give notice to the Inspector if any labourer wishes to complain, and section 130, which provides a penalty for untrue or frivolous complaints, should be modified in accordance with the following proposition :—

V.—If any labourer desires to make a complaint to the Inspector or to any Magistrate, the employer shall be bound forthwith to send him to the Inspector or Magistrate: and if the complaint is, on enquiry, declared to be untrue or frivolous, the labourer may be sentenced to pay reasonable compensation to his employer, besides making good the days of his own absence.

9. It was resolved that section 134, which provides for the award to the labourer of wages in arrear for two months, plus compensation for their being withheld, should be modified so as to cover also the case of wages withheld for any period after the determination of a labourer's contract.

10. The Commission next considered chapter XVI, relating to "Determination of Contract." The question of making the grant of a certificate of discharge compulsory on the employer, in every case of determination of a contract, was discussed, and its decision postponed. In the matter of the redemption of contracts the following proposition was adopted :—

VI. The value of the unexpired term of contract for purposes of redemption shall be deemed to be the aggregate amount of one rupee for every month of the unexpired portion of the first year, of three rupees for every such month of the second year, and of five rupees for every such month of the third, fourth, or fifth years of the original term of the labourer's engagement.

11. After considering chapter IX of the Act, regarding "Inspectors' Returns and Magistrates' Inspections," it was resolved as follows :—

VII.—Returns shall be submitted by employers in such form and at such times as the local Government may by rule direct, it being understood that every endeavour will be made to render this obligation as little troublesome as possible to employers.

VIII.—Returns shall be submitted for all gardens employing any labourers under the Act, and such returns shall embrace all persons working on such gardens, whether under the Act or not, who are not actually natives of the labour districts. Returns may also be required for all gardens employing persons who are not labourers under the Act, if such persons are not natives of the labour districts.

IX.—Employers shall keep in addition to the register of labourers prescribed by section 102, a monthly pay register showing the actual earnings of each labourer, all deductions made from such earnings, and all balances due to each labourer; such pay register to be open to the Inspector or any Magistrate visiting the garden.

X.—The duties of the Inspector may be left to be defined by rule.

A. MACKENZIE,

President.

V

Proceedings of the Commission appointed to amend the Labour Districts Emigration Act VII (B.C.) of 1873.

FIFTH MEETING OF THE COMMISSION.

Monday, 3rd January 1881.

PRESENT :

The President and all the Members.

THE Commission considered, settled, and finally approved the record of the proceedings at its last meeting.

2. The Commission then resumed consideration of the question of making discharge certificates compulsory. Some of the members expressed a fear that to force such certificates, as it were, on the labourers would needlessly suggest to them the idea of removing to another garden, and thus throw difficulties in the way of re-engagements. But as it was admitted that every labourer is even now perfectly aware of the very day on which his contract terminates, and looking to the check upon illegal enticement which the introduction of a system of regular "papers" would supply, the Commission eventually adopted the following proposition:—

I. When an employer or his representative enters into a contract under the Act with any number of labourers, the terms of which are the same for all the labourers engaged, it shall not be necessary for each labourer to execute and sign a separate contract, but it shall suffice if all the labourers sign one copy of the contract, to be retained by the employer. But each labourer shall receive a copy of the contract, to be kept by him, which shall be signed by the employer; and upon this shall be endorsed by the employer, on the determination of the contract, the fact and manner of such determination. Refusal to make such endorsement, on presentation of the contract for such purpose by the labourer, shall be punishable by fine; and the Inspector shall have power to make such endorsement if the employer declines to do so. Sections 136 and 138 of the Act shall be modified accordingly.

3. The Commission read and considered, in connection with Chapter VIII of the Act, correspondence and statements relating to the "Inland Labour Transport Fund." After considerable discussion the following propositions were adopted:—

I.—It is not desirable that the funds raised under the Labour Districts Emigration Act should be applied in any other way than in carrying out the immediate purposes of the Act itself. If funds are required for improving or opening out communications, and for such like purposes, these can be more equitably raised by either local or general taxation. The principles suggested by the Government of India in its letter to the Government of Bengal, No. 103 of the 27th May 1880 (parapgraph 3), are unanimously endorsed by all those directly interested in the tea industry, and ought, in the opinion of the Commission, to be accepted as conclusive.

II.—The maximum limit of the fees leviable under the Act should be reduced to one rupee per head for registration and capitation fees alike; but the actual fees imposed should be so regulated from year to year as to give, with the other receipts of the Fund, an income sufficient only to meet the cost of the necessary establishments and other ordinary charges of the Fund, being such as are contemplated either in the Act itself or in the Rules drawn up by Government to give effect to it. Any surplus income accruing should be applied in reduction of the rates of fees, and not otherwise.

4. The Commission observed that as capitation fees would be recoverable on account of all labourers under the Act, the income of the Fund from that source would probably be found sufficient for the purposes of the Act, if such fees were levied at the rate of eight annas only per head. The capitation fee should be made as low as possible, but the registration fee, which is paid once for all, might, if Government thought fit, be levied at the maximum rate.

5. The official members of the Commission desired to have it recorded that they accepted the foregoing conclusions arrived at by the non-official members, on the ground that it was chiefly for those interested in the tea industry to say whether they were willing to tax themselves specially for the improvement of their communications.

6. The non-official members of the Commission desired to record their high appreciation of the steps taken by the Government of Bengal and the Assam Administration to open up communications with the labour districts. They believed there was no desire on the part of those they represent to raise the question as to how far the Government were justified in the past in expending on these objects the large balances at credit of the Labour Transport Fund. But they were not prepared to admit that the income of the Fund should be kept at a high level in the future, either to enable the Government to subsidize a river steam service, or to open up roads or railways. They also felt bound to point out that the districts in the Surma Valley have received no benefit whatever from the expenditure of the surplus balances to which those districts very largely contributed; and they suggested that if, on the adjustment of accounts as between Provincial Funds and the Labour Transport Fund, any balance accrued before the passing of the new Act were found to be in hand, a fair allotment should be made to local works in Cachar and Sylhet.

7. The Commission decided strongly to recommend the early completion of lines of railway communication from the recruiting districts of Behar to the labor district, as, for instance, (1) along some one or other of the lines of the northern emigration roads for North Behar emigrants, and (2) from Caragola via Dinapore for South Behar emigrants. They also considered it most desirable that the question of extending railway communication in the direction of the Surma Valley should be taken up by Government at an early date.

A. MACKENZIE,
President.

VI

Proceedings of the Commission appointed to amend the Labour Districts Emigration Act VII (B.C.) of 1873.

SIXTH MEETING OF THE COMMISSION.

Tuesday, 4th January 1881.

PRESENT :

The President, and all the Members.

THE Commission considered, settled, and finally approved the record of the proceedings at its last meeting.

2. The Commission commenced the examination of the earlier sections of the Act, and made the following notes :

(1.) Section 3.—The definitions of ‘Emigrant’ and ‘Labourer’ should be altered thus:—“ ‘Emigrant’ means any native of India of the age of 16 years or upwards, not being a native of the labour districts, who proceeds to such districts for the purpose of labouring therein for hire.” “ ‘Labourer’ means any person who has entered into a contract with an employer under the provisions of this Act, or of Act VII (B.O.) of 1873, during the duration of such contract.” “ ‘Dependent’ should be defined to include any women (not being women under contract), any children, and any aged or incapacitated relatives or friends accompanying any emigrant labourer with the consent of a contractor, recruiter, garden-sirdar, or local agent, as the case may be.” The wording of the Act should be modified throughout with reference to these definitions. “ ‘Local Agent’ should be defined to mean any person licensed under the provisions of this Act as a local agent.”

(2.) Section 4.—A power should be taken to make rules—

(a.) defining the duties of the Inspectors; and

(b) providing for the returns to be submitted by employers.

Clause (12) should be amended to provide for the ‘supply of food-grains’ (instead of rice only), and for the ‘rationing system.’ Much of the matter under the heading of “transport” might also probably be met by Rules.

(3.) Section 6.—Any person of the age of 16 years or upwards should be allowed to contract.

(4.) Section 7.—Should be modified so as to show that—“Nothing contained in the Act shall prevent any native of India from entering into a contract to labour in the labour districts otherwise than under the provisions of this Act; but no emigrant shall be bound to fulfil any contract of labour upon any estate, or portion of an estate, which has been declared unfit for the residence of labourers, or of the class of labourers to which he belongs under the provisions of section 118 or 119.”

(5.) Section 9.—All fines under the Act should be made distinctly recoverable under the Criminal Procedure Code.

(6.) Section 10.—The Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal should have power to prohibit emigration from any district, or part of any district, in his jurisdiction, and the Chief Commissioner of Assam should have power to prohibit immigration to any labour district, or part of any labour district, either generally or as regards any particular class of immigrant: the sanction of the Government of India being required in either case. The section need not define the cases in which this power may be exercised.

(7.) Section 12.—Power to appoint registering officers and registering stations is required.

(8.) Section 13.—Will require amplification to meet the propositions on sirdari-recruiting accepted by the Commission.

(9.) Section 15.—Should run thus—

“A contract executed under the provisions of this Act shall in no case exceed the term of five years from the date of its execution. Every such contract shall be in the form in Schedule A annexed to this Act, and shall be reduced to writing, and shall specify the monthly rate of wages in money, the period of service, the name of the district in which the service is to be performed, and, if the labourer shall so desire, the name of the estate on which the labourer is to work. Provided that in no case shall the rate of monthly wages for the first three years of the contract term be less than Rs. 5 in the case of a man, and Rs. 4 in the case of a woman, for a completed daily task regulated in accordance with the provisions of this Act: or less than Rs. 6 in the case of a man, and Rs. 5 in the case of a woman, for the same amount of task-work, in the fourth and fifth years of the contract term.

Provided further that nothing in the contract shall prevent the deputation of any labourer to act as a garden-sirdar for the purpose of recruiting other labourers, but all periods of absence on such deputation shall be included in the term of the garden-sirdar's labour contract.

(10.) The following form of contract was approved:—

This contract made under Act of between A. B. (hereinafter called the labourer) of the one part, and* [C. D. (Agent or Local Agent or Garden-sirdar) on behalf of] E. F. (hereinafter called the employer) on the other part, witnesseth that the said* | Agent or Local Agent or Garden-sirdar on behalf of the said | employer doth hereby promise the said labourer that if he, the said labourer, do remain and labour on the† ^{X Y estate} _{estates} of his said employer in the labour district of for the term of years from the date of the execution of this contract, he the said employer will, from the date of the arrival of the said labourer on such estate(s) for the purpose of working as a labourer under the said Act pay or cause to be paid to the said labourer monthly wages at the rate of Rs.‡ , for a completed daily task regulated in accordance with the provisions of the said Act, and at those rates for tasks not completed in proportion to the work actually done, and that during such period he the said employer will faithfully comply with all rules regarding the supply of food-grains to the said labourer which the local Government may from time to time lay down: and this contract further witnesseth that the said labourer doth hereby, in consideration of the aforesaid promise, agree so to remain and labour for the said employer. In witness whereof the said parties to these presents have hereunto set their hands the day of 188 .

On reconsideration, the Commission modified proposition I of its Fifth meeting, so far as to hold that it would be more convenient if a separate copy of the contract were executed in the case of each labourer.

(10.) Sections 16 to 32—Must be altered to meet the propositions on the subject of sirdari-recruiting. It should also be provided that a garden-sirdar's certificate shall be liable to be cancelled by order of any District Magistrate, or Superintendent, or Inspector, if he be convicted of any criminal offence, or any offence under the Act.

(11.) Sections 33 and 38.—It should be made clear that the Superintendent may in his discretion cancel any contractor's or recruiter's license during its currency, subject only to an appeal to Government.

(12.) Section 40.—The conditions for grant of licenses to recruiters may be left to be regulated by rule in the manner proposed at pages 4 and 5 of Dr. Grant's letter No. 1676 of the 16th August 1880.

(13.) Section 42.—Recruiters shall be bound to register their emigrants in the district of recruitment as at present; but the medical examination shall only extend to the emigrant's fitness to travel.

(14.) Section 43.—The procedure for registration should be adapted to the suggestions at page 6 of Dr. Grant's letter above referred to.

Proceedings of the Commission appointed to amend the Labour Districts Emigration Act VII (B.C.) of 1873.

SEVENTH MEETING OF THE COMMISSION.

Thursday, 6th January 1881.

PRESENT:

The President, and all the Members.

THE Commission considered, settled, and finally approved the record of the proceedings at its last meeting.

2. The Commission resumed the consideration of the alterations required in some of the details of the present Act, and made the following notes:—

(1.) Section 21.—The register should also show the dependents of each labourer distinctly.

(2.) Section 24.—As each labourer will receive a copy of his contract, the last two clauses of this section are not required. But every garden-sirdar, bringing up a gang for registration, should present to the registering officer a nominal 'way-bill,' in a form to be laid down by Government, showing each labourer and his dependents in the gang. This should be attested as correct by the registering officer, and failure to obtain his signature should be made punishable. This way-bill should accompany the gang and be produced en route on demand made by any magisterial or police officer, or officer of the Emigration Department. It should be presented to the Embarkation Agent, who should note on it casualties up to that point, and countersign it as an embarkation pass. The sirdar should then make it over to the master of the vessel, who would keep it until the gang reached its landing place. The master should then note on it all casualties on board and make it over to the sirdar. (The medical officer of the steamer might also be required to certify on it the state of health of the labourers at leaving.) The sirdar should next present the way-bill to the Debarkation Officer for check and signature, and lastly make it over to his employer, who, after noting casualties since landing, with the date of arrival and condition of the gang, should transmit it to the Inspector for return to the Superintendent of Emigration.

A similar system of way-bills might be used for contractors' coolies, and the papers connected with transport be simplified considerably.

The registering officers need then only forward to the Superintendent abstract returns showing the numbers in each gang with the sirdar's name (or the contractor's and recruiter's, as the case might be), and similarly the masters of vessels need not submit a detailed embarkation list, but an abstract showing disposal of gangs.

In the case of gangs marching up, the way-bill should be submitted to the Superintendent of Embarkation if they pass through his station; but it will suffice if the employer note all casualties at the close of the journey, and forward the way-bill to the Inspector as above.

(3.) Section 33.—Contractors' agents in the recruiting districts might be licensed for a fee of Rs. 50.

(4.) Section 40.—The Superintendent should not grant a license to a recruiter unless satisfied by recent evidence that the Magistrate of the recruiting district approves of the man, and unless he is satisfied that accommodation has been provided in the district by the contractor employing the recruiter or by his agent for all labourers recruited by him.

(5.) Section 53.—The Medical Inspector should not enquire as to fitness to labour unless requested by the employer's agent or by contractor, and only then on payment of a fee of 8 annas.

(6.) Sections 62 to 66.—It would be better to license vessels generally for carrying 'native passengers' to the labour districts, taking powers in the Act to make any special provision required for labourers.

(7.) Sections 67 and 68.—The Embarkation Agent should have power to forbid the taking on board of any native passenger suffering from dangerous contagious disease. The nominal list might be dispensed with; a statement of the number of all native passengers not being labourers, and of all 'gangs' of labourers, being substituted.

(8.) Section 69.—Omit the words "under the supervision of the Embarkation Agent" in line 1, and "at the time of the embarkation of such emigrants."

(9.) Section 70.—Substitute a power to require any vessel to carry a medical officer licensed by the Superintendent, and require owners to dispense with the services of any medical officer on Superintendent's orders.

(10.) Section 72.—Stoppage need only be required at such places and for such times as Government may by rule prescribe.

(11.) Section 75.—Should be modified to enable the Magistrate to direct the landing of any native passenger suffering from contagious disease.

(12.) Sections 76, 77, 82 and 83.—Expenses incurred by the Magistrate under these sections should be recoverable under the Public Demands Act.

(13.) Sections 81, 83, 84, and 85.—Much of the matter might be regulated by rules instead of cumbering the Act.

(14.) Section 95.—The pensionary and leave allowances of establishments should be made payable from the Fund.

Proceedings of the Commission appointed to amend the Labour Districts Emigration Act VII (B.C.) of 1873.

ELEVENTH MEETING OF THE COMMISSION.

Thursday, the 20th January 1881.

PRESENT:

The President and all the Members.

THE Commission finally passed the draft Bill and signed its Report.

2. Mr. Brown requested that a Minute by him might be appended to the Report. On behalf of the Inland Steam Companies he felt bound to protest against any direct interference on the part of Government with the development of the river service to Assam. Papers had been communicated to the Commission, from which it appeared that Government was in fact starting an accelerated steam service on its own account from Dhubri. He heartily sympathised with the desire of all interested in Assam to see a swift river service inaugurated; but he objected strongly to this being taken up by Government, when private companies were both able and willing to start such a service on what appeared to him to be reasonable terms. One Company had, on the 6th December last, submitted proposals to Government, which he thought would, if known, be considered liberal.

3. Upon the President's moving "that the Commission do now dissolve," Mr. Brown moved, and Mr. Inglis seconded, a motion that the following resolution should first be placed on the record of the proceedings:—

Resolved—"That the thanks of the Members be tendered to their President, Mr. Mackenzie, in acknowledgment of the great assistance they have derived from his able conduct of the business in hand."

The motion was unanimously adopted by the votes of the Members.

4. The Commission was then dissolved.

A. MACKENZIE,
President.

A Bill to Amend the Labour Districts Emigration Act, VII (B.C.) of 1873.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the law regulating the emigration of native inhabitants of India from or through the provinces subject to the Government of Bengal to the districts of the Assam Valley, Cachar, Sylhet, Chittagong, and the Chittagong Hill Tracts, and to facilitate the engaging and contracting with native inhabitants of the said provinces to proceed to the said districts, and to provide for the enforcement of contracts of service within the said districts, and for the protection of all persons entering into such contracts: It is hereby enacted as follows:—

PART I.—PRELIMINARY.

CHAPTER I.—Application and Miscellaneous.

1. This Act may be called "The Labour Districts Emigration Act, 1881."

2. Bengal Act VII of 1873 (to amend the law relating to the emigration of labourers to the districts of Assam, Cachar, and Sylhet, and to regulate contract labour and service), Bengal Act II of 1878 (to extend the provisions of Bengal Act VII of 1873 to the district of Chittagong and to the Chittagong Hill Tracts) and Assam Regulation IV of 1877 (a Regulation for extending to the Chief Commissionership of Assam Chapter 13 of Bengal Act VII of 1873) are hereby repealed.

All contracts entered into, appointments made, and licenses granted under the said Act VII of 1873, or any of the Acts thereby repealed, shall be deemed to have been respectively entered into, made, and granted under this Act.

3. In this Act, unless there be something repugnant in the subject or context,

"India" means the territories for the time being vested in Her Majesty by the Statute 21 and 22 Vic, cap. 106, entitled "An Act for the better Government of India," other than the settlement of Prince of Wales' Island, Singapore, and Malacca.

"The labour districts" means the districts of the Assam Valley, Cachar, Sylhet, Chittagong, and the Chittagong Hill Tracts, and "a labour district" means one of those districts.

"Local Government" means the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal within the provinces subject to the Government of Bengal, and the Chief Commissioner of Assam within the districts under the Assam Administration.

"Magistrate" includes a Magistrate of a district or of a division of a district, and any Magistrate of the first and second class, and any Magistrate of police for the town of Calcutta.

"Inspector" means an Inspector of Labourers under this Act.

"Assistant Inspector" means an Assistant Inspector of Labourers.

"Employer" means the chief person for the time being in charge of any lands upon which labourers may be employed.

"Garden-sirdar" means any person, male or female, authorized by certificate by an employer to engage natives of India to proceed to a labour district under contracts to be made and executed according to the provisions of this Act.

"Local agent" means any person licensed under this Act as a local agent.

"Recruiter" means any person licensed under the provisions of this Act as a recruiter.

"Contractor" means any person licensed under the provisions of this Act as a contractor.

"Sub-contractor" means any person licensed under this Act as a contractor's local representative.

"Emigrant" means any native of India of the age of sixteen years and upwards, not being a native of the labour districts, who proceeds to or towards a labour district for the purpose of labouring therein for hire.

"Labourer" means any person who has entered into a contract under the provisions of Bengal Act VII of 1873 or of this Act, during the duration of such contract.

"Dependent" means any women (not being labourers), any children, and any aged or incapacitated relatives and friends accompanying any emigrant labourer with the consent of a contractor, sub-contractor, recruiter, local agent, or garden-sirdar, as the case may be.

"Estate" means the lands upon which any labourers (as well labourers defined by this Act as others) have been engaged to labour.

"Manager" means the chief person for the time being in charge of an estate on which more than 50 persons are employed who are not natives of the labour district in which such estate is situated, and not labourers under this Act.

"Rule" means a rule made under section 5 of this Act.

"Section" means a section of this Act.

"Vessel" includes a steamer, a flat, a boat, and anything made for the conveyance by water of human beings or property.

"Master" means the person for the time being in charge of a vessel.

4. The local Government may, by notification in the official Gazette, declare that any labour district shall from any date specified in such notification cease to be subject to the provisions of this Act.

5. The local Government may from time to time make rules consistent with this Act, and from time to time alter, vary, and revoke such rules:—

(1)—To define and regulate the duties of the several officers appointed by it under this Act.

- (2)—To prescribe the periodical returns and reports to be made by any officers subordinate to it in connection with the working of this Act.
- (3)—To prescribe any forms of register, license, or certificate, required under the provisions of this Act;
- (4)—To prescribe the amount of fees to be paid for licenses granted under this Act by any duly authorised officer subordinate to it, and for the registration of labourers in any district under its administration.
- (5)—To prescribe the conditions upon which licenses shall be granted by any duly authorised officer subordinate to it to vessels carrying native passengers to the labour districts of the Assam Valley, Cachar, and Sylhet; to provide for the ventilation, cleanliness, and water-supply of such licensed vessels; and to prescribe the returns and reports to be submitted by the masters of such vessels.
- (6)—To prescribe the description, quantity, and quality of provisions to be taken by vessels carrying labourers when such vessels have been licensed by any duly authorised officer subordinate to it, and the daily allowance to be issued to each labourer or dependent during the journey; to prescribe the number of officers, cooks, and other servants on such vessels, and to provide for their control; and to provide generally for the accommodation of labourers and their dependents on such vessels.
- (7)—To prescribe the nature, quality, and quantity of medical drugs and other stores to be carried on vessels taking labourers when such vessels have been licensed by any duly authorized officer subordinate to it.
- (8)—To provide for the accommodation, support, and medical treatment of all labourers and dependents detained at any place within any district under its administration by order of a Magistrate on account of sickness.
- (9)—To provide for all or any of the matters referred to in section 95.
- (10)—To provide for the periodical inspection of labourers in the labour districts under its administration; and to prescribe and regulate the duties of Inspectors in such labour districts.
- (11)—To provide for the house accommodation, water-supply, sanitary arrangements, and supply of food-grains to be provided by employers for their labourers, and for the rationing of labourers under this Act in such labour districts.
- (12)—To provide for the hospital accommodation and medical care of labourers in such labour districts, and to prescribe the nature, quality, and quantity of medical drugs and other stores to be provided for such labourers.
- To prescribe the returns to be submitted under this Act by employers and other persons in charge of estates in such labour districts. And generally.

- (14)—To give effect to the provisions of this Act within the districts subject to its administration.

The Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal may further from time to time make, alter, vary, and revoke rules in the manner aforesaid:—

Special power of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal.

- (15) To provide for the management and regulation of contractors' depôts and of hospital depôts, and for the support and medical care of emigrants and their dependents passing through such depôts.
- (16) To prescribe the clothing to be supplied to labourers and their dependents while proceeding to the labour districts.

The Chief Commissioner of Assam may further, from time to time make, alter, vary, and revoke rules in the manner aforesaid:—

Special power of the Chief Commissioner of Assam.

- (17) To provide for the detention and inspection of licensed vessels and native passengers in transit through the labour districts of the Assam Valley, Cachar, and Sylhet.

6. The local Government may from time to time fix penalties not inconsistent with any of the Power to fix penalties.

provisions of this Act for infringements of any such rules made by it, which may be enforced and recovered as other penalties under this Act on conviction by a Magistrate: Provided that no penalty shall exceed five hundred rupees.

All such rules, with the penalties (if any) for their infringement, shall be published in the Official Gazettes, and shall be separately printed and sold to the public at four annas for each copy.

7. All sums advanced by any Government officer under sections 32,

Recovery of advances by Government officers.

41, 42, 75, 92, 93 or 95, shall be recoverable under the Public Demands Recovery Act (Bengal), 1880.

8. Every contract made according to the provisions of this Act, and all Contract made with labourer is a charge upon the estate.

arrears of wages due under any such contract, and all fines imposed on any employer under the provisions of this Act, shall be a charge upon the estate upon which any person has been engaged to labour under such contract; and when such person has engaged to labour upon any one of several estates belonging to the same employer in the same labour district, shall be a charge upon that one of such estates upon which the said person may for the time being actually labour.

The owner of such estate for the time being shall have all rights and remedies against such person, as if such owner had been originally the party executing such contract as employer.

No person who has ceased to be the owner of such estate and no property

Determination of ownership determines liability.

or effects of such person, shall be liable or responsible for any breach of such contract which may have occurred after he has ceased to be such owner.

9. Any engagement or contract made under the provisions of this Act by a native of India, who is of or above the age of sixteen years, shall be held valid.

Any person of or above the age of 16 years may contract.

10. A contract made under the provisions of this Act shall in no case be valid for any term in excess of five years from the date of its execution. Every such contract shall be in the form in Schedule A annexed to this Act, and shall specify the monthly rate of the wages of the labourer in money, the period of his service, and the name of the district in which the service is to be performed.

If the labourer shall so desire, the contract shall further specify the name of the estate on which the service is to be performed. Otherwise, the labourer shall be held to have contracted to labour on any estate belonging to the same employer within the said labour district; provided that no such labourer shall, without his own consent, be separated from his wife, and no female labourer from her husband, or from his or her children or dependents.

In no case shall the stipulated rate of monthly wages for the first three years of the contract term be less than Rs. 5 in the case of a man, and Rs. 4 in the case of a woman, for a completed daily task regulated in accordance with the provisions of this Act: or less than Rs. 6 in the case of a man, and Rs. 5 in the case of a woman, for the same amount of task-work in the fourth and fifth years of the contract term.

Nothing in his contract shall prevent the deputation of any labourer to act as a garden-sirdar for the purpose of recruiting other labourers, but all periods of absence on such deputation shall be included in the term of the labour-contract of such garden-sirdar.

11. Nothing in this Act shall be construed to prevent any native inhabitant of India from entering into a contract to labour in the labour districts otherwise than under the provisions of this Act: and nothing in this Act (saving the provisions of sections 14 and

Saving of ordinary contract-law,

15). shall be construed to prevent the emigration of natives of India to the labour districts at their own expense, or at the expense of any other person, otherwise than under the provisions of this Act; but no emigrant shall be bound to fulfil any contract or engagement to labour upon any estate or portion of an estate which has been declared unfit for the residence of labourers or of the class of labourers to which such emigrant belongs under the provisions of section 128 or section 129.

And of free emigration.

12. For every offence against the provisions of this Act, for which no special penalty or amount of fine is prescribed, the offender shall, on conviction by a Magistrate, be punished with a fine not exceeding two hundred rupees. All fines under this Act shall be recoverable under the provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure. Wherever in this Act no special term of imprisonment is appointed in default of payment of the fine, the offender shall be liable to imprisonment, simple or rigorous, for a term not exceeding one month.

Penalty for any offence not specially provided for.

13. All offences against this Act committed without the town of Calcutta shall be enquired into and tried according to the provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure, and all offences against this Act committed within the said town shall be enquired into and tried by a Police Magistrate of the said town, according to the provisions of the laws regulating the investigation and trial of offences within the said town which shall be for the time being in force.

13. All offences against this Act committed without the town of Calcutta shall be enquired into and tried according to the provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure, and all offences against this Act committed within the said town shall be enquired into and tried by a Police Magistrate of the said town, according to the provisions of the laws regulating the investigation and trial of offences within the said town which shall be for the time being in force.

Procedure on trial of offences created by Act.

PART II.—EMIGRATION.

CHAPTER 2.—Restrictions on Emigration, and appointment of Officers.

14. It shall be lawful for the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, with the previous sanction of the Government of India, to forbid the emigration of natives of India from any part of the provinces subject to the Government of Bengal to all or any of the labour districts: and it shall be lawful for the Chief Commissioner of Assam, with the like sanction, to forbid the immigration of natives of India, or of any class of such natives, to any part of the labour districts of the Assam Valley, Cachar, and Sylhet. The local Government making such order may from time to time, with the previous sanction of the Government of India, revoke or vary it, and every such order or variation or revocation thereof shall be published in the official Gazettes of Bengal and Assam.

15. Any person who shall knowingly engage any native of India so to emigrate while any such emigration shall be prohibited under the provisions of the last preceding section, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding fifty rupees for every native who may have been so engaged.

Penalty on engaging native contrary to such order.

16. The local Government may appoint proper persons to be Superintendents of Emigration, Registering Officers, Embarkation or Debarkation Agents, Inspectors or Assistant Inspectors, and Medical Inspectors, or to perform any duties under the provisions of this Act: and may at any time suspend or remove any such officer. It may also sanction any necessary subordinate establishments.

Appointment of officers for the purposes of this Act.

CHAPTER 3.—Sirdari Recruiting.

17. Any employer may, by certificate, authorize a garden-sirdar to engage natives of India to proceed to a labour district for the purpose of labouring therein for hire upon any estate of which such employer is in charge, under contracts to be made and executed according to the provisions of this Act.

18. The certificate of every garden-sirdar shall be in such form as the local Government may by rule prescribe for use in the labour districts under its administration, and shall contain the following particulars:

Garden-sirdar's certificate.

a the name of the employer and of the garden sirdar;

- b* the estate for which the garden-sirdar is authorized to engage labourers;
- c* the remuneration he is to receive while on recruiting duty;
- d* the number of labourers he is authorized to engage;
- e* the terms he is empowered to offer them;
- f* the place at which he is to register and put them on contract;
- g* whether he is required to have all or any of them medically examined as to their fitness for labour before registration;
- h* the local agent (if any) to whom he is to report himself for orders;
- i* the amount of money advanced him, or for which he is to account;
- j* the term of absence allowed him from the garden;
- k* such other special conditions or directions as the employer may deem necessary;

and shall be accepted and signed by the garden-sirdar in the presence of the Inspector, or Magistrate of the district in which the employer of such sirdar resides. The certificate may be cancelled by order of any District Magistrate, Superintendent of Emigration, or Inspector, if the garden-sirdar is convicted of any criminal offence, or of any offence against the provisions of this Act.

19. The Inspector or Magistrate in whose presence the certificate is accepted and signed shall inquire into the facts stated in such certificate, and, upon being satisfied that the same are true, shall, unless it appears to him that the person so presenting such certificate is unfit to be employed for the purpose of engaging natives to proceed to a labour district to labour therein for hire, countersign and date such certificate.

20. Every such certificate shall be in force for a period not exceeding twelve months from the date of its countersignature as before provided.

Provided that a fresh certificate may be granted from time to time upon the application of the employer of such garden-sirdar to the Inspector or Magistrate of the labour district in which his estate is situated. It shall not be necessary for such purpose for the employer or garden-sirdar to appear personally before such Inspector or Magistrate; but it shall be in the discretion of such Inspector or Magistrate to countersign such fresh certificate. Such certificate shall, when countersigned and dated as provided in section 19, be forwarded to the Magistrate of the district in which the garden-sirdar is employed in engaging emigrants, who shall summon such garden-sirdar to appear before him and accept and sign such fresh certificate.

21. It shall be lawful for any superintendent of emigration specially authorized in that behalf by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, on the application of any employer, to grant a license to one or more local agents to represent such employer in any district in which the garden-sirdar of such employer may be authorized to engage labourers, or elsewhere.

There shall be no restriction in the number of employers whom one local agent may represent:

provided that the Magistrate of the district in which such local agent resides shall insert the names of all such additional employers in the license of such local agent in accordance with the orders of the superintendent passed on the application of such additional employers:

provided also that no contractor shall be licensed as a local agent.

A local agent shall represent his employer in all matters connected with the engagement of natives of India to work in the labour districts. He shall be bound to furnish such information and make such returns, as the local Government may by rule direct.

It shall be lawful for any local agent to prosecute any garden-sirdar acting on behalf of any employer of such agent for breach of any of the conditions of such garden-sirdar's certificate in respect of which he is punishable under this Act.

22. The license of any local agent may be cancelled by the Magistrate of any district within which he acts as a local agent (subject only to an appeal to the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal) if it be shown to the satisfaction of such Magistrate—

- (1) that he has employed any contractor's recruiter to engage natives of India for work in the labour districts;
- (2) or permitted the emigrants of any contractor to use the accommodation provided for such natives engaged by any garden-sirdar;
- (3) or allowed any garden-sirdar under his control to transfer such natives to contractors or to their recruiters or to any other employers;
- (4) or himself taken over such natives engaged by any garden-sirdar for despatch to any employer other than the employer of such garden-sirdar;
- (5) or failed to see that any orders of the Magistrate under section 33 have been duly carried out by any garden-sirdar under his control.

23. It shall be lawful for any superintendent, authorized as before provided, on being satisfied that the employers of any local agent holding a license under section 21 consent thereto, to grant a special license to such local agent, permitting him to engage directly and without the intervention of garden-sirdars natives of India for work in the labour districts on behalf of any employer specified in such special license.

24. Every native of India who enters into an engagement with a garden-sirdar to proceed to a labour district for the purpose of labouring for hire, shall be brought by such garden-sirdar before the registering officer of the district, or of the division of the district, within which the engagement was made, or at any one of such registering stations in Bengal on the way from such district to the labour districts as the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal may from time to time appoint for that purpose. The garden-sirdar shall at the same time produce his certificate to the registering officer.

25. On the appearance of such native before

Registering officer to examine native, and if the examination is satisfactory, to register particulars; him, the registering officer shall examine him with reference to his engagement; and if it appears that he understands such engagement as regards the locality, period, nature of the service, and the rate of wages, and that he is willing to fulfil the same, the officer shall register, in a book to be kept for the purpose, such particulars regarding him and his dependents as the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal may by rule prescribe.

Provided that if the employer of the garden-sirdar has in the certificate of the garden-sirdar directed a medical examination of any natives who may enter into an engagement with him before registration, it shall be the duty of the registering officer, prior to registration, to satisfy himself that the garden-sirdar has carried out such instructions of his employer. Such examination shall be made, if the employer or his local agent, or garden-sirdar so desire, by any medical officer in the service of Government, on payment of a fee not exceeding eight annas for each native examined, but may be made by any other duly qualified medical man on such terms as the employer may arrange. Such medical examiner shall, if so required, satisfy himself that the native is in a fit state of health to journey to, and undertake agricultural labour in the labour districts, and shall in all cases grant the garden-sirdar an acknowledgment of the fee paid to him on account of each such native examined.

26. If the registering officer finds that such native does not understand the nature of the engagement, or has been induced to enter into the engagement by fraud or misrepresentation, or is for any reasonable cause unwilling to fulfil the same, or if the garden-sirdar shall not have produced his certificate, he shall refuse to register such native: and if the district in which such native is produced before him is not the district where such native was engaged, may cause him and his dependents to be returned to such district at the cost of the employer of such garden-sirdar.

27. For the registration of every native of India produced before the registering officer for the purpose of being registered as a labourer, the garden-sirdar shall pay to the registering officer a fee not exceeding one rupee.

28. When such registration has been made, such native shall execute a contract under this Act with the employer with whom he intends to contract. Such contract shall, in the presence of the registering officer, be signed in duplicate both by such native and on behalf of the employer by the garden-sirdar or by the local agent of such employer. The contract may be written or printed, or partly written or partly printed, and shall be on substantial paper. Before such native signs the contract, the registering officer shall satisfy himself that its terms are in accordance with any instructions given by the employer in the certificate of the garden-sirdar by whom such native is brought before him, and shall then personally explain the contract to such native and shall attest it and certify at the foot thereof that he has so personally explained the same.

Contract to be executed in duplicate.

29. Any native of India who without reasonable cause refuses to enter into a labour contract with a garden-sirdar after having been brought by such garden-sirdar before the registering officer as before provided in any district other than the district where his engagement was made, shall on conviction before a Magistrate be punishable with fine, which may amount to twenty rupees, provided that the fine shall not exceed the expense which may reasonably be supposed to have been incurred on account of such native and his dependents by such garden-sirdar.

30. Every native of India who shall be brought or induced to come by any garden-sirdar from any province or district not under the administration of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, for the purpose of entering into a contract to proceed to the labour districts to labour therein for hire, shall be presented by such garden-sirdar for registry under the provisions of this Act at some place within the district under the administration of the said Lieutenant-Governor into which he shall first come, or at any registering station on the way to the labour districts.

31. It shall be lawful for any registering officer, if himself a medical man, to examine, and if not himself a medical man to send for examination by such, any native of India brought before him for registration by any garden-sirdar, or any dependent of such native, who may appear to him to be unfit to travel or to be affected with any disease dangerous to others; and if upon examination such native or dependent be pronounced to be unfit to travel, or so diseased as to be dangerous to others, the registering officer may decline to register such native or to allow such dependent to proceed: and if the registering station be not in the district within which the engagement with such native was made, the registering officer may order that the cost of the detention of such native or dependent in hospital and of returning him to his home shall be borne by the employer of the garden-sirdar presenting such native for registration. No fee shall be charged in respect of the medical examination under this section.

32. It shall be lawful for the registering officer to advance any sum necessary for the return of any native and his dependents under section 26, or for their support and return under section 31: and all such advances shall be recoverable from the garden-sirdar by whom any such native was produced for registration or from his employer, or the local agent of such employer, with interest at 12 per cent. per annum from the date of advance.

33. Any garden-sirdar desirous of collecting

Magistrate may inspect accommodation provided by garden-sirdar.

intending emigrants at any central spot in any district before despatching them, to a labour district, shall notify to the Magistrate of the district or sub-division wherein such accommodation is provided the position and nature of such accommodation. It shall be lawful for such Magistrate from time to time to inspect such accommodation or to cause it to be inspected, in order that he may be satisfied that such proper sanitary arrangements have been made therein as would be required by any law in force for the regulation of municipalities in his district, but he shall not otherwise interfere.

It shall be lawful, notwithstanding, for such Magistrate to order the release of any person detained by a garden-sirdar who can show good cause for the same, or who is deemed by a medical officer to be unfit to travel, or so diseased as to be dangerous to others.

34. A garden-sirdar shall either himself accompany emigrants engaged by him throughout their journey from the place in which the engagement was made to the place where they are to be employed, or shall send with them some competent deputy sirdar to be approved by the local agent of his employer, or if his employer has no local agent, by the registering officer by whom such emigrants were registered.

35. It shall be lawful for a garden-sirdar, subject to the conditions of his certificate, to engage any number of labourers: provided that there shall be at least one garden-sirdar or deputy sirdar in charge of every gang of twenty labourers (exclusive of the dependents of such labourers) despatched to the labour districts. Subject to this proviso, there shall be no restriction on the number of gangs of labourers travelling together to the labour districts.

36. With the written consent of the local agent (if any) of his employer, but not otherwise, it shall be lawful for any garden-sirdar or deputy sirdar, subject to the provisions of the last preceding section, to travel to the labour districts in charge of the labourers of employers other than his own.

37. If any garden-sirdar without sufficient cause fail to report himself to the local agent (if any) of his employer within fourteen days after his arrival in the district in which he is authorized to engage labourers, if he is so directed by the terms of his certificate; or if he neglect to bring any native of India engaged by him before a registering officer to be put on contract as above provided according to the terms of his certificate; or if without sufficient cause he fail to return to his employer within the time specified in his certificate; or if he fail to account for the moneys advanced to him by his employer for the purpose of engaging labourers; or if he wilfully abandon any labour or dependent on the way to the labour districts; such garden-sirdar shall, on conviction before any Magistrate of any district wherein he may be found, be liable to be punished with rigorous imprisonment, which may amount to one month.

Nothing in this section shall interfere with any penalty prescribed for any offence under the Indian Penal Code, provided that no garden-sirdar shall be twice punished for the same offence.

38. If any garden-sirdar make over any natives of India engaged by him to any contractor or the agent of any contractor, or to the garden-sirdar or local agent of any employer other than his own; or if he allow any such natives recruited by contractors or their sub-contractors or recruiters to share the accommodation provided by him under section 33, or if he place any such native engaged by him for his employer in any contractor's depôt; such garden-sirdar shall, on conviction before a Magistrate, and on the complaint of his employer or of the local agent of such employer, be liable to have his certificate cancelled and to fine not exceeding Rs. 10.

39. Every garden sirdar or deputy sirdar proceeding to the labour districts in charge of a gang of labourers shall present to the registering officer of the station at which he puts them on contract a way-bill, in a form to be prescribed by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, setting forth particulars of all such labourers and their dependents, and he shall be bound to present such way-bill at all such places and to all such officers and other persons as may be thereupon indicated, and to carry out all instructions endorsed thereupon for his guidance. Failure to comply with any such instruction shall make him liable, on conviction by a Magistrate, to fine not exceeding Rs. 5.

40. Every garden-sirdar or deputy sirdar by whom any labourer is accompanied shall provide such labourer and his dependents with proper and sufficient food and lodging throughout such journey. If it shall appear to any Magistrate, on the complaint of any such labourer at any place on the journey, that he or any of his dependents has suffered any ill-treatment during the journey, or that the garden-sirdar or deputy sirdar has failed to provide him and them with proper and sufficient food and lodging, or if such garden-sirdar or deputy sirdar wilfully abandon any labourer or any of his dependents on the way to a labour district, such Magistrate may order the garden-sirdar or deputy sirdar to pay to such labourer a sum of money by way of compensation, or may cancel the contract and order the garden-sirdar or deputy sirdar to pay to such labourer a sum of money sufficient to enable him with his dependents to return to the place at which he was engaged.

41. If any garden-sirdar or deputy sirdar, who may be ordered under the provisions of the last preceding section to pay any sum of money, shall for twenty-four hours omit to comply with such order, it shall be lawful for the Magistrate to advance the amount so ordered, to be paid to the labourer named in such order, and to recover from the employer of such garden-sirdar, or from the local agent of such employer, the sum so advanced with interest at the rate of twelve per centum per annum from the date of such advance.

42. Any Magistrate and any Embarkation Agent or inspecting officer may, if himself a medical man, examine, and, if not himself a medical man, send for examination by such, any labourer or dependent who may appear to him unfit to travel, or so diseased as to be dangerous to others: and if such labourer or dependent be on examination pronounced to be unfit to travel, or so diseased as to be dangerous to others, he may be detained in hospital until his recovery, after which he shall be forwarded to the labour district, or returned to his home, as the garden-sirdar or deputy sirdar in whose charge he was or the employer or local agent of such garden-sirdar or deputy sirdar may request. All costs of such detention and of forwarding or returning such labourer or dependent after recovery shall, if not deposited by the garden-sirdar or deputy sirdar in charge, be advanced by the officer ordering detention, and shall be recoverable from the employer of such garden-sirdar or deputy sirdar with interest at the rate of six per centum per annum from the date of such advance.

43. Whenever a labourer or dependent is detained or is forwarded or returned under the provisions of section 42, it shall be optional with the wife or husband of such emigrant or dependent, as the case may be, to remain with and accompany such emigrant or dependent. If there are any children they shall also be allowed to accompany their father or mother.

44. If any labourer whose contract has been executed by a garden-sirdar on behalf of his employer, be brought to Calcutta on his way to the labour districts, any person empowered to act as the agent or representative of such employer may require the labourer to appear before the superintendent of emigration in Calcutta for the purpose of cancelling the contract. The superintendent of emigration shall, on the appearance of such labourer, declare that the contract is cancelled, if a sum of money sufficient for his support and that of his dependents during their return to the place at which he was engaged be paid to him before himself and not otherwise, and shall make an endorsement to that effect on the contract, and shall attest it with his signature. Provided that the contract of any husband or wife or parent or child of such labourer, who may have executed a contract at the same time with the same employer, shall be cancelled at the request of such labourer; and in such case an equal sum of money shall be paid to each labourer whose contract is so cancelled.

CHAPTER 4.—Contractors, Sub-Contractors, and Contractors' Recruiters.

45. It shall be lawful for any superintendent of emigration, who is specially empowered by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal in that behalf, to grant to such persons as he may think fit, licences to act as contractors for engaging and supplying persons for the purpose of labouring for hire in the labour districts, or to act as sub-contractors or as recruiters in behalf of some contractor for engaging persons to proceed to the labour districts for the purpose of labouring therein for hire under this Act.

46. The license granted to a contractor under section 45 shall be in such form as the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal may by rule prescribe. For every license there shall be paid to the superintendent of emigration granting it a fee not exceeding one hundred rupees; every such license shall be in force for one year, and no longer; and in case of misconduct or disobedience to, or neglect of, any of the provisions of this Act, or of any rule of the local Government by a contractor, the superintendent may in his discretion cancel the license of such contractor before the expiration of such period, subject only to an appeal to the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, whose orders shall be final.

47. It shall be the duty of every contractor to afford such information to any superintendent of emigration, and to make such returns and reports as the superintendent may, with the sanction of the Lieutenant-Governor, from time to time require.

48. Every contractor shall forthwith, upon obtaining his license, establish depôts in such places as the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal may direct. Every such depôt shall be maintained by such contractor for the reception of natives of India to be supplied or forwarded by or through him. All such natives shall, on their arrival at or in the neighbourhood of the depôt so established by the contractor, by, through, to, or for whom they were engaged or forwarded, be forthwith received therein; and shall receive in such depôt, at the expense of such contractor, suitable lodging, food, clothing, and medical attendance until such native shall be declared by the superintendent having jurisdiction to be no longer thereto entitled. Every such depôt as aforesaid shall be under the supervision of such superintendent or other officer as the Lieutenant-Governor may direct, and shall be open to his inspection and the inspection of the medical inspector in charge at all times.

49. In addition to the depôts for the reception of emigrants which the contractors are required to establish and maintain, the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal may at any time direct that a separate depôt shall be established and maintained at any place for the reception of emigrants who are affected with cholera or other contagious disease. Whenever such hospital depôt is established, any contractor may be required to contribute to the expense of establishing and maintaining it in such proportion as the Lieutenant-Governor may direct. Such hospital depôt shall be under the charge of such medical officer as the Lieutenant-Governor may appoint, and any medical inspector shall be competent at any time to direct the transfer thereto of any emigrants on or after their arrival at any depôt in the neighbourhood subject to his inspection.

50. The license granted to a sub-contractor shall be in such form as the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal may by rule prescribe.

Form of license for sub-contractors.

For every such license there shall be paid to the superintendent granting it a fee not exceeding fifty rupees. The same sub-contractor may be licensed to act for several contractors on payment of a separate fee for each. Every such license shall be in force for one year and no longer; and in case of misconduct or disobedience to, or neglect of, any of the provisions of this Act, or of any rule of the local Government by a sub-contractor, the superintendent may in his discretion cancel all the licenses held by such sub-contractor before the expiry of such period, subject only to an appeal to the Lieutenant-Governor, whose orders shall be final.

51. A contractor or sub-contractor may without other license act as a recruiter, and shall in such case be subject to all the provisions hereinafter contained with regard to recruiters.

52. The license granted to a recruiter shall be in such form as the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal may by rule prescribe. For every such license there shall be paid to the superintendent granting it a fee not exceeding sixteen rupees. Every such license shall be in force for one year, and in case of misconduct or disobedience to, or neglect of, any of the provisions of this Act, or of any rule of the local Government by a recruiter, the superintendent may in his discretion cancel the license before the expiration of such period.

53. Every recruiter shall hold a written pass signed by the contractor on whose behalf he is licensed to act, and shall be in all things subordinate to such contractor or any sub-contractor appointed by him.

54. Contractors shall be held generally responsible for the good conduct of their sub-contractors and recruiters, and shall be bound to make good all payments ordered to be made by any of such sub-contractors or recruiters under any of the provisions of this Act or of any rule of the local Government. Their licenses shall also be liable to be cancelled on account of the misconduct of any of their sub-contractors or recruiters, provided that they shall only be liable to criminal penalties for acts done with their own knowledge and consent.

55. A recruiter shall not have authority in any district under the control of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal to engage or attempt to engage a native of India to become an emigrant until his license has been countersigned by the Magistrate of the district or of the division of the district, or in Calcutta, until his license has been countersigned by the Commissioner or the Deputy Commissioner of Police in Calcutta; and such Magistrate or Commissioner or Deputy Commissioner of Police shall, unless it appears to him that the person to whom a license has been granted is unfit to be employed as a recruiter, countersign such license.

The Magistrate or Commissioner or Deputy Commissioner of Police may at any time for any sufficient reason withdraw such license, provided that in any such case he shall record his reasons in writing, and shall forward a copy thereof without delay to the superintendent who granted the license.

Magistrate may withdraw license and suspend recruiting.

56. The Magistrate or the Commissioner or Deputy Commissioner of Police in Calcutta, to whom any recruiter's license shall have been exhibited for countersignature, shall not countersign the same until he shall be satisfied that sufficient accommodation has been provided and is available for such natives of India as may be engaged by such recruiter pending their removal to a depot.

Recruiter to provide accommodation for natives before license is countersigned.

The Magistrate of the district or division of the district in which there may be any such accommodation provided, shall have, for the supervision, management, and regulation of such accommodation, all such and the same powers and authorities as are vested in a superintendent of emigration for the supervision, management, and regulation of depôts which are subject to the powers and authority of such superintendent.

Magistrate charged with superintendence of accommodation.

57. Every native of India who shall, in any place or town within the said provinces, enter into any engagement with any recruiter to proceed to a labour district for the purpose of labouring for hire, shall be brought by such recruiter before such medical officer as the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal may from time to time appoint to examine such natives within such place or town; or, if no such officer has been appointed, before such medical officer as the registering officer may direct. The medical officer shall thereupon examine the native brought by the recruiter, and shall if satisfied that he is suffering from no infectious or contagious disease, and able in point of physical condition to journey to the labour districts, give a certificate in writing to that effect.

Native to be taken for examination to medical officer, who may reject.

58. Every such native who is certified by the medical officer, as required in the last preceding section, to be free from infectious or contagious disease and fit to journey to the labour districts, shall thereupon be brought by the recruiter before the registering officer of the district or division of the district within which the place or town where the engagement was entered into is situate. The recruiter shall at the same time produce his license to the registering officer.

If certified to be fit, native to be taken to registering officer.

On the appearance of such native, the registering officer, after inspecting the medical certificate, shall examine him with reference to his engagement, and if it appears that he understands such engagement as regards the locality, period, and nature of the service, and the rate of wages, and that he is willing to fulfil the same, the registering officer shall register in a book to be kept for the purpose such particulars regarding him and his dependents as the Registering officer to examine native respecting the engagement.

If satisfied, will register certain particulars.

Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal may by rule prescribe.

If the registering officer thinks that such native does not understand the nature of the engagement, or has been induced to enter into the engagement by fraud or misrepresentation, or if the recruiter shall not have produced his license, he shall refuse to register such native.

59. A certified copy of his registration, written on substantial paper, shall be furnished by the registering officer to each emigrant.

60. A certified copy of every such registration, and the original certificate of the medical officer, shall be forthwith forwarded by the registering officer to the superintendent having jurisdiction over the depôt to which such emigrant is to proceed.

61. For every such native produced before a registering officer for the purpose of being registered as an intending labourer the recruiter shall pay a fee not exceeding one rupee.

62. The provisions of the five preceding sections shall be applicable to all natives of India engaged by recruiters within the town of Calcutta, except that they shall be brought for registration before the superintendent of emigration therein, or such other registering officer as the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal may appoint.

63. Every native of India who shall be brought or induced to come by any recruiter from any province or district not under the control of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, for the purpose of entering into a contract in a district under such control, shall be presented by the recruiter for medical examination and registry under the provisions of this Act at some place within the district under the control of the Lieutenant-Governor, into which he shall first come, or at Calcutta, if he shall first come there.

64. Every recruiter who forwards or accompanies any native of India from the district or division of the district within which the place or town where he has been recruited is situate, or into which, under the last preceding section, he has first come; or who induces any such native to leave such district or division of district for the purpose of proceeding to a labour district, without being duly registered as above required; or who forwards, accompanies, or induces any such native to proceed to any depôt other than a depôt in a place approved of under section 48, shall, on conviction by a Magistrate, be punished in respect of every such native so forwarded, accompanied, or induced, with a fine which may extend to fifty rupees, or with imprisonment, simple or rigorous, for a term which may extend to one month.

65. All emigrants proceeding to a depôt shall be accompanied throughout the journey by the recruiter himself, or by a competent person deputed by him with the approval of the registering officer by whom such emigrants have been registered. The registering officer shall give to the person so deputed a certificate under his signature, stating that he has been deputed for the journey to the depôt.

66. Every recruiter or person deputed by him, by whom any emigrant is forwarded or accompanied to a depôt shall, throughout the journey, provide such emigrant and his dependents with proper and sufficient food and lodging. If it shall appear to a Magistrate, on the complaint of any such emigrant at any place on the journey, that the recruiter or person deputed by such recruiter has failed to provide such emigrant and his dependents with proper and sufficient food and lodging at such place, such recruiter or person deputed by him shall, on conviction by such Magistrate, be punished with fine which may extend to fifty rupees. The whole or any portion of such fine may be awarded to such emigrant as compensation. If the fine be not paid within twenty-four hours the recruiter or person deputed by him shall be punished with imprisonment, simple or rigorous, which may extend to one month.

CHAPTER V.—Contractors' Depôts.

67. Within twenty-four hours after the arrival at any depôt of any emigrant, the contractor by whom such depôt is maintained shall give to the superintendent of emigration having jurisdiction a notice in writing of such arrival, which notice shall be in such form, and shall contain such particulars, as the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal may by rule prescribe.

68. The medical inspector shall have the general charge and supervision of all the medical and sanitary arrangements of the depôt. He shall examine every emigrant and dependent admitted into depôt with a view to ascertaining his continued freedom from infectious or contagious disease. He shall also examine all gangs of labourers and dependents leaving the depôt for the labour districts, and furnish in the way-bill of each such gang a certificate of their fitness to travel and their freedom from infectious and contagious disease.

69. If the medical inspector shall certify that any emigrant or any dependent of such emigrant so examined is in such a state of health that his journey to the labour districts would be dangerous to himself or to others, the Superintendent may order the contractor to pay to him a sum of money sufficient to enable him to return to the place at which such emigrant was engaged: provided that any such emigrant or dependent who from his state of health is, in the opinion of the medical inspector, unfit to undertake the journey back to the place where he was engaged, shall, until he is reported by the medical inspector fit to undertake such journey, be fed, clothed, lodged, and medically attended at the expense of such contractor. If such contractor negligently or wilfully omits to provide food, clothing, lodging, and medical attendance for such emigrant or dependent, the superintendent may make such provision for the food, clothing, lodging, or medical attendance of such emigrant or dependent at the cost of such contractor as may seem to him necessary, and may further order such contractor to pay to any such emigrant or dependent a sum of money by way of compensation.

70. Whenever an emigrant or dependent remains behind or is detained under the provisions of the last preceding section, it shall be optional with the wife or husband of such emigrant or dependent, as the case may be, to remain with the emigrant or dependent so remaining behind or detained. If there are any children, they shall also be allowed to remain behind with the father or mother.

71. If, upon the arrival of any emigrant at a depôt, it shall appear to the superintendent of emigration, on the complaint of such emigrant, that he or any of his dependents has suffered any ill-treatment on the journey, or that the recruiter has failed to provide him and his dependents with proper and sufficient food and lodging, the superintendent may cause him and his dependents to be removed from the depôt, and may order the contractor, for or by whom he shall have been taken to such depôt, to pay to him a sum of money by way of compensation, or sufficient to enable him and his dependents to return to the place at which he was engaged; and in such latter case he shall not be bound to execute any contract.

72. Every emigrant, who is passed by the medical inspector as in a fit state of health, and able, in point of physical condition, to journey to the labour districts, shall execute a contract under this Act with the employer with whom he intends to contract, before he is forwarded from the depôt. Such contract shall, in the presence of the superintendent of emigration, be signed in duplicate both by the emigrant and by the employer with whom he intends to contract, or by his agent. The contract may be written or printed, or partly written and partly printed, and shall be on substantial paper. Before the emigrant signs the contract, the superintendent shall personally explain it to him, and shall attest such contract and certify at the foot thereof that he has so personally explained the same.

73. Any emigrant who, without reasonable cause, refuses to execute such contract in conformity with the engagement previously registered shall, on conviction by a Magistrate, be punished with a fine equal in amount to the entire cost incurred by, or on behalf of, the contractor, in engaging, registering, and bringing or forwarding him to the depôt, and shall forthwith be discharged from such depôt. Every fine levied under the provisions of this section shall be paid to the contractor on whose behalf or by whom the person from whom such fine shall have been levied was originally registered.

74. If within thirty days after the arrival of any emigrant at a depôt, the contractor, on whose behalf or by whom such emigrant has been registered, shall not tender to him for execution such contract as under the provisions of the preceding sections he would be bound to execute, the superintendent may order the contractor to pay to him a sum of money sufficient to enable him and his dependents to return to the place where he was engaged, and in such case such emigrant shall not be bound to execute any contract.

75. If any contractor who may be ordered, under the provisions of sections 69, 71, and 74 to pay any sum of money, shall for twenty-four hours omit to comply with such order, it shall be lawful for the superintendent to advance the amount so ordered to be paid to the person named in such order, and to recover from such contractor the sum so advanced, with interest at the rate of twelve per centum per annum from the date of such advance.

76. Each gang of labourers and dependents despatched from a contractor's depôt to the labour district shall be accompanied by a way-bill drawn up in such form and subject to such regulations and conditions as the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal may by rule prescribe.

CHAPTER 6.—Transport.

77. Nothing in this chapter shall apply to the transport by sea of native passengers or emigrants to the labour districts of Chittagong and the Chittagong Hill Tracts, which shall in all cases be regulated by the provisions of the Native Passengers Act, VIII of 1876.

78. It shall not be lawful for the master of any vessel, without a license granted by an Embarkation Agent duly empowered by the local Government in that behalf, to convey more than twenty native passengers at any one time to or towards the labour districts of the Assam Valley, Cachar or Sylhet.

A fee not exceeding sixteen rupees, as the local Government may by rule direct with reference to the size of such vessel, shall be paid for every such license, and it shall be in the discretion of the Embarkation Agent to whom application for license is made, to grant or withhold any such license. Such license shall be in force for only one voyage to one or more of such labour districts.

The local Government may, if it think fit, grant a license to any vessel, which shall hold good for any term not exceeding one year, on payment of such fee not exceeding one hundred rupees, and on such conditions as such local Government may fix.

The license shall show the maximum number of native passengers which such vessel may carry under the provisions of any rule made in that behalf; provided that it shall be competent to any embarkation agent in accordance with any such rule to limit the number of native passengers to be carried on any particular voyage or part of a voyage.

The master of any vessel in which at one time more than twenty native passengers are conveyed without a license having been obtained as aforesaid shall, on conviction by a Magistrate, be punished with fine.

The local Government may by rule exempt any vessel or class of vessels from the provisions of this section.

79. It shall be lawful for any embarkation agent when the departure of any vessel from the station to which he is appointed shall seem to him to be unduly delayed beyond the day fixed for such departure either by advertisement in the public press, or under any orders of any superintendent of emigration, or of the local Government, to order the master of such vessel to proceed. Failure to comply with any such order of an embarkation agent shall render the master liable on conviction before a Magistrate to fine for each day during which such vessel remains after the day on which such order was received by him.

80. If the master of any vessel after having obtained a license as aforesaid, fraudulently does or suffers to be done any act or thing whereby the state of the vessel is altered, so that such vessel is unfit for the accommodation of the number of native passengers mentioned in such license, or in any order of an embarkation agent under section 78, such master shall, on conviction by a Magistrate, be punished with fine.

81. The master of any vessel licensed to carry native passengers who receives on board his vessel a greater number of native passengers than the number specified in his license, or in any order of an embarkation agent under section 78, shall, on conviction by a Magistrate, be punished with a fine for every native passenger so received in excess of the licensed number.

82. In computing under this Act the number of persons on board of any vessel, two children under the age of ten years shall be reckoned as one person only.

83. The master of every vessel licensed to carry native passengers shall keep such lists, submit such returns, and make such reports in regard to such passengers as the local Government may by rule prescribe.

84. There shall be laden on board of any licensed vessel carrying labourers and their dependents to or towards any such labour district, such supplies of provisions, clothing, medical drugs, and other stores, and such medical and other officers, and such cooks and other attendants as may be required under any rules of the local Government.

The master of any such vessel who shall commence the voyage without having on board such supplies of provisions, clothing, medical drugs, and other stores, and such medical and other officers, and such cooks and other attendants as may be required as aforesaid, shall, on conviction by a Magistrate, be punished with imprisonment, simple or rigorous, for a term which may extend to three months, or with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees.

85. No medical officer shall be appointed to any vessel licensed to carry native passengers unless he shall hold a license granted by such authority as the local Government may appoint in that behalf; and any licensed medical officer shall be forthwith removed from his appointment on the requisition of any officer empowered by the local Government to make such requisition.

86. If the master of any licensed vessel carrying labourers shall, save as hereinafter is provided, cause or permit any labourer finally to leave such vessel at any place other than that named as the destination of such labourer in the way-bill of his gang, such master shall, on conviction by a Magistrate, be punished with fine for each such offence: provided always that this section shall not be deemed to prevent the master of any vessel from permitting labourers to disembark at any place or places on the voyage so long as such disembarkation is not intended or known to be likely to be final; nor to prevent the final disembarkation of any labourers or the transfer of such labourers with their dependants to any other vessel in case of accident or other unavoidable necessity, if such accident or necessity be forthwith reported to the embarkation agent by whom the license of such vessel was granted, and to the nearest Magistrate in the district within which such accident may occur or necessity arise.

87. Every licensed vessel carrying native passengers shall stop at such places, being places where a Magistrate is stationed, as the local Government may appoint, and shall remain at each such place for such time not exceeding six hours of daylight as the local Government may by rule appoint, unless the Magistrate or officer deputed by him under section 96 shall permit an earlier departure. The master of every such vessel shall, immediately on arrival, report to the Magistrate or such officer as may have been deputed by him as aforesaid, the number of crew, native passengers, and labourers on board, the general state of their health, and the number of deaths (if any) which have occurred among the persons who embarked on such vessel.

Any master who wilfully omits to comply with the provisions of this section shall, on conviction, be punished with fine.

88. A Magistrate may at any time go on board of any licensed vessel carrying native passengers while within the limits of his jurisdiction, and may inspect the vessel, the native passengers, and all persons on board. The master and officers of such vessel shall be bound to afford to such Magistrate all reasonable facility for such inspection, and to give him all such information respecting the labourers or other persons on board as may be reasonably required, and respecting any deaths which may have occurred on board, and respecting any other facts which may affect the health of the native passengers.

Any master or other officer who wilfully omits to give any such information to such Magistrate shall, on conviction, be punished with fine.

89. On the arrival of any licensed vessel, or at any time while it is within the limits of his jurisdiction, the Magistrate may regulate the communication between such vessel and the land, and may prohibit all persons from leaving the vessel and all persons on land from proceeding on board. And any person not complying with any order made under this section shall, on conviction, be punished with fine.

90. A Magistrate may, if he has reason to believe that any native passengers on board any licensed vessel within the limits of his jurisdiction are, or are likely to be affected with any dangerously infectious or contagious disease, detain such vessel and require the civil medical officer of the district or other qualified medical officer to inspect the native passengers on board such vessel, and to report on their health, and whether any or what measures are requisite for the removal or prevention of such disease. After the submission of such report, the Magistrate may order the disembarkation and detention of any native passenger suffering from any dangerously infectious, or contagious disease. If in the opinion of the inspecting medical officer it is dangerous to the health of the general body of the passengers to allow such vessel to proceed until measures have been taken to cleanse and disinfect her, the Magistrate may detain the vessel for a further period not exceeding three days for the purpose of the carrying out such measures, if any, recommended by the medical officer in his report, and he may further detain at such station for medical treatment any native passenger who is affected with any dangerously infectious or contagious disease.

91. If it appears to a Magistrate expedient that any labourer or any dependent of any labourer should not be allowed to proceed towards a labour district in consequence of ill-health, he may order the detention of such labourer or dependent; and in such case he shall cause all necessary arrangements to be made for the accommodation, support, and medical treatment of such labourer or dependent.

92. All expenses incurred under section 91 by a Magistrate, or other officer deputed by him under the provisions of section 96 in respect of any labourer or dependent so detained, shall, with interest at six per centum per annum, be recoverable by him from the employer of such labourer.

93. If it appears to a Magistrate making an inspection of any licensed vessel that the number of native passengers on board is larger than the number specified in the license, he may remove the excess number and detain them until another opportunity of forwarding them to their destination is found. The necessary expense of maintaining such native passengers and of conveying them to their destination, shall be recoverable by such Magistrate or other officer who may have been deputed as aforesaid from the master of such vessel.

94. In any case in which, on making an inspection of a licensed vessel, a Magistrate shall find that any of the provisions of this Act or of any rule of the local Government have not been complied with, he shall report the same to the embarkation agent by whom the license to carry native passengers was granted to such vessel; and, if the circumstances of the case are such as in such Magistrate's opinion make it necessary so to do, he may detain the vessel until the provisions of this Act, or any rule of the local Government as aforesaid, have been complied with, so far as to make it possible for the voyage to be further prosecuted with safety and reasonable comfort to the native passengers.

95. All matters connected with the disembarkation of labourers and their dependents, the inspection and accommodation of such on arrival, the detention of sick labourers or dependents at debarkation depôts, the forwarding of gangs to their destination, and the closing and return of way-bills by employers, shall be regulated by such rules as the local Government may lay down in that behalf, and all expenses incurred by any Magistrate, or debarkation agent under such rules, shall be recoverable from the employers of such labourers with interest at the rate of 12 per centum per annum.

96. The Magistrate of a district, or of a division of a district, may depute any subordinate Magistrate, medical officer, or gazetted officer of police, to exercise the powers and authorities conferred, and perform the duties imposed on a Magistrate under the provisions of sections 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 93, and 94.

97. Every master of a licensed vessel, or medical officer in charge of such vessel, who shall wilfully and knowingly neglect or refuse to obey or to enforce on board of such vessel any rule of the local Government shall, on conviction by a Magistrate, be punished with fine.

98. Any offence against any of the provisions of this chapter, or of any rule of the local Government, committed on board of any vessel may be tried by any Magistrate exercising jurisdiction in any place at which native passengers may have embarked on board such vessel, or may have disembarked from such vessel, or in any place in which such vessel may be detained under the provisions of this Act.

99. Any labourer who deserts while in transit from the district in which he has been registered to the district in which he has engaged to labour, may, on conviction by a Magistrate, be punished with rigorous imprisonment for a period which may extend to three months. Such offence may be enquired into and tried in the district in which such labourer is apprehended, or in the district in which the desertion took place, or in the district in which he was registered.

Punishment of labourer for desertion.

PART III.—LABOUR DISTRICTS.

CHAPTER 7.—Inland Labour Transport Fund.

100. The local Government may from time to time, by order published in the official Gazette, fix a yearly rate, not exceeding one rupee per labourer, for the purpose of defraying the expense of carrying out the purposes of this Act; and the sum or rate so fixed shall be paid half-yearly by each employer on the first day of July and the first day of January in each year for each labourer then in his employ.

Annual rate payable by employers.

101. If any employer shall fail for the space of one month to pay any sums due by him under the provisions of the last preceding section, they shall be recoverable under the Public Demands Recovery Act (Bengal), 1880.

Payment of rate how to be enforced.

102. Subject to the powers conferred on a Magistrate by this Act or by the Code of Criminal Procedure of awarding fines in whole or in part as compensation to or for the benefit of any complainant or other person, all fines, fees, and rates levied and paid under this Act shall be credited to a fund which shall be called the "Inland Labour Transport Fund," and such fund shall be at the disposal of the local Government, in such manner as the Government of India may direct, for paying the salaries and allowances of all officers and establishments appointed under this Act and their pensionary and leave allowances, and generally for defraying the expenses of carrying out the purposes of this Act and the rules of the local Government. Any surplus accruing in such fund shall be applied to reducing the yearly rate or the registration fees leviable under this Act and not otherwise.

Fine, fees, and rates, to be credited to "Inland Labour Transport Fund."

CHAPTER 8.—Locally engaged Labourers.

103. Any native of India may within the labour districts enter into a contract under this Act with an employer to labour therein for any term permitted by this Act. Such contract shall be signed in duplicate both by such native and by his employer; and may be written or printed, or partly written and partly printed, and shall be on substantial paper.

Contract may be made within labour districts.

104. Any contract so entered into shall, within one month of the date of its execution, be forwarded by the employer to the Inspector having jurisdiction for registration; but it shall not be necessary for the employer to produce the contracting labourer before the Inspector for purposes of registration:

Contract to be forwarded to Inspector for registration.

Provided that it shall be lawful for the Inspector, upon his next visit to the estate on which such labourer is employed after the registration of the contract, to cancel such contract if such labourer shall come forward and show sufficient cause therefor, but not otherwise.

105. There shall be payable by the employer to the Inspector in respect of such registration a fee not exceeding one rupee.

Fee payable on registration.

106. Notwithstanding anything in section 104 the employer may, if he think fit, produce any such native of India as aforesaid who is willing to enter into a contract under this Act before the Inspector or before any Magistrate, in which case the contract shall be executed in the presence of and attested by such Inspector or Magistrate, who before doing so shall personally explain the contract to such native.

No contract so executed and attested shall be liable to be cancelled by the Inspector in the manner before provided.

CHAPTER 9.—Jurisdiction of Inspectors.

Employers' Returns, and Magistrates' Inspections.

107. The local Government may define, by notification in the official Gazette, the local limits within which each Inspector and Assistant Inspector appointed by it shall exercise the powers and authorities conferred, and perform the duties imposed on him, by this Act, or by the rules of the local Government. Such Inspectors and Assistant Inspectors may be, by the said local Government, vested with all or any of the powers of a Magistrate.

Local jurisdiction of Inspectors and Assistant Inspectors.

108. An Assistant Inspector shall perform all such duties and exercise all such powers of an Inspector as he is authorized in writing by the Inspector to perform or exercise.

Duty of Assistant Inspector.

109. Every employer shall keep a register of all labourers and other persons in his employ in such form, and shall make to the Inspector such periodical returns in writing as the local Government may by rule prescribe. He shall also keep a monthly pay register showing the amount earned by each labourer in his employ during the month, all sums deducted from his earnings, and all balances due to him. The pay register, and the register of labourers and other persons employed, shall be open to the Inspector who shall have power to muster all such labourers and other persons employed on any estate, and to verify the accuracy of the entries in such registers, or in any prescribed periodical return: Provided that if there are no labourers employed on any estate, but there are more than 50 persons so employed who are not natives of the labour district in which the estate is situated, the manager of such estate shall keep a register of all persons so employed by him and submit such returns regarding them as the local Government may by rule direct.

Registers to be kept and returns made by employers.

110. If any employer or any manager of an estate shall refuse or willfully omit duly to keep such registers, or to send in any return ordered by any rule of the local Government, or shall knowingly send in an incorrect return, such employer or manager shall, on conviction by a Magistrate, be punished with fine.

Penalty for omission to furnish returns and keep registers.

111. It shall be lawful for any Inspector or Magistrate exercising jurisdiction in the district, or any person authorized by either of them in writing in that behalf, at any time to enter and inspect any hospital, tent, camp, or building, wholly or partially used by or for labourers, and to require that any labourer shall be brought before him with his contract, and to make any inquiries which he may think proper touching the condition or treatment of any labourer.

Inspector and Magistrate may at any time inspect labourers' buildings used by them, &c. :

It shall also be lawful for any Inspector or Magistrate, or any person authorized as aforesaid by either of them, to enter and inspect any hospital, tent, camp, or building on any estate in charge of a manager, as defined in this Act, when such hospital, tent, camp, or building is wholly or partially used by persons employed on such estate who are not natives of the labour district in which the estate is situated : And to require that any such person shall be brought before him ; and to make any enquiries which he may think proper touching the condition or treatment of all such persons.

also buildings occupied by imported labourers not under the Act.

Any employer or any manager of an estate, or other person acting on their behalf, willfully obstructs or impedes any entry, inspection, or inquiry made under this section, he shall, on conviction by a Magistrate, be punished with fine not exceeding five hundred rupees for each such offence.

Penalty for obstructing inspection or inquiry.

CHAPTER 10.—Regulation of Labour.

112. Every employer shall from time to time fix the daily tasks to be executed by his labourers, and shall frame a schedule of the same, and file a copy of every such schedule in a book which shall be open to the examination of the Inspector. A copy of each such schedule in the Bengali language shall be posted at the door of the pay office or some other convenient place accessible to the labourers. But it shall not be necessary to obtain the previous sanction of the Inspector to the schedule, and it shall not be necessary to send him a copy of the same unless he shall so request. The minimum payment for each daily task shall be the quotient resulting from dividing the minimum monthly wage of the labourer concerned by the whole number of days in the current calendar month.

113. No labourer shall be bound to work more than six days in one week, or more than six hours consecutively, or more than nine hours in any one day ; and the labourer shall, on one day in seven, receive wages as for a full task done, without being required to work for the same. The employer shall, on six days in each week, provide for each labourer work sufficient to enable him to earn at least his minimum daily wage. Failing such due provision of work, the labourer shall be entitled to claim his minimum daily wage ; but no such payment need be made to any labourer who absents himself on any working day for his own pleasure or convenience.

114. The Inspector shall have power at any time, if he considers any schedule of daily tasks, or any part thereof, to be unreasonable, to order in writing a reduction of the same. The employer, if dissatisfied with the Inspector's order, shall be at liberty, after in the first place carrying it out, to request a reference to a Committee consisting of the Inspector, of some employer to be nominated by him, and of some person to be nominated by the employer whose schedule is to be considered, or on his default, by the Inspector.

115. In case the said Committee or the majority in number thereof are of opinion that the daily tasks in such schedule contained, or any of them are unreasonable, they shall modify and reduce such daily tasks in such manner as they shall deem reasonable, and such schedule so modified shall be posted in the manner directed in section 112 and every such schedule shall have effect as between the employer and labourers in substitution for any former schedule.

116. The Inspector may, notwithstanding the existence of such a general schedule of tasks on any estate as is above provided for, order that any individual labourer who is from weakness unable to earn by his labour the sum of 1½ annas per diem, according to the said schedule, shall receive in lieu of such actual earnings subsistence allowance at the rate of 1½ annas per diem, or diet on a scale to be approved by the Inspector.

Provision for weekly labourers.

CHAPTER 11.—Incapacity for Labour.

117. It shall be lawful for the Inspector within the local limits of whose authority any labourer may be employed, to suspend for such period as he shall consider advisable, the contract of such labourer, or any particular term thereof, if such labourer shall be, in the judgment of such Inspector, temporarily unfitted for the performance thereof by reason of sickness, pregnancy, or other sufficient cause : Provided that every such suspension shall be endorsed by the Inspector on the contract : Provided also that every such labourer shall, during such incapacity, receive such subsistence money from his employer as shall be considered sufficient by the Inspector, and that the time during which the suspension continues shall not be reckoned as part of the term for which the labourer is bound to serve.

118. If any labourer shall absent himself from work, on account of sickness, for a period which shall not exceed the number of 30 days in any twelve calendar months, reckoning from the date of his contract, he shall receive for each such day of absence subsistence allowance at the rate of 1½ annas, or, if in hospital, sick diet on a scale to be approved by the Inspector.

If the absence is for sufficient reason prolonged beyond the number of 30 days in any one year, subsistence allowance or sick diet shall be supplied as above, but each such day of absence in excess of 30 may be added to the term of the contract, unless the labourer shall refund to the employer the sum of $1\frac{1}{2}$ annas for each such day of absence in excess of 30. The employer shall be bound to give to the labourer a written notice when he has been in this manner absent from work for the permitted number of 30 days, and the Inspector shall from time to time, when visiting the garden, endorse on the labourer's contract, after such enquiry as may be necessary, the number of days which he has thus to make good.

119. If it shall be found that any labourer has been compelled to perform any species of labour for which he was at the time unfit, the employer by whom he was so employed shall, on conviction by a Magistrate, be punished with fine.

Penalty for compelling labourer to perform work for which he is unfit.

120. If, in the opinion of the Inspector, any labourer shall be permanently incapacitated for the performance of his contract or any material part thereof, the Inspector shall certify to that effect in writing, and deliver such certificate to the employer of such labourer or some one on his behalf, and from the date of such certificate the contract of such labourer shall wholly cease and determine. Every labourer whose contract shall have been determined as aforesaid, shall be entitled to receive from his employer such sum, not exceeding three months' wages as the Inspector may award, and such sum shall be recoverable before a Magistrate in the manner hereinafter provided for the recovery of wages.

CHAPTER 12.—Necessary Provision for Labourers.

121. Whenever any labourers shall be employed in any labour district, the employer of such labourers shall be bound to provide for them sufficient and proper house accommodation, water-supply, and sanitary arrangements.

Sufficient house accommodation, water-supply, and sanitary arrangements, to be provided.

122. The local Government shall be competent to make rules to provide for the supply to the labourers by their employer of the staple food-grain ordinarily used by each class of labourers, when this is not procurable at reasonable prices in the local markets near his estate. The local Government shall from time to time determine, either generally or for each district or part of a district, and shall notify in the official Gazette what shall be deemed to be reasonable prices in the local markets, and the prices at which food-grains shall be supplied by employers.

123. The Inspector shall, subject to any rules of the local Government, have power to order that (a) any particular class of labourers on any estate, or (b) all the labourers on any particular estate, shall be furnished with rations by their employer for any period dating from their arrival on the estate up to three months. The Inspector may exempt any individual labourer from the effect of any such general order, if it be shown that he is able to earn a full wage and desires to provide himself with proper food. The Inspector may at any time order that any individual labourer shall be put on rations for any term up to six months, and may from time to time renew such order. The scale of rations shall in all cases be determined by the Inspector, who shall also direct whether they are to be given cooked or uncooked. The cost of each labourer's ration, calculated at current rates as determined from time to time by the Inspector, shall be deducted from any wages earned by the labourer during the period for which the Inspector's order is in force.

Any person buying labourers' rations, and any labourer selling his rations, shall be punishable with fine which may amount to Rs. 50, or rigorous imprisonment for a term not exceeding one month on conviction by any Magistrate.

124. Every employer shall be bound to satisfy the Inspector that sufficient hospital accommodation has been provided and is available for his labourers within a reasonable distance of their habitations and that due provision has been made for their medical care and treatment in accordance with any rules that the local Government may from time to time lay down. In default of such provision the local Government may require any employer to contribute to the support of any central hospital, or to the pay of any circle medical officer in proportion to the number of labourers and other persons employed by him, and may further fix the fees to be paid by employers for the treatment of their labourers in any Government or Municipal hospital.

125. It shall be lawful for any Inspector or Assistant Inspector, who is himself a Magistrate, to institute within his jurisdiction, on the estate in charge of any employer, or at some place within his jurisdiction not more than ten miles distant from such estate, an enquiry whether such employer has provided for his labourers sufficient and proper house accommodation, water-supply, sanitary arrangements, or food-grains or rations in accordance with the rules laid down by the local Government. On the complaint of any Inspector or Assistant Inspector a similar enquiry may be made by a Magistrate.

126. If any employer is convicted of gross neglect in not having so provided sufficient and proper house accommodation, water-supply, sanitary arrangements, or food-grains or rations, such employer shall be punished with a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees. In any case where a Magistrate shall find that proper or sufficient house accommodation, water-supply, sanitary arrangement, food-grains or rations, have not been provided, he may order the employer to provide such proper and sufficient house accommodation, water-supply, sanitary arrangements, food-grains or rations. If the employer wilfully omits to comply with such order, he shall, on conviction, be punished with a fine not exceeding one hundred rupees a day for every day that such omission continues. In default of payment by the employer of the last mentioned fine, the person on whose account such employer has been acting shall be liable to pay the fine.

127. Wherever such sufficient hospital accommodation has not been provided, or due provision made for the medical care and treatment of labourers as above directed, the employer or other person making such wilful default shall, on conviction by a Magistrate, be punished with a fine for every week during which any such default continues.

CHAPTER 13.—Localities unfit for the residence of Labourers.

128. If an Inspector shall at any time have reason to believe that any estate or portion of an estate situated within the limits of his jurisdiction is by reason of climate, situation, or condition, unfit for the residence of labourers, or of any particular class of labourers, he shall give notice in writing of his opinion to the Magistrate of the district, and such Magistrate shall forthwith summon a Committee to enquire into the matter. Such Committee shall consist of the Magistrate, the Inspector, the Medical Officer of the district, and one or more employers of labourers, when such persons are available. If the Magistrate is unable to procure the service on such Committee of any employer of labourers, he may, with the sanction of the Commissioner of the Division, appoint one or more persons whom he may deem qualified.

Such Committee shall proceed, with as little delay as possible, to enquire into the healthiness of the estate or portion thereof to which the order appointing the Committee has reference, and shall hear such information on the subject as the owner of the estate, or the employer or Inspector, may desire to place before it; and if such Committee, or the major part in number thereof, shall be of opinion that such estate or any portion thereof be unfit for the residence of labourers generally, or of any particular class of labourers it shall record a finding to that effect; and the contract of every labourer who shall have contracted to serve on such estate, or of every labourer of the class in question, as the case may be, shall thereupon be void as regards such estate or portion of estate as may be found unfit for the residence of such labourers.

Provided that every such contract shall continue valid with regard to any other portion of such estate, or to any other estate of the same employer in the same district.

129. If it shall at any time appear that the number of labourers (as well labourers defined by this Act as others) who have died on any estate or portion of an estate during the preceding twelve months, bears a larger proportion to the whole number of labourers (as well labourers defined by this Act as others) employed thereon during such period than 7 per centum, or if the average annual number of labourers (as well labourers defined by this Act as others) who have died on such estate or portion thereof during the preceding three years bears a larger proportion to the whole number of labourers (as well labourers defined by this Act as others) employed thereon during such period than 7 per centum, it shall be lawful for the Local Government to direct the civil medical officer of the district or other qualified medical officer to enquire into, and report on, the following matters:—

- (1) The cause or causes of such mortality.
- (2) The want (if any) of due care or precaution, and of the adoption of proper and available sanitary measures, on the part of the owner of such estate or portion thereof, or the employer, causing or contributing to such mortality.
- (3) The fitness or otherwise of such estate or portion thereof for the residence of labourers and the reasons thereof.

Such medical officer shall proceed with as little delay as possible, and shall hear and record such information on the subject of the several matters aforesaid as the owner of such estate or portion thereof, or the employer or Inspector may desire to place before him, and shall visit and inspect such estate or portion thereof, and shall make his report expressing the reasons of his opinion, and transmit the same with the recorded information and notes of his inspection of such estate or portion thereof, to the local Government.

If the local Government, after personal and consideration of the said report, information, and notes, shall be of opinion that such mortality was caused by the want of due care or precaution, and of the adoption of proper and available sanitary measures on the part of the owner of such estate or the employer, and that such estate or portion thereof is unfit for the residence of labourers by reason of the want of due care or precaution, and of the adoption of proper and available sanitary measures on the part of the owner of such estate or portion thereof, or the employer, it shall be lawful for the local Government to declare in writing that such estate or portion thereof is unfit for the residence of labourers. Such declaration of the local Government shall have the same effect as the finding of a Committee under the last preceding section.

130. Every employer who shall cause or permit any labourers to reside upon any such estate or portion of an estate as under the provisions of either of the two preceding sections may have been found to be unfit for the residence of such labourers, shall, on conviction by a Magistrate, be punished with fine. Provided always that in case it shall appear to the Inspector that any such estate, or portion of an estate, or any part of such portion, has become fit for the residence of such labourers, he shall, with the sanction of the Magistrate of the district, give under his hand a certificate of such fitness, and no employer shall be liable to fine by reason of his causing or permitting such labourers to reside in any place respecting which such certificate of fitness shall have been given.

CHAPTER 14.—Offences committed by labourers and enticement of labourers.

131. An employer may certify to the Inspector, on or before the 15th of each month, the names of all or any of his labourers absent from labour without sufficient cause during the preceding calendar month with the periods of such absence, and shall at the same time notify the fact that he has done so to each labourer concerned. The Inspector shall, when next visiting the garden, enquire, in the presence of the labourer charged, into each such case of unlawful absence, and if satisfied that the labourer has been so absent, shall endorse such days of absence on the contract of such labourer, and add them to the term of the contract, unless the labourer shall consent to forfeit to his employer the sum of four annas for each such day of absence. If any labourer has been absent from his labour without sufficient cause for more than seven consecutive days or for more seven days in any one month, he may, on conviction by a Magistrate, be sentenced to lose all claim to wages for the period of such absence, and to forfeit to his employer a sum not exceeding four annas for each such day of absence, and may be further rigorously imprisoned for a term not exceeding fourteen days: and if his unlawful absence has extended to twenty days in any two consecutive months, this period of imprisonment may be extended to one month.

132. If any labourer deserts from his employer's service, such employer, or any other person acting on his behalf, may, without first procuring a warrant, and without the assistance of any police officer (who nevertheless shall be bound to give such assistance if called upon so to do), apprehend such labourer: provided nevertheless that, if such labourer be found in the service of another employer, he shall not be arrested without warrant. Any person who shall apprehend a labourer under the provisions of this section shall without delay take such labourer to the police-station nearest to the place of his arrest; and failure to take such labourer to the police-station, as here directed, shall be an offence against the provisions of this Act. The police-officer in charge of such station shall, on the appearance of the parties, take down in writing the statement of the labourer and of the person apprehending him, and, having done so, shall permit the person apprehending the labourer to convey him to the estate of his employer. The statements recorded as aforesaid shall be forwarded without delay by the police-officer in charge of the station to the Magistrate within whose jurisdiction such station is situated. If the labourer refuse to accompany such person to the estate of his employer, the said police officer shall forward such labourer to the Magistrate along with the statements recorded as aforesaid. If the estate of the employer be not situated within the same jurisdiction, such Magistrate shall forward the statements and the labourer to the Magistrate within whose jurisdiction the estate of the employer lies.

The Magistrate within whose jurisdiction such estate lies may, on perusal of the statements, and shall, if the labourer in his statement deny the fact of desertion, summon before him such labourer, if not already forwarded to him in the manner above provided, and the employer of such labourer, or the person engaged in his apprehension, and shall proceed to adjudicate upon the charge of desertion. If the labourer in his statement or otherwise make any charge of ill-treatment against his employer or any other person, the Magistrate may either enquire into it himself or send the matter for enquiry to the Inspector having jurisdiction.

133. Every labourer who deserts from his employer's service shall, on conviction, be punished with rigorous imprisonment which may extend to one month; and every labourer who, after having been convicted of desertion, shall again desert from his employer's service, shall, on conviction as aforesaid, be punished with rigorous imprisonment for a period which may extend to two months; and every labourer who, after having been twice convicted of desertion, shall again desert, shall, on conviction as aforesaid, be punished with rigorous imprisonment, which may extend to three months.

134. If it appears to the Magistrate adjudicating upon any such charge as is mentioned in section 132, that such labourer has been apprehended or arrested without sufficient cause, it shall be lawful for such Magistrate to impose a fine not exceeding fifty rupees on the employer at whose instance such labourer has been apprehended or arrested, or to award compensation not exceeding fifty rupees to such labourer, and such compensation shall be paid by the employer at whose instance such labourer has been apprehended or arrested.

135. Any labourer guilty of habitual drunkenness, or wilfully disobedience of any sanitary regulation approved by the Inspector and duly notified for the guidance of the labourers on the estate on which such labourer is employed, shall be liable, on conviction by a Magistrate, to fine which may amount to Rs. 5, or to rigorous imprisonment which may extend to one week.

136. On the expiry of any sentence of imprisonment for any offence under this Act, save as is provided in section 137, it shall be the duty of the Magistrate to make over such labourer to any person appointed on the part of his employer to receive charge of him; and no conviction under this Act or imprisonment under such conviction, shall, save as is provided in section 137, be held to operate as a release to any labourer from the terms of his contract. Provided, nevertheless, that the period of imprisonment shall in no case be prolonged by reason of there being no person present on the part of the employer to take charge of the labourer at the expiry of his sentence; but such labourer shall in that case be sent to the principal place of business of such employer, and the expense of such conveyance shall be levied from the employer in the manner provided in section 101.

Penalty for drunkenness or neglect of sanitary regulations.

Conviction not to operate as a release.

Deserter may be apprehended without warrant.

Punishment for desertion.

Compensation for wrongful arrest.

137. Whenever any labourer shall have actually suffered imprisonment, amounting in the whole to six months, for desertion from his employer's service, it shall be lawful for the Inspector, and he is hereby required, to cancel the contract of such labourer, and every such cancellation shall be certified by the Inspector on the back of the contract.

138. The employer, or any person authorized to act for the employer, of any labourer imprisoned for any offence under this Act, may apply to a Magistrate, at any time previous to the expiry of such sentence, that such labourer be made over to him for the purpose of completing his contract; and such Magistrate may, if he see good cause, make over or forward such labourer to his employer; and in that case such Magistrate shall cancel the remainder of the sentence passed on him and shall endorse on the contract of such labourer a memorandum signed by him of such cancellation.

139. Every employer who obtains an order for the return or forwarding of any labourer by a Magistrate, shall pay the expense incurred in such return or forwarding, and shall, before the order is issued, deposit with the Magistrate such sum as such Magistrate may in his discretion deem to be sufficient for defraying the expense of such return or forwarding.

140. The duration of every unlawful absence from labour, of which any labourer may be convicted, and every sentence of imprisonment for any offence under this Act, shall be endorsed on the contract, at the time of its being passed, by the officer passing it; and no such period of imprisonment or unlawful absence so endorsed shall be reckoned as part of the term for which the labourer is bound to serve, but such term shall extend to such further period as shall be equivalent to the aggregate amount of the imprisonment and unlawful absence so endorsed.

141. Any person who knowingly and wilfully entices away, harbours, or employs, or attempts to entice from his employment, any labourer, before such labourer shall have been lawfully released from his contract, shall, on conviction by a Magistrate, be punished with fine, the whole or any portion of which may be awarded to the employer of such labourer, or with rigorous imprisonment which may extend to one month, or with both.

CHAPTER 15.—Complaints made by Labourers.

142. If any labourer states to his employer, or to any person acting for such employer, that he desires to make a complaint to the Inspector or to any Magistrate, of personal ill-usage or breach of any provision of this Act or of any rule of the local Government on the part of such employer or other person, the person to whom such statement is made shall forthwith send such labourer to the Inspector or Magistrate. Provided that, if more than ten labourers at any one time intimate their desire to make such a complaint, the employer or other person as aforesaid may, instead of sending them to the Inspector or Magistrate, send notice of the complaint in writing to such Inspector or Magistrate.

Failure to send labourers before the Inspector or Magistrate, or to give notice of their complaint in the manner above provided, shall, on conviction by a Magistrate, be punished with fine.

143. Whenever any complaint of personal ill-usage or breach of any provision of this Act or of any rule of the local Government aforesaid is made to an Inspector or Magistrate by any labourer against his employer, or any person acting for such employer, or whenever any Inspector or Magistrate has other reasonable grounds for believing that any such personal ill-usage or breach of any provision of this Act or of any rule as aforesaid has been suffered by a labourer, such Inspector or Magistrate shall forthwith, if the place in which such offence has been committed is not situated within the limits of his own authority, give notice thereof in writing to the Inspector or Magistrate within the limits of whose authority such place is situated; and if such place be situated within the limits of his own authority, then such Inspector or Magistrate shall, so soon as conveniently may be, proceed to some place not more than ten miles from the principal place of business of such employer, and make full inquiry into the matter complained of.

144. For the purposes of such inquiry the Inspector or Magistrate may summon such labourer and any witnesses. If any employer, or other person acting for or under such employer, in any way wilfully obstructs the service of, or obedience to, such summons; or if the labourer or any witness summoned intentionally omits to attend as required in such summons, he shall, on conviction by a Magistrate, be punished with fine.

145. If, upon such inquiry made on the complaint of a labourer, the Inspector or Magistrate is of opinion that the complaint is untrue or frivolous, he shall dismiss the complaint, and in such case shall endorse on the employer's copy of the contract of such complainant the number of days during which such complainant has been absent from work in consequence of such inquiry, and such number of days shall be added to the period of the contract of such complainant. He may also award to the employer any reasonable compensation on account of any expense to which he may have been put in connection with such complaint, and shall endorse the amount of such compensation on the contract as a debt to be worked off by the labourer before the determination of his contract at the rate of one day's labour for each four annas of such debt.

146. If, upon inquiry as aforesaid by a Magistrate or by an Inspector having the power of a Magistrate, such Magistrate or Inspector is of opinion that the complaint is well-founded, he shall dispose of the case according to due course of law. If the Inspector shall not be a Magistrate, he shall without delay send the complainant and his witnesses to the nearest Magistrate, and such Magistrate shall thereupon dispose of the case according to due course of law.

147. If, upon the complaint of any labourer, it is proved to the satisfaction of a Magistrate that the wages of such labourer are in arrear for two months, or if the wages of any labourer whose contract has determined are proved to the satisfaction of a Magistrate to have been withheld for any period after the date of such determination, it shall be lawful for the Magistrate to award to such labourer the amount which shall appear to be then due to him; and also, by way of compensation, such further sum, not exceeding that amount, as shall appear to such Magistrate to be just; and in case of default, the Magistrate shall levy the entire sum by distress and sale of any movable property which may be found in the possession, or under the charge, of such employer.

Recovery of arrears of wages.
Compensation may be given if arrear is for two months, or if contract has been determined.

such Magistrate to be just; and in case of default, the Magistrate shall levy the entire sum by distress and sale of any movable property which may be found in the possession, or under the charge, of such employer.

148. If any employer, or any person placed in authority over any labourer by such employer, shall be convicted of any offence causing injury to the person or property of such labourer triable under the Code of Criminal Procedure by the court of session; or if any such employer or other person as aforesaid, shall be twice convicted of any such offence against such labourer triable under the said Code by a Magistrate; or if it shall be proved before a Magistrate that the wages of such labourer are in arrear to an amount exceeding the total of such labourer's wages for four months; or if a Magistrate shall, on the report of the Inspector and after due inquiry upon oath, in the presence of the parties, be satisfied that any labourer has been compelled to perform any labour while he was unfit for it, or has been subjected to ill-usage by such employer, or any other person placed in authority over the labourer by such employer; it shall be lawful for the Magistrate, if he think fit, on the application of the labourer, in each of such cases, to cancel the contract of such labourer, and award to him compensation not exceeding thirty rupees, and every such cancellation shall be certified by the Magistrate on the back of such contract.

Contract may be declared cancelled if employer is convicted of maltreatment by session court, or twice by Magistrate; or if wages are in arrear for four months;

total of such labourer's wages for four months; or if a Magistrate shall, on the report of the Inspector and after due inquiry upon oath, in the presence of the parties, be satisfied that any labourer has been compelled to perform any labour while he was unfit for it, or has been subjected to ill-usage by such employer, or any other person placed in authority over the labourer by such employer; it shall be lawful for the Magistrate, if he think fit, on the application of the labourer, in each of such cases, to cancel the contract of such labourer, and award to him compensation not exceeding thirty rupees, and every such cancellation shall be certified by the Magistrate on the back of such contract.

placed in authority over the labourer by such employer; it shall be lawful for the Magistrate, if he think fit, on the application of the labourer, in each of such cases, to cancel the contract of such labourer, and award to him compensation not exceeding thirty rupees, and every such cancellation shall be certified by the Magistrate on the back of such contract.

CHAPTER 16.—Determination of Contract.

149. The employer shall be bound to endorse on the contract of each of his labourers the fact of its determination when such determination takes place either by effluxion of time, or by mutual consent, or under any of the provisions of this Act. Any employer refusing to make such endorsement shall be liable, on conviction by a Magistrate, to fine, and the Inspector may, on the application of the labourer, make such endorsement if the employer refuses or neglects to do so.

Endorsement of determination on contract.

If an employer detains any labourer after the determination of his contract, or fails to give notice of such determination to the Inspector within one month after the date of such completion, such employer shall, on conviction by a Magistrate, be punished with fine.

Penalty if employer detains or omits to report.

150. If any labourer is able and desirous to redeem the unexpired term of his contract of service or of that of any member of this family by payment of a sum equivalent to the value thereof, such labourer may demand to be taken or allowed to go before the Inspector within the local limits of whose authority he may be employed, and on his depositing such sum in the hands of such Inspector, such Inspector shall give notice to the employer that such labourer requires him, within one week, to show cause why the contract of such labourer should not be released; and, in case no sufficient cause should be shown, such Inspector shall require the production of the contract of such labourer, and endorse thereon a certificate of release by purchase, and shall hold the sum in deposit on account of the employer of such labourer. If any employer, or other person authorized to act for the employer, shall neglect to comply with such demand as aforesaid, such employer, or other person as aforesaid, shall, on conviction by a Magistrate, be punished with fine.

Power to redeem contract.

The value of the unexpired term of contract shall be deemed to be the aggregate amount of one rupee for every month of the unexpired portion of the first year, of three rupees for every such month of the second year, and of five rupees for every such month of the third, fourth, and fifth years of the original term of the labourer's engagement.

Value of unexpired term of contract.

The mean pressure, temperature &c. are deduced from observations made at 6 h, 10 h, 16 h and 22 h, and from the traces of the barograph and thermograph.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction and movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

Bills introduced into the Council of the Governor General for making Laws and Regulations, or published under Rule 22.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

[Third Publication]

The following Bill was introduced into the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 30th December, 1880, and was referred to a Select Committee:—

No. 22 OF 1880.

A Bill to empower the Government to remove or destroy obstructions in fairways, and to prevent the creation of such obstructions.

WHEREAS it is expedient to empower the Government to remove or destroy obstructions to navigation in fairways in the seas adjacent to British India, and to prevent the creation of such obstructions; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. This Act may be called "The Obstructions in fairways Act, 1881;"
- Short title. fairways Act, 1881 ;"
- Commencement. and it shall come into force at once.

But nothing herein contained shall apply to vessels belonging to Her Majesty or hired by Her Majesty, or by the Secretary of State for India in Council.

2. Whenever in any fairway in any of the seas adjacent to British India, any vessel is sunk, stranded or abandoned, or any fishing stake, timber or other thing is placed or left, the Local Government of the part of British India in or near which such vessel, fishing stake, timber or other thing is situate may, if in its opinion such thing is, or is likely to become, an obstruction or danger to navigation,

(a) cause such thing or any part thereof to be removed; or,

(b) if such thing is of such a description or so situate that, in the opinion of the Local Government, it is not worth removing, destroy the same or any part thereof.

3. Whenever anything is removed under section two, the Government shall be entitled to receive a reasonable sum, having regard to all the circumstances of the case, for the expenses incurred in respect of such removal.
- Government entitled to expenses incurred in removing obstruction.

Any dispute arising concerning the amount due under this section, in respect of anything so removed, shall be determined by the Magistrate of the District or Presidency Magistrate having jurisdiction at the place where such thing is, upon application to him for that purpose by either of the disputing parties.

4. The Local Government shall, when anything is removed under section two, publish in the local official Gazette a notification containing a description of such thing, and the time at which and the place from which the same was removed.
- Notice of removal to be given by Local Government.

5. If after publishing such notification, such thing is unclaimed, or if the person claiming the same fails to pay the amount due for the said expenses and any other charges properly incurred by the Local Government in respect thereof, the Local Government may sell such thing by public auction, if it is of a perishable nature, forthwith, and if it is not of a perishable nature, at any time not less than six months after publishing such notification as aforesaid.

6. On the realization of the proceeds of such sale, the amount due for expenses and charges as aforesaid, together with the expenses of the sale, shall be deducted therefrom, and the surplus (if any) shall be paid to the owner of the thing sold, or, if no such person appear and claim such surplus, shall be held in deposit for payment, without interest, to any person thereafter establishing his right to the same:

Provided that he makes the claim within one year from the date of the sale.

7. For the purposes of this Act, the term "vessel" shall be deemed to include every article or thing or collection of things being or forming part of the tackle, equipment, cargo, stores or ballast of a vessel, and any proceeds arising from the sale of a vessel, and of the cargo thereof, or of any other property recovered therefrom, shall be regarded as a common fund.
- "Vessel" to include tackle, cargo, &c.

8. The Governor General in Council may from time to time, by notification in the Gazette of India, make rules to regulate or prohibit in any fairway in any of the seas adjacent to British India, the placing of fishing stakes, the casting or
- Power to make rules to regulate and prohibit the placing of obstructions in fairways.

throwing of ballast, rubbish, or any other thing likely to give rise to a bank or shoal, or the doing of any other act which will, in his opinion, cause or be likely to cause obstruction or danger to navigation.

9. Whoever is guilty of any act or omission in contravention of the rules made under section eight, may be tried for such offence in any district or Presidency-town in which he is found, and shall be punished with imprisonment for a term which may extend to six months, or with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees, or with both.

10. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed 40 & 41 Vic., Saving of other powers to prevent the exercise by the c. 16, s. 8. possessed by Government of any other powers possessed by it in this behalf.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE object of this Bill is to empower the Government to remove obstructions to navigation which may exist in fairways situate in seas adjacent to British India, and to prohibit the creation of such obstructions for the future. The advantages of having such a law have been impressed upon the Government by certain recent cases. In one of these a question has been raised as to the power of the Government to remove the fishing stakes which are annually placed during the fine season in the sea off the port of Bombay, and which, having recently been advanced into the approach to the harbour, are now a source of serious danger to vessels frequenting that port. In another case which related to the deposit of ballast by ship-masters, at the mouth of the Rangoon river, a practice which, if permitted, might cause serious impediment and danger to the navigation of the approaches to the port of Rangoon, the need for some further preventive powers than those which Government now possesses, has been made apparent.

There can be no doubt that it is extremely desirable that the powers of Government officers, and the procedure to be followed by them, in relation to matters of this nature, should be clearly defined, and as the Indian Statute-Book, as it now stands, does not deal adequately with the subject, the present Bill has been prepared. A precedent for such legislation will be found in the Imperial Statute 40 & 41 Vic., c. 16 (the Removal of Wrecks Act, 1877). The Bill, while following generally the lines of the statute, goes beyond it in two material respects. The power to remove obstructions conferred by it is not confined, as in the statute, to the case of obstructions caused by wrecks, but extends also to fishing stakes, ballast and any other thing which may form an obstruction or danger to navigation. The other point in which the Bill goes beyond the statute is that, in addition to giving power to remove existing obstructions, it enables the Government to prevent the wilful creation of obstructions in the future. With this object the Governor General in Council is empowered (section 7) to make rules to regulate or prohibit in any fairway the placing of fishing stakes, the casting of ballast, or the doing of any other act which will, in his opinion, cause or be likely to cause danger or obstruction to navigation.

NOTICE TO MARINERS.—(No. 1.)

INDIA—BAY OF BENGAL.

RIVER HOOGHLY SANDHEADS.

Light Regulations for Pilot Brigs.

THE Port Officer, Calcutta, has notified that on and after the first day of July 1881, the Pilot Brigs at the Hooghly Sandheads will, when under weigh and cruising about, show the usual red and green side lights. When they are hove-to, engaged in supplying or taking out a Pilot, and thus not under command, the side lights will be obscured, and the bright mast-head light exhibited according to the Regulations of the Board of Trade. On the near approach of a vessel, a white light will be shown over the Brig's stern.

2. While Pilot Brigs are at anchor, the usual anchor light will be hoisted at the star-board fore yard-arm.

3. The maroons, or flare-up lights, will, as heretofore, be burnt by the Brigs every quarter of an hour, whether under weigh or at anchor, from sunset to sunrise, in accordance with the aforesaid Regulations.

Orders and Notifications by the Government of India, &c.

[Reprinted from the Gazette of India.]

The following orders, issued by the Government of India in the Military Secretary's Office, are republished for general information :—

NOTIFICATIONS.

Calcutta, the 24th January 1881.

HIS EXCELLENCY THE VICEROY AND GOVERNOR-GENERAL will hold a Levée at Government House on Tuesday, the 1st February, at 9-30 o'clock, P.M.

All Civil and Military Officers are invited to attend.

Gentlemen purposing to attend the Levée are requested to send their names and addresses to the Aide-de-Camp in waiting not later than 5 P.M. on the 28th January, after which none can be received. Gentlemen who have not already been presented at the Court of St. James' or at Government House, will be good enough to add the names of gentlemen who will present them.

Gentlemen attending the Levée are requested to bring with them the two cards which will be forwarded to them,—one to be delivered on entering Government House, the other to the Aide-de-Camp in waiting at the time of presentation.

The Levée will be closed by the Native Officers of the Garrison being presented by their Commanding Officers.

Gentlemen wearing uniform will appear in full dress.

Gentlemen not wearing uniform will appear in evening dress.

The carriages of gentlemen (except such as have the private entrée) attending the Levée will enter by the North-East Gate, set down under the Grand Staircase, and pass out by the North-West Gate.

THEIR EXCELLENCIES THE VICEROY AND THE MARCHIONESS OF RIPON will hold a Drawing-room at Government House at 9-30 on the evening of Thursday, the 3rd February.

Ladies purposing to attend the Drawing-room are requested to send their cards and addresses to the Aide-de-Camp in waiting not later than Saturday, the 29th, and to bring with them to the Drawing-room the two cards which will be sent to them,—one to be given on entering Government House, and the second to the Aide-de-Camp in waiting at the time of presentation.

Ladies who have not already been presented at the Court of St. James' or at Government House, are requested to send their cards, with their addresses, and the name of the lady by whom they are to be presented, to the Aide-de-Camp in waiting as soon as possible.

Ladies who present others should themselves attend the Drawing-room.

The carriages of those who have the private entrée will enter by the South-East Gateway, and set down at the South entrance of Government House.

All other carriages will enter by the North-East Gate, set down under the Grand Stairs, and pass out by the North-West Gate.

The following orders, issued by the Government of India in the Home, Revenue, and Agricultural Department, are republished for general information :—

Notification.

TO be peremptorily sold pursuant to a decree of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal in its Ordinary Original Civil Jurisdiction, made in suit No. 58 of 1880 (wherein Rajcoomar Paul is plaintiff, and Chunder Coomar Banerjee is defendant), and dated the 8th day of March 1880, by the Registrar of the said Court in his sale-room in the Court House, on Saturday, the 26th day of February next, at the hour of 12 o'clock, at noon, the following property—

All that piece or parcel of land situate at and being partly No. 139, Cornwallis Street, and partly No. 23-2, Rajah Noho Kissen's Street, within the registration district of Calcutta, and containing by estimation one bigha one cottah four chittacks and forty-four gundas of land, be the same a little more or less, and butted and bounded in the manner following; that is to say, on the north by the drain to the south of the land belonging to Gopal Chunder Mitter, deceased; on the south by the house of Kally Kissen Gangooly (formerly the house of Ananda Krishna and Joy Krishna Bose); on the east by the Government road commonly called Cornwallis Street; and on the west by the land of Roghoo Nauth Mitter.

The conditions of sale and the abstract of title may be seen at the Registrar's Office, or at the office of Messieurs Dass and Sein, the plaintiff's attorneys, at No. 7, Old Post Office Street.

R. BRETHERTON, Registrar.

DASS AND SEIN, Plaintiff's Attorneys.

Calcutta High Court, Original Jurisdiction, Registrar's Office, the 8th January 1881. (645-1)

IT is hereby notified that the undermentioned property will be sold on the 3rd day of March 1881, in satisfaction of decree No. 190 of 1880, of the Second Sub-Judge's file of Backergunge, in which Kali Prosonno Ghosh and others are decree-holders, and Ray Bhupendra Nath Choudhury and others judgment-debtors.

Abad Deb Nathpur, taluk Deb Nath Ray, bearing No. 123 of the pottah and the book of the Commissioner of Sundarbanas, and appertaining to pergunnah Saidpur, No. 4908 of the tauji of Backergunge Collectorate, is situated within the jurisdiction of the Munsif of Perozepur and the local limits of station Matbaria and the sub-registrar's office of Bhandaria, district Backergunge. It comprises 34,000 bighas of land, and was settled with proprietors Ray Bhupendra Nath Choudhury, Ray Gyanendro Nath Choudhury, Ray Narendra Nath Choudhury, Prosonna Kumar Ray, guardian of Ray Surendra Nath Choudhury and Ray Jotindra Nath Choudhury, minors. It was held at a jumma of Rs. 1,568 up to 1285 B.S., and has been assessed at a jumma of Rs. 2,351 since 1286 B.S. The taluk comprises mouzas Baramachhna, Bholmara, Tutakhali, Charokkhali, Ghaupkhali, Rajpara Nijamia, Mitakhali, &c., the rights and interests of the judgment-debtors (8) eight annas share of this property, with all its appendages, which is in the enjoyment and possession of the judgment-debtors, and has been hypothecated in the bond and the decree.

It is also notified that search was made in the books of the Registration Offices of Perozepur, Bhandaria, and Matbaria down to 1879, and it appears from the affidavit given by the decree-holders that no body has any lien on that property. It may ordinarily be worth Rs. 81,000, but it appeared from the allegation of the judgment-debtors' moot that the property yields an annual profit exceeding Rs. 12,000, therefore the value of the property advertised for sale has been estimated at Rs. 1,00,000, (one lakh) under order of the Court.

THIS little work, published with the approval of the Government of India, treats of the general principles of forest management in all its branches, and is recommended not only to forest officers, but to all who are interested in the progress of forest management in this country.

May be obtained of Messrs. King, King & Co., Bombay, and of Messrs. Wymon & Co., Calcutta. Price Rs. 3-8, or including postage, Rs. 4. Or of the publishers, Messrs. Towner & Co., Ludgate Hill, London. Price five shillings.

The Indian Law Reports.

Published under Authority of the Governor-General in Council.

THE Reports appear in monthly parts, published as soon as possible after the first of each month as Calcutta, Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad, and will comprise four series.—one for the Calcutta High Court, a second for the Madras High Court, a third for the Bombay High Court, and a fourth for the Allahabad High Court. The cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from each High Court will be reported in the Series for that High Court. Cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from Provinces in India not subject to any High Court will be reported in the Calcutta Series.

The Parts of each Series can be had separately, or all four Parts can be had stitched into one wrapper at the option of subscribers and purchasers. It will be observed from the following statement of the terms of subscription and sale, that a considerable reduction is allowed to persons taking the complete set.

Terms of subscription, payable annually in advance.

Oct. 20th	358	12mo.	1st	1,000	ditto	2 0 0	Sarat Chandra Chandhuri of Khālajuri.	A handy treatise containing a popular and sufficiently full exposition of midwifery and the diseases of infancy and their treatment. No particular system has been followed in the preparation of this work, but native and European systems and even unlearned practice when of proved efficacy have been equally consulted to make it practically useful to family men ignorant of the science of medicine. The author says that in his exposition of European systems, he has systematically endeavoured to harmonise foreign practice with the manners, customs, and usages of the people of this country.	46:
„ 25th	825	8vo.	2nd	1,000	ditto	11 0 0	Jadunāth Mukherji, 160, Bow-bazar Street, Calcutta.	The contents of this work, embracing diseases of all kinds and much scientific information of a general nature, at first appeared in the form of a periodical entitled Chikitsā-darpana . It is now presented in one volume, "revised, arranged, corrected, and improved." The preface states that the work has considerably benefited those members of the medical profession in this country who do not know English.	46:
Sept. 10th	160	8vo.	2nd	500	ditto	1 8 0	Umācharan De of Baranagore.	This is the second edition of a work describing diseases and their treatment after the allopathic method. The improvement made in this edition consists in the insertion of some illustrative diagrams and in the description of a few more diseases of the nervous system.	46:
Oct. 22nd	24	8vo.	1st	520	ditto	0 8 0	Prasanna Kumār Bidyāratna, Berhampore.	Contains a Bengali translation of the fifth chapter of Mann, which treats of purificatory rites, and of the sixth chapter, which gives regulations regarding the third stage of life.	46:

1880.	Pages.					Rs. A. P.
Sept. 6th	96	8vo.	1st	200	Printed	0 12 0 (each No.)	Rohininandan Sarkár of Jowgrám, Burdwan.	470-71
" 6th	288	8vo.	1st	200	ditto	0 12 0 (each No.)	ditto	472-77
" 21st	300	8vo.	1st	1,000	ditto	4 0 0	Káli Práanna Sarkár of Jowgrám.	This is a new Bengali translation of the celebrated mythico-philosophical work in Sanskrit, which is held in veneration by	473 all Hindus and forms something like the Bible of the Baishnaba sect. This part contains the first three books and a portion of the fourth.
" 15th	24	8vo.	1st	500	ditto	Nil	Dinanáth Majumdar, 1, Shobhá-bázár Street, Calcutta.	This is another Bengali version of Srimadbhágabat—a work which contains among other things a poetico-philosophical exposition of Krishna regarded	479 both as a person and as an idea or principle. This translation appears to be less able and accurate than the one last noticed.
Oct. 7th	252	12mo.	1st	1,000	ditto	1 4 0	Matilál Dás, Jorá-sáuko, Calcutta.	Prabhás is one of the places rendered sacred in Hindu mythology by important associations connected with the name	480 and history of Krishna. The events that took place here are described in this book in old-fashioned verse for uneducated and orthodox Hindus.
Sept. 10th	140	12mo.	1st	1,000	ditto	0 8 0	Srináth Dás & Co., 36, Garábhátá, Calcutta.	This is a Bengali translation of Haribansa, a Sanskrit work containing a full mythological account of Krishna and his	481 numerous progeny, who played an important part in the political history of ancient India.
" 12th	140	12mo.	1st	1,000	ditto	0 8 0	ditto	482
Aug. 28th	726	8vo.	1st	500	ditto	2 0 0	Durgá Charan Gupta, Calcutta.	This is a neat and illustrated edition of the well-known Bengali version of the Rámáyana by Krittibás. The typographical	483 execution is much better than that of the editions which ordinarily issue from the Calcutta press. This edition is based upon the one which was printed at Serampore in 1802, and is believed by the publisher to be free from the errors which have crept into the later editions of the work. This part contains the first five books.

Sept. 2nd	900	8vo. dy.	1st	300	ditto	4 0 0	Akshaya Chandra Sarkár, Chin- surá.	Contains some stories which are very popular in Bengal, and which possess much historical value in consequence of the description which they embody of certain mercantile voyages to Ceylon. The author, Mukundaráma Chakrabarti, takes rank among the mediæval poets of Bengal, and has written in mediæval Bengali. His object is to describe the might and divinity of Durgá, and the poem is accordingly very popular among the Sáktas of Bengal. The editor has reproduced the text with explanatory and bibliographical notes.	500
" 2nd	272	8vo. dy.	1st	300	ditto	1 8 0	ditto	These are songs and sonnets descriptive of the loves of Krishna and Rádhá, and the different feelings and passions which influenced them in different situations. The workings of the sentiment of love are portrayed in glowing terms. The editor has put in explanatory notes. Gobindadás was a celebrated mediæval Baisnaba poet.	501

Oct. 6th	65	8vo.	2nd	1,100	ditto	1 0 0	Upendra Nath Das, Bow-bazar, Calcutta.	A story of two pairs of lovers, who are represented as belonging to the section of the Bengali community which has adopted and carried into effect European ideas of female education and social and domestic life. The story of love is mixed up with another story, the object of which seems to be to excite in the native mind a strong hatred for English rule and the English character. There are passages in which the author's language becomes almost seditious.	907
Sept. 30th	67	8vo.	1st	1,000	ditto	0 6 0	Bhuban Mohan Mukherji of Sosana.	The story of a Bengali girl who elopes with her step-brother; refuses to return home when asked to do so by her uncle, who himself cannot resist the step-brother for enticing her away; experiences all the miseries of her profession; and, when in the last stage reference to some actual occurrence. The title of the work is explained by the fact that the family of the heroine even justify her guilt on the plea that where several persons of different temperaments dwell together,	908

Sept. 23rd	6	12mo. ... 1st		1,000	Printed	0 1 0	Gopál Chandra Chatterji, 1, Bechárám Chatterji's Lane, Calcutta.	The approach of the great festival of Durgá Pujá is an occasion for great rejoicings in this country. Hindus are on that occasion in the habit of singing songs describing the joy of	916
Durgá's parents at the prospect of seeing their only beloved daughter with her little ones after an interval of one year, the joy of Durgá herself at the prospect of seeing her parents, Durgá's leave-taking from her consort Mahádeb, her toilette which is furnished by Kúvera the Indian god of wealth, her reception by her parents, &c. The publication under notice describes all this in song and dialogue.
" 23rd	6	12mo. ... 1st		1,000	ditto	0 1 0	Tulsidás Basák, 1, Bechárám Chatterji's Lane, Calcutta.	The close of the Durgá Pujá festival is marked by as much sorrow as its approach is by joy. The people of this country accordingly sing songs	917 after the festival in which they express their grief by describing Durgá and her disconsolate parents as all in tears, Mahádeb as impatient of his wife's return, &c. These sentiments are expressed in these pages in song and dialogue.
Oct. 7th	56	12mo. ... 1st		500	ditto	0 8 0	Nil	...Describes the story of the defeat of Prithibiráj in a battle with Muhammad Ghorí. The heroine, Nalini, is the daughter	918 of Prithibiráj and wife of Samarasing. Samarasing greatly distinguishes himself in the war, and succeeds to the throne of Chittore, to which place he conducts Nalini after the loss of her father's kingdom.
Sept. 5th	12	12mo. ... 1st		250	ditto	0 2 0	Priya Náth Ráya	Krishna was born in a prison in Mathurá, from whence he was secretly carried by his father	919 infant was carried miraculously across the Jumna, and taken to Nanda, the head of the milkmen of Gokul, who was only brated by Nanda with great rejoicings, and it has since become customary with the worshippers of Krishna to repeat these facts in song and dialogue.
Oct. 18th	12	12mo. ... 1st		1,000	ditto	0 1 0	Ráj Krishna Ráya, Chore-bagan, Calcutta.	A poor shepherd-boy who wants to purchase a large fish is taunted by the fisherman with the aristocratic desire of riding	920 stable, and accordingly goes out in search of a horse. He fails everywhere, but a shopkeeper makes a bargain out of his an animal of the kind he wants. Whilst returning home in triumph, the shepherd-boy, in order to rest himself awhile, away, the gourd falls and is cracked, and the affrighted jackal runs away. The poor shepherd-boy runs after the beast, season-presents, hurrying home to celebrate the Púja, &c. The amusements of incontinent people during the festival are also described. Street literature.

" 21st	24	12mo. ... 1st		1,000	ditto	0 2 0	Párbati Charan Mukherji of Calcutta.	The story of a European wife, who describes how she took one husband after another for the	922 simple reason that she has as good claim to earthly enjoyment as members of the male sex. The author clearly hints that he has in view some recent changes in Bengali society.
Oct. 6th	27	12mo. ... 1st		500	ditto	Not given	Annadá Prasád Datta of Manirámpur.	A small poem in three books describing the misfortunes of a Mahratta lady named Mádhábilatá. She loses her	923 husband, Báláji Báji Rao, in the battle of Paniput, renounces worldly life, and after suffering some misfortunes in a forest, becomes a religious devotee, with her husband's memory as the god of her heart and the object of her meditations. The heroine of the poem is intended to serve as an ideal of female excellence for the women of this country.
Oct. 8th	12	12mo. ... 1st		1,000	ditto	0 1 0	Nafara Chandra Datta, Calcutta.	A few stanzas describing the excitement which is caused by this great Hindu festival, and giving expression to a drunkard's sentiments of a mock-heroic nature. Street literature.	924

Feb. 7th	20	12mo.	1st ...	2,000	Printed	0 2 0	Binoobihārī Dās and Bāneswar Ghosh of Calcutta.	States that Vishnu is the God of the Kali Yuga under the name Satyanaśāyana , mentions some cases of poor men becoming rich by worshipping Satyanā-	949 rāyana, and relates one or two stories with the view of showing that Satyanāśāyana is a god who interferes actively in the affairs of men, and may not be offended or slighted with impunity. The worship of this god is very popular in Bengal.

" 18th	60	12mo.	Not given.	2,000	ditto	0 5 3	Rāmkanāyī Dās of Jorāśānko, Calcutta.	An old metrical work expressive of the religious sentiments of a devout Baisnaba. The style faintly recalls that of the mediæval Baisnaba poets. Baisnabism as opposed to the idolatrous worship of the Sāktas of Bengal, or militant Baisnabism, is the creed of the author.	951
Nov. 25th	60	12mo.	1st ...	2,000	ditto	0 9 0	Jadunāth Datta, Calcutta.	An old metrical work describing the power and divinity of Manasā, the Hindu goddess of serpents. The well-known story of Behulā and Nakhindara is related in the old-fashioned style so popular with ill-educated and orthodox readers.	952
Oct. 9th	80	8vo.	1st ...	500	ditto	0 8 0	Girish Chandra Sen, 6, College Square, Calcutta.	This part contains the memoirs of 14 Mahomedan saints, male and female, translated from a Persian work entitled Tajkara-tulouliā , which gives notices of 96 saints. These memoirs are full of moral and religious sayings inculcating godliness, purity of heart, dependence upon God, contempt for earthly things, disregard of physical evils, &c. &c. The translator, who has avowed his faith in the new dispensation of the Brāhmin Samāj of India, says that Mahometanism has more points of agreement with Brāhminism than any other religion.	953

Oct. 20th	32	8vo.	1st ...	1,000	ditto	0 6 0	Shāmlāl Abhirtolā, Calcutta.	Dr. Discusses the origin of the Vedas and their chronology, describes their contents, and defines their relations to the subsequent Sanskrit literature. The author's treatment of his subject is of a very summary nature. He rejects the date assigned by Orientalists to the compilation of the Vedas, and seems inclined to carry that date some 30 or 40 thousand years backward.	955
Nov. 1st	96	8vo.	1st ...	1,000	ditto	1 4 0	Akshaya Kumār Banerji of Anantapur, Chaudernagore. Nov. 16th	32	Svo.	1st	1,000	Printed	0 2 0	Kāli Charan Ghosh, 39, Mirzapur Lane, Calcutta.	Explains the processes by which wonders may be effected, such as walking through fire, eating fire, &c., without suffering any injury. The author says he has compiled his recipes from various English and Sanskrit works, and derived subject at Kāmrup in Assam.	960
Dec. 12th	36	12mo. dy.	1st	500	ditto	0 3 0	Nārāyan Dās Ghosh, Bhowanipore.	A young man is described as suffering great hardships in search of a friend from whom he has been separated.	961
Sept. 26th	21	Svo. dy.	1st	1,000	ditto	0 4 0	The Sabhā, Kālighāt.	The object of this Sabhā is to propagate Hinduism and induce Hindus to observe the orthodox customs of the country. The Sabhā has been established at Kālighāt in the suburbs of Calcutta.	962
" 22nd	41	12mo. dy.	1st	1,000	ditto	0 3 0	Surya Kumār Shoma, Bhowanipore.	This is a poem describing the story of Kundanandini, a female character in Babu Bankim Chandra Chatterji's novel of Bicha Briksha .	963
" 16th	48	12mo. dy.	1st	500	ditto	0 3 0	Nabin Kālī Debi, Bhowanipore.	A poem in which Mandodari, the wife of Ravana, is represented as burning with revengeful feelings and martial ardour on hearing of the fall of her husband in an encounter with Rāma, leading a female host to war, but cooling down at the sight of her husband's corpse on the field of battle. The writer, who is a Bengali lady, seems to be an imitator of the well-known Bengali poet Babu Hem Chandra Banerji.	964
" 4th	64	12mo. dy.	1st	500	ditto	0 4 0	Satis Chandra Maitra, Sāntipur.	A number of small poetical pieces most of which give expression to feelings of love and friendship. The author says that these poems are reprinted from the Binda and other Bengali periodicals.	965
" 8th	24	12mo. dy.	1st	500	ditto	0 2 0	Anurup Chandra Banerji, Bhowanipore.	An opera describing the undressing of Draupadi in the Court of Duryodhana.	966
Dec. 1st	58	16mo. royal.	1st	1,000	ditto	0 4 0	Kāsiswar Bhattā, Bhowanipore.	It is clearly the object of this work to ridicule modern Bengali society as consisting of young men of infamous character who seek to throw a veil over their vices and crimes by making a show of learning and patriotism.	967
Oct. 6th	63	12mo. royal.	1st	550	ditto	0 4 0	Not given	By Kalir San is meant a young ill-educated Bengali Babu who affects to be guided solely by his conscience, hesitates not to disobey and insult his holders when they command him to do what appears to be wrong, and feels no scruple in committing grave crimes in the prosecution of his own interest, such as advising a friend to entice away his mother-in-law. The style of the author is marked by provincialisms. The work is intended to be a survey of the new educated Bengali society from the old orthodox standpoint.	968
" 4th	24	12mo. dy.	1st	500	ditto	0 2 0	ditto	The hero of this farce is a pretentious Bengali Babu who, in endeavouring to get his opponent, a young Bengali zemindar, punished in a court of law, is himself befooled by his wife eloping with his opponent.	969
Dec. 17th	50	8vo.	1st	500	ditto	Nil.	Binodbihārī Mallick, 90-3, Cross Street, Calcutta.	This work "is only a dramatised version of that portion of the Mahābhārata which is listened to with tears of joy, reverence, and pity when narrated by Kathaks and bards. The story is the reinstatement of Yudhisthir on the royal throne and his coronation at Hastinapur."	970

" 13th	31	8vo. ...	1st ...	500	ditto ...	0 12 0	Pramatha Nāth Basu, B.Sc., 4, Theatre Road, Calcutta.	The writer divides Indian history into five periods—the Rigvedic, the Brāhmanic, the Rationalistic, the Buddhist-Hindu, and the Hindu--and says that	121 with those five periods are connected important changes or developments in the history of Indian caste which are described at some length. He differs from those who hold that occupation is the determining principle of Indian caste, and says that the primary cause and chief regulator of that caste is the principle of race-superiority determined by conquest. This principle, says he, is still in operation in many parts of the world. The paper was originally read at the Bristol Museum and Library.
Sept. 9th	42	12mo. ...	1st ...	500	ditto ...	0 4 0	C. C. Sen of Jessore.	This discourse forms the "substance of the inaugural address delivered at the Students' Association, Jessore." The	122 author condemns the prevailing system of teaching history, logic, metaphysics, and other subjects as a system in which morality and religion are entirely kept out of view. Assuming as his motto the Positivist doctrine that "the intellect is to be the servant of the heart, not its slave," the author advocates a system of education in which morality and religion will find a high place, and which should be entirely independent of Government agency. That agency, says he, should be only employed for the purposes of primary mass education.

Dec. 22nd	19	8vo. ...	1st ...	300	Printed	Not given	Not given	This address was delivered by Synd Abdur Rahman, on the occasion of a reception given to him by the Madrasah Literary Club in Calcutta after	124 his return from England. The points touched upon are the advantages to be derived from visiting Europe and reading in European universities, the arrangements recently made in England for the convenience of Indian students in England, the superiority of Hindus over Muslims in appreciating the advantages of education and the increased interest in progress evinced by the latter within recent years, the greatness of English civilization and the excellence of the English people, the necessity of educating Muslim females and of elevating their status, &c.

Nov. 19th	36	12mo. ...	1st ...	250	Lithographed.	0 2 0	Nawab Synd Mahomed Mehdi Hossain Khan, Patna City.	A story in which the great Persian hero Rustum, whose arias were victorious everywhere, is represented as sustaining a defeat in an attack upon the Jewish king Solomon.	15.
The moral of the story is that bodily power is inferior to the power which is supported by the grace and favour of God. For Mahomedans, the interest of the story consists in the appearance of Ali, before his birth, as the champion of Solomon's kingdom of righteousness against Rustum, the emblem of mere physical power.

The number opens with a paper on the life and career of the great Scottish patriot William Wallace. Under the heading "Sannyāsi" are given brief biographical notices of men who entirely subordinated self to some great interest of a social, religious or political character. The personages noticed in this number are Chaitanya, who is called the religious Sannyāsi , and Pratab Sing of Mewar and Joseph Mazzini, who are called political Sannyāsis . There is also an interesting paper on Rammohan Roy's religious education and religious labours. "Jātiya Nigraha" is a long poem contrasting ancient with modern India.	266

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the barograph and thermograph.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction and movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

Report of Fluctuation of Traffic on the Eastern Bengal Railway for the five weeks ending 27th November 1880.

Report on Goods Traffic for the five weeks ending 27th November 1880.

EASTERN BENGAL RAILWAY COMPANY, TRAFFIC SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE, SEALDAH TERMINUS.

Dated Calcutta, the 15th January 1881.

From—JAMES BRANDE, Esq., Traffic Superintendent,

To—The Agent, Eastern Bengal Railway, Sealdah.

FROM attached report of traffic for five weeks ending the 27th November 1880, you will please observe that the total weight of goods carried over this Railway during that period was 12,27,561 maunds, showing an increase of 3,85,718 maunds as compared with the corresponding period last year.

This increase is attributable to the following commodities:—grain, gunnies, jute, salt, seeds, tea, and miscellaneous goods.

There has, however, been a slight decrease in European piece-goods, Indian twist, and turmeric.

The fluctuation may be ascribed to the following causes:—

Increases.

Grain, including rice Mds. 1,98,823
This staple continues to come into the market in very large quantities, there being a good demand in London, and the market prices have an upward tendency.

Gunny, bundles Mds. 6,799
" bales " 2,160
This increase is due to the increased demand for native gunnies.

Jute, drums Mds. 58,975
" bales 27,723
The satisfactory increase of this commodity is principally owing to the continued activity in the market mentioned in last report.

Salt Mds. 29,459
Since the date of August report there has been a falling off. I am happy, however, to report a decided improvement, owing doubtless to the market prices having advanced.

Seeds Mds. 20,099
This increase is due to the steady demand for export, and the upward tendency of market prices.

Tea, Indian Mds. 12,811
As mentioned in former report, this increase is due to the facilities afforded by our steamer service from Sylhet and Silchar districts, as well as what we now receive from the Northern Bengal State Railway.

The increase of 29,307 maunds in miscellaneous goods may be ascribed to the continued improvement in trade generally.

Decreases.

The only decrease of any importance is in European piece-goods: there has been a falling off to the extent of 6,036 maunds, caused by a general depression in market prices.

Report of Fluctuation of Traffic on the Eastern Bengal Railway for the four weeks ending 25th December 1880.

Report on Goods Traffic for the four weeks ending 25th December 1880.

EASTERN BENGAL RAILWAY COMPANY, TRAFFIC SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE, SEALDAH TERMINUS.

Dated Calcutta, the 18th January 1851.

From—JAMES BRANDER, Esq., Traffic Superintendent,*

To—The Agent, Eastern Bengal Railway, Sealdah.

In forwarding you the attached report of traffic for four weeks ending the 25th December 1889, I have pleasure in stating that there has been an increase to the extent of 5,519 rounds as compared with the corresponding period last year.

From the report, you will see that the following staples—grain; guano, hauled; iron, bars; and seeds—have chiefly contributed to this increase, while on the other hand there has been a decrease in hides; iron, drums; railway material, foreign; salt and tobacco.

The following appears to me to be the causes of the fluctuations : -

Increases.

Grain, including rice	Mds.	37,916
This increase is mainly due to the new crops of rice coming into the market.
Gunny, bales	Mds.	15,366
The market demand for native gunnies still continues, and is no doubt the cause of this increase.
Jute, baled	Mds.	12,905
The increase under this head is due to the brisk state of the market for baled jute for direct shipment.
Seeds	Mds.	17,700
The increase in this commodity still continues, and is due to the steady demand for export prices as mentioned in last report.

Decreases.

Jute, drums	Mds.	80,863
This decrease is doubtless owing to the large quantities of jute now being baled at Dacca, Narayanganje, and Serajganje, as well as a large quantity now coming down baid.
Hides	Mds.	3,329
This decrease is owing to the fall in the market and the discouraging advices from home.
Railway material, foreign	Mds.	12,406
This decrease is not to be wondered at, as it is due to the stoppage of the export of materials for the Northern Bengal State Railway and Dujeling Siam Railway, most of the materials having been already forwarded, and will continue to show a decrease as the works are being finished.
Salt	Mds.	5,710
This decrease cannot be looked upon as a falling off, the market for this product having been for some time quiet.
Tobacco	Mds.	3,655
There has been a falling off in the demand for export of this produce, hence the decrease.

Report on the Fluctuations in Traffic on the Northern Bengal State Railway for the month of December 1880.

GENERAL REMARKS.

The heavy falling off under the heads of jute and food-grain (rice and paddy) has seriously affected the results of the month's working. In December 1879, 1,31,956 maunds of jute and 31,542 maunds of rice and paddy were hauled, whereas during the month under review only 77,303 maunds of jute has been carried, and 26,501 maunds of rice, paddy, and other food-grains, making under these two heads a decrease of 62,653 maunds, which, with the slight falling off in the tea and ale traffic, makes up a total of 61,364 maunds. Against this decrease must be taken the increase in all other staples (29,421 maunds), which gives 31,913 maunds as the net decrease for the month.

Increases.

Ginger Mds. 370
A few slight shipments for ports on the coast account for this.
Gunny-bags Mds. 8,030
The present depressed state of the market for loose jute is having the effect of stimulating this traffic.
Piece-goods Mds. 218
The falling off under this head during the months of October and November has brought stocks in the local marts to a low ebb, and an increase in this traffic may be looked for.
Railway material Mds. 9,308
Material for the construction of the Dhubri Tramway has continued to go forward steadily during the month.
Salt Mds. 3,017
This result bears out what was predicted in October's traffic report.
Tobacco Mds. 358
12,901 maunds of this staple were carried during the month under review, against 12,543 maunds for December 1879. A gradual falling in this traffic must now be expected until the new crop begins to come in.
All other goods Mds. 7,410
The traffic in the numerous staples carried under this head has been brisk during the month; not only does the weight carried bear favourable comparison with last December's traffic, but no less than 11,000 maunds more have been hauled this month than in November.

Decreases.

Ale Mds. 1,271
The shipments of last October's brew have been very late in arriving in Calcutta this year, and this may, in a great measure, account for decrease in commissariat de patches, usually so heavy about this time of the year.
Food-grain Mds. 5,041
An abundant harvest in all parts of Bengal is having the effect of checking the movement in the staples carried under this head.
Jute Mds. 57,653
The jute traffic this season has been most disappointing. At the beginning of the month the market was weak; this was followed by a steady fall in prices, which, in a few days, amounted to a decline of from 4 to 5 annas a maund, and despatches were in consequence withheld. Later in the month there was a slight reaction, and prices advanced about 2 annas a maund, but it was too late to affect the traffic, as the X'mas holidays were at hand. Should the market keep firm, the traffic next month will probably show better results.
Tea Mds. 399
This month's despatches may be said to be the last of this season's tea, as very little now remains to go forward.

TRAFFIC SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE, Saidpur, the 19th January 1881.

G. M. DEURY, Traffic Superintendent.

Report of Fluctuation of Traffic on the Tirhoot State Railway for the month of December 1880.

The total quantity of goods carried during the month of December 1880 aggregated 2,03,917 maunds, as compared with 2,00,096 maunds carried during the corresponding period of 1879, and 2,07,117 maunds as carried during the previous month, showing an increase of 3,822 maunds in the one case, and a decrease of 3,530 maunds in the other. 2,077 maunds of railway materials carried during December 1879 have not been taken into account.

Of the several increases and decreases, the following are the prominent ones and worthy of separate explanations:—

INCREASES.		Mds.
Coal .—Chiefly imported by the Public Works Department at Durbhunga for brick-burning purposes		4,099
Food-grains .—This increase is due to the local markets of some places on the line having been more brisk than that of elsewhere		6,103
Gunny-bags, empty .—The import of empty gunny-bags depends upon the quantities of grain, seeds, &c., exported		1,151
Indigo .—The outturn of indigo this year was very large, and every concern in the district, that might be expected to, is despatching indigo by railway. Indigo receives every attention in transit, and no delay of any kind has been occasioned to a single load		7,981
Iron .—This is imported by indigo concerns, the Road Cess, Raj, and general iron dealers, &c., and the increase is due to and depends chiefly upon the local requirements		1,376
Lime and Kunkur .—This is traffic from Samastipur Junction, and is carried on by contractors who gather it from the river Gunduck, and transport it to Durbhunga to fulfil their contracts with the Raj Durbhunga		8,202
Oil-cakes .—This is outward traffic, and as might be expected the increase is satisfactory		1,190
Sundries .—This consists of several articles which are imported and exported in small consignments. The increase is steady, but cannot be explained in detail		1,731
Timber .—This is a part of Messrs. Dear & Co.'s timber despatched from Samastipur during the month		2,945

DECREASES.
Hides and Horns .—Owing to the improved health of cattle the local collection of hides, &c., has diminished		10,204
Piece-goods, English .—There having been sufficient stock on hand the merchants imported a very small quantity of piece-goods during the month, and hence the sudden decrease		5,069
Saltpetre .—Owing to the introduction by the Government of several stringent rules in manufacture of saltpetre several firms have closed the business, and this trade will for a time be checked		16,855
Stones, &c. .—This cannot be counted upon as a regular traffic of the line, and as occasion arises stones, ballast, &c., are imported by the Raj, Public Works Department, &c., for building and metallurgical purposes		1,763
Tobacco .—The selling prices having fallen in outside markets very small quantities of tobacco were exported during the month. The new crops, the outturn of which is expected to be large, will appear in the markets very shortly, when this traffic will increase		6,988

SOMASTIPUR, the 27th January 1881.

A. W. U. POPE, Offg. Traffic Superintendent.

Report of Fluctuation of Traffic on the Patna-Gya State Railway for the month of December 1880.

The total quantity of goods carried during the month of December 1880 aggregated 1,30,381 maunds, as compared with 1,20,669 maunds carried during the corresponding period of 1879, and 1,27,437 maunds carried during the previous month, showing an increase of 9,712 maunds in the one case, and of 2,944 maunds in the other. Four thousand one hundred and twelve maunds of railway materials, carried during December 1879, have not been taken into account.

Of the several increases and decreases, the following are the prominent ones and worthy of separate explanation:—

INCREASES.		Mds.
Coal.—Chiefly imported for brick-burning purposes by Public Works and other Departments, as well as by private merchants	...	3,840
Cotton.—This is inward traffic, and imported from Agra, Cawnpore, and other stations in the North-Western Provinces for sale at Gya, Jehanabad, and other markets in the interior of the district	...	812
Jaggree.—This increase is steady and satisfactory. Large quantities of jaggree are despatched from several stations on the Patna-Gya Railway to Bombay and other markets in Central India, North-Western Provinces, &c. The opening of the railway and subsequent through-booking will develop this traffic highly	...	14,882
Seeds, oil.—Oil seeds are chiefly exported to Calcutta for shipment. Considering the general inactivity of trade in this year, the business done during the month is very satisfactory	...	11,272

DECREASES.		Mds.
Food-grains.—Owing to abundance of crops throughout the country, the prices of food-grains have fallen, markets are overstocked, and both imports and exports have fallen considerably	...	11,642
Salt.—The stock in the district being rather in excess, and the coming in of the Christmas holidays, caused a decrease in the import of this staple	...	5,623
Saltpetre.—Owing to the introduction by the Government of several stringent rules in manufacture of saltpetre, several firms closed business and the trade will for a time be checked	...	4,120

NOTICE TO MARINERS.—(No. 1.)

INDIA—BAY OF BENGAL.

RIVER HOOGHLY SANDHEADS.

Light Regulations for Pilot Brigs.

THE Port Officer, Calcutta, has notified that on and after the first day of July 1881, the Pilot Brigs at the Hooghly Sandheads will, when under weigh and cruising about, show the usual red and green side lights. When they are hove-to, engaged in supplying or taking out a Pilot, and thus not under command, the side lights will be obscured, and the bright mast-head light exhibited according to the Regulations of the Board of Trade. On the near approach of a vessel, a white light will be shown over the Brig's stern.

2. While Pilot Brigs are at anchor, the usual anchor light will be hoisted at the star-board fore yard-arm.

3. The maroons, or flare-up lights, will, as heretofore, be burnt by the Brigs every quarter of an hour, whether under weigh or at anchor, from sunset to sunrise, in accordance with the aforesaid Regulations.

IRRIGATION.

Dated 8th February 1881.

No. 29.—Notification.—In exercise of the powers conferred on him by Section 99 of Act III (B.C.) of 1876, the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to direct the publication of the following rules for the Sarun Irrigation Scheme.

H. C. LEVINGE,
Joint-Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal,
P. W. Dept., Irrign. Branch.

Draft Rules for the guidance of the Canal Officers appointed for the management of the Sarun Irrigation Scheme.

1. In Notification No 179, dated 18th August 1879, under the provisions of Part II of Act III of 1876, Government has reserved to itself the rights of property in the water in the following canals and river beds forming part of the Sarun Irrigation Scheme:—

1. The Roopun Chup Sota.
2. The main canal.
3. The Daba river and the water channels in continuation of or in connection with it.
4. The Gunducki river and the water channels in continuation of or in connection with it.
5. The Dhanai river and the water channels in continuation of or in connection with it.
6. The Gangree river and the water channels in continuation of or in connection with it.

These rivers and canals will hereinafter be referred to as the Sarun canals.

2. On and after the 19th November 1880, no person shall take water from the Sarun canals for irrigation or manufacturing purposes without the written permission of a duly authorized person.

Licenses will be required—

- (a) For the construction of temporary dams in the canal beds.
- (b) For the erection of fishing weirs.
- (c) For the use of fishing nets.
- (d) For the irrigation of lands by flow or lift.
- (e) For the construction of village channels and distributaries leading from the canals for the irrigation of lands.
- (f) For water used for the purpose of any manufacture.

3. Government reserves at present its right to levy tolls for navigation, and to charge for filling tanks, watering cattle, or for water for other domestic purposes.

4. The Revenue Administration of the Sarun Irrigation Scheme is vested in the Collector, who is ex-officio head of the Canal Revenue Department. The Executive Engineer of the Gunduck Division, as Canal Officer, is his chief executive officer, and his Secretary in the Canal Department. All orders relating to the Canal Revenue will usually be issued by the Collector through the Executive Engineer as Canal Officer, and all correspondence intended for the Collector in this department should be addressed to the office of the Canal Department, Mozufferpore.

5. For administrative purposes, the Sarun district is divided into thirteen sub-districts, corresponding generally with those divisions which Sarun Indigo Planters recognize as factory dehats.

These sub-districts are shown in a map deposited in the Collector's office. The boundaries of the sub-districts and their number may be hereafter modified.

6. The following gentlemen are, till further orders, appointed Canal Managers, and will be in charge of these sub-districts :—

Manager of the Sadawa Concern for the time being.

Ditto	Jogapore	ditto.
Ditto	Burhoga	ditto.
Ditto	Rajaputti	ditto.
Ditto	Burowlee	ditto.
Ditto	Rameola	ditto.
Ditto	Arroah	ditto.
Ditto	Hutwah estate	ditto.

7. The duties of Canal Managers will be—

1st.—To receive and register applications for the use of water under sections 74 and 77 of the Irrigation Act.

2nd.—To grant permits for the use of water under section 75 of the Act.

3rd.—Subject to the instructions of the Canal Officers, to control the water-supply under the provisions of section 76.

4th.—To recover and credit to Government the water-rates.

5th.—To superintend and maintain such establishment as may be found necessary.

8. Canal Managers have no power under Parts III, IV, and V of the Act ; and all claims for remission under Section 76 of Part VI should be referred to the Canal Officer or his deputy for disposal. Complaints regarding unauthorized use of canal water under sections 79, 80, and 81 are also to be referred to the Canal Officer for decision. All proceedings connected with the recovery of water-rates by distraint, or other compulsory process, will be undertaken by the Collector.

9. Persons desiring the construction of a temporary dam on the Sarun canals must prefer a written application to the Canal Manager in whose jurisdiction the proposed dam lies, specifying the object of the work, and the length of the time for which it is required. The application will be submitted to the Canal Officer, with the opinion of the Canal Manager. If the Canal Officer considers the construction of such temporary dam expedient, he shall call upon the applicant, or applicants, to deposit a sum of money sufficient to cover the cost of construction and maintenance of the dam, and of removing the same when no longer required.

On the completion of the dam, the Canal Officer shall give the applicant, or applicants, notice thereof, and also of any further sum payable by him, or them, on account of its construction. The Canal Officer shall not permit irrigation with water raised by the dam until the whole sum thus demanded shall have been paid. Rates for such irrigation will be charged as fixed in rule 12.

10. If one or more of the riparian proprietors desire to have a permanent dam erected in any river bed, he or they shall present an application to that effect to the Collector who will decide, in communication with the Canal Officer, on the advisability of constructing such a dam. Should he deem it desirable, he shall cause plans and estimates to be prepared, and shall then call on the applicants to give a guarantee, securing interest at $4\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. on the amount of the estimates, provided that, if the cost of the work should, through unforeseen causes, exceed the original estimate, the Guarantor or Guarantors shall pay interest on the total cost of the work. The construction of the dam will be carried out by the Canal Officer. A register shall be kept of the Guarantors of the cost of dam, and any person may, at any time, apply to the Canal Officer to be made a part owner thereof on payment to the co-sharers in the work, of such sums as may be fixed by the Collector. Shares will generally be distributed in proportion to the area of the estates concerned. The privileges of an owner are (1) exemption from any higher rate than Re. 1 per acre per annum, and (2) prior claim to irrigation from the dam. Other persons irrigating from the dam may be charged any rate, not above Rs. 2, which may be fixed by Government. The maintenance of the permanent dam shall be a charge against the owner. The Canal Officer shall have power to stop all supplies of water if the dam is not maintained in proper repair.

11. The Collector shall make arrangements for the disposal of the fisheries, and the sale-proceeds of the rights of the same shall be an asset to be taken into account in determining the Guarantor's liabilities for any portion of the guarantee in any year.

12. Persons desiring to irrigate their fields with canal water by flow or lift must submit a written application in the form (Appendix A) to be obtained by himself or by his agent from the Canal Manager, whereupon the latter shall issue a permit, in form Appendix

B, to irrigate. The right to irrigate without extra charge extends up to 15th February following the date on which the permit was issued. The rate charged shall not exceed Re. 1 per acre irrespective of the crops grown, except in special cases to be determined by Government.

13. Any person desirous of taking water for manufacture of indigo must apply to the Canal Officer through the Canal Manager, stating the area of cultivation, the area which he has leased for irrigation, and promising that he will on the 1st of October declare the quantity he has manufactured.

14. Licenses will be granted on the following terms:—

- (a). To persons irrigating an area of not less than half their cultivation, one rupee per maund.
- (b). To persons irrigating an area of less than half their cultivation, two rupees per maund.

Provided that, as Guarantors are, under the terms of their guarantees, entitled to water for manufacture free of charge, the sums leviable from them under the above conditions shall be set off against the guarantee, and, on consideration of the payment of the latter, be written off the account.

15. The privileges of Guarantors are as follows:—

- (1) A prior claim to a supply of water for irrigation and manufacture during the continuance of their guarantee.
- (2) Each Guarantor to have a sub-district within which he shall act as the agent of Government in managing the affairs of the canal, receiving a commission on his collection of 20 per cent.
- (3) The right to use water for manufacturing purposes free of charge.

16. Any person may apply to the Collector to become a guarantor. If the Collector accept the application, which at his discretion he may or may not do, he shall proceed, in communication with the Canal Officer, to determine whether the new guarantee shall be utilized towards extending the canals, providing distributaries or embankments, or towards reducing the responsibility of the original Guarantor. If the original Guarantor (within whose dehat the applicant's property or interest is situated) claims a reduction in his guarantee and can at the same time show that the application of the new guarantor towards an extension of the canal would operate to reduce his collections below the amount of his guarantee, his claims to have his guarantee reduced shall be approved; otherwise the new guarantee may be applied towards extending the canals, and an area corresponding to the applicant's property or interest be marked off to him, within which he shall exercise the rights and privileges now exercised in their dehats by the Guarantors mentioned in paragraph 5 of these rules.

If the applicant's interest or property be not situated within any dehat as specified in paragraph 5, then the Collector shall apply the guarantee towards extending the benefits of the canal system.

17. Canal Managers or Guarantors requiring water for the irrigation of their own fields, or for manufacture, will apply for the requisite permit to the Collector through the Canal Officer. In the license for the use of water for irrigation and manufacture, the rates to be charged shall be stated. In accordance with rules 12, 13, and 14 the following rates will be charged, subject to the proviso in paragraph 14:—

				Rs. a.
Irrigation per acre	1 0
Manufacture.				Per md.
				Rs. a.
To persons irrigating one-half of their cultivation	1 0
To persons irrigating less than one-half	2 0

18. The irrigation year will commence on the 1st of April, and as soon after the 15th January and 15th September of each year as possible, the Canal Manager shall present bills for water-rates based on the actual area irrigated, and deliver them to the Irrigators before the 15th February and 15th October. If these bills are not paid to the Canal Manager before the 1st of March and 1st of November, he shall prepare a list of unpaid claims, and submit the same to the Collector through the Canal Officer who will put in force the powers vested in him for their recovery in accordance with sections 83, 84, and 85 of the Irrigation Act.

19. It will be the duty of Canal Managers to see—

- 1st.—That all applications for water are made in the forms supplied to them. These applications must be filed for reference, and will be issued to applicants free of charge.
- 2nd.—That all licenses for the use of water be issued in the prescribed form, and a copy be kept in counterfoil in books supplied for the purpose.
- 3rd.—That a monthly return of applications received and issued be submitted to the Collector in a form to be supplied by the Canal Officer.
- 4th.—That copies of bills presented for payment be kept in the counterfoils supplied for record.
- 5th.—That a cash-book of all receipts of water-rates be kept in forms supplied for the purpose.

- 6th.—That a weekly rainfall statement, and irrigation notes be sent to the Canal Officer and be kept in duplicate for record.
- 7th.—That for all cash received, receipts be granted in the form supplied by the Canal Officer which will be kept in counterfoil.
- 8th.—That all cash received be paid monthly into the sub-divisional or district treasury without deduction, and that the treasury receipts be filed with the cash-book as vouchers.
- 9th.—That monthly advices of cash paid to the treasury be sent to the Canal Officer in forms to be supplied by him.
- 10th.—That bills for commission on the collections at 20 per cent. be submitted when requisite to the Canal Officer who will issue cheques for their payment on the order of the Collector.
20. On the 1st April of each year, or as soon after as practicable, the Canal Officer will prepare a statement showing—
- (a) The sum guaranteed.
 - (b) The total collection.
 - (c) The total payments into the treasury.
 - (d) The excess of (b) over (a) on which bills for the 20 per cent. allowance are to be drawn.

All correspondence and accounts may be kept in Kaithi, if the Canal Manager desires it. Forms, as detailed in previous paragraphs of these rules, will be supplied by Government, together with service stamps free of charge; all other charges for stationery must be met by the Managers and defrayed from their commission. All accounts and records relating to canal matters must be open to the inspection of the Collector, the Canal Officers, and their Deputies. All expenses for Water-guards, Patrols, and Ameens must be defrayed from the commission of 20 per cent. allowed by Government on the collections.

								Referring to certain criticisms of an adverse nature evoked by the first appearance of this work, the author says in the preface to this edition that it would be a mistake to regard this book in the light of a novel, it being in reality intended to be nothing better than a tale of ordinary domestic life. The author has, however, accepted some of the views of his critics and made suitable alterations in this edition. Belongs to the Mary Carpenter series.

PROPOSALS FOR THE EXTENSION OF MAHOMEDAN EDUCATION.

No. 93, dated Calcutta, the 8th February 1881.

From—A. MACKENZIE, Esq., Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal, General Dept.,
To—The Director of Public Instruction.

I AM directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No. 178, dated the 5th ultimo, submitting with your remarks a copy of a pamphlet on Mahomedan education in Bengal by Syed Ameer Hossein. Sir Ashley Eden has read the pamphlet and your letter with much interest, and I am now desirous to communicate to you his views on the questions discussed in these papers.

2. Syed Ameer Hossein divides his pamphlet into three parts. The first part gives a brief account of the discussions which resulted in the re-organization of Mahomedan education under the orders passed by Sir George Campbell in July 1873; the second part reviews the condition of the several Madrasahs, year by year, since that period; and the third part sets out the measures which Syed Ameer Hossein considers necessary for the reform of the present State system of Mahomedan education in Bengal. He recommends—

- (1)—The abolition of the Hooghly Madrasah, and the reduction of the scale of the Chittagong and Rajshahye Madrasahs.
- (2)—The establishment in the Calcutta Madrasah building of a college for Mahomedans, teaching up to the B. A. standard.
- (3)—The revision of the course in the Arabic department of the Madrasahs.

Generally speaking, his intention is to advocate a change of policy in connection with Mahomedan education, such as would give more prominence and stimulus to the study of English, and allow less weight to the oriental side of the Madrassa curriculum.

3. The funds specially set aside for the encouragement of Mahomedan education consist of an annual grant of Rs. 38,000 from the general revenues, and of an income of Rs. 55,000 from the Mohsin Endowment. The Calcutta Madrassa, with its attached school, is entirely maintained from the Government grant. Of the income from the Mohsin Endowment, one-half, roughly speaking, is appropriated for the maintenance of Madrassas for the study of Arabic and Persian, and one-half for scholarships tenable in English schools and colleges, and for part-payment of the fees of Mahomedan scholars in those institutions. It was, as you remark, the view of Government in 1873 that the intentions of the founder of the Mohsin Endowment would be best fulfilled by providing, first of all, in the Mohsin schools, for instruction in Arabic and Persian and a reasonable amount of Mahomedan law and literature, and, after that, by affording facilities for the study of English and physical science to students who might wish to take up these subjects. This view has been acted upon ever since; the teaching of English being, not enforced but, allowed in those mofussil Madrassas in which any strong desire has been manifested for instruction in that language. In the Calcutta Madrassa also, which does not derive its funds from the Mohsin Endowment, the same principle has been followed. There is an Arabic Department for one class of students, and an Anglo-Persian Department for the other. The policy of Government has been, in the one department, to teach the Mahomedans their Oriental languages after their own fashion, with the object of satisfying "the requirements of their religion, their idea of a liberal education, and the genuine demand for Oriental learning for its own sake, and not as a means of gaining profit and employment;" and, in the other department, to provide every facility for enabling them to learn English and Western science if they choose to do so. To this policy the Lieutenant-Governor thinks that we must still practically adhere. Syed Ameer Hossein would reform the Arabic course in the Calcutta Madrassa in accordance with modern notions. But, as is pointed out by you, that course was laid down, after consideration by repeated committees, as the only one Oriental students really care for. A strong desire for a purely Oriental education still prevails among the Mahomedans of Bengal, especially in the Eastern districts, and the repeated failure of the late Mr. Blochman's efforts to introduce modern subjects into the course of the Arabic Department, from the opposition or passive resistance of the students, shows that it is as yet premature to attempt any material change in the present system.

4. Syed Ameer Hossein bases his proposals in respect of the Hooghly, Chittagong, and Rajshahye Madrassas on their alleged want of success, judging them apparently by their character as English-teaching schools. The Lieutenant-Governor agrees with you that it would be a mistake to make any change in the present scale of the Chittagong and Rajshahye Madrassas, which are certainly far from being failures. In the case of Hooghly failure must be admitted. That Madrassa has, in fact, been maintained for some years past chiefly through a sentimental reluctance to close it, on account of Mahomed Mohsin's connection with the town. The branch Madrassa at Joraghat, which appears to have already met with some success, may have the effect of reviving the Hooghly Institution; but if it does not do so within a reasonable time, the question of closing this Madrassa must be seriously considered.

5. The Lieutenant-Governor agrees with you that the proposal to establish in Calcutta a special college for Mahomedans cannot be entertained. Syed Ameer Hossein believes that this measure could be carried out without additional expenditure, by the mere redistribution of the funds specially set apart for Mahomedan education. He estimates the cost of the new college at from Rs. 50,000 to Rs. 60,000 per annum, and this sum he would provide by the abolition of the Hooghly Madrassa, and the reduction of the Chittagong and Rajshahye Madrassas, and by transferring a portion of the grants now made for scholarships and for the payment of the schooling fees of Mahomedan students. The Lieutenant-Governor is, however, opposed to the reduction of the Chittagong and Rajshahye Madrassas, and he thinks it best not to sanction the immediate closing of the Hooghly Madrassa. He is also entirely opposed to the withdrawal of any portion of the grants for scholarships and for the payment of schooling fees. These grants are of the utmost benefit to Mahomedan students in various parts of the country, and there is perhaps no way in which the proceeds of the Mohsin Endowment could be more usefully and appropriately spent. It is clear, therefore, that the proposed college could be maintained only at the cost of the general revenues. But no case is in fact made out to justify the grant of public money for such an institution.

6. You point out correctly in your letter under acknowledgment that the Presidency College was established with the purpose of providing an academical education for Mahomedans as well as Hindus, and that the Mahomedan community cannot reasonably put forward a claim to have a separate college for students of that persuasion. In the letter of the 21st October 1853, conveying to the Council of Education the views of the Government of Bengal on the question of establishing a college for all creeds in Calcutta by developing the English Department of the Hindu College into a "Presidency College," reference was made to the failure of the English Department of the Calcutta Madrassa, and it was remarked of the whole scheme of the new college—

"The Hindu of maturer age will have the means of pursuing his studies in the highest branches of Hindu learning at the Sanskrit College, and the Mussulman youth may in like manner follow up his studies in the peculiar learning of his sect in the Arabic College, and both of these classes of young men, together with young men of every other class, will have an institution where they may obtain the instruction they desire in every branch of general acquirement offered to them in the new Presidency College."

This extract shows clearly that, in establishing the Presidency College, the Government had in view the provision of a collegiate institution for the benefit of the Mahomedan as much as for the benefit of the Hindu community.

7. But apart from this fact, there seems to be no real need for a separate college for Mahomedans. The number likely to benefit from such an institution would, you report, be no more than about 20 at any time. The Mahomedan students actually reading in the Calcutta colleges are below that number, while throughout Bengal about 32 students only pass the Entrance Examination annually, out of whom barely 20 could be expected to enter the special college in Calcutta, after allowance is made for those who would naturally join the mofussil colleges. It is manifestly out of the question to establish a separate college for this small number. Moreover, such an institution would be of doubtful advantage to Mahomedan students from an educational point of view. It would be impossible for the Government to sanction a large or highly-paid staff for it, and the students would thus be practically deprived of the superior teaching which they can now obtain at the large Colleges already in existence, with their full and thoroughly qualified staff of professors.

8. The chief reason for the proposal to establish a college in the Madrassa appears to lie in the inconvenience and expense in conveyance to which the Mahomedan students attending the Presidency College are put in consequence of the distance of that college from the Mahomedan quarter of the town. This ground of complaint will, the Lieutenant-Governor thinks, be fully met by the simple measure which you propose, of extending to Mahomedans studying in the St. Xavier's and other Calcutta Colleges the privilege which the Mahomedan students of the Presidency College now enjoy, of having two-thirds of their fees paid from the Mohsin Fund, and he accordingly sanctions this proposal.

9. Syud Ameer Hossein makes various minor suggestions for improving the internal management and discipline of the Calcutta Madrassa. On these you promise further report, and this will be awaited. The Lieutenant-Governor, however, desires that you will appoint a committee to consider whether the boarding arrangements at the Madrassa could not be so far improved and developed that Mahomedan boys having scholarships, or having been already educated for a certain number of years at the Madrassa, or at any of the Mohsin Endowment schools, should be able to board there while continuing their studies at the Presidency or at any other Calcutta College.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from observations made at 6 h, 10 h, 16 h and 22 h and from the traces of the barograph and thermograph.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86 formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction and movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beekley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

The results of observations at the Alipore Observatory are not rigorously comparable with the registers of past years (at the Park Street Observatory). The barometer is about 3 feet higher at Alipore, and, other things being equal, reads therefore .003 lower. The diurnal range of temperature is also greater at Alipore, and the mean temperature apparently about 2.6 lower; and finally, the thermometer, which has furnished the record of temperature at the Surveyor-General's Office during the last 20 years and upwards, is found to read 0.6 higher than the Kew standard thermometer, which is the standard of reference at the present Observatory.

The increase in firewood traffic is due to larger imports at Basra Ghât.

The decrease in hay is due to less demands at selling stations.

The increase in wooloo is due to greater demands at selling stations.

The increase in straw and paddy are due to greater demands at selling stations.

The decrease in rice is due to dull market at selling stations.

The decrease in building materials is due to less repairs having been done to the rice mills.

The increase in sundries is due to greater demands of sundry articles.

The increase in coal is due to the Mugrah extension works.

IRRIGATION.

Dated 8th February 1881.

No. 29.—Notification.—In exercise of the powers conferred on him by Section 99 of Act III (B.C.) of 1876, the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to direct the publication of the following rules for the Sarun Irrigation Scheme.

H. C. LEVINGE,

Joint-Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal,P. W. Dept., Irrign. Branch.

Draft Rules for the guidance of the Canal Officers appointed for the management of the Sarun Irrigation Scheme.

1 In Notification No 179, dated 18th August 1879, under the provisions of Part II of Act III of 1876, Government has reserved to itself the rights of property in the water in the following canals and river beds forming part of the Sarun Irrigation Scheme :—

1. The Roopun Chup Sota.
2. The main canal.
3. The Daba river and the water channels in continuation of or in connection with it.
4. The Gunducki river and the water channels in continuation of or in connection with it.
5. The Dhanai river and the water channels in continuation of or in connection with it.
6. The Gangree river and the water channels in continuation of or in connection with it.

These rivers and canals will hereinafter be referred to as the Sarun canals.

2. On and after the 19th November 1880, no person shall take water from the Sarun canals for irrigation or manufacturing purposes without the written permission of a duly authorized person.

Licenses will be required—

- (a) For the construction of temporary dams in the canal beds.
- (b) For the erection of fishing weirs.
- (c) For the use of fishing nets.
- (d) For the irrigation of lands by flow or lift.
- (e) For the construction of village channels and distributaries leading from the canals for the irrigation of lands.
- (f) For water used for the purpose of any manufacture.

3. Government reserves at present its right to levy tolls for navigation, and to charge for filling tanks, watering cattle, or for water for other domestic purposes.

4. The Revenue Administration of the Sarun Irrigation Scheme is vested in the Collector, who is ex-officio head of the Canal Revenue Department. The Executive Engineer of the Gunduck Division, as Canal Officer, is his chief executive officer, and his Secretary in the Canal Department. All orders relating to the Canal Revenue will usually be issued by the Collector through the Executive Engineer as Canal Officer, and all correspondence intended for the Collector in this department should be addressed to the office of the Canal Department, Mozufferpore.

5. For administrative purposes, the Sarun district is divided into thirteen sub-districts, corresponding generally with those divisions which Sarun Indigo Planters recognize as factory dehats.

These sub-districts are shown in a map deposited in the Collector's office. The boundaries of the sub-districts and their number may be hereafter modified.

6. The following gentlemen are, till further orders, appointed Canal Managers, and will be in charge of these sub-districts :—

Manager of the Sadawa Concern for the time being.

Ditto	Jogapore	ditto.
Ditto	Burhoga	ditto.
Ditto	Rajaputti	ditto.
Ditto	Burowlee	ditto.
Ditto	Ramcola	ditto.
Ditto	Arroah	ditto.
Ditto	Hutwah estate	ditto.

7. The duties of Canal Managers will be—

1st.—To receive and register applications for the use of water under sections 74 and 77 of the Irrigation Act.

2nd.—To grant permits for the use of water under section 75 of the Act.

3rd.—Subject to the instructions of the Canal Officers, to control the water-supply under the provisions of section 76.

4th.—To recover and credit to Government the water-rates.

5th.—To superintend and maintain such establishment as may be found necessary.

8. Canal Managers have no power under Parts III, IV, and V of the Act ; and all claims for remission under section 76 of Part VI should be referred to the Canal Officer or his Deputy for disposal. Complaints regarding unauthorized use of canal water under sections 79, 80, and 81 are also to be referred to the Canal Officer for decision. All proceedings connected with the recovery of water-rates by distraint, or other compulsory process, will be undertaken by the Collector.

9. Persons desiring the construction of a temporary dam on the Sarun canals must prefer a written application to the Canal Manager in whose jurisdiction the proposed dam lies, specifying the object of the work, and the length of the time for which it is required. The application will be submitted to the Canal Officer, with the opinion of the Canal Manager. If the Canal Officer considers the construction of such temporary dam expedient, he shall call upon the applicant, or applicants, to deposit a sum of money sufficient to cover the cost of construction and maintenance of the dam, and of removing the same when no longer required.

On the completion of the dam, the Canal Officer shall give the applicant, or applicants, notice thereof, and also of any further sum payable by him, or them, on account of its construction. The Canal Officer shall not permit irrigation with water raised by the dam until the whole sum thus demanded shall have been paid. Rates for such irrigation will be charged as fixed in rule 12.

10. If one or more of the riparian proprietors desire to have a permanent dam erected in any river bed, he or they shall present an application to that effect to the Collector who will decide, in communication with the Canal Officer, on the advisability of constructing such a dam. Should he deem it desirable, he shall cause plans and estimates to be prepared, and shall then call on the applicants to give a guarantee, securing interest at $4\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. on the amount of the estimates, provided that, if the cost of the work should, through unforeseen causes, exceed the original estimate, the Guarantor or Guarantors shall pay interest on the total cost of the work. The construction of the dam will be carried out by the Canal Officer. A register shall be kept of the Guarantors of the cost of dam, and any person may, at any time, apply to the Canal Officer to be made a part owner thereof on payment to the co-sharers in the work, of such sums as may be fixed by the Collector. Shares will generally be distributed in proportion to the area of the estates concerned. The privileges of an owner are (1) exemption from any higher rate than Re. 1 per acre per annum, and (2) prior claim to irrigation from the dam. Other persons irrigating from the dam may be charged any rate, not above Rs. 2, which may be fixed by Government. The maintenance of the permanent dam shall be a charge against the owner. The Canal Officer shall have power to stop all supplies of water if the dam is not maintained in proper repair.

11. The Collector shall make arrangements for the disposal of the fisheries, and the sale-proceeds of the rights of the same shall be an asset to be taken into account in determining the guarantor's liabilities for any portion of the guarantee in any year.

12. Persons desiring to irrigate their fields with canal water by flow or lift must submit a written application in the form (Appendix A) to be obtained by himself or by his agent from the Canal Manager, whereupon the latter shall issue a permit, in form Appendix B, to irrigate. The right to irrigate without extra charge extends up to 15th February following the date on which the permit was issued. The rate charged shall not exceed Re. 1 per acre irrespective of the crops grown, except in special cases to be determined by Government.

13. Any person desirous of taking water for manufacture of indigo must apply to the Canal Officer through the Canal Manager, stating the area of cultivation, the area which he has leased for irrigation, and promising that he will on the 1st of October declare the quantity he has manufactured.

14. Licenses will be granted on the following terms :—

- (a). To persons irrigating an area of not less than half their cultivation, one rupee per maund.
- (b). To persons irrigating an area of less than half their cultivation, two rupees per maund.

Provided that, as guarantors are, under the terms of their guarantees, entitled to water for manufacture free of charge, the sums leviable from them under the above conditions shall be set off against the guarantee, and, on consideration of the payment of the latter, be written off the account.

15. The privileges of guarantors are as follows :—

- (1) A prior claim to a supply of water for irrigation and manufacture during the continuance of their guarantee.
- (2) Each guarantor to have a sub-district within which he shall act as the agent of Government in managing the affairs of the canal, receiving a commission on his collection of 20 per cent.
- (3) The right to use water for manufacturing purposes free of charge.

16. Any person may apply to the Collector to become a guarantor. If the Collector accept the application, which at his discretion he may or may not do, he shall proceed, in communication with the Canal Officer, to determine whether the new guarantee shall be utilized towards extending the canals, providing distributaries or embankments, or towards reducing the responsibility of the original guarantor. If the original guarantor (within whose dehat the applicant's property or interest is situated) claims a reduction in his guarantee and can at the same time show that the application of the new guarantor towards an extension of the canal would operate to reduce his collections below the amount of his guarantee, his claims to have his guarantee reduced shall be approved; otherwise, the new guarantee may be applied towards extending the canals, and an area corresponding to the applicant's property or interest be marked off to him, within which he shall exercise the rights and privileges now exercised in their dehats by the guarantors mentioned in paragraph 5 of these rules.

If the applicant's interest or property be not situated within any dehat as specified in paragraph 5, then the Collector shall apply the guarantee towards extending the benefits of the canal system.

17. Canal Managers or guarantors requiring water for the irrigation of their own fields, or for manufacture, will apply for the requisite permit to the Collector through the Canal Officer. In the license for the use of water for irrigation and manufacture, the rates to be charged shall be stated. In accordance with rules 12, 13, and 14 the following rates will be charged, subject to the proviso in paragraph 14:—

				Rs. a.
Irrigation per acre	1 0
Manufacture.				Per md.
				Rs. a.
To persons irrigating one-half of their cultivation	1 0
To persons irrigating less than one-half	2 0

18. The irrigation year will commence on the 1st of April, and as soon after the 15th January and 15th September of each year as possible, the Canal Manager shall present bills for water-rates based on the actual area irrigated, and deliver them to the irrigators before the 15th February and 15th October. If these bills are not paid to the Canal Manager before the 1st of March and 1st of November, he shall prepare a list of unpaid claims, and submit the same to the Collector through the Canal Officer, who will put in force the powers vested in him for their recovery in accordance with sections 83, 84, and 85 of the irrigation Act.

19. It will be the duty of Canal Managers to see—

1st.—That all applications for water are made in the forms supplied to them. These applications must be filed for reference, and will be issued to applicants free of charge.

2nd.—That all licenses for the use of water be issued in the prescribed form, and a copy be kept in counterfoil in books supplied for the purpose.

3rd.—That a monthly return of applications received and issued be submitted to the Collector in a form to be supplied by the Canal Officer.

4th.—That copies of bills presented for payment be kept in the counterfoils supplied for record.

5th.—That a cash-book of all receipts of water-rates be kept in forms supplied for the purpose.

6th.—That a weekly rainfall statement, and irrigation notes be sent to the Canal Officer and be kept in duplicate for record.

7th.—That for all cash received, receipts be granted in the form supplied by the Canal Officer which will be kept in counterfoil.

8th.—That all cash received be paid monthly into the sub-divisional or district treasury without deduction, and that the treasury receipts be filed with the cash-book as vouchers.

9th.—That monthly advices of cash paid to the treasury be sent to the Canal Officer in forms to be supplied by him.

10th.—That bills for commission on the collections at 20 per cent. be submitted when requisite to the Canal Officer who will issue cheques for their payment on the order of the Collector.

20. On the 1st April of each year, or as soon after as practicable, the Canal Officer will prepare a statement showing—

- The sum guaranteed.
- The total collection.
- The total payments into the treasury.
- The excess of (b) over (a) on which bills for the 20 per cent. allowance are to be drawn.

All correspondence and accounts may be kept in Kaithi, if the Canal Manager desires it. Forms, as detailed in previous paragraphs of these rules, will be supplied by Government, together with service stamps free of charge; all other charges for stationery must be met by the Managers and defrayed from their commission. All accounts and records relating to canal matters must be open to the inspection of the Collector, the Canal Officers, and their Deputies. All expenses for Water-guards, Patrols, and Amcens must be defrayed from the commission of 20 per cent. allowed by Government on the collections.

	E. C. GEORGE, Presy. Postmaster, Calcutta.

THE public are informed that on and from the 15th January 1881, the Mails from Northern Bengal and Assam will be issued at the 3rd delivery at 1-30 P.M. in place of at 4-30 P.M., as at present.

Registered and bearing articles will, however, continue to be delivered by the 4th delivery issuing at 4 P.M.

This change is due to the earlier receipt of the above Mails, to have effect from the said date.

The Eastern Bengal Mails, which will arrive from the above date at Sealdah at 6-25 P.M., will be issued at the 1st delivery the following morning instead of by the 4th delivery the previous afternoon. Registered and bearing covers received by these Mails will go out by the 2nd delivery at 9 A.M.

E. C. GEORGE, Presidency Postmaster.
Calcutta General Post Office, the 8th January 1881.

ATTENTION is called to the following revised hours of closing of the Mails at the General Post Office and Receiving Offices of Calcutta, consequent on the earlier despatch of the Chord and Loop Mail Trains from the 31st instant. The public are requested to note specially that the Mails by the Loop and Chord Trains of the East Indian Railway, which at present are closed at 4 P.M. and 6-30 P.M., will in future be closed at 3 P.M. and 6 P.M. respectively; also that Insured Registered Letters will only be received up to 4 P.M. at the Calcutta General Post Office and such Town Receiving Offices at which Insured letters are taken, instead of up to 5 P.M. as at present; at the Receiving Offices also ordinary Registered letters and parcels will be received up to 4 P.M. only instead of up to 5 P.M., as at present.

The Indian Law Reports.

Published under Authority of the Governor-General in Council.

THE Reports appear in monthly parts, published at soon as possible after the first of each month as Calcutta, Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad, and will comprise four series,—one for the Calcutta High Court, a second for the Madras High Court, a third for the Bombay High Court, and a fourth for the Allahabad High Court. The cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from each High Court will be reported in the Series for that High Court. Cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from Provinces in India not subject to any High Court will be reported in the Calcutta Series. The Parts of each Series can be had separately, or all four Parts can be had stitched into one wrapper at the option of subscribers and purchasers. It will be observed from the following statement of the terms of subscription and sale, that a considerable reduction is allowed to persons taking the complete set.

Terms of subscription, payable annually in advance.

BENGAL CIVIL FUND.

At a Half-yearly General Meeting of Subscribers to the Bengal Civil Fund, Calcutta, held at the Town Hall, on Monday, the 31st January 1881.

PRESENT.—C. T. Buckland, Esq.; the Hon'ble H. L. Dampier; the Hon'ble W. F. McDonell, v.c.; the Hon'ble L. R. Tottenham; H. Bell, Esq. M.A.; the Hon'ble A. T. Maclean; F. R. Hogg, Esq.; J. Beames, Esq.; J. D. Maclean, Esq.; the Hon'ble C. D. Field, v.a. & L.L.B.; H. Beverley, Esq., M.A.; D. R. Lyall, Esq.; J. Westland, Esq.; the Hon'ble A. Mackenzie, B.A.; D. M. Barbour, Esq.; W. M. Souttar, Esq., M.A.; J. Seobell Armstrong, Esq.; C. J. Lyall, Esq., B.A., C.I.E.; H. J. S. Cotton, Esq.; J. Crawford, Esq., B.A.; C. A. Wilkins, Esq.; C. P. L. Macaulay, Esq., M.A.; J. A. Bourdillon, Esq.; S. Jacob, Esq.; F. P. Handley, Esq.; H. M. Kisch, Esq., M.A.; G. A. Grierson, Esq.; and H. Lee, Esq. The Hon'ble L. R. Tottenham in the chair.

The following report was submitted by the Managers:—

REPORT.

1. The Managers submit the proceedings for the past half-year for the consideration and sanction of the meeting.

2. Subject to the approval of the subscribers, they have admitted to the benefits of the Fund the following families:—

Mrs. Halkett	£ 200	The widow of the late Mr. D. C. Halkett, an annuitant of 1877, who died in Scotland on the 11th February 1880.
Mrs. Money	£ 3-0	The widow and one daughter of the late Mr. D. J. Money, an annuitant of 1859, who died in England on the 16th July 1880.
One daughter	" 1-0
Total	4-0
Lady Beadon	£ 300	The widow and eight children (three sons and five daughters) of the late Sir Cecil Beadon, an annuitant of 1867, who died in England on the 18th July 1880.
Eight children	" 170

3. Under Article V of the Rules the Marquis of Tweeddale has incurred the penalty of the exclusion of his daughter from the benefits of the Fund by failure to report her birth within the prescribed six months. Lord Tweeddale states that the omission was the result of oversight, and asks that the child may be admitted. The admission of the child to Fund benefits is dependent upon the decision of a general meeting of subscribers; and the Managers submit the case accordingly. They recommend that the child be admitted on payment of the minimum fine of Rs. 100, together with arrear subscriptions and 8 per cent. interest, as required by the rules. It has been the practice of the Fund hitherto to grant applications of this nature on the terms now recommended.

4. Mr. C. R. Marindin has applied for the remission of the fine of Rs. 50 incurred under Article V of the Rules for failure to report the birth of his daughter within the prescribed time. Mr. Marindin pleads that, as his daughter was born on the 30th October and his communication reporting the occurrence was dated 1st December, he was only one day late. He further states that the delay was accidental, and that on his pay-bill for November 1880 being made out, he directed that subscriptions for this child be deducted. He was informed in reply to his application that the fine must be paid and that the Managers would submit his representation to the subscribers at the next general meeting, if he desired it; but that they would be unable to recommend the subscribers to comply with his request. The practice of the Fund has been to exact the penalty of Rs. 50 in all cases where only carelessness or oversight can be pleaded. The case is submitted to the meeting, at the request of Mr. Marindin, for decision.

5. The Managers have received the following further application from Miss Palmer for a reconsideration of her case:—

Dated 5th October 1880.

From—MISS ALICE W. PALMER,

To—The Secretary to the Managers of the Bengal Civil Fund, Calcutta.

I beg to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 24th July. I regret that the Managers of the Bengal Civil Fund have not felt themselves at liberty to recommend my appeal to the favorable consideration of the Members of the Service; for I am sure they must perceive the inequality of the rules, that accord to my half-brother, whose mother is living, and supported by the Fund, what they deny to me, who have no living mother to maintain or assist me.

The fact of my step-mother being on the Fund, is held by the Managers to bar my claim to an increase of allowance until after her death, though no bar to the claim of her son, my half-brother, during her life-time.

The fundamental error, as it appears to me, in the rule regarding the "wife or widow," is its failing to recognise the obvious distinction between a mother and a step-mother, in relation to the daughter. The daughter has a natural right to protection from the mother or "widow," but the step-daughter has none, and may be left at any time, to an unaided and admittedly inadequate provision.

My father, as I have stated in my former appeal, was more than forty years in the service, and contributed to the Fund, as the price of his annuity, more than three times the estimated half value of the pension.

Can it be too late, with the permission of the Managers, to re-open my case, as special and exceptional, at the next general meeting of the members of the service, or too presumptions on my part, in again soliciting the support of the Managers which I am certain they would grant me, could they only realise the difficulty, or rather the impossibility, of maintaining even a decent exterior on a limited income of one-hundred a year.

I shall feel greatly obliged by your laying this letter before the Managers of the Fund, for such further consideration as they may think proper, and thanking you for your kind attention to my last, and requesting an answer to my present appeal, at your early convenience.

In reply to her previous application Miss Palmer was informed that her case was excluded under the revised rules which provided for the increased pension in the event of the "wife or widow" of a deceased subscriber having died, and that as cases of this description had been carefully considered when the rules were amended, the Managers were not prepared to recommend the subscribers to alter their decision. The action of the Managers was approved at the meeting of 10th August 1880. The present application is laid before the meeting at Miss Palmer's request.

6. The following circular has been addressed by the Managers to the subscribers with reference to a circular issued by certain subscribers in support of two resolutions advertised to be proposed at the next general meeting.

C I R C U L A R.

Dated Calcutta, the 11th December 1880.

To—All Subscribers.

I AM directed by the Managers to address you with reference to a circular recently issued by certain subscribers in support of two Resolutions which they propose to bring forward at the half-yearly general meeting in January.

2. Before proceeding to discuss the merits of the resolutions, the Managers desire to invite your attention to certain allegations in this circular, reflecting upon the management. It is stated that the Managers allowed unnecessary delay to occur in the preparation of the Actuary's report. If the subscribers will refer to the reports presented by the Managers at the different half-yearly general meetings, they will observe that the Managers have regularly reported to the subscribers the obstacles that had been encountered in obtaining the report, and the efforts that had been made to overcome them. In July 1875 the Managers reported that Mr. Brown, the Actuary, to whom the quinquennial valuation papers of 1873 had been entrusted, had died suddenly, leaving his report unfinished, and that owing to the difficulty experienced in tracing the process adopted by him, it had been found necessary to commission another Actuary (Mr. R. Hardy) to begin a fresh report. After a time it was found that Mr. Hardy was not making such satisfactory progress as might have been wished. In 1876 Mr. Verner, who had been officiating as Secretary to the Fund, had an interview with Mr. Hardy in London, and efforts were made to expedite the submission of the report. As there was still delay, the Managers, early in 1877, begged Mr. E. F. Harrison, the Comptroller-General, who had lately been one of their number, to see Mr. Hardy in London, and to endeavour to close the engagement with him, and to leave them free to select another Actuary. This was reported to the subscribers in July 1877, and it was at the same time announced that, as the delay which had occurred had rendered the information originally submitted for Mr. Brown's consideration practically obsolete, the Managers proposed to submit to professional enquiry the further data which the four years (1873—77) had rendered available. Mr. Harrison was at first disposed to think that the work had better remain in Mr. Hardy's hands. This was reported by the Managers in January 1878. Subsequently, in February 1878, Mr. Harrison reported that he had made an arrangement by which the investigation would be carried through by Mr. Sutton conjointly with Mr. Hardy. The statistical information was then, by Mr. Sutton's desire, brought up to 1878, and forwarded to him. The Managers reported progress in January 1879, and the report was received in July 1879. Not only were these proceedings before the service, but two of the subscribers who have signed this circular had special knowledge of some of the circumstances described above. One (Mr. Cotton) was a Manager in 1875 and the beginning of 1876, and the other (Mr. Verner) officiated as Secretary in 1875 and 1876, and in the latter year was actually engaged in London, on behalf of the Managers, in negotiating for the prompt submission of the report, and was cognizant of the proposal to lay more recent information before the Actuary.

3. It is further suggested that the Managers suppressed the resolution of 28th January 1874. That this is not the case will be apparent from the following extract from the Managers' circular of 13th October 1879, in which they stated the grounds on which they had decided not to recommend that the rules should be amended with retrospective effect from 1st April 1873:—

"The Managers consider it unnecessary to go back further than 31st March 1878 for the adjustment of the accounts. It is a fixed principle in the administration of all systems of insurance that long retrospective effect cannot be given to any distribution of surplus funds. The existing members of a fund are alone entitled to the benefit of a surplus, as they alone bear the chance of having to provide for a deficit. Claims which have become incumbent are represented by separate allotments of funds to provide for them. No risk attaches to them, they have been settled in full, and it would be impossible to manage any institution properly if they were liable to reconsideration. Moreover, the principle of retrospective adjustment, if once admitted, would involve the extinction of the greater part of the surplus, with no appreciable benefit to the Fund. It will be observed that the Actuary's calculation gives only Rs. 6,18,333 as the surplus on 31st March 1873. If, therefore, retrospective effect were given to that date, there would be very little to distribute."

The resolution was also prominently referred to at the meeting of 31st January last, immediately before the vote was taken on the proposal to give retrospective effect to the amendments of the rules from 1st April 1878 only: and the report of the proceedings of that meeting was before the subscribers for the period of two months, required by the rules, before their confirmation of its resolutions was finally accepted. It is stated in the circular that "so long ago as the 30th October 1879, Mr. Cotton protested by letter against the Managers' proposal, but without effect." This letter was communicated by Mr. Cotton to the newspapers simultaneously with its despatch to the Managers; it was referred to in the circular of 22nd November 1879; and it was referred to at the meeting of 31st January, before the vote was taken. Mr. Cotton also informed the Managers unofficially that he did not require a separate reply to his letter; and he afterwards, in March, voted in favour of the resolution, against which he now states that he protested without effect. If Mr. Cotton, the author of the letter, thus adopted the very view against which the letter was chiefly directed, it is very difficult to see how it can be urged that others would have voted differently had their attention been more closely directed to the contents of this letter.

4. From the wording of the first resolution and the language used in the paragraph which precedes it, it would seem that the authors of the circular are of opinion that, under the rules as now amended, the families enumerated do not in any way participate in the increased benefits. As a matter of fact, however, these families are, except in respect of the donation, in exactly the same position, from 1st April 1878, as the families of subscribers who died on or after that date. None of them are subject to the one-sixth deduction; all of them who were motherless on 1st April 1878, and who have since become motherless, draw the increased allowance with effect from the date in question; all the sons draw the special allowance with effect from 1st April 1878. Additions can only be made to benefits by amendments of rules, and retrospective distribution can only be effected by giving retrospective effect to the amendments. The amendments were given retrospective effect from 1st April 1878. They were accordingly to be read as having been in force on that day; and therefore the rule regarding one-sixth deduction ceased to have effect from that day, and every child fulfilling the conditions of being motherless, or, in the cases of sons attaining the age of 16 years on or after that day, was necessarily entitled to the new benefits. The donation, however, could only be given to families which became incumbent on or after that day. It could only be granted under the rules on the decease of the subscriber, and accordingly the family of a subscriber, who had died before 1st April 1878, could not claim it. The deductions of one-sixth were wholly eliminated from the Actuary's calculations of the liabilities of the Fund from 1st April 1878, and at page 7 of his second report, he shows the charges placed on the Fund by the extension from that date of the special allowances to motherless orphans, and by the provisions of special allowances to sons attaining the age of 16. The actual effect, therefore, of the first resolution would be simply to give to certain families arrears payments before 1st April 1878 of allowance which they never expect to get, and which accordingly never entered into their calculations in regulating their expenditure. The donation, for instance, is given avowedly to enable the family to meet the expenses incident on settling in a home. Can it be said that there is any reason in giving in 1880 a donation of £200 or £300 to the family of a subscriber who died in 1874 in order to enable them to establish themselves? The Managers are altogether unable to understand how such a proceeding can be recommended on the ground of "keeping faith with the members of our own Service." They will show further on that the proposal as it stands involves a breach of faith with two other classes—annuitants who retired before 31st March 1873 and died before 31st March 1878, and annuitants now surviving. To deprive the families of the former of benefits given to the families of active subscribers who died during the same period, and to tax the latter indefinitely to provide the necessary funds, would be to act in diametric opposition to the terms of the resolution of January 1874, on which the proposals of the circular profess to proceed.

5. With reference to the second Resolution, the Managers do not know why Mr. G. K. Webster is selected for exceptional treatment. It is the duty of the Managers to inform the subscribers that, if this resolution is adopted, there are many other subscribers who will possess similar claims. The amendment of the rule must have effect from 1st April 1873, if it is taken beyond 1st April 1878; and every invalid annuitant who retired in the interval will come within its purview. Mr. Richardson Evans is precisely in the same position as Mr. Webster: he retired in March 1877, and, like Mr. Webster, secured one-fourth benefits only to his family. Messrs. W. Johnstone, P. Humphrey, E. Waterfield, and G. Graham retired between 1873 and 1878, making up their balances to Rs. 12,500, and securing half benefits. If Mr. Webster is to be admitted to the same position without paying anything, clearly the amounts paid by these gentlemen, not being demandable under the amended rule, must be refunded. Messrs. C. E. C. Merington, H. Priestly, D. W. Marsden, H. M. Rogers, P. Hurley, and E. M. Money have not made up their balance to the minimum of Rs. 6,250, and have consequently ceased to belong to the Fund. If the operation of the amendment is thrown back so as to secure half benefits to Mr. Webster's family, these subscribers must also be restored, and the Fund must undertake liability for their existing or future families. The cost of this measure alone to the Fund would be nearly Rs. 70,000.

6. But the Managers must point out that the proposal to extend special consideration to invalid annuitants who retired between 1873 and 1878 is not reasonable, even on the grounds on which the other proposals of the circular are supposed to rest. The argument of the circular is that the subscribers of 1874 only abstained from utilizing the then existing surplus in certain ways, on the understanding that their families would not lose by the postponement, and that their expectations must be fulfilled. Now, it is clear that those expectations could only extend to measures which had been already discussed. But the proposal to deal specially with invalid annuitants was never mooted till 1879. Clearly, therefore, any invalid subscriber retiring before 1st April 1878 was innocent of any expectation of special benefit of this nature, and the subscribers have not even an imaginary duty to fulfil in regard to him.

7. The Managers cannot accept the proposal to exclude from the additional benefits the families of annuitants who retired from the service before 31st March 1873, but who died before 31st March 1878. The arguments that they were not voters when the resolution of January 1874 was carried, and "were not considered when that vote was passed," are such as have not hitherto been resorted to in dealing with Fund questions, and they will not, the Managers apprehend, find favour with the subscribers. Though annuitants are from the accident of their position, debarred from active co-operation in the administration of the Fund, they have, it is needless to say, precisely the same rights in the Fund that active subscribers possess. To exclude them from benefits because they were not present to assert their rights, or to cause themselves to be considered, would be a proceeding out of harmony with the spirit that has hitherto governed the action of the Service. The proposal, however, is impracticable as well as unjust. The same error has been made here as has been made in regard to the position of incumbent families on 1st April 1878. As has already been said, additions can only be made to benefits by amendments of rules, and retrospective distribution can only be effected by giving retrospective effect to the amendments. If it is intended to give retrospective effect to 1st April 1873, every case occurring on or since that date must be dealt with as if the amended rule applied to it. Therefore the families of deceased annuitants must have precisely the same privileges as those of deceased active subscribers, however little the interests of the annuitants in question may have been considered by those who voted away the surplus funds.

8. Before proceeding to discuss the estimate of the cost of the proposed measures, it is necessary for the Managers to advert to the source from which it is sought to obtain the funds required. It is proposed in the circular to meet the increased charges "by a further postponement of the total exemption of annuitants." Now, the resolution of January 1874, on which the circular relies, provided that "any benefits that may be distributed shall have retrospective effect from the 1st April 1873." It is not easy to see how those who rely upon this resolution can propose, not only not to give retrospective effect to one of the benefits decreed, but to postpone it indefinitely. The Managers apprehend that it is not open to those who consider the resolution binding to proceed directly against its terms, in order, amongst other things, to provide funds for a measure which it did not contemplate.

9. It is estimated in the circular that the cost of the proposals would be "about two lakhs, or perhaps rather more than two lakhs;" but no details are given to show the basis on which the estimate was framed. With reference to this point it may be mentioned that, in returning to Mr. Cotton his draft circular, the Managers warned him that many of his statements were open to contradiction, and that the liabilities which his proposal involved would "certainly enormously exceed" his estimate of two lakhs. The proposals are too vague to be made the subject of a precise estimate. In the first place the Managers have shown that the greater part of the effect intended by the signatories is already included under the Resolutions of January, so that the actual effect in regard to the families named is much less than the signatories intend. But, on the other hand, it is clear that the proposals cannot be accepted without entailing several extensions beyond what the circular contemplates. Taking the proposals as they appear to the signatories of the circular, the Managers have no hesitation in saying that the estimate should be multiplied by at least five. Taking them as they must in any case be modified by the considerations which have been detailed above, the Managers present the following estimate of the real cost of giving effect to the amendments of the rules from 1st April 1873, with the exception of that regarding the ordinary subscriptions of annuitants:—

Refund of one-sixth deductions	11,350
Refund of additional subscriptions, composition, &c.	11,460
Increase of £50 to sons	3,050
Increase of 50 per cent. to motherless orphans	11,300
Donations	12,350
Refund to invalid annuitants	1,160
Value of contingent and potential benefits to families of invalid annuitants who have left the Fund, so far as known	5,430
Total	56,100

As regards the proposal to retain the ordinary subscriptions of annuitants in order to cover this charge, it must be remembered that these subscriptions have been provisionally retained, on the ground that the proposals already carried out have left the Fund considerably in deficit. Mr. Cotton's proposal would leave the Fund in deficit by 5½ lakhs in addition to the present deficit of about 3 lakhs, making a total of at least 8½ lakhs. The retention of 4½ lakhs would only meet half of this deficit. To carry out the proposals now made, therefore, it would be necessary either to continue the subscriptions of annuitants to both branches for a practically indefinite period, or to impose additional rates on active subscribers. The Managers think it right to inform the subscribers that the first course is not open to them consistently with the undertaking already given by the Service. In 1869 the subscribers decided by a majority of 92 to 11 to amend the rules so as to relieve annuitants of all charges except a composition rate of one tenth of their subscriptions, which was to be maintained under the erroneous impression that some payment would be required to ensure correct returns of family occurrences. As the Actuary reported that the Fund could not afford this measure in full, it was decided "for the present" to reduce annuitants' subscriptions only by half. But it has always been recognized that the Service is committed to the remission of annuitants' subscriptions as soon as the Fund can afford it. The circular professes to rest upon the general resolution of January 1871,—the provisions of which, however, it proposes to infringe, but it takes no cognizance of a formal amendment of the rules deliberately adopted by the Service, and avowedly only suspended for a time on financial grounds.

10. It remains therefore for the subscribers to decide whether they are willing to impose additional taxation on active members in order that certain families may receive arrear payments, for a period which closed more than two-and-a-half years ago, representing allowances which they never expected to receive, and for which the occasion has necessarily passed away, and that a number of invalid annuitants may be placed in a position which, at the time of their retirement, they could not possibly have contemplated. The Managers have little doubt what the decision of the Service will be.

11. In conclusion, the Managers desire me to say that while they are most anxious that all proposals affecting the Fund should receive the fullest possible discussion (and of this they have given ample proof in the communications addressed to the subscribers before the proposals carried in January were formally submitted), and that the records of the Fund Office should be consulted to the fullest extent by every subscriber, they must point out the impossibility of carrying on the administration of a great institution like our Fund, if there is to be no finality in formal amendments of rules. In the present instance the measures for distributing the surplus were fully discussed before they were formulated; they were under consideration by the subscribers in their formal shape for two months before the general meeting was held; they were discussed at the meeting; they were, after being carried with only one dissentient vote in a meeting at which 45 subscribers were present, submitted for two months to the further consideration of the Service, and they were confirmed by an overwhelming majority. Eight months after this confirmation certain gentlemen re-opened the discussion. Even had these gentlemen consistently opposed the resolutions of January, the Managers think that they should have accepted the decision of the majority of the subscribers. But it is a remarkable circumstance that not one of them recorded a vote against the measures which they now so vehemently assail. Three of them voted unreservedly for all the resolutions. The other signatories of the circular did not feel themselves called upon even to return the voting papers supplied to them.

With this exposition of the circumstances, the Managers leave it to the Service to pronounce its decision on the question. In order that Members who cannot be present at the meeting may be able to record their votes on one side or the other, the usual form of proxy is enclosed. The Managers hope that Members of the Service will not fail in these important discussions to exercise their privilege of recording a distinct vote, so that some finality may be attained.

I have, &c.,

COLMAN MACAULAY,

Secretary.

Mr. Cotton has announced in the public papers that he does not intend to bring forward the Resolutions in question: but the Managers have received no communication from him on the subject.

The following letter has since been received by the Managers :—
TO THE MANAGERS OF THE BENGAL CIVIL FUND.

GENTLEMEN,

WE have had under consideration your circular of the 11th instant on the subject of the retrospective effect to be given to the increased benefits from the Fund to the families of subscribers deceased since 1873. We have also read the letter published by Mr. Cotton in to-day's Englishman, in which that gentleman announces (for the first time) his withdrawal from the positions originally taken up by him in common with the rest of us.

3. The second of these positions has been, we consider, disposed of by your circular already alluded to. We now understand that it has been your intention to extend to the families of subscribers dying between 1873 and 1878 very much what our first proposal was intended to secure for them, inasmuch as it is now stated that such families are to be included in the increased benefits which are to accrue from April 1878.

4. But our first position remains, in our opinion, intact. We do not find in your reply any specific statement to the effect that the final and conclusive resolution arrived at by the service has been formally cancelled or rescinded by the subscribers, who alone have power in the matter. We do not find that the question of rescission has been ever formally put to the subscribers as it should be. The fact that the resolution of the Managers was “prominently referred to” on the occasion of the vote being taken thereon has not, we consider, that formality which the rules require; and the further argument that the majority of the service voted for the accrual of the increased benefits from April 1878, while it shows indeed that the subscribers were willing to go so far, falls short of a resolve on the part of the service that they should go no further. It is true that in your circular of the 11th instant you state that “the vote was taken on the proposal to give retrospective effect to the amendments of the rules from the 31st April 1878 only.” But if you will refer to the report of the meeting held on the 31st January 1880, as well as to the vote paper separately circulated amongst all subscribers, you will find that this word “only” occurs in neither; and we think you will agree with us that many who did vote on that occasion may not have understood that they were voting for the entire cancelment of the former resolution of the service, and that the word “only” should not, therefore, have been inserted in the circular-reply. Taking, therefore, into consideration the whole facts of the case as they are now before us, we are of opinion that the resolution of January 1874 should now be formally and specifically cancelled or amended so as to meet the circumstances of the Fund, so as to allow an accrual of increased benefits from April 1878 only.

5. We have only to add that for the accuracy of the statements contained in our previous circular we are not directly responsible. We were not all in a position to satisfy ourselves from a personal inspection of the records of the Fund as to the accuracy of these statements, and some of us accepted them on the distinct declaration (communicated to us) that they were statements of absolute and undeniable facts.

6. We are now content to leave the matter in the hands of the Managers, being satisfied that we have done our duty in bringing what we consider to be an omission to the notice of the service, and that the Managers will be, equally with ourselves, desirous to rectify this omission so as best to suit the interests of all subscribers.

We have, &c.,

G. J. B. T. DALTON.

A. A. WACE.

C. A. WILKINS.

F. C. DAUKES.

J. A. BOURDILLON.

L. C. ABBOTT.

The 25th December 1880.

With reference to the last paragraph of this letter, the Managers are satisfied that the decision arrived at represents fully the wishes of the service at large, and they are of opinion that no further formal action on their part is required.

7. In accordance with Article XXII of the revised rules, the Managers have to report that the Hon'ble J. O'Kinealy having obtained six months' leave of absence from 11th October last, tendered his resignation as an elected manager, and that the Hon'ble H. J. Reynolds was invited to join the Board of Managers in succession to Mr. O'Kinealy.

8. The following is the result of the voting on the resolution of the Special General Meeting of 22nd November :—

“That so much of the amendment of Article VIII of the Rules, adopted at the Half-yearly General Meeting held on 31st January last, as regards the subscriptions of annuitants to the Ordinary Branch of the Fund be held in abeyance.”

CIVIL FUND OFFICE.

COLMAN MACAULAY.

Proposed by Mr. H. Beverley, Seconded by Hon'ble A. T. Maclean, and carried.

THAT the Managers' proceedings in admitting the families of the late Messrs. D. C. Halkett, D. J. Money, and Sir Cecil Beaden, to the benefits of the Fund, be confirmed.

Proposed by Mr. John Beames, Seconded by Mr. George A. Grierson, and carried.

THAT the daughter of the Marquis of Tweeddale be brought on the books of the Fund on payment of the minimum fine of Rs. 100, together with all arrears of subscriptions and interest at 8 per cent. as recommended by the Managers.

Proposed by Mr. D. R. Lyall, Seconded by Mr. C. J. Lyall, and carried.

THAT the reply given by the Managers to Mr. C. R. Mariandin be approved.

Proposed by Mr. M. W. Souttar, Seconded by Hon'ble C. D. Fiehl, and carried.

THAT the accounts for the past year 1879-80 be approved.

Proposed by The Hon'ble A. Mackenzie, Seconded by _____, and carried.

THAT the following gentlemen be elected Managers for the ensuing year:—

Hon'ble Mr. Justice McDonnell, v.c.; Hon'ble H. J. Reynolds; J. Monro, Esq.; A. Forbes, Esq., and C. A. Wilkins, Esq.

Mr. Cotton said that he rose to make a personal explanation, and also to make a statement which he thought, in the opinion of the subscribers present, would call for explanation from the Board of Management. Although he had no especial authority to do so, he felt that in the remarks he was about to make he might speak both for himself and for the other gentlemen who had joined with him in signing the appeal-circular to the subscribers dated 26th November 1880. That circular was in the hands of all present. It proposed that the increased benefits awarded at the General Meeting of 31st January 1880, should be awarded (in accordance with the Resolution of the 28th January 1874) so as to include the specified families of subscribers who died after the 1st April 1873, but before the 1st April 1878, from which latter date only the benefits were declared by the meeting of 31st January 1880 to have effect. It had subsequently been explained by the Managers, in their circular of the 11th. December 1880, that the families of the subscribers who died within this quinquennial period "were, except in respect of the donation, in exactly the same position from 1st April 1878 as the families of subscribers who died on or after that date." So that in point of fact the appeal which he and others thought it necessary to make to the Service had substantially been allowed by the management, and there was no necessity therefore for him to press the resolution of which he had given notice.

He would explain, however, that the authoritative interpretation now given by the Managers, of the retrospective character of the benefits recently awarded, was a novel one and directly inconsistent with the interpretation the Managers had themselves put upon the same point in the circular letter in which they had recommended those benefits for the approval of the Service. In that circular, dated 13th October 1879, it was distinctly explained that the families of subscribers who died before 1st April 1878, would be ineligible for any increased benefits that might be awarded. The arguments of that circular had never been disavowed or contradicted. They had gone abroad to the Service as indicating the policy it was intended to follow in regard to the distribution of benefits, and Mr. Cotton for one certainly understood from them, and he believed that almost every member of the Service was also with him in understanding from them, that the families of subscribers who died before 1st April 1878, were excluded from all participation in the increased benefits recently awarded.

In order to justify these remarks and the public action he had taken in consequence of the opinion he held, he would read to the meeting extracts from the Managers' circular of the 13th October 1879. That circular was sent along with a copy of the Actuaries' report, and

"submitted proposals for the distribution of the surplus as ascertained by Mr. Sutton." Paragraph 3 of that circular is expressed as follows:—

"3. The Managers consider it unnecessary to go back farther than 31st March 1878 for the adjustment of the accounts. It is a fixed principle in the administration of all systems of insurance that long retrospective effect cannot be given to any distribution of surplus funds. The existing members of a fund are alone entitled to the benefit of a surplus, as they alone bear the chance of having to provide for a deficit."

He begged to call particular attention to the last-quoted sentence. It meant, as plainly as words could say it, that members of the Fund who had died before 1st April 1878 would not be entitled to the benefit of the surplus, and the reason it gave for their exclusion was, that as they were dead and no longer subscribers, it would be impossible to impose upon them any liability to provide for a deficit. Under this interpretation there could be no doubt that the families of the late Messrs. Schaleh, Geoghagan, Carpenter, Falcon, and others, enumerated in the appeal which he and his co-signatories had made to the Service, would be excluded once and for all from any participation in the increased benefits. He would continue reading from the 3rd paragraph of the Managers' circular:—

"Claims which have become incumbent are represented by separate allotment of funds to provide for them. No risk attaches to them, they have been settled in full, and it would be impossible to manage any institution properly if they were liable to reconsideration."

These words also can bear but one meaning. They mean that funds had been appropriated on account of the families of subscribers who died before the 1st April 1878, and that it would be impossible to readjust the amount of appropriated funds so as to admit those families to any subsequently sanctioned increase of benefits.

The same paragraph proceeds:—

"Moreover, the principle of retrospective adjustment, if once admitted, would involve the extinction of the greater part of the surplus, with no appreciable benefit to the Fund."

This sentence, when read with the context of the words which precede it, has no other meaning than that the Managers were opposed to granting increased benefits to the families of any subscriber who died before the 1st April 1878, on the ground that, by so doing, they would swallow up the greater part of the Fund surplus.

The Managers then proceeded, in the circular from which he was quoting, to describe the increased benefits proposed, and to estimate the cost of each. In the seventh paragraph they summarise their remarks, and continue, in language which must clear away the faintest doubt that may have lingered in the mind of any reader, as follows:—

These measures (i. e. above recited benefits) as well as the abolition of the rule regarding one-sixth deductions, the Managers would wish to see introduced at once with retrospective effect from 1st April 1878, the first day of the new quinquennial period,—that is, they will be applied to all pensions which have become incumbent on or after that date."

Here is a distinct exclusion of all pensions which had become incumbent before the 1st April 1878. There is nothing more wanted to show that, in the opinion of the Managers, on the 13th October 1879 the families of all subscribers who had come on the Fund before 1st April 1878 were to be excluded from any participation in the increased benefits. This at least is the view Mr. Cotton took, and this is the justification—he ventured to think it was a satisfactory one—that he had now to offer to the Service for the action he had taken. In this view of the case he had recorded a formal written protest from Chittagong, where he was stationed at the time of the last January meeting. At that meeting it is true the subject was just alluded to, but nothing explanatory of the circular of the 13th October, or in any way modifying the observations therein expressed, was elicited from the management.

Mr. Cotton being fully occupied with other concerns was then inclined to let the matter drop, but he was moved to act again on the representation of others who had a personal interest in seeing that the incumbents of the Fund, during the quinquennial period from 1873 to 1878, were not excluded from the increased benefits. He accordingly, on the 6th September 1880, addressed the Secretary to the Fund with the same arguments.

as those on which his own and his co-signatories' circular of the 26th November was based, and in order to avoid any division in the Service, asked the Managers to identify themselves with a proposal, that the increased benefits should be distributed with retrospective effect, so as to include the families of all subscribers who died during the quinquennial period from 1873 to 1878, and pointed out that this was in accordance with the Resolution of the 28th January 1874, which enjoined that "any benefits that may be distributed shall have retrospective effect from the 1st April 1873." In reply to this representation Mr. Cotton received a letter on the 15th September, in which it was said that the Managers "did not consider that they could profitably enter on a discussion of an informal proposal, made by a single member of the Service, to set aside a Resolution almost unanimously adopted by the Service at a recent General Meeting." There was no mention in this reply that Mr. Cotton was labouring under any misapprehension in regard to the actual retrospective distribution of the benefits, or that the Managers in any way repudiated the principles and proposals they had enunciated in their circular of the 13th October 1879.

Failing to get any satisfaction from the management, and relying entirely on the statements of the Managers in their circular of October, which it never occurred to him for one moment to mistrust, Mr. Cotton then consulted certain other members of the service as to the course he should pursue, and the result was the issue of the circular-appeal to the Service, dated 28th November 1880. The result of this appeal was that Managers proceeded to make an elaborate exposition of the case for the information of the Service.

The manifesto of the Managers, dated 11th December 1880, was a most valuable document, and although it contained many passages, personal allusions, as well as other points open to much objection, Mr. Cotton did not propose to detain the meeting by indulging in any criticism in regard to them. He might say in passing that he considered the expression "vehement assault" contained in the penultimate paragraph was quite uncalled for by any of the language used in his own circular. But he did not wish to dwell on such matters. He would refer to the fourth paragraph only, and was glad to express his unqualified satisfaction that the Fund management had now been able to place such an interpretation on the retrospective clause as to admit the families of all subscribers who died before 1st April 1878 to the full benefits now sanctioned (except donation), equally with the families of subscribers who may die, or have died, after that date. The Managers had now virtually conceded what he and his co-signatories had asked for, and the only regret he had to express was that the Managers had not thought fit to favour him personally with this explanation (which had now, as it were, been furnished at the eleventh hour) when he addressed them in September last on the subject. Had the Managers at that time discussed the matter with him, or supplied him with information, which presumably at that time was available, showing that their October circular was no longer to be accepted as an indication of the Managers' policy, much time and trouble would have been saved.

Mr. Cotton had now completed the personal explanation he had to make to the meeting. He would now ask the Managers to furnish the explanation he thought was due from them to the meeting,—that is to say, he would ask them to reconcile the contradictory statements he had pointed out that afternoon, between the remarks contained in the circular of the 13th October 1879 and those contained in the fourth paragraph of the circular of the 11th December 1880. Before he sat down, however, he wished to make some remarks regarding the distribution of the surplus, with retrospective effect, to the families of invalid annuitants. This was a point prominently alluded to in the appeal-circular of the 28th November. The name of Mr. Webster was particularly cited in that circular, because from the information available to the drafters of that circular it could not be discovered that any other invalid annuitant occupied a similar position to his. The facts of Mr. Webster's case were that he retired with a family in 1877, and now subscribes at quarter rates, and that under the Resolution of 1880, his wife and children on his death will only get quarter benefits, calculated on the increased allowances now awarded; but if the benefits recently sanctioned are extended as contemplated by the Resolution of 1874, they would be entitled to half benefits calculated on the increased allowances. It is now explained by the Managers that there are other subscribers who possess similar claims to those of Mr. Webster, and that if half benefits were guaranteed to Mr. Webster's family, it would be necessary to restore other subscribers to the Fund, and that the Fund would have to undertake liability for their existing or future families. The cost of such a measure is estimated by the Managers at nearly Rs. 70,000. It appeared, however, to Mr. Cotton that this estimate would probably be found to be excessive. He observed that in the Managers' circular of 22nd November 1879, in which the concession of this benefit generally to the families of invalid annuitants was discussed and recommended, it was stated: "The provision will not affect wives married, and children born of such wives after retirement. The cost of the benefit proposed by the Managers will not be great. Cases of this nature are so rare that they cannot be accurately valued." The benefit at that time was considered a very inexpensive one, and yet when the Managers were asked to extend it to the families of the invalid annuitants during a single quinquennial period, they pointed out that for these families only the benefit would cost nearly Rs. 70,000. It occurred to Mr. Cotton that when the management were in favour of a proposal, there was a tendency among the Managers to under-estimate its cost; but that when they were opposed to a proposition, they were liable to a tendency to pronounce the cost greater than it really was. In the present case it must be remembered that the benefit proposed "would not effect wives married, and children born of such wives after retirement." It was Mr. Cotton's belief that, of the invalid annuitants between 1st April 1873 and 1st April 1878, not above two or three were married at the time of retirement, and it was in his opinion out of the question to say that it would cost nearly Rs. 70,000 to extend the recently sanctioned benefit to the case of these families. Those who retired as bachelors could have no claim on the Fund on account of this benefit. It appeared to Mr. Cotton that the Managers had lost sight of this fact, and he questioned therefore the accuracy of their calculations. He threw himself on the favourable consideration of the Managers and of the meeting in dealing with this question. There was no class of subscribers for whom the members of the Service ought to feel greater sympathy than for the invalid annuitants. They were all men cut off from active service in the prime of life, with pitiful annuities hardly sufficient to support existence, and their families, in the event of their death, will be even in still narrower circumstances. It was not for Mr. Webster's family only that he was pleading, but for the families of all other invalid annuitants who had retired between 1873 and 1878, and whose position under the rules was similar to that of Mr. Webster's family. He was sure that if the accounts were again made up, the cost of this concession would come to a very insignificant total compared with the resources of the Fund and the value of the benefit to the family in each individual case. He earnestly hoped that the Managers and the meeting would consider his plea, and, as a special case, or as a special favour, allow the wives married to, and children born of, the invalid annuitants of this quinquennial period, at the time of retirement, the full value of the benefits awarded to the families of invalid annuitants by the Resolutions passed at the last January meeting.

Mr. Westland said he was surprised to find Mr. Cotton, when he rose to address the meeting, instead of offering an apology to the Managers, had proceeded to demand explanations of them. The proceedings which culminated on the resolution of last January had been characterized by the utmost deliberation, having been submitted to the Service for discussion for some months before the meeting, and afterwards in accordance with the rules for conformation after it; he thought that Mr. Cotton should have been more careful before challenging the resolutions, and re-opening the whole matter by a new agitation. It was only twelve months since he (Mr. Westland) in this same place had complained of Members of the Service rushing into print, and getting up agitations without first making some enquiry as to their facts. Last year's agitation collapsed the moment a simple statement of the fact was made. This year's had collapsed for the same reason even before it came up for discussion.

Mr. Cotton had tried to justify his misapprehension of the facts by quoting from a Circular of the Managers of October 1879, in which they had asked for the opinions of the Service. The fact was that the Managers, after consulting the Service, and receiving, among other communications, one from Mr. Cotton himself, had determined to frame the resolutions so as to give the new benefits more of retrospective effect than they at first indicated; and Mr. Cotton, if he wanted to know what the effect of the resolutions was, should have looked to their wording, and not merely excerpted a statement from the discussions preceding it. At the meeting of January 1880, when the resolutions were brought forward, a valuation of their effect was printed and laid upon the table, where an entry would be found of the very benefits which Mr. Cotton was proposing by his first resolution; and afterwards in the Actuary's report, which was circulated to all the Service, the same entry was made, viz. "present incumbents" upon page 7. If Mr. Cotton had only read the documents sent him, he would never have been under any misapprehension as to the purport of the resolutions.

Then, besides that, Mr. Cotton sent a copy of his proposed circular to the Managers, and was distinctly informed that "many of his statements were open to contradiction." But the only result was, as appeared from a letter now received from Mr. Cotton's co-signatories, that the circular was sent to them for signature, with the assurance that "they were statements of absolute and undeniable facts." It was plainly Mr. Cotton himself and not the Managers who were responsible for the former so completely misunderstanding the facts of the case concerning which he had undertaken to address the Service.

As the other point raised by Mr. Cotton,—the case of the invalid annuitants,—Mr. Westland said that he was very sorry to appear to press hard upon any individual. Mr. Webster was a friend of his own, and he could not but sympathize with him in the misfortunes which had closed to him an Indian Career. But the Managers were dealing in this matter with money which they held as trustees, and they would manifestly fail in their duty, if, instead of holding the scales evenly between all parties, they were to give special consideration to the hard cases which happened to come to their personal knowledge, or with which they might have some personal sympathy. Mr. Webster had at the time of his retirement deliberately chosen to insure his life for quarter benefits, and that at a time when no question had been raised about giving any extension in that direction. His case was not distinguishable from that of a person who, after insuring his life in an assurance office for £500, should apply that, in consideration of his special hardship, he might get £1,000 instead, and he would leave the meeting to judge what the Directors' reply to such an application would be. It was manifestly impossible for the Managers to accept Mr. Cotton's motion to separate off Mr. Webster's case for special treatment.

On the question of valuations Mr. Westland warned the meeting of the carefulness necessary in discussing all questions of increased benefits. The Managers drew up careful valuations of all that they themselves proposed, and the details of these were as open to Mr. Cotton as to any other person. All these questions were matters of very serious responsibility, and he warned the service of the extreme danger they would be led into, if they permitted private members to brush aside all careful calculations upon the mere plea that their own inner consciousness gave a result that differed from that arrived at by mathematical processes. He also explained the details of the Rs. 70,000, stated by the Managers as the cost of the application of Mr. Cotton's proposal to such invalid annuitant cases as were known.

Mr. Dampier said that before the subject was dropped, he would like to ask Mr. Westland on behalf of the Managers a question—

If before the next meeting Mr. Cotton were to address the Managers saying that he proposed to bring forward a motion that the service should as a matter of grace admit all subscribers whose cases stood on all fours with that of Mr. Webster, to the extra benefits which had been proposed for Mr Webster, and asking the Managers to assist him in getting up his case by furnishing a list of such members, and of the probable cost which the measure would entail, what answer would the Managers make to such an application?

No one could regret more than he did the growth of what he might term an opposition to the Managers, which was inclined to be overwilling to call them to account for informalities rather than to accept what they did on its merits.

Mr. Barbour pointed out that the question raised by Mr. Dampier was not before the meeting, and that Mr. Westland had no authority to speak for the Managers.

Mr. Westland said that he had no business to answer for the Managers in such a matter as of course it would come before the Board for settlement, but that for himself he might say that, if Mr. Cotton, or any other member of the Service, desired to bring forward any reasonable proposal, he would give him every facility for obtaining information from the records of the Fund Office; and if Mr. Cotton wished to bring forward such a motion as Mr. Dampier mentioned, he (Mr. Westland) would also be happy to give him personal assistance.

Mr. Dampier said that his question was now completely and satisfactorily answered.

After a vote of thanks to the Chair the meeting dissolved.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the barograph and thermograph.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 36, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction and movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

— fog, c dew, d drizzling.

METEOROLOGICAL OFFICE, BENGAL,
The 21st February 1881.

JOHN ELIOT,
Meteorological Reporter to the Govt. of Bengal.

Report on the Fluctuations in Traffic on the Northern Bengal State Railway for the month of January 1881.

GENERAL REMARKS.

As anticipated there has been a considerable increase in jute despatches, though food-grains still show a decrease of 8,741 maunds as compared with last January's results. On reference to the comparative statement at foot, it will be observed that 1,12,383 maunds of jute have been hauled, against 83,284 maunds for the same period last year, the increase being 29,099 maunds.

There is still a considerable stock of jute in the interior, and it is believed that if prices remain firm forward despatches will be heavy. At present sellers are simply feeding the market with small consignments to supply the immediate wants of buyers.

Increases.

Ginger Mds. 688
The Calcutta demand for this article continues.
Gunny-bags Mds. 8,663
The home market price for this article still remains firm, hence the steady increase in despatches.
Jute Mds. 29,099
As pointed out in last month's report, the above increase has duly taken place. This has been caused by an advance of 3 annas on previous quotations.
Piece-goods Mds. 1,687
The season for the spring demand is now approaching, and increased despatches may be looked for.
Tea Mds. 470
Although almost the end of the season, tea is still going forward.
All other goods Mds. 4,268
The despatches under this head show more clearly than any particular staple the gradual development of traffic. During January 1880 we carried 45,300 maunds; last month we lifted 46,239 maunds; and in the month under review we handled 49,568 maunds.

Decreases.

Ale Mds. 1,067
It is probable, as pointed out in last report, that delay in the arrival of shipments at Calcutta has caused this decrease, if so, a corresponding increase may now be looked for.
Food-grains Mds. 8,741
The remarks in the last report relative to the decrease in this staple still hold good.
Railway material Mds. 49,262
The despatches for the Darjeeling Steam Tramway and the Kaunia and Dhubri Tramway having now almost ceased will account for this falling off.
Salt Mds. 1,900
This decrease is slight, and has doubtless been caused by despatches during December and November having been heavy.
Sugar Mds. 65
This needs no remarks.
Tobacco Mds. 5,097
This being now the end of the tobacco season despatches are naturally small.

Statement showing Increases and Decreases in maundage of Staples carried over the Line during the month of January 1881.

NOTIFICATION.

The 21st February 1881.—Pending the passing of general rules under section 68 of the Merchant Shipping Act VII of 1880, for the examination of Ship Surveyors and other matters provided therein, the following provisional rules for the grant of certificates to Ship Surveyors actually practising in the Port of Calcutta and for the conduct of enquiries into charges of incompetency and misconduct on the part of the holders of such certificates have, with the sanction of the Governor-General in Council, been approved by the Lieutenant-Governor under the above section, and are hereby published for general information:—

1. A Board, consisting of the following members, is appointed for the purpose of examining the qualifications of, and granting certificates to, Ship Surveyors now actually practising in the Port of Calcutta:—

The Vice-Chairman of the Port Commissioners of Calcutta.
The Port Officer of Calcutta.
The Chief Engineer, Government Dockyard, Kidderpore.
The Master Builder, ditto ditto.

2. The Board will proceed without delay to take up the duty entrusted to them, giving due and separate notice to all Ship Surveyors whom they may know to be now practising in the Port, and inserting a general notice to such candidates in the Calcutta Gazette and in the three leading daily newspapers of the Presidency. They will make their own arrangements as to the time and place at which their sittings shall be held.

3. No test examination of the knowledge of any such candidate shall be necessary, but the Board shall accept, as sufficient evidence of qualification, proof that such candidate for a certificate is actually practising as a surveyor to any recognized Register of Shipping, or that he has been practising as surveyor to any Insurance Company for over two years.

4. On being furnished with such proof, the Board shall grant the candidate a certificate in the following terms:—

“Certified, under section 68 of Act VII of 1880, that A B is qualified to practise the profession of a Ship Surveyor in the Port of Calcutta.

Dated

Calcutta

Board of Examiners.”

5. No fee shall be charged for such certificate.

6. The surveyors employed by Lloyd's Register of British and Foreign Shipping and Bureau Veritas are, under section 69 of the Act, specially exempted from the provisions of section 68, but only while “discharging the duties of such employment.” Any such surveyor engaging in private practice is required to take out a certificate under these rules.

7. Enquiries into charges of misconduct or incompetence on the part of surveyors certified under these rules shall be conducted by the Court of Survey appointed under section 13 of the Act, and that Court is hereby authorized to cancel or suspend certificates, submitting its proceedings in such cases for the confirmation of Government. The Port Commissioners or any person interested may prefer such charges before the Court of Survey.

NOTIFICATION.

The 16th February 1881.—The following rules for the collection of drift timber in the Sunderbuns forests, under section 51 of the Indian Forest Act, VII of 1878, having been sanctioned by the Lieutenant-Governor, are hereby published for general information :—

I. Interpretation clause.—All words used in these rules and defined in Act VII of 1878 (the Indian Forest Act, 1878) shall be deemed to have the meanings respectively attributed to them by the said Act.

And in these rules 'Drift Timber' shall mean timber of the descriptions mentioned in section 45 of the said Act.

II. Procedure to be used in obtaining permits to collect drift timber.—Any person who, within the area of the Sunderbuns to which section 45 of the Act has been extended by the Government Notification of the 3rd November 1879, published in the Calcutta Gazette of the 19th idem, wishes to salve drift timber, shall apply to the officer in charge of the Sunderbuns Forest Division for a written permit specifying the nature of the timber which he wishes to salve, and shall register the boat or boats to be used in salving.

Every boat so registered shall have conspicuously painted on it its register number, the date of registration, and a letter indicating the revenue station at which such boat was registered. A fee of Rs. 5 shall be levied for each boat for the first registration, and a fee of one-half this amount for every subsequent registration. Every registration shall hold good for one year from the date thereof. Provided that if any person shall wish to enter the area defined above for the purpose of salving drift timber, the property of himself or of any known owner, a written permit for this special purpose may be granted him by the officer in charge of the Sunderbuns Forest Division on payment of a fee of Rs. 2 only: but such person shall be bound by all the conditions regarding the registration and marking of his boats laid down in this rule.

III. Salved timber to be taken to drift timber depôts.—All timber salved shall be taken, with as little delay as possible, to the nearest drift timber depôt.

IV. Nothing to prevent chance timber being salved.—Nothing in the preceding rules shall be held to prevent any person lawfully plying a boat within the limits of the Sunderbuns reserved and protected forests from salving any drift timber that he may find.

V. Salved timber which may become vested in Government to be sold by auction.—All drift timber salved under these rules, which may become vested in Government under section 48 of the Indian Forest Act, shall be sold by auction within such periods and in such manner as the Conservator of Forests may direct.

VI. Amount of salvage (a).—Any person, whether a Forest Officer or not, who has salved any drift timber, shall be entitled to receive as salvage an amount equivalent to 15 per cent. of the estimated value of such drift timber, as adjudged by the Sunderbuns Divisional Officer or by any subordinate officer specially authorized by the Conservator of Forests in that behalf:

(b) Provided that any person authorized by permit to salve drift timber under Rule II shall receive as salvage an amount equivalent to 25 per cent. of the estimated value of the drift timber salved by him, such value being adjudged as above provided.

(c) In special cases the Conservator of Forests may increase the amount of salvage to a sum not exceeding 50 per cent. of the estimated value of the drift timber salved.

(d) When more persons than one are concerned in salving, the amount of salvage shall be paid to them collectively and on their joint receipt.

VII. Payments required when drift timber is proved to be the property of a claimant.—If the drift timber collected shall be shown under section 47 of the Act to be the property of any person other than Government, such person shall be liable to pay to Government, under section 50 of the Act, the following amounts, viz :—

- (1) the actual amount of salvage paid to the salvor;
- (2) the actual cost incurred in moving the timber to the drift depôt;
- (3) such fees as may, from time to time, be fixed, with the sanction of Government, for the storing of timber at such depôt.

VIII. Registration of property marks.—Any person holding a permit under Rule II who makes use of any property mark or device for marking drift timber salved by him may register the same in the office of the Sunderbuns Forest Divisional Officer. The fee to be paid for such registration shall be 1 rupee for the first year, and eight annas for each annual renewal. A certificate of registration showing the marks registered shall be given on payment of the prescribed fee.

IX. Penalty clause.—Any person who shall infringe any of these rules shall be punished with imprisonment for a term which may extend to six months, or with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees, or with both.

[Third Publication.]

IRRIGATION.

Dated 8th February 1881.

No. 29.—Notification.—In exercise of the powers conferred on him by Section 99 of Act III (B.C.) of 1876, the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to direct the publication of the following rules for the Sarun Irrigation Scheme.

H. C. IRVINGE,

*Joint-Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal,
P. W. Dept., Irrign. Branch.*

Draft Rules for the guidance of the Canal Officers appointed for the management of the Sarun Irrigation Scheme.

1. In Notification No 179, dated 18th August 1879, under the provisions of Part II of Act III of 1876, Government has reserved to itself the rights of property in the water in the following canals and river beds forming part of the Sarun Irrigation Scheme :—

1. The Roopun Chup Sota.
2. The main canal.
3. The Daha river and the water channels in continuation of or in connection with it.
4. The Gunducki river and the water channels in continuation of or in connection with it.
5. The Dhanai river and the water channels in continuation of or in connection with it.
6. The Gangree river and the water channels in continuation of or in connection with it.

These rivers and canals will hereinafter be referred to as the Sarun canals.

2. On and after the 19th November 1880, no person shall take water from the Sarun canals for irrigation or manufacturing purposes without the written permission of a duly authorized person.

Licenses will be required—

- (a) For the construction of temporary dams in the canal beds.
- (b) For the erection of fishing weirs.
- (c) For the use of fishing nets.
- (d) For the irrigation of lands by flow or lift.
- (e) For the construction of village channels and distributaries leading from the canals for the irrigation of lands.
- (f) For water used for the purpose of any manufacture.

3. Government reserves at present its right to levy tolls for navigation, and to charge for filling tanks, watering cattle, or for water for other domestic purposes.

4. The Revenue Administration of the Sarun Irrigation Scheme is vested in the Collector, who is ex-officio head of the Canal Revenue Department. The Executive Engineer of the Gunduck Division, as Canal Officer, is his chief executive officer, and his Secretary in the Canal Department. All orders relating to the Canal Revenue will usually be issued by the Collector through the Executive Engineer as Canal Officer, and all correspondence intended for the Collector in this department should be addressed to the office of the Canal Department, Mozufferpore.

5. For administrative purposes, the Sarun district is divided into thirteen sub-districts, corresponding generally with those divisions which Sarun Indigo Planters recognize as factory dehuts.

These sub-districts are shown in a map deposited in the Collector's office. The boundaries of the sub-districts and their number may be hereafter modified.

6. The following gentlemen are, till further orders, appointed Canal Managers, and will be in charge of these sub-districts :—

Manager of the Sadawa Concern for the time being.

Ditto	Jogapore	ditto.
Ditto	Burhoga	ditto.
Ditto	Rajaputti	ditto.
Ditto	Burwlee	ditto.
Ditto	Ramcola	ditto.
Ditto	Arroah	ditto.
Ditto	Hutwah estate	ditto.

7. The duties of Canal Managers will be—

1st.—To receive and register applications for the use of water under sections 74 and 77 of the Irrigation Act.

2nd.—To grant permits for the use of water under section 75 of the Act.

3rd.—Subject to the instructions of the Canal Officers, to control the water-supply under the provisions of section 76.

4th.—To recover and credit to Government the water rates.

5th.—To superintend and maintain such establishment as may be found necessary.

8. Canal Managers have no power under Parts III, IV, and V of the Act ; and all claims for remission under section 76 of Part VI should be referred to the Canal Officer or his Deputy for disposal. Complaints regarding unauthorized use of canal water under sections 79, 80, and 81 are also to be referred to the Canal Officer for decision. All proceedings connected with the recovery of water-rates by distraint, or other compulsory process, will be undertaken by the Collector.

9. Persons desiring the construction of a temporary dam on the Sarun canals must prefer a written application to the Canal Manager in whose jurisdiction the proposed dam lies, specifying the object of the work, and the length of the time for which it is required. The application will be submitted to the Canal Officer, with the opinion of the Canal Manager. If the Canal Officer considers the construction of such temporary dam expedient, he shall call upon the applicant, or applicants, to deposit a sum of money sufficient to cover the cost of construction and maintenance of the dam, and of removing the same when no longer required.

On the completion of the dam, the Canal Officer shall give the applicant, or applicants, notice thereof, and also of any further sum payable by him, or them, on account of its construction. The Canal Officer shall not permit irrigation with water raised by the dam until the whole sum thus demanded shall have been paid. Rates for such irrigation will be charged as fixed in rule 12.

10. If one or more of the riparian proprietors desire to have a permanent dam erected in any river bed, he or they shall present an application to that effect to the Collector who will decide, in communication with the Canal Officer, on the advisability of constructing such a dam. Should he deem it desirable, he shall cause plans and estimates to be prepared, and shall then call on the applicants to give a guarantee, securing interest at 4½ per cent. on the amount of the estimates, provided that, if the cost of the work should, through unforeseen causes, exceed the original estimate, the Guarantor or Guarantors shall pay interest on the total cost of the work. The construction of the dam will be carried out by the Canal Officer. A register shall be kept of the Guarantors of the cost of dam, and any person may, at any time, apply to the Canal Officer to be made a part owner thereof on payment to the co-sharers in the work, of such sums as may be fixed by the Collector. Shares will generally be distributed in proportion to the area of the estates concerned. The privileges of an owner are (1) exemption from any higher rate than Re. 1 per acre per annum, and (2) prior claim to irrigation from the dam. Other persons irrigating from the dam may be charged any rate, not above Rs. 2, which may be fixed by Government. The maintenance of the permanent dam shall be a charge against the owner. The Canal Officer shall have power to stop all supplies of water if the dam is not maintained in proper repair.

11. The Collector shall make arrangements for the disposal of the fisheries, and the sale-proceeds of the rights of the same shall be an asset to be taken into account in determining the guarantor's liabilities for any portion of the guarantee in any year.

12. Persons desiring to irrigate their fields with canal water by flow or lift must submit a written application in the form (Appendix A) to be obtained by himself or by his agent from the Canal Manager, whereupon the latter shall issue a permit, in form Appendix B, to irrigate. The right to irrigate without extra charge extends up to 15th February following the date on which the permit was issued. The rate charged shall not exceed Re. 1 per acre irrespective of the crops grown, except in special cases to be determined by Government.

13. Any person desirous of taking water for manufacture of indigo must apply to the Canal Officer through the Canal Manager, stating the area of cultivation, the area which he has leased for irrigation, and promising that he will on the 1st of October declare the quantity he has manufactured.

14. Licenses will be granted on the following terms:—

- (a). To persons irrigating an area of not less than half their cultivation, one rupee per maund.
- (b). To persons irrigating an area of less than half their cultivation, two rupees per maund.

Provided that, as guarantors are, under the terms of their guarantees, entitled to water for manufacture free of charge, the sums leviable from them under the above conditions shall be set off against the guarantee, and, on consideration of the payment of the latter, be written off the account.

15. The privileges of guarantors are as follows:—

- (1) A prior claim to a supply of water for irrigation and manufacture during the continuance of their guarantee.
- (2) Each guarantor to have a sub-district within which he shall act as the agent of Government in managing the affairs of the canal, receiving a commission on his collection of 20 per cent.
- (3) The right to use water for manufacturing purposes free of charge.

16. Any person may apply to the Collector to become a guarantor. If the Collector accept the application, which at his discretion he may or may not do, he shall proceed, in communication with the Canal Officer, to determine whether the new guarantee shall be utilized towards extending the canals, providing distributaries or embankments, or towards reducing the responsibility of the original guarantor. If the original guarantor (within whose dehat the applicant's property or interest is situated) claims a reduction in his guarantee and can at the same time show that the application of the new guarantor towards an extension of the canal would operate to reduce his collections below the amount of his guarantee, his claims to have his guarantee reduced shall be approved; otherwise, the new guarantee may be applied towards extending the canals, and an area corresponding to the applicant's property or interest be marked off to him, within which he shall exercise the rights and privileges now exercised in their dehats by the guarantors mentioned in paragraph 5 of these rules.

If the applicant's interest or property be not situated within any dehat as specified in paragraph 5, then the Collector shall apply the guarantee towards extending the benefits of the canal system.

17. Canal Managers or guarantors requiring water for the irrigation of their own fields, or for manufacture, will apply for the requisite permit to the Collector through the Canal Officer. In the license for the use of water for irrigation and manufacture, the rates to be charged shall be stated. In accordance with rules 12, 13, and 14 the following rates will be charged, subject to the proviso in paragraph 14:—

	Rs.	A.
Irrigation per acre	...	1 0
Manufacture.
		Per md.
		Rs. A.
To persons irrigating one-half of their cultivation	...	1 0
To persons irrigating less than one-half	...	2 0

18. The irrigation year will commence on the 1st of April, and as soon after the 15th January and 15th September of each year as possible, the Canal Manager shall present bills for water-rates based on the actual area irrigated, and deliver them to the irrigators before the 15th February and 15th October. If these bills are not paid to the Canal Manager before the 1st of March and 1st of November, he shall prepare a list of unpaid claims, and submit the same to the Collector through the Canal Officer, who will put in force the powers vested in him for their recovery in accordance with sections 83, 84, and 85 of the irrigation Act.

19. It will be the duty of Canal Managers to see—

- 1st.—That all applications for water are made in the forms supplied to them. These applications must be filed for reference, and will be issued to applicants free of charge.
- 2nd.—That all the uses for the use of water be issued in the prescribed form, and a copy be kept on counterfoils in books supplied for the purpose.
- 3rd.—That a monthly return of applications received and issued be submitted to the Collector in a form to be supplied by the Canal Officer.
- 4th.—That copies of bills presented for payment be kept in the counterfoils supplied for record.
- 5th.—That a cash-book of all receipts of water-rates be kept in forms supplied for the purpose.
- 6th.—That a weekly rainfall statement, and irrigation notes be sent to the Canal Officer and be kept in duplicate for record.

7th.—That for all cash received, receipts be granted in the form supplied by the Canal Officer which will be kept in counterfoil.

8th.—That all cash received be paid monthly into the sub-divisional or district treasury without deduction, and that the treasury receipts be filed with the cash-book as vouchers.

9th.—That monthly advices of cash paid to the treasury be sent to the Canal Officer in forms to be supplied by him.

10th.—That bills for commission on the collections at 20 per cent. be submitted when requisite to the Canal Officer who will issue cheques for their payment on the order of the Collector.

20. On the 1st April of each year, or as soon after as practicable, the Canal Officer will prepare a statement showing—

(a) The sum guaranteed.

(b) The total collection.

(c) The total payments into the treasury.

(d) The excess of (b) over (a) on which bills for the 20 per cent. allowance are to be drawn.

All correspondence and accounts may be kept in Kaithi, if the Canal Manager desires it. Forms, as detailed in previous paragraphs of these rules, will be supplied by Government, together with service stamps free of charge; all other charges for stationery must be met by the Managers and defrayed from their commission. All accounts and records relating to canal matters must be open to the inspection of the Collector, the Canal Officers, and their Deputies. All expenses for Water-guards, Patrols, and Ameens must be defrayed from the commission of 20 per cent. allowed by Government on the collections.

HIGH COURT NOTICE.

CIVIL.

No. 3, dated the 10th February 1881.

THE Court desire to draw the attention of the Officers presiding in all Civil Courts subject to its superintendence to the provisions of Section 68 of the Code of Civil Procedure, and to impress upon them the necessity for exercising, in all cases other than those dealt with by them as Small Cause Court Judges, the discretion which the law gives them of determining whether the summons to issue in a suit should be for the fixing of issues only or for final disposal.

2. It is by no means the intention of the law that in every petty suit not tried by a Small Cause Court Judge there should be two hearings.

Sheriff's Office, the 2nd February 1881.

NOTICE is hereby given that the Second Criminal Sessions of the year 1881 of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal, for the Town of Calcutta and Factory of Fort William, and the places subordinate thereto, will be holden at the Court House, in the Town of Calcutta, on Tuesday, the First day of March next, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon, and so on from day to day until the said Sessions be over. And it is hereby proclaimed that all persons who will prosecute any of the prisoners to be brought up for trial at the said Sessions be present then and there to prosecute.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 23, 1881.

PART I A.

Orders and Notifications by the Government of India, &c.

[Reprinted from the Gazette of India.]

The following orders, issued by the Government of India in the Home, Revenue and Agricultural Department, are republished for general information :—

NOTIFICATIONS.—ESTABLISHMENTS.

Fort William, the 14th February 1881.

No. 56.—The privilege leave for three months granted to Sir S. C. Bayley, K.C.S.I., Chief Commissioner of Assam, in this Department Notification No. 33, dated 28th January 1881, is cancelled.

EDUCATION.

The 12th February 1881.

No 50.—Under Section 12 of Act II of 1857, the Governor-General in Council is pleased to authorize the affiliation of the City College, Calcutta, to the Calcutta University, up to the First Arts Standard, with effect from the 1st January 1881.

POLITICAL.

The 17th February 1881.

No. 289EP.—The following extract from the London Gazette, dated the 17th December 1880, is published for general information .—

And whereas on the eleventh day of December, one thousand eight hundred and eighty, a further Convention was entered into between Great Britain and Switzerland in the terms following :—

“ Swiss Federal Council having denounced by their note of the 22nd December 1877, the Treaty of Extradition of the 31st March 1874, existing between the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland and the Swiss Confederation, and the new Treaty of Extradition, signed on the 26th November 1880, not having yet received the necessary ratifications, the High Contracting parties, being desirous of prolonging the duration of the Treaty which is still in force, have named as their Plenipotentiaries with this object:

Le Conseil Fédéral Suisse ayant dénoncé, par note du 22 Décembre 1877, le Traité d'Extradition du 31 Mars 1874, existant entre le Royaume-Uni de Grande-Bretagne et d'Irlande et la Confédération, Suisse, et le nouveau Traité d'Extradition signé le 26 Novembre 1880, n'ayant pas encore reçu les ratifications nécessaires, les Hautes Parties Contractantes, désirant prolonger la durée du Traité actuellement encore en vigueur, ont nommé à cet effet pour leurs Plénipotentiaires :

"Her Majesty the Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland; Francis Carew, Esquire, Her Britannic Majesty's Charge d'Affaires at Berne; and

"The Federal Council of the Swiss Confederation, the Federal Councillor, M. Fridolin Anderwert, Chief of the Federal Department of Justice and Police;

"Who, after having reciprocally proved their full powers, have concluded the following Convention,—

"The duration of the Treaty of Extradition of the 31st March 1874, between the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland and the Swiss Confederation shall be prolonged from the 22nd December 1880, until the moment when the new Treaty of Extradition of the 26th November 1880, shall come into force in the two countries.

"Done at Berne, the 11th day of December 1880.

“(Signed) FRANCIS CAREW.

(Signé) ANDERWERT.”

Now, therefore, Her Majesty, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, and in virtue of the authority committed to Her by the said recited Acts, doth order, and it is hereby ordered, that the said Acts shall apply in the case of Switzerland and of the said Treaty and Protocol, and Conventions with the Swiss Confederation.

C. L. Peel.

The following orders, issued by the Government of India in the Department of Finance and Commerce, are republished for general information :—

NOTIFICATIONS.

Fort William, the 19th February 1881.

No. 753.—Read—

Resolution by the Department of Finance and Commerce, No. 2941, dated 30th September 1880.

Read letters from the Superintendent of Marine Surveys—

No. 2, dated the 11th January 1881.

No. 3, dated the 14th January 1881.

RESOLUTION.—The Governor-General in Council requests that the following direction may be incorporated in the Appendix to the Resolution of the 30th September last, describing the system of buoyage adopted for Indian waters.

The position of isolated sunken rocks shall be marked off by red conical buoys.

2. His Excellency in Council takes this opportunity to request that Port and other Local Authorities may be enjoined not to make any changes in the form or colour of any buoys without first consulting the Marine Survey Department. It is extremely important that the procedure should be everywhere uniform and that intimation should be published by the Marine Survey Department of every change some time before it is carried out.

ORDERED, that this Resolution be forwarded to the Governments of Madras, Bombay, and Bengal, and to the Chief Commissioner of British Burma, for information and the necessary action; and to the Military* (Marine) Department for information.

Ordered also, that the Resolution be published in the Gazette of India for general information.

No. 778.—Read the following :—

No. 30, dated 20th January 1880.

From—The Secretary of State for India.

To—The Government of India.

I HAVE to acquaint you that the rate of exchange for the adjustment of financial transactions between the Imperial and Indian Governments for the year 1881-82 has been fixed, with the concurrence of the Lords Commissioners of the Treasury, at one shilling and eight pence (1s. 8d.) the rupee, and I have to request that you will give the necessary instructions for the due observance of this rate in respect of all transactions to which it is applicable.

ORDERED, that this despatch be communicated to the Comptroller-General and to the Military and Public Works Departments, for information and guidance.

Ordered also, that this despatch be published in the Gazette of India for general information.

Calcutta, the 1st December 1880.

RULES FOR THE CUSTODY, DISTRIBUTION, AND SALE OF POSTAGE STAMP LABELS, &c.

*Approved by the Government of India, in the Department of Finance and Commerce, in letter
No 2837, dated 16th September 1880.*

[N.B.—These Rules apply to all kinds of Postage Stamps, with the exceptions noted in Rules V and VIII, in respect of Service Stamps and Soldiers' Envelopes.]

Central Depôts.

I.—There shall be three central depôts for postage stamps in charge of the Superintendents of Stamps at Madras, Bombay, and Calcutta. These central depôts shall maintain* a stock of postage stamps sufficient for two years' consumption. The Superintendents of Stamps in Madras and Bombay shall, for this purpose, forward, not later than the last week of September† in each year, their respective indents to the Superintendent of Stamps in Calcutta, who will include them in his general‡ consolidated indent for stamps of all descriptions, showing separately the demand for each of the three Presidencies. This general consolidated indent shall be submitted to the Government of India in the Department of Finance in time for transmission to the Secretary of State by 1st of November§ in each year. The Superintendent of Stamps, Calcutta, shall further forward,§ within the first week of October, to the Director-General of the Post Office of India, a copy of the section of the indent relating to postage stamps. *Supplies from central to local depôts shall be issued on credit.

* Secretary of State's Financial Despatch No. 125, dated 12th April 1877.

† Government of India, Department of Finance, No. 972, dated 26th February 1880.

‡ Government of India, Department of Finance, No. 3217, dated 11th October 1880.

§ Government of India, Department of Finance, No. 3315, dated 16th October 1880.

Supplies from Central Depôts.

II.—Postage stamps for the Madras Presidency, including Mysore, and the local depôts subordinate to Madras, shall be supplied by the Superintendent of Stamps at Madras on the indent of officers in charge of local depôts.

III.—Postage stamps for the Presidency of Bombay, including Sind, Berar, the Central Provinces, and local depôts subordinate to Bombay, shall be supplied by the Superintendent of Stamps at Bombay on the indent of officers in charge of local depôts.

IV.—Postage stamps for the Bengal Presidency, including the North-Western Provinces, Oudh, the Punjab, Central India, Rajpootana, Assam, and British Burmah, and local depôts subordinate to Calcutta, shall be supplied by the Superintendent of Stamps at Calcutta on the indent of officers in charge of local depôts.

Local Depôts.

V.—Every treasury throughout India, including those attached to political customs and salt agencies, shall be a local depôt for the sale of postage stamps, provided that the value of the stamps sold at one time to any purchaser shall not be less than Rs. 5, and shall not include any fraction of a rupee. At any station at which there is a collector of land revenue, neither a salt agent nor collector of customs shall be entrusted with the custody and sale of postage stamps. All sales under this rule will be for cash on delivery; and when the purchaser is one of those who are required to retail stamps under Rule VIII (not being a person employed in a Government treasury), or is one specially authorized under Rule IX, a discount of one-half anna per rupee will be allowed. But to purchasers other than the above, no discount will be allowed; and officers in charge of local depôts must see that discount is not allowed except to the privileged officers above referred to. The sale of ordinary envelopes and post-cards shall be subject to the same conditions, except that they shall be sold in packets containing sixteen each, portions of a packet not being saleable. The price of each packet shall be the value of the stamps borne by the envelopes or post-cards contained in it, the discount (if any) being calculated on that value.

The preceding rule is only partially applicable to "soldiers' envelopes," which will be sold in complete packets only in such treasuries as may be selected for the purpose by the Director-General of the Post Office in communication with the military authorities. Further, on these envelopes no discount will be allowed, and the charge per packet will include the cost of the envelopes, i.e. 12 annas for the value of the sixteen 9-pie stamps and two annas for the cost of the envelopes, or a total 14 annas per packet.

The preceding rule is also only partially applicable to "service stamps," which may be sold only to Government officials, on a written application, accompanied by payment of the value in cash; such sales are without restriction as to a minimum amount, and no discount is allowed. A receipt containing in detail the gross value of each description of service postage stamps sold will be granted by the treasury officer for the amount paid to him. The conditions in this clause are also applicable to service post-cards, with the exception that they shall be sold only in complete packets containing 32 each, portion of a packet not being saleable.

Certain Government treasuries have been specially authorized by the Director-General of the Post Office to sell service stamps to specified particular officials of specified native states, and for such sales, as well as for sales which may be made under future special instructions of like character, the conditions mentioned in the preceding clause shall apply.

VI.—A supply equal to the probable consumption for five months of the district attached to each local depôt shall be kept in each; and as soon as the number in store has fallen below the number expended during the preceding six months, the collector, or other officer in charge of the depôt, shall indent* on the central depôt of his presidency for a number equal to the consumption of the last three months, for which accounts have been rendered to the central depôt of the Presidency. If by any accident the stock of stamps of any value should run short before the receipt of a fresh supply from the central depôt, the officer in charge of the treasury will indent on neighbouring districts for a quantity sufficient to meet the demand, which may be supplied or not, according to the discretion and on the responsibility of the officer indented on with reference to the wants of his own district. It will be the duty of the Superintendent of Stamps of the Presidency to report to the Director-General of the Post Office, for the orders of Government, every occasion on which it may appear, from the monthly statement or otherwise, that the store of stamps of any particular value in any district has fallen below the authorized amount.

* Form 1.

Branch Depôts.

VII.—Every branch treasury and every tehsil treasury shall be a branch depôt for the sale of postage stamps under the conditions described in Rule V. It will receive its stamps from the local depôt to which it is subordinate, keeping always in store a supply sufficient to meet the probable demands of one month, estimated according to the average of former sales. It will keep an account of sales in the same form (3) hereafter prescribed for the treasurer's account, and will indent for supplies in the same form (4) as hereafter prescribed for the treasurer's indent. It will render an account monthly to the local depôt in Form 6A immediately on the expiration of the month.

Retail sale of Stamps.

VIII.—A supply of stamps for sale by retail shall be kept available at every post office, receiving office, tehsildari, thana, and every police-station at which letters are received for despatch, and with every licensed stamp-vendor; and it shall be the duty of the officer, to whom the person in charge of any of the abovenamed places is subordinate, to take steps to ensure that the supply kept on hand is at all times equal to at least one week's demand. Persons in charge of the abovementioned places will receive discount on purchases under Rule V. Superintendents and Inspectors of post offices, within their respective jurisdictions, and any other officers of the post office specially deputed for that purpose or authorized on that behalf by the Postmaster-General or officer exercising the powers of Postmaster-General, are empowered to examine the stock of postage stamps kept by a licensed stamp-vendor.

This rule does not apply to "service stamps" or to "soldiers' envelopes."

By the term "licensed vendor," as used above, is meant a stamp-vendor licensed under rules framed by the local Government in accordance with section 55 of the General Stamp Act (I of 1879).

Authorization of certain retail vendors other than the above.

IX.—A district officer may authorize the grant of discount at half-anna per rupee on purchases under Rule V to any person who is a bonâ fide retail vendor of postage stamps, although he may not be one of those required to retail them under the above rule. Such authority shall be given in writing, and must be produced by the person authorized when claiming discount on purchases; the authority will hold good for only 12 months from the date on which it is given, and may be revoked at any time at the discretion of the district officer. No such authority may be given to any person employed in a Government treasury. The authority so given may, at the discretion of the district officer, be made subject to conditions to be expressed in the writing of authority in any or all of the following respects, viz. the maintenance of a sufficient supply of all or any specified denominations of postage stamps for retail: a particular shop, place, or locality, or particular shops, places, or localities, in which postage stamps are to be exposed for sale: the days and hours during which they are to be so exposed, and any restriction upon the sale in shops, places, or localities other than those specified. A register showing the name, residence, and occupation of every person so authorized, and the date of the authority, shall be kept by the district officer. Superintendents and Inspectors of post offices within their respective jurisdictions, and any other officers of the post office specially deputed for that purpose or authorized on that behalf by the Postmaster-General or officer exercising the powers of Postmaster-General, are empowered to examine the stock of postage stamps kept by any person so authorized.

The term "district officer," as used above, include the political officer in a native state, who may grant authority to bonâ fide retail vendors as provided in the above rule.

Custody of Stamps in Local Depôts.

X.—The bulk of postage stamps in store at any local depôt shall be kept in parcels, containing a known number of sheets, in the treasury or other secure place, in one or more strong chests or presses, under double locks,—the key of one lock of each chest or press always remaining in the hands of the collector or other officer in charge of the stamps, and the key of the other in the hands of the treasurer.

XI.—The remainder of the stamps in store shall be in the hands of the treasurer, and shall not exceed the probable demand of fourteen days, estimated according to the average of former sales.

XII.—The treasurer shall keep a daily account of receipts and sales* in the vernacular of the district, in which the transactions of each succeeding day shall be entered consecutively, a balance being struck at the close of each day, and attested by the initials of the officer in charge of the treasury.

XIII.—On the first open day of each month, and on every Monday during the month, the treasurer shall prepare in the vernacular, and submit to the officer in charge of the postage stamps, an indent† for a supply of postage stamps for the following week. The indent, after being approved or altered by the officer in charge of the postage stamps, shall be signed by him, and complied with as directed in the following rule. The indent thus signed shall be the warrant for the issue of the stamps.

* Form 3.

† Form 4.

XIV.—The officer in charge of the postage stamps shall cause the store under double locks to be opened, and the required number to be counted and delivered to the treasurer in his presence. A store-book* shall be kept in English, in which the number and value of the stamps delivered to the treasurer shall be entered, and a balance struck at the time of delivery. This balance will be attested by the initials of the officer in charge and of the treasurer, both of whom shall invariably be present during the whole time that the store under double locks, or any part of it, remains open. The deliveries shown in the store-book will agree with the indent as approved.

* Form 5.

XV.—If the treasurer require stamps at any intermediate time, the same process will be observed as is prescribed in the two preceding rules.

XVI.—Stamps will be supplied from the store under double locks only to the treasurer and to branch depôts, and on indent from them respectively. Sales should be made not out of store, but from the supply in the hands of the treasurer or the supply in branch depôts.

XVII.—As soon as possible after the arrival of a despatch of postage stamps from a central depôt, or from any other local depôt, the packets or boxes are to be opened, one at a time, in the presence of the officer in charge of stamps. The stamps contained in each box or packet are then to be immediately counted and compared with the invoice,† which, after being receipted, will be returned by the first post to the depôt whence they were despatched. Unless the officer in charge of the stamps can certify that the stamps contained in any given packet or box were immediately counted by himself personally, or in his presence, he will be held responsible for the value of any that may be found deficient. The stamps are then to be placed in the store under double locks and entered in the store-books, and no stamps are to be delivered to the treasurer or sold to any party without being first brought into store.

XVIII.—Officers in charge of stamps will have the stamps in store, both those under double locks and those in the hands of the treasurer, counted in their presence on the last open day of September and March in each official year, and will certify having done so in the following terms at the foot of the monthly accounts of sales and stock ‡ for those months furnished to the Superintendent of Stamps :—

‡ Form 6.

“I do hereby certify that I have personally counted the number of sheets of postage stamps of the value of four annas each and upwards in store on _____ 188 , and that their actual value is $ _____ ; and I also further certify that the number of complete sheets of postage stamps of a lower value than four annas each, in store on the same date, has been counted by the treasurer in my presence, and that their actual value is $ _____ ; and I do further certify that, from the report of the treasurer made to me this day, the actual value of the stamps in his hands amounts to $ _____ ; and that the rules prescribed by the orders of the Government of India, dated 16th September 1880, are duly observed.”

N. B.—In cases where portions of the stock of stamps are in charge of tehsil officers, it will be necessary to obtain a certificate from each of the tehsildars for the postage stamps in his charge, and attach these certificates to the certificate for head quarter store.

Officer in Charge of Stamps.

§ NOTE.—The amounts to be entered in words as well as figures.

XIX.—On occasions of transfer of charge, postage stamps will be made over in the same manner, and under the same precautions, as the cash balance in the treasury.

XX.—The officer in charge of each local depôt will submit, within the first week of each month, an account || to the Superintendent of Stamps of his Presidency, showing the balance in hand at the sudder and branch treasuries at the close of the preceding month, and the sales effected during that month.

|| Form 6.

Returns to be made by Central Depôts, &c.

XXI.—The Superintendent of Stamps of each Presidency will at the commencement of each month, in addition to any account required by the Accountant-General, furnish the Director-General of the Post Office with a memorandum* showing the number of stamps of each description distributed by him during the preceding month, and the number remaining in stock at the close of the month.

* Form 7.

† The Superintendents of Stamps of Calcutta, Madras, Bombay, Lahore, and Nagpur, will, as soon after the close of each month as possible, furnish the Accountant-General to the Post Office with a memorandum† showing the total amounts of the actual sales in each local depôt and of all the local depôts supplied by them.

C. TAYLOR,

Asst. Secy. to the Government of Bengal,
P. W. Dept., Irrigation Branch.

The 5th February 1881.

Remarks on Traffic of the East Indian Railway for three weeks and 13 days ending 31st December 1880.

The approximate figures for the period are as follow :—

	Coaching.		Goods.		Total.	Material carried on revenue account, including maintenance.
	No.	Rs.	Mds.	Rs.	Rs.	Mds.	Rs.
1880	7,12,900	11,82,507	75,55,612	35,13,089	46,95,595	17,13,007	80,675
1879	6,16,182	10,89,789	66,12,327	31,16,112	42,05,900
Increase	96,718	92,719	10,13,285	3,96,976	4,89,695	17,13,007	80,675
Decrease

Giving an increase in receipts of 8.50 per cent. in coaching, and 12.73 per cent. in goods.

In goods traffic improvement has been general, with one or two exceptions; but the figures for this year are raised by the fact that they represent 34 days' working, against 32 days in 1879.

The principal staples calling for remark are—

Increases.

Brass.
Coal.
Cotton.
Ghee and oil.
Grain.
Indigo.
Iron.
Jaggree and Sugar.
Opium.
Piece-goods
Seeds.

Decreases.

Government stores.
Hides and horns.
Railway material, foreign.
Salt-petre.

INCREASES.

Brass and brassware Mds. 7,790 Rs. 10,700

The improved condition of the population has doubtless had an effect in stimulating the market for the sale of native-made utensils.

Coal, upwards	Mds. 57,170	Rs. 25,310
„ downwards	21,610	1,400
					81,780	26,710

In upwards coal the improvement shown is satisfactory, seeing that in the previous month there had been a falling off.

Cotton Mds. 2,40,460 Rs. 3,05,180

The demand for cotton for export to Europe and China continued throughout December.

Ghee and oil Mds. 6,030 Rs. 15,030

Ghee continues in demand at Howrah, and the supplies from North-West stations are plentiful.

Grains.

Abstracted, the principal items give results as follows :—

	Increase.		Decrease.
	Mds.	Rs.	Mds.	Rs.
Rice	1,12,510	85,000
Wheat	4,55,210	1,66,100
Other grains	2,61,580	48,750
Pulses	19,320	15,730
Total	8,48,650	2,84,420	...	15,730

Indigo Mds. 21,170 Rs. 14,970

Last year the crop was not good, while this season it was much better and prices more favourable to sellers.

Iron Mds. 33,160 Rs. 35,880

The up-country markets at Cawnpore and Delhi have imported large supplies of 1st-class iron from Calcutta.

Jaggree and Sugar Mds. 1,39,460 Rs. 49,320

There was a large falling off in jaggree in the corresponding period of 1879, and the traffic this year shows a decided improvement.

Opium Mds. 31,960 Rs. 33,560

The despatches appear to have been more regular this year.

Piece-goods Mds. 23,180 Rs. 33,100

One-half of this increase is in despatches made from Howrah to various up-country stations.

Seeds Mds. 2,53,660 Rs. 89,800

In the earlier days of the period stocks of linseed were low in Calcutta, and supplies were apparently despatched to meet current demands.

DECREASES.

Hides and Horns Mds. 53,550 Rs. 37,080

There is no lack of enquiry in the Calcutta market, nevertheless imports were small

Government stores	...	Mds. 28,920	Rs. 19,790
Commissariat	...	1,790	14,050
Ordnance

Total 30,710 34,440

The falling off may be attributed to the cessation of frontier operations.

Railway Materials, Foreign Mds. 80,290 Rs. 1,24,270

This large item of decrease is owing to the absence of any unusual demand for material for Foreign Railways.

Train-mileage for the period has been, excluding maintenance,—

				Coaching.	Goods	Total.
1880	2,31,068	5,88,478	8,17,544
1879	2,24,848	4,88,172	7,13,018
Increase	6,220	98,306	1,04,526
Decrease

PART IV.

Bill of the Bengal Council.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

THE following Bill was read in the Council of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 19th February 1881, and was referred to a Select Committee who are to report thereon to the next meeting of the Council:—

A Bill to amend the Calcutta Port Improvement Act Amendment Act, 1880.

WHEREAS it is expedient to facilitate the raising of loans by the Commissioners for making Improvements in the Port of Calcutta in the manner contemplated by Bengal Act IV of 1880, and to further amend Bengal Act V of 1870: It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Repeal of sections of Bengal Act IV of 1880.

2. For sections

Substitution of sections for sections 7 and 8 of Bengal Act IV of 1880.

“7. In case of default of payment of any interest, the Secretary of State shall have the same remedies as may be available to other creditors of the Commissioners under this Act; but nothing in this Act shall be deemed to confer upon the said Secretary of State any prior or greater right than that conferred upon other creditors of the Commissioners under this Act.

“8. It shall be lawful for the Commissioners. Power to repay before due date. if they think fit, out of any moneys which may come into their hands under the provisions of this Act, and which can be so applied without prejudicing the security of the other creditors of the Commissioners under this Act, to repay to the said Secretary of State any sum which for the time being may remain due to him under the provisions of this Act for principal, although the time fixed for the repayment of the same shall not have arrived: provided that no such repayment shall be made of any sum less than ten thousand rupees; and that, if such repayment is made, the amount of interest in each succeeding half-yearly instalment shall be adjusted so as to represent exactly the interest due on the outstanding principal.”

3. For the schedule annexed to the said Act IV of 1880 the following schedule shall be substituted:—

Form of debenture under Bengal Act IV of 1880.

“SCHEDULE (referred to in section 16).

FORM OF DEBENTURE.

The Commissioners for making Improvements in the Port of Calcutta.

The 18

Ac.

By virtue of the Act, No. IV of 1880, of the Council of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal for making Laws and Regulations, entitled “The Calcutta Port Improvement Act Amendment Act,” We, the Commissioners for making Improvements in the Port of Calcutta, in pursuance of the powers vested in us in sections 9, 10, and 12 of the above Act, and in accordance with the advertisement, dated , in consideration of the sum of Rs.

paid to us by , promise to pay to the said or order, the sum of Rs.

30 years after the date hereof, together with interest thereon at the rate of $4\frac{1}{2}$ per centum per annum, payable half-yearly on the day of and the day of . But if default shall be made for two consecutive, half-years in either the payment of the interest or making the necessary investments on account of the sinking fund, the loan shall at once become repayable.

(Signatures of the Chairman or Vice-Chairman and two Commissioners.)"

4. For section 20 of the said Act IV of 1880, the following section shall be substituted:

"20. The Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal may, on the recommendation of the Commissioners, from time to time, make such bye-laws consistent with this Act and with the Indian Ports Act, 1875, as he may think necessary for any of the following purposes (that is to say):

- (a) for regulating, declaring, and defining the wharves, quays, stages, jetties, and piers on and from which goods shall be landed from and shipped in vessels within the port;
- (b) for the safe and convenient use of such wharves, quays, stages, jetties, and piers and of landing-places, tramways, warehouses, sheds, and other works in and adjoining the same;
- (c) for regulating the reception and removal of goods within and from the premises of the Commissioners, and for declaring the procedure to be followed for taking charge of goods which may have been damaged before landing, or may be alleged to be so damaged;

(d) for the mode of payment of tolls, charges, dues, and rates levied under this Act;

(e) for the removal of wrecks from the port or the river, and keeping clean the port, the river, the bank of the river, and the works of the Commissioners, and for preventing filth and rubbish being thrown therein or thereon;

(f) for regulating the hours during which European seamen, and apprentices shipped on the same footing as European seamen, may be employed on board ships lying in the port or on wharves, quays, stages, jetties, and piers, in work necessitating exposure to the sun;

(g) for otherwise carrying out the purposes of this Act:

and may, from time to time, on the recommendation aforesaid, vary, alter, or revoke any such bye-law so made by him.

Previous to the making, alteration, or revocation of any such bye-law, the recommendation of the Commissioners in respect thereof shall be published for three weeks successively in the Calcutta Gazette."

5. In section 2 of Bengal Act V of 1870 as amended by Bengal Act VII of 1871 the words, "persons in number not more than thirteen nor less than nine," shall be substituted for the words "persons in number not more than twelve nor less than nine."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Port Commissioners finding that they were unable to raise loans in the open market under the restrictions imposed by section 17 of Bengal Act IV of 1880, represented the fact to Government. The matter being referred to me as Advocate-General, I recorded the following opinion:—

OPINION.

"Although I think that persons lending money to the Port Commissioners under the provisions of Bengal Act IV of 1880 would be practically safe, yet there exist doubtless legal objections which may be taken to the scheme developed by that Act with reference to loans and the remedies relating thereto. It has lately become usual to make loans repayable in default of payment of any one instalment of interest. There is no such provision in the Act, but, on the contrary, there is an express provision by which the principal may be tied up for 30 years.

Furthermore, no individual debenture-holder has any independent power of action in the event of any instalment of interest being unpaid, and all the ordinary legal remedies by decree and execution, or the appointment of a receiver by a civil court, are taken away from individual debenture-holders by section 17, and the appointment of a receiver is vested in the Lieutenant-Governor in the manner provided by that section. The objections above noticed principally stand in the way of the proposed loan being taken up. Sections 18 and 19, which appear to flow out of the provisions of section 17, are, I presume, also objected to.

Under these circumstances, the Act must, I think, be altered in such a manner as to get rid of the two principal objections above noticed; consequently sections 17, 18, and 19 must be omitted.

As a member of the Select Committee, I did not foresee the difficulties which have arisen. I thought that practical safety under the immediate supervision of the local Government, entailing no serious expenses, would have been a sufficient inducement to persons to lend money."

2. The Government of India have given their consent to the amendment of the law in such a manner as to remove the objections of capitalists to lend money to the Port Commissioners, and this Bill has accordingly been settled in consultation with the Port Commissioners and the Solicitor to the Bank of Bengal.

3. The opportunity is taken (1) to raise the maximum number of Commissioners to thirteen to enable the Lieutenant-Governor to add a member who shall represent the growing interests of Howrah, and (2) to empower the Lieutenant-Governor to make bye-laws regulating the hours of employment of European seamen and others in work necessitating exposure to the sun."

The 16th February 1881.

NOTIFICATION.

The 12th February 1881.—In the exercise of the powers conferred on him by Section 38, Act IV (B.C.) of 1871, as amended by Act II (B.C.) of 1879, the Lieutenant-Governor approves and confirms the following Bye-laws, which have been framed by the Deputy Commissioner of the Southal Pergunnahs, with the assent of the Health Officer of the town of Deoghur, for the management of all matters necessary for the due enforcement of the Act within the said town of Deoghur.

Bye-laws framed under Act IV (B.C.) of 1871, read with Act II (B.C.) of 1879, for the town of Deoghur.

PART I.

1. For the purposes of Act IV (B.C.) of 1871, as amended by Act II (B.C.) of 1879, the town of Deoghur shall be considered all the land within the municipal limits of that town.

2. A Committee consisting of two official and three non-official members shall be appointed to assist the Magistrate and Health Officer in carrying out the provisions of the Act.

3. On the 1st March in each year the Magistrate shall nominate the members to serve on the Committee during the ensuing official (April to March) year, and shall report the nomination for the sanction of the local Government.

4. In the event of the death, removal, or resignation of any member of the Committee during his year of office, an official member shall be succeeded by the successor to his appointment, or any other official; and in case of a non-official member, his successor shall be appointed by the remainder of the Committee, subject to the approval of Government.

PART II.

Rules for the conduct of Business.

5. A meeting of the Committee shall be held for the transaction of business and inspection of accounts at the office of the Magistrate, at least once in a quarter; provided that it shall be lawful for the Magistrate to call a meeting at any other time, recording his reasons for doing so, and also that the presence of three members shall be necessary to form a quorum.

6. Notice of every meeting shall be given to each member at least four clear days before the day appointed for the meeting.

7. The subject or subjects brought before the Committee shall be decided by a majority of votes. In the event of division of opinion, the Magistrate, or, in his absence, the Health Officer, shall have a casting vote.

8. The Health Officer shall be ex-officio Secretary to the Committee, and the Magistrate ex-officio President. The proceedings of every meeting shall be recorded by the Secretary in a book kept for the purpose.

PART III.

On the receipt and disbursement of money under the Act.

9. On the 15th October of each year a budget of probable receipts and of proposed expenditure during the ensuing official year shall be submitted for the sanction of Government.

10. It shall be competent for the Committee, with the sanction of the Commissioner, to transfer sums from one item of the budget to another; but the total expenditure allowed by Government in the budget shall never be exceeded.

11. In framing every annual estimate, an amount not exceeding 25 per cent. of the total income shall be reserved for extraordinary contingencies, such as sudden outbreaks of cholera and sickness, and the necessity for employment of extra and special establishments.

12. At the close of every year the Magistrate shall submit a report on the working of the Act during the year, showing the works of improvement and conservancy carried out, and a detailed account of the receipts and expenditure during the year, and the balance in hand at its close. The report shall be forwarded through the Commissioner to Government.

PART IV.

Regarding Conservancy.

13. The Hindu members of the Committee shall constitute a standing Sub-Committee for the purpose of inspecting the interior of temples and bringing to notice any infringement of the laws and bye-laws that may be committed within them, and proposing any measures for sanitation and proper conservancy within the temples: provided that the Magistrate shall carry out all works of sanitation or conservancy inside the temples through the Superintendent or Sirdar Ojha.

Miscellaneous

19. Every panda or other person who brings pilgrims to Baidanath shall be bound to furnish the Magistrate or Health Officer with any information he may require as to the disposal of such pilgrims in the town of Deoghur: any refusal to furnish such information shall be punished with a fine not exceeding Rs. 20, and any false information as to such disposal of pilgrims shall render the person giving it liable to prosecution under section 177 of the Indian Penal Code.

NOTIFICATION.

The 22nd February 1881.—In exercise of the powers conferred upon him by section 314 of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1876, the Lieutenant-Governor confirms the following bye-laws, which were made by the Commissioners of the Serampore Municipality at a meeting convened expressly for the purpose, and of which due notice had been given; and in exercise of the powers conferred by section 315 of the same Act, the Lieutenant-Governor sanctions the penalties which have been declared by the said Commissioners for the breach of the said bye-laws:—

BYE-LAWS FOR THE SERAMPORE MUNICIPALITY UNDER ACT V (B.C.) OF 1876.

For regulating the conduct of business at meetings of the Commissioners.

1. Notice of each ordinary meeting shall be given at least three clear days, of each extraordinary meeting at least two clear days, before the day of meeting.

Meetings shall be ordinarily held once a month, on such day and at such hour as the Commissioners at a meeting may from time to time determine.

2. The proposition book shall be circulated before the notice of the ordinary monthly meeting is issued, and the Commissioners shall enter in it any propositions that they may have to make at the meeting.

3. A list of business, containing the Chairman's and Commissioners' propositions, shall be circulated with the notice of meeting, and no proposition, not in this list, shall be discussed at the meeting.

4. The first item of business will always be to read over and confirm, or correct, errors that may have been made in recording the minutes of the proceedings of the last meeting. The next items will be any propositions that may have been postponed from last meeting. Then new propositions shall be taken up.

5. The President will lay the propositions before the meeting in their order in the list circulated under bye-law No. 3, and after the proposer has spoken, the proposition must be seconded. No proposition not seconded can be discussed. If the proposer be absent, any Commissioner may support his proposal. When special cause is shown, a proposition may, with the consent of the President, be taken up out of order.

6. The President shall decide who shall address the meeting in case of dispute.

7. An amendment may be proposed by any Commissioner. If it is seconded, it may be discussed. After discussion amendments shall be put to the vote by the President, beginning with that last proposed and ending with that first proposed. If all the amendments are lost, the original proposition shall be put to the vote. No member shall vote by proxy.

8. Votes shall be taken by show of hands, first for, then against, the proposition or amendment.

9. Unless not less than two-thirds of the Commissioners consent by signing a requisition, no subject once finally disposed of can be reconsidered within six months.

10. Minutes of the proceedings shall show the names of all members present, the words of all propositions and amendments, and the number of votes for and against each.

For regulating the collection of taxes.

11. The collecting officer shall prepare the bills, and the Chairman or Vice-Chairman shall sign them.

12. Every collecting officer shall be provided with a certificate of his authority to collect, and every such certificate shall bear the seal of the municipality and the signature of the Chairman or Vice-Chairman. Every collecting officer, at the time of demanding payment, shall be bound to show his certificate, if required.

13. The collecting officer, when taking the money in payment of any demand, shall give an acknowledgment for it on the back of the bill, signed under bye-law No. 11, which shall be the receipt.

14. No other receipt except one issued direct from the office shall be considered evidence of payment.

15. When property distrained is sold under section 115, the purchaser shall deposit, at the time of sale, half the amount of his bid, and shall receive delivery of the property purchased on payment of the full amount. If the balance be not paid within three days from the date of sale, the sale shall be held void, the deposited money forfeited, and the article again put up for sale.

For regulating the conduct of persons employed by the Commissioners.

16. All persons employed by the Commissioners, whose services may no longer be required, shall, unless there be some agreement to the contrary, be liable to discharge after receipt of one month's previous notice or pay in advance, and no such person shall withdraw from the duties of his office without having given a like notice on pain of forfeiture of one month's salary.

17. Any person in the service of the Commissioners failing to furnish security within a certain time, when required to do so under section 49, shall be held at the expiry of that time to have forfeited his appointment.

For regulation and management of privies.

18. Every person who shall construct his privy shall do so above ground, and shall provide his privy or premises with a suitable moveable receptacle of metal or earthenware for the reception of fœcal matter.

The penalty for infringement shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 20.

19. No night-man, sweeper, or other person carrying night-soil through the streets shall loiter or deposit any vessel containing night-soil on or by the side of any public road or street.

The penalty for infringement shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 20.

For regulating burning ghâts and burying-grounds.

20. No person shall bury, or cause to be buried, any corpse in any burial-ground in a grave constructed of masonry in such manner that the top of the coffin, or the body when no coffin is used, shall be at a less depth than five feet from the surface of the ground.

The penalty for infringement shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 20.

21. No person shall bury, or cause to be buried, in any burial-ground any corpse in a grave so constructed that the body shall be less than $5\frac{1}{2}$ feet from the surface.

The penalty for infringement shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 20.

22. No person shall build or dig, or cause to be built or dug, any grave in any burial-ground at less distance than two feet from any other existing grave.

The penalty for infringement shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 20.

23. No person shall build or dig, or cause to be built or dug, a grave in any burial-place in any other line than that marked out by the Commissioners.

The penalty for infringement shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 20.

24. No grave once used shall be opened for the burial of another body without the permission of the Commissioners.

The penalty for infringement shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 20.

25. No person when burning, or causing to be burnt, any corpse, or part of a corpse, in any burning-ground, shall permit the same, or any part thereof, to remain at the ghât without being completely reduced to ashes, or shall permit the clothes or other articles connected with the burning of such corpse to remain at or near the burning ground, unless the same be completely reduced to ashes.

In case the deceased shall have died of an infectious disease, such articles shall be burnt.

The penalty for infringement shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 20.

26. No person shall remove or sell any clothes or other articles appertaining to a corpse which may have been left at any burial-ground or burning ghât.

The penalty for infringement shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 50.

27. No one shall carry a corpse, or part of a corpse, through any highway, unless it be decently covered and totally concealed from view.

The penalty for infringement shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 10.

28. No person, while conveying any corpse, or part of a corpse, shall, except for the purpose of ordinary relief, deposit it on or near any public highway.

The penalty for infringement shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 10.

29. Every corpse, or part of a corpse, that has been kept or used for the purpose of dissection, must be removed in a closed receptacle.

The penalty for infringement shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 20.

General bye-laws.

30. No person shall construct, or place over, or by the side of any public drain, any bridge, platform, building, or structure of any kind, except by and with the written permission of the Commissioners, and in such manner as they shall direct.

The penalty for infringement shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 50: the penalty for continued infringement shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 3 daily.

31. No person shall make a shop over any public drain, or in any way occupy any culvert, bridge, or platform which may have been placed over any public drain.

The penalty for infringement shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 50.

32. If any house, wall, or other erection, or any part thereof, fall upon any public highway, or into any public drain, the owner of such house, wall, or erection shall remove it within eight days after notice by the Commissioners.

The penalty for infringement shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 50: the penalty for continued infringement shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 10 daily, on the expiration of eight days after the service of notice.

33. No person shall perform any office of nature in any public road or place other than such places as may have been appointed by the Commissioners, or in any place visible from it within 50 yards, provided that such places have been set apart by the Commissioners.

The penalty for infringement shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 10.

34. No person shall allow any animal to stray into any highway.

The penalty for infringement shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 5.

35. No person shall picket any animals, or collect carts, or form any encampment, upon any public ground without the permission of the Commissioners.

The penalty for infringement shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 10.

36. No person shall let any animal loose in any public road without sufficient guard, or picket or tether any animal, so that it can, while picketed, reach any public road.

The penalty for infringement shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 10.

37. No person shall enlarge or deepen any existing tank or other excavation without the permission of the Commissioners.

The penalty for infringement shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 25.

38. No person shall remove from, or deposit earth or any other substance in, or make any alteration whatever in, any public drain without the permission of the Commissioners.

The penalty for infringement shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 50.

39. Any person who shall, in contravention of the prohibition contained in section 256 of the Act, make, renew, or thoroughly repair with grass, leaves, mats, or other inflammable materials, the external roofs and walls of any hut or other building, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 20, and the Commissioners shall have power to order to be demolished all or any part of such hut or building.

For regulating the disposal of offensive matter, rubbish, and dead bodies of animals.

40. The Commissioners may from time to time order to be closed and appoint places for the deposit of the carcasses of animals; and any person who shall deposit, or cause to be deposited, without special permission, the carcass of any animal in any place other than may have been appointed by the Commissioners, or in any place which they may have ordered to be closed, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 50.

41. No person shall throw or place, or permit his servants to throw or place, on any road or street, any broken glass, broken bottles, or crockery, but such rubbish may be placed directly on the conservancy carts.

The penalty for infringement shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 10.

42. Every person, within whose premises any animal may die, shall within two hours after its death, or if death occurs at night, within two hours after daylight, either remove, at his own expense the carcass to such place as may be set apart by the Commissioners, for the reception of such carcasses, or report its death to the Conservancy Overseer of the division within which such premises may be situated, and in such latter case shall pay the said overseer the expense of removing the carcass at such rate as the Commissioners may determine; and in cases where the said person is not the owner of the animal, and the owner is known, the owner shall alone be responsible for the payment of such expense, and such expense shall be recoverable as a debt due to the Commissioners. No overseer, when called upon, shall neglect to remove the carcass.

The penalty for infringement shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 10.

For regulating traffic in the streets.

43. No person shall, without the permission of the Commissioners, take an elephant or camel along any public road within the limits of the municipality, except by such route as shall be fixed for the purpose by the Municipal Commissioners.

NOTIFICATION.

The 21st February 1881.—Pending the passing of general rules under section 68 of the Merchant Shipping Act VII of 1880, for the examination of Ship Surveyors and other matters provided therein, the following provisional rules for the grant of certificates to Ship Surveyors actually practising in the Port of Calcutta and for the conduct of enquiries into charges of incompetency and misconduct on the part of the holders of such certificates have, with the sanction of the Governor-General in Council, been approved by the Lieutenant-Governor under the above section, and are hereby published for general information :—

1. A Board, consisting of the following members, is appointed for the purpose of examining the qualifications of, and granting certificates to, Ship Surveyors now actually practising in the Port of Calcutta :—

The Vice-Chairman of the Port Commissioners of Calcutta.
The Port Officer of Calcutta.
The Chief Engineer, Government Dockyard, Kidderpore.
The Master Builder, ditto ditto.

2. The Board will proceed without delay to take up the duty entrusted to them, giving due and separate notice to all Ship Surveyors whom they may know to be now practising in the Port, and inserting a general notice to such candidates in the Calcutta Gazette and in the three leading daily newspapers of the Presidency. They will make their own arrangements as to the time and place at which their sittings shall be held.

3. No test examination of the knowledge of any such candidate shall be necessary, but the Board shall accept, as sufficient evidence of qualification, proof that such candidate for a certificate is actually practising as a surveyor to any recognized Register of Shipping, or that he has been practising as surveyor to any Insurance Company for over two years.

4. On being furnished with such proof, the Board shall grant the candidate a certificate in the following terms :—

“Certified, under section 68 of Act VII of 1880, that A B is qualified to practise the profession of a Ship Surveyor in the Port of Calcutta.

Dated

Calcutta

Board of Examiners.”

5. No fee shall be charged for such certificate.

6. The surveyors employed by Lloyd's Register of British and Foreign Shipping and Bureau Veritas are, under section 69 of the Act, specially exempted from the provisions of section 68, but only while “discharging the duties of such employment.” Any such surveyor engaging in private practice is required to take out a certificate under these rules.

7. Enquiries into charges of misconduct or incompetence on the part of surveyors certified under these rules shall be conducted by the Court of Survey appointed under section 13 of the Act, and that Court is hereby authorized to cancel or suspend certificates, submitting its proceedings in such cases for the confirmation of Government. The Port Commissioners or any person interested may prefer such charges before the Court of Survey.

NOTIFICATION.

The 16th February 1881.—The following rules for the collection of drift timber in the Sunderbuns forests, under section 51 of the Indian Forest Act, VII of 1878, having been sanctioned by the Lieutenant-Governor, are hereby published for general information :—

I. Interpretation clause.—All words used in these rules and defined in Act VII of 1878 (the Indian Forest Act, 1878) shall be deemed to have the meanings respectively attributed to them by the said Act.

And in these rules 'Drift Timber' shall mean timber of the descriptions mentioned in section 45 of the said Act.

II. Procedure to be used in obtaining permits to collect drift timber.—Any person who, within the area of the Sunderbuns to which section 45 of the Act has been extended by the Government Notification of the 3rd November 1879, published in the Calcutta Gazette of the 19th idem. wishes to save drift timber, shall apply to the officer in charge of the Sunderbuns Forest Division for a written permit specifying the nature of the timber which he wishes to save, and shall register the boat or boats to be used in salving.

Every boat so registered shall have conspicuously painted on it its register number, the date of registration, and a letter indicating the revenue station at which such boat was registered. A fee of Rs. 5 shall be levied for each boat for the first registration, and a fee of one-half this amount for every subsequent registration. Every registration shall hold good for one year from the date thereof. Provided that if any person shall wish to enter the area defined above for the purpose of salving drift timber, the property of himself or of any known owner, a written permit for this special purpose may be granted him by the officer in charge of the Sunderbuns Forest Division on payment of a fee of Rs. 2 only: but such person shall be bound by all the conditions regarding the registration and marking of his boat laid down in this rule.

III. Salved timber to be taken to drift timber depôts.—All timber salved shall be taken, with as little delay as possible, to the nearest drift timber depôt.

IV. Nothing to prevent chance timber being salved.—Nothing in the preceding rules shall be held to prevent any person lawfully plying a boat within the limits of the Sunderbuns reserved and protected forests from salving any drift timber that he may find.

V. Salved timber which may become vested in Government to be sold by auction.—All drift timber salved under these rules, which may become vested in Government under section 48 of the Indian Forest Act, shall be sold by auction within such periods and in such manner as the Conservator of Forests may direct.

VI. Amount of salvage (a).—Any person, whether a Forest Officer or not, who has salved any drift timber, shall be entitled to receive as salvage an amount equivalent to 15 per cent. of the estimated value of such drift timber, as adjudged by the Sunderbuns Divisional Officer or by any subordinate officer specially authorized by the Conservator of Forests in that behalf:

(b) Provided that any person authorized by permit to save drift timber under Rule II shall receive as salvage an amount equivalent to 25 per cent. of the estimated value of the drift timber salved by him, such value being adjudged as above provided.

(c) In special cases the Conservator of Forests may increase the amount of salvage to a sum not exceeding 50 per cent. of the estimated value of the drift timber salved.

(d) When more persons than one are concerned in salving, the amount of salvage shall be paid to them collectively and on their joint receipt.

VII. Payments required when drift timber is proved to be the property of a claimant.—If the drift timber collected shall be shown under section 47 of the Act to be the property of any person other than Government, such person shall be liable to pay to Government, under section 50 of the Act, the following amounts, viz :—

- (1) the actual amount of salvage paid to the salvor;
- (2) the actual cost incurred in moving the timber to the drift depôt;
- (3) such fees as may, from time to time, be fixed, with the sanction of Government, for the storing of timber at such depôt.

VIII. Registration of property marks.—Any person holding a permit under Rule II who makes use of any property mark or device for marking drift timber salved by him may register the same in the office of the Sunderbuns Forest Divisional Officer. The fee to be paid for such registration shall be 1 rupee for the first year, and eight annas for each annual renewal. A certificate of registration showing the marks registered shall be given on payment of the prescribed fee.

IX. Penalty clause.—Any person who shall infringe any of these rules shall be punished with imprisonment for a term which may extend to six months, or with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees, or with both.

NOTIFICATION.

Dated 25th February 1881.—The following rules, regarding stamps used to denote fees chargeable in the Calcutta Court of Small Causes, are hereby published under section 27 of Act VII of 1870:—

1. No commission shall be charged on the fractional parts of eight annas, i.e., if a suit be for Rs. 10 and odd annas, being less than eight annas, commission will only be charged on Rs. 10. If the amount claimed be for Rs. 10-8 and upwards, but under Rs. 11, then commission will be charged on Rs. 10-8.

Stamp duty not to be charged on fractional parts of eight annas.

2. The necessary stamps shall be provided by the parties liable to pay the commission and fees, and shall, in respect of the institution of suits, be affixed to the plaint in respect whereof such commission and fees are payable. The costs and fees payable in respect of warrants, subpoenas, second summonses, and all other processes whatsoever, not being original summonses in reference to which it has not been customary to file as part of the record any written or printed document or paper whereon the stamp could be affixed, shall be paid as follows, i.e., the party requiring such process to be issued shall produce an application in writing, and a stamp equal to the amount of costs and fees payable shall be affixed to such application. Such application shall be entitled in the cause or matter to which it relates, and shall specify shortly the object thereof, and shall be filed in the particular office of the court to which it relates.

3. In order that the terms of a document may not be defaced or obscured, the stamp affixed to it shall be of an amount corresponding as nearly as practicable with the amount of the stamp which such document requires.

Stamps to be of the values specified.

Rs.	A.	Rs.	A.	Rs.	A.
0	1	2	0	8	0
0	2	3	0	9	0
0	3	4	0	10	0
0	4	5	0	20	0
0	8	6	0	30	0
1	0	7	0	50	0

4. Stamps of the values noted in the margin will be required for the purposes of the Court. Such stamps shall be obtained by the Court stamp vendor from the office of the Collector of Calcutta direct.

5. No document required to have a stamp shall be received or filed in any proceedings in court until the stamp has been cancelled or defaced. The cancellation shall be effected by punching out the figure-head, so as to leave the amount designated on the stamp untouched, and the part removed by punching shall be burnt or otherwise destroyed.

6. Whenever a stamp is cancelled in the manner required by Rule 5, the date of cancellation shall be marked upon it in writing, or with a stamp to be provided for that purpose.

7. The treasurer of the Court for the time being shall be the stamp vendor, and the stamps shall be sold by him or his assistants in an office or offices situate within the premises of the Court, and nowhere else. The stamp vendor's office shall be open daily for the sale of stamps (except on such days as the Court shall not be sitting), between the hours of 10 A.M. and 2-30 P.M.

8. A register shall be kept by the stamp vendor, in which shall be entered daily the number and denomination of stamps received from the Stamp Office, and the quantity sold; and the Collector shall furnish to the Court, at the close of each month, a memorandum showing the number and value of stamps sold to the vendor on account of the Court during the month.

9. A register shall also be kept in the office of the Clerk of the Court by an officer to be styled the Compromise Register Writer, in which shall be entered the particulars of cases compromised, and of cases in which costs have been remitted, either in whole or in part, by order of the Judges. It shall also be the duty of the Compromise Register Writer to make out the certificates for the payment of half and remitted costs. It shall be the duty of the accountant to examine the certificates and compare them with the original records, and, if correct, to pass and initial the same for payment. The certificates, after being signed by the Clerk of the Court, shall be paid by the stamp vendor. The stamp vendor shall receive credit for the sums so paid in his account with the Collector of Stamps, who will hold the certificates as his vouchers. The Clerk of the Court will also furnish to the Collector, at the close of each month, a memorandum showing the number of, and the amount for which, certificates have been issued during the month.

10. It shall be the duty of the Superintendent or head officer of the department in which applications are filed, with such aid as may be required, under the immediate superintendence of the Clerk of the Court, to receive all documents and see that the blank space in them is not unnecessarily covered with stamps, and that stamps of the proper description and values are affixed, and to perform the duties required by Rules 5 and 6. The Superintendent shall grant a receipt or memorandum for every application filed; and no money shall be paid out of the Court unless on production of the said receipt or memorandum, or by order of a Judge.

11. In all cases of doubt as to the necessity of imposing a stamp, or the amount thereof, the Superintendent of the department in which the application is to be filed shall refer to the Clerk of the Court, and that officer shall determine all questions so referred to him, subject to the final decision of the First Judge, upon such questions as shall be referred to him under the provisions of section 5, Act VII of 1870.

12. These rules do not apply to fees payable to Counsel and Attorneys of the High Court in cases certified, or to the costs of references to the High Court.

Rules inapplicable to Counsel and Attorneys, and to costs of references to High Court.

HORACE A. COCKERELL,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

IRRIGATION.

Dated 8th February 1881.

No. 29.—Notification.—In exercise of the powers conferred on him by Section 99 of Act III (B.C.) of 1876, the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to direct the publication of the following rules for the Sarun Irrigation Scheme.

H. C. LEVINGE,

Joint-Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal,P. W. Dept., Irrign. Branch.

Draft Rules for the guidance of the Canal Officers appointed for the management of the Sarun Irrigation Scheme.

1. In Notification No 179, dated 18th August 1879, under the provisions of Part II of Act III of 1876, Government has reserved to itself the rights of property in the water in the following canals and river beds forming part of the Sarun Irrigation Scheme :—

1. The Roopun Chup Sota.
2. The main canal.
3. The Daba river and the water channels in continuation of or in connection with it.
4. The Gunducki river and the water channels in continuation of or in connection with it.
5. The Dhanai river and the water channels in continuation of or in connection with it.
6. The Gaugree river and the water channels in continuation of or in connection with it.

• These rivers and canals will hereinafter be referred to as the Sarun canals.

2. On and after the 19th November 1880, no person shall take water from the Sarun canals for irrigation or manufacturing purposes without the written permission of a duly authorized person.

Licenses will be required—

- (a) For the construction of temporary dams in the canal beds.
- (b) For the erection of fishing weirs.
- (c) For the use of fishing nets.
- (d) For the irrigation of lands by flow or lift.
- (e) For the construction of village channels and distributaries leading from the canals for the irrigation of lands.
- (f) For water used for the purpose of any manufacture.

3. Government reserves at present its right to levy tolls for navigation, and to charge for filling tanks, watering cattle, or for water for other domestic purposes.

4. The Revenue Administration of the Sarun Irrigation Scheme is vested in the Collector, who is ex-officio head of the Canal Revenue Department. The Executive Engineer of the Gunduck Division, as Canal Officer, is his chief executive officer, and his Secretary in the Canal Department. All orders relating to the Canal Revenue will usually be issued by the Collector through the Executive Engineer as Canal Officer, and all correspondence intended for the Collector in this department should be addressed to the office of the Canal Department, Mozufferpore.

5. For administrative purposes, the Sarun district is divided into thirteen sub-districts, corresponding generally with those divisions which Sarun Indigo Planters recognize as factory dehats.

These sub-districts are shown in a map deposited in the Collector's office. The boundaries of the sub-districts and their number may be hereafter modified.

6. The following gentlemen are, till further orders, appointed Canal Managers, and will be in charge of these sub-districts :—

Manager of the Sadawa Concern for the time being.

Ditto	Jogapore	ditto.
Ditto	Burboga	ditto.
Ditto	Rajaputti	ditto.
Ditto	Burowlee	ditto.
Ditto	Ramcola	ditto.
Ditto	Arroah	ditto.
Ditto	Hutwah estate	ditto.

7. The duties of Canal Managers will be—

1st.—To receive and register applications for the use of water under sections 74 and 77 of the Irrigation Act.

2nd.—To grant permits for the use of water under section 75 of the Act.

3rd.—Subject to the instructions of the Canal Officers, to control the water-supply under the provisions of section 76.

4th.—To recover and credit to Government the water-rates.

5th.—To superintend and maintain such establishment as may be found necessary.

8. Canal Managers have no power under Parts III, IV, and V of the Act; and all claims or remission under section 76 of Part VI should be referred to the Canal Officer or his Deputy for disposal. Complaints regarding unauthorized use of canal water under sections 79, 80, and 81 are also to be referred to the Canal Officer for decision. All proceedings connected with the recovery of water-rates by distraint, or other compulsory process, will be undertaken by the Collector.

9. Persons desiring the construction of a temporary dam on the Sarun canals must prefer a written application to the Canal Manager in whose jurisdiction the proposed dam lies, specifying the object of the work, and the length of the time for which it is required. The application will be submitted to the Canal Officer, with the opinion of the Canal Manager. If the Canal Officer considers the construction of such temporary dam expedient, he shall call upon the applicant, or applicants, to deposit a sum of money sufficient to cover the cost of construction and maintenance of the dam, and of removing the same when no longer required.

On the completion of the dam, the Canal Officer shall give the applicant, or applicants, notice thereof, and also of any further sum payable by him, or them, on account of its construction. The Canal Officer shall not permit irrigation with water raised by the dam until the whole sum thus demanded shall have been paid. Rates for such irrigation will be charged as fixed in rule 12.

10. If one or more of the riparian proprietors desire to have a permanent dam erected in any river bed, he or they shall present an application to that effect to the Collector who will decide, in communication with the Canal Officer, on the advisability of constructing such a dam. Should he deem it desirable, he shall cause plans and estimates to be prepared, and shall then call on the applicants to give a guarantee, securing interest at $4\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. on the amount of the estimates, provided that, if the cost of the work should, through unforeseen causes, exceed the original estimate, the Guarantor or Guarantors shall pay interest on the total cost of the work. The construction of the dam will be carried out by the Canal Officer. A register shall be kept of the Guarantors of the cost of dam, and any person may, at any time, apply to the Canal Officer to be made a part owner thereof on payment to the co-sharers in the work, of such sums as may be fixed by the Collector. Shares will generally be distributed in proportion to the area of the estates concerned. The privileges of an owner are (1) exemption from any higher rate than Re 1 per acre per annum, and (2) prior claim to irrigation from the dam. Other persons irrigating from the dam may be charged any rate, not above Rs. 2, which may be fixed by Government. The maintenance of the permanent dam shall be a charge against the owner. The Canal Officer shall have power to stop all supplies of water if the dam is not maintained in proper repair.

11. The Collector shall make arrangements for the disposal of the fisheries, and the sale-proceeds of the rights of the same shall be an asset to be taken into account in determining the guarantor's liabilities for any portion of the guarantee in any year.

12. Persons desiring to irrigate their fields with canal water by flow or lift must submit a written application in the form (Appendix A) to be obtained by himself or by his agent from the Canal Manager, whereupon the latter shall issue a permit, in form Appendix B, to irrigate. The right to irrigate without extra charge extends up to 15th February following the date on which the permit was issued. The rate charged shall not exceed Re. 1 per acre irrespective of the crops grown, except in special cases to be determined by Government.

13. Any person desirous of taking water for manufacture of indigo must apply to the Canal Officer through the Canal Manager, stating the area of cultivation, the area which he has leased for irrigation, and promising that he will on the 1st of October declare the quantity he has manufactured.

14. Licenses will be granted on the following terms:—

(a). To persons irrigating an area of not less than half their cultivation, one rupee per maund.

(b). To persons irrigating an area of less than half their cultivation, two rupees per maund.

Provided that, as guarantors are, under the terms of their guarantees, entitled to water for manufacture free of charge, the sums leviable from them under the above conditions shall be set off against the guarantee, and, on consideration of the payment of the latter, be written off the account.

15. The privileges of guarantors are as follows:—

- (1) A prior claim to a supply of water for irrigation and manufacture during the continuance of their guarantee.
- (2) Each guarantor to have a sub-district within which he shall act as the agent of Government in managing the affairs of the canal, receiving a commission on his collection of 20 per cent.
- (3) The right to use water for manufacturing purposes free of charge.

16. Any person may apply to the Collector to become a guarantor. If the Collector accept the application, which at his discretion he may or may not do, he shall proceed, in communication with the Canal Officer, to determine whether the new guarantee shall be utilized towards extending the canals, providing distributaries or embankments, or towards reducing the responsibility of the original guarantor. If the original guarantor (within whose dehat the applicant's property or interest is situated) claims a reduction in his guarantee and can at the same time show that the application of the new guarantor towards an extension of the canal would operate to reduce his collections below the amount of his guarantee, his claims to have his guarantee reduced shall be approved; otherwise, the new guarantee may be applied towards extending the canals, and an area corresponding to the applicant's property or interest be marked off to him, within which he shall exercise the rights and privileges now exercised in their dehats by the guarantors mentioned in paragraph 5 of these rules.

If the applicant's interest or property be not situated within any dehat as specified in paragraph 5, then the Collector shall apply the guarantee towards extending the benefits of the canal system.

17. Canal Managers or guarantors requiring water for the irrigation of their own fields, or for manufacture, will apply for the requisite permit to the Collector through the Canal Officer. In the license for the use of water for irrigation and manufacture, the rates to be charged shall be stated. In accordance with rules 12, 13, and 14 the following rates will be charged, subject to the proviso in paragraph 14:—

		Rs. A.
Irrigation per acre	1 0
	Manufacture.	Per md.
		Rs. A.
To persons irrigating one-half of their cultivation	1 0
To persons irrigating less than one-half	2 0

18. The irrigation year will commence on the 1st of April, and as soon after the 15th January and 15th September of each year as possible, the Canal Manager shall present bills for water-rates based on the actual area irrigated, and deliver them to the irrigators before the 15th February and 15th October. If these bills are not paid to the Canal Manager before the 1st of March and 1st of November, he shall prepare a list of unpaid claims, and submit the same to the Collector through the Canal Officer, who will put in force the powers vested in him for their recovery in accordance with sections 83, 84, and 85 of the irrigation Act.

19. It will be the duty of Canal Managers to see—

- 1st.—That all applications for water are made in the forms supplied to them. These applications must be filed for reference, and will be issued to applicants free of charge.
- 2nd.—That all licenses for the use of water be issued in the prescribed form, and a copy be kept in counterfoil in books supplied for the purpose.
- 3rd.—That a monthly return of applications received and issued be submitted to the Collector in a form to be supplied by the Canal Officer.
- 4th.—That copies of bills presented for payment be kept in the counterfoils supplied for record.
- 5th.—That a cash-book of all receipts of water-rates be kept in forms supplied for the purpose.
- 6th.—That a weekly rainfall statement, and irrigation notes be sent to the Canal Officer and be kept in duplicate for record.
- 7th.—That for all cash received, receipts be granted in the form supplied by the Canal Officer which will be kept in counterfoil.
- 8th.—That all cash received be paid monthly into the sub-divisional or district treasury without deduction, and that the treasury receipts be filed with the cash-book as vouchers.
- 9th.—That monthly advices of cash paid to the treasury be sent to the Canal Officer in forms to be supplied by him.
- 10th.—That bills for commission on the collections at 20 per cent. be submitted when requisite to the Canal Officer who will issue cheques for their payment on the order of the Collector.

20. On the 1st April of each year, or as soon after as practicable, the Canal Officer will prepare a statement showing—

- (a) The sum guaranteed.
- (b) The total collection.
- (c) The total payments into the treasury.
- (d) The excess of (b) over (a) on which bills for the 20 per cent. allowance are to be drawn.

All correspondence and accounts may be kept in Kaithi, if the Canal Manager desires it. Forms, as detailed in previous paragraphs of these rules, will be supplied by Government, together with service stamps free of charge; all other charges for stationery must be met by the Managers and defrayed from their commission. All accounts and records relating to canal matters must be open to the inspection of the Collector, the Canal Officers, and their Deputies. All expenses for Water-guards, Patrols, and Aimeens must be defrayed from the commission of 20 per cent. allowed by Government on the collections.

RULES OF ACCOUNT FOR JUDICIAL OFFICERS.

SECTION I.—GENERAL.

Application of the Rules ...	1-2	Heads of Account ...	5-6
District Judge ...	3	General Principles ...	7-17
Judge in charge ...	4

Application of the Rules.

1. The following rules prescribe the procedure for the receipt and payment of money, and for keeping accounts to be observed by officers exercising judicial powers and dealing with money in that capacity. These rules do not apply to the High Court, or to the Presidency Small Cause Court; nor do they apply to the subordinates of the Magistrate of the district, because such of them as are stationed in the interior of the district exercise also collectorate powers and keep their accounts under treasury rules, and the transactions of those at head-quarters are included in those of the Magistrate. They apply to all Judges, Additional Judges, Subordinate Judges, Moonsifs, Small Cause Court Judges, and Magistrates of districts, and these all are included under the general term "Judge."

2. While the rules generally are applicable to all the officers just mentioned, special procedure is laid down, where necessary, for courts not situated at or near a treasury or sub-treasury. Such courts are in the rules designated "out-stations," which term must be held to include courts at or near sub-treasuries during such time as the sub-treasuries may be temporarily closed owing to the absence of the Sub-divisional Officer from his head-quarters.

The "District Judge"

3. In these rules the term "District Judge" signifies the officer whose accounts are rendered to the Accountant-General, either for his own court only, or for his own and subordinate courts. Any officer may be vested with the powers of a District Judge for the purposes of these rules; and in any district, in which a District Judge is not for the time being resident, they shall be exercised by the principal civil judicial officer at head-quarters.

The Judge in charge.

4. The term "Judge in charge" is used to designate the officer who, when two or more courts at one station are combined for the purposes of these rules, supervises the single set of accounts maintained for all the courts so combined. When courts are not so combined, each Judge is the "Judge in charge" of his own accounts.

Heads of Account.

5. The following are the heads of account in the public accounts under which the money received and paid by judicial officers, or under their orders, is classified:—

(a) Civil or criminal deposits, including rent deposits.

(b) Fines (judicial); refunds of the same

Except as provided in rule 49 below, fines can be refunded only through the treasury.

(c) Stamp duty and penalties realized in court. Refunds of the value of court-fee stamps.

While stamp duty and penalties may be realized in court, it will be observed that they can, under section 38 of the Stamp Act, be refunded only by the Collector. Court-fees realized in stamps may, under certain circumstances, be refunded by order of the court; such orders, if the amount payable does not exceed Rs 5, may be cashed in court, otherwise they are payable only at the treasury.

(d) Value of the unclaimed property of intestates and others credited to Government.

District Judges' courts alone at present deal with the unclaimed property of intestates. The value thereof cannot be credited to Government until the time limited by law has expired (vide rule 105, post). Refunds under this and the following heads can be made only through the treasury.

(e) Miscellaneous receipts (not deposits), i.e., forfeitures, forfeiture of earnest-money by defaulting bidders, sale proceeds of old furniture, stores, &c., &c.

(f) Petty receipts to be credited at once to Government, i.e. searching fees, copying fees, comparing fees, sale proceeds of forms and of service books.

When receipts under this head are realized in stamps, it is not necessary to enter them in the accounts as cash receipts.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the barograph and thermograph.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction and movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

NOTIFICATION.

The 8th March 1881.—In part supersession of the Notification, dated the 26th November 1868, the Lieutenant-Governor sanctions the following alterations in sub-divisional and thana jurisdictions in the district of Cuttack, with effect from the 1st June 1880:—

1st.—Thana Aul, with the exception of its outpost Ayas, has been transferred from the sub-division of Jajpore to the sub-division of Kendrapara.

2nd.—The outpost of Ayas, including pergunnahs Ayas and Bowtirah, the villages of Kumardee, Kyeauh (two portions), and Durbah of pergunnah Kymah, and the village of Sattibattee of pergunnah Jajpore, which has hitherto been under thana Aul, has been included in thana Jajpore.

In consequence of the above alterations, the revised boundaries of thanas Aul and Jajpore are described below, in modification of the boundaries defined by the Notification cited above.

BOUNDARIES OF THANA AUL.

On the North.—The boundary of the district along the Durmah and Byturnee rivers.

On the West.—The Petajora Nullah along the boundaries of pergunnah Barran southwards to the Kursooa river; thence the Kursooa river along the boundaries of pergunnah Hattēemundah westwards to the village of Sunderpore; thence the boundaries of villages Sunderpore, Modoosoodunpore, Ungaloo and Berangee.

On the South.—The boundaries of the following villages, viz. Turrecpal, Andcerah, Bulbooreea, Samoomung, Ungaruk, Mahasohance, Chundeegurce, Singerce-Putua and Rambarra; thence the Brahmunnee river southwards to the village of Damurpoor; thence the boundaries of the following villages, viz. Damurpoor, Pecreekeedundee, Konosona, and Dukhundundee; thence the boundary of pergunnah Killa Kunika to the village of Kurkole; thence the boundaries of villages Kherkole, Tatullung, Koelpoor, and Durpoor; thence the boundary of pergunnah Killa Kunika along the Boronee Mohan to the Bay of Bengal.

On the East.—The Bay of Bengal.

BOUNDARIES OF THANA JAJPORE.

On the North.—The boundary of the district.

On the West and South.—The boundary remains the same as defined by the Notification of 26th November 1868.

On the East.—The western boundary of Thana Aul as above described.

Note.—All villages named above are situated outside the boundaries of the thanas under description.

Note.—Thana Aul, which was, under the notification, dated 30th March 1877, included in the Jajpore Moonshee, is now transferred to the Cuttack Moonshee.

A. MACKENZIE,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

NOTIFICATION.

The 5th March 1881.—In exercise of the power conferred on him by Section 54, Act V (B.C.) of 1866, an Act to make better provision for the regulation of hackney carriages and palankeens in the town and suburbs of Calcutta, the Lieutenant-Governor hereby extends the provisions of the said Act to the Patna Municipality, with effect from the 1st April 1881.

COLMAN MACAULAY,
Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

[First Publication.]

NOTIFICATION.

The 8th March 1881.—Under the provisions of Section 16 of the Indian Forest Act VII of 1878, the Lieutenant-Governor hereby appoints the Commissioner of the Rajshahye and Oooch Behar Division to hear appeals from orders passed by the Forest Settlement Officer in the districts of Darjeeling and Julpigori under Sections 10, 11, 14 and 15 of the said Act.

A. MACKENZIE,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

[First Publication.]

NOTIFICATION.

The 3rd March 1881.—The Lieutenant-Governor is pleased, under Section 4 of Act VII (B.C.) of 1873, to direct the substitution of the following rules regulating the transport of labour to the Tea Districts of Assam for the corresponding rules at present in force.

Rule 79.—The master of any vessel intending to apply for a license to carry more than twenty emigrant passengers, shall provide the permanent fittings as prescribed in the rules; and shall thereafter apply in writing to the Superintendent of Emigration at Calcutta, or other officer duly empowered by the local Government, for an inspection of such fittings, and of the legal capacity of the deck space for the accommodation of such passengers.

Rule 80.—The Superintendent or other officer shall thereupon examine the fittings, and after satisfying himself that the requirements of the rules have been complied with, shall grant a certificate of approval specifying the number of emigrant passengers that the vessel may carry.

Rule 81.—The master of any vessel intending to carry labourers as emigrant passengers under his license, shall provide the following:—

- (a) Stores, medicines, medical comforts, and cooking utensils in accordance with the requirements of Schedules B, C, and D.
- (b) A medical officer licensed by the Medical Inspector or other officer so empowered.
- (c) The establishment of attendants as prescribed in Schedule E.

Rule 82.—On arrival at the place of embarkation, the master desiring a license shall make a written application to the Embarkation Agent, or other officer duly empowered by the local Government, and shall be prepared for survey by clearing the whole or such portion of the deck space as may be intended for the accommodation of emigrant passengers; and, if labourers are to be carried, by having the prescribed provisions and other stores arranged conveniently for examination.

Rule 83.—The Embarkation Agent or other officer as aforesaid, on receipt of the application for license, shall, in consultation with the Medical Inspector, hold the survey of the vessel's fittings and available space, and, if labourers are to be carried, of the requisite stores, at which both master and medical officer are to be present. The certificate of approval granted under Rule 80 shall be produced by the master at such survey, and the Embarkation Agent or other officer as aforesaid shall accept the permanent fittings as therein described on satisfying himself that they have not since been altered or damaged; and shall also, in the event of the entire deck space being reserved for emigrant passengers, accept and enter in the license, which he may in his discretion grant to the master, the number such space is stated in the certificate to be capable of accommodating; but, if only a part of such space be reserved, he shall, after ascertaining the number that may be accommodated therein, specify in the license such number only.

Rule 84.—The medical officer of every licensed vessel shall, in conjunction with the master, be responsible for the proper discharge of the duties to be performed by the establishment, and shall, in case of misconduct or neglect of his duties or of the requirements of the rules regulating transport, be liable to dismissal on the requisition of any Medical Inspector.

Rule 87.—After everything has been examined and approved of, the master or manjee, and the doctor or sirdar in charge, shall sign the provision lists; and when the Embarkation Agent is satisfied that all is correct, and that the master of the steamer, or head manjee in charge of the flotilla, has a copy of the Act and Rules, he shall license the vessels.

Rule 90.—Hospital space shall be provided for 5 per cent. of the total number of statute adults to be carried; but such space shall be allotted at double the rate allowed for healthy adults, viz. 20, or 24 superficial feet to each statute adult, according to season, making reasonable allowance for space occupied by medical stores.

Rule 97.—Four four hundred gallon iron water-tanks, each fitted with at least three large taps of simple construction, and capable of being secured against use when desirable and with a padlocked iron cover, besides a canvas over all to exclude dust, &c., shall be conveniently placed and filled, before the arrival of the steamer at the place of embarkation, with the best water available, for the exclusive use of the emigrants. Two of the tanks only shall be in use at the same time, the others being reserved as settling tanks.

Rule 98.—One or two fire-proof cabooses, fitted inside with brick and plaster, to accommodate the full number of boilers according to scale, shall be firmly secured in the after-part of the vessel, and so placed as to prevent risk of contamination from the hospital.

Rule 99.—Latrines with canvas screens in front shall be securely fitted as far aft as possible, and at some distance from the deck space for emigrants, their drinking water, and cooking places, &c.; and in every compartment a metal vessel, secured by a chain, shall be provided for drawing river water for washing purposes.

Rule 100.—There shall be two separate sets of latrines for males and females respectively, placed, if possible, on opposite sides of the deck: and each set shall consist of at least three compartments, for the use of the first 200 statute adults and under on board, and of one additional compartment for every 100 statute adults in excess of 200.

Rule 101.—Every vessel licensed to carry emigrants shall be provided with a covered trough, fitted with at least six large and simple taps placed at such distances apart as to admit of six persons abreast washing their clothes at the same time, and connected with a fixed pump for the constant supply of water therein. Two such troughs shall be provided if the number of emigrants to be carried exceeds 300 statute adults.

Rule 102.—A sufficiently large and well-protected space for bathing in shall be set apart for the use of the emigrants, and shall be fitted with a suitable shower-bath of simple construction and capable of distributing the shower over a large area, and a moveable canvas screen, to be invariably used when women are bathing. A ship's force-pump with hoses complete shall also be provided for the exclusive purpose of supplying water to the shower-bath and to the drinking water-tanks, and shall on no pretext whatever, excepting on an outbreak of fire on board, be otherwise used.

Rule 107.—A suitable compartment, approved by the Medical Inspector, shall be set apart for a dispensary, and bamboos shall be fastened, fore and aft, along the central stanchions near the emigrants' deck space to enable the emigrants to hang up their bundles and blankets for the day.

Rule 122.—Emigrant passengers other than labourers may be accommodated on board the same vessel with labourers and on the same deck, provided that the total number under conveyance does not exceed the maximum number specified in the license.

Rule 150.—All extra food and any change in diet shall be regulated by the medical officer only on his own responsibility.

Rule 151.—A constant supply of good drinking water shall be kept in the tanks. These shall be used alternately, the water in each being allowed to settle, after the addition of alum in the proportion of six grains to the gallon. The water shall be pumped directly into the tanks from the river in mid stream, and clear from all possible risk of pollution from latrines and other sources.

Rule 152.—A register shall be kept by the medical officer of the daily issue of stores which shall be filled in regularly every day and submitted for inspection to the inspecting officers when they visit the vessel at the close of the passage. This register shall be delivered by the medical officer to the Embarkation Agent.

Rule 154.—The topases shall sweep the decks morning and evening, and after every meal; and shall keep them always clean and dry. They shall also keep the latrines and bed-spaces constantly clean and sprinkled with disinfecting powder or carbolic acid.

Rule 162.—Masters of vessels shall report their arrival at each inspecting station to the senior magisterial officer and to the civil medical officer; omission to do so shall entail prosecution or forfeiture of license for the future.

Rule 165.—At the end of the voyage, after the last official inspection at the place of final disembarkation, the master or medical officer in charge shall forward the way-bill in original to the Embarkation Agent at the last place of embarkation for his remarks, and for transmission to any other Embarkation Agent concerned in the shipment for his remarks and for its ultimate submission to Government through the Superintendent of Emigration at Calcutta.

[Second Publication.]

NOTIFICATION.

The 12th February 1881.—In the exercise of the powers conferred on him by Section 38, Act IV (B.C.) of 1871, as amended by Act II (B.C.) of 1879, the Lieutenant-Governor approves and confirms the following Bye-laws, which have been framed by the Deputy Commissioner of the Sonthal Pergunnahs, with the assent of the Health Officer of the town of Deoghur, for the management of all matters necessary for the due enforcement of the Act within the said town of Deoghur.

Bye-laws framed under Act IV (B.C.) of 1871, read with Act II (B.C.) of 1879, for the town of Deoghur.

PART I.

1. For the purposes of Act IV (B.C.) of 1871, as amended by Act II (B.C.) of 1879, the town of Deoghur shall be considered all the land within the municipal limits of that town.

2. A Committee consisting of two official and three non-official members shall be appointed to assist the Magistrate and Health Officer in carrying out the provisions of the Act.

3. On the 1st March in each year the Magistrate shall nominate the members to serve on the Committee during the ensuing official (April to March) year, and shall report the nomination for the sanction of the local Government.

4. In the event of the death, removal, or resignation of any member of the Committee during his year of office, an official member shall be succeeded by the successor to his appointment, or any other official; and in case of a non-official member, his successor shall be appointed by the remainder of the Committee, subject to the approval of Government.

PART II.

Rules for the conduct of Business.

5. A meeting of the Committee shall be held for the transaction of business and inspection of accounts at the office of the Magistrate, at least once in a quarter; provided that it shall be lawful for the Magistrate to call a meeting at any other time, recording his reasons for doing so, and also that the presence of three members shall be necessary to form a quorum.

6. Notice of every meeting shall be given to each member at least four clear days before the day appointed for the meeting.

7. The subject or subjects brought before the Committee shall be decided by a majority of votes. In the event of division of opinion, the Magistrate, or, in his absence, the Health Officer, shall have a casting vote.

8. The Health Officer shall be ex-officio Secretary to the Committee, and the Magistrate ex-officio President. The proceedings of every meeting shall be recorded by the Secretary in a book kept for the purpose.

PART III.

On the receipt and disbursement of money under the Act.

9. On the 15th October of each year a budget of probable receipts and of proposed expenditure during the ensuing official year shall be submitted for the sanction of Government.

10. It shall be competent for the Committee, with the sanction of the Commissioner, to transfer sums from one item of the budget to another; but the total expenditure allowed by Government in the budget shall never be exceeded.

11. In framing every annual estimate, an amount not exceeding 25 per cent. of the total income shall be reserved for extraordinary contingencies, such as sudden outbreaks of cholera and sickness, and the necessity for employment of extra and special establishments.

12. At the close of every year the Magistrate shall submit a report on the working of the Act during the year, showing the works of improvement and conservancy carried out, and a detailed account of the receipts and expenditure during the year, and the balance in hand at its close. The report shall be forwarded through the Commissioner to Government.

PART IV.

Regarding Conservancy.

13. The Hindu members of the Committee shall constitute a standing Sub-Committee for the purpose of inspecting the interior of temples and bringing to notice any infringement of the laws and bye-laws that may be committed within them, and proposing any measures for sanitation and proper conservancy within the temples: provided that the Magistrate shall carry out all works of sanitation or conservancy inside the temples through the Superintendent or Sirdar Ojha.

PART V.

Miscellaneous.

14. Every lodging-house keeper taking out a license under these Acts shall provide himself with a copy of each of the Acts, and with a copy of the notice prescribed in section 14, Act IV (B.C.) of 1871, which notice shall be in the Form A annexed to these bye-laws.

15. The registers referred to in section 15 of Act IV (B.C.) of 1871 shall be in the Form B annexed to these bye-laws.

16. There shall be hung up in each compartment of a lodging-house a board on which shall be legibly written in Bengali and Hindi the dimensions of each compartment, and the number of pilgrims it can properly accommodate, and this board shall bear the signature of the Health Officer.

17. Every lodging-house keeper shall be bound, on requisition by the Health Officer, to provide himself with tickets or tokens bearing consecutive numbers, and to furnish each of his lodgers with one of such tickets or tokens.

18. For the purposes of this Act, the year shall be considered to commence from 1st April, and all licenses shall run from that date.

19. Every panda or other person who brings pilgrims to Baidanath shall be bound to furnish the Magistrate or Health Officer with any information he may require as to the disposal of such pilgrims in the town of Deoghur: any refusal to furnish such information shall be punished with a fine not exceeding Rs. 20, and any false information as to such disposal of pilgrims shall render the person giving it liable to prosecution under section 177 of the Indian Penal Code.

NOTIFICATION.

The 21st February 1881.—Pending the passing of general rules under section 68 of the Merchant Shipping Act VII of 1880, for the examination of Ship Surveyors and other matters provided therein, the following provisional rules for the grant of certificates to Ship Surveyors actually practising in the Port of Calcutta and for the conduct of enquiries into charges of incompetency and misconduct on the part of the holders of such certificates have, with the sanction of the Governor-General in Council, been approved by the Lieutenant-Governor under the above section, and are hereby published for general information:—

1. A Board, consisting of the following members, is appointed for the purpose of examining the qualifications of, and granting certificates to, Ship Surveyors now actually practising in the Port of Calcutta:—

The Vice-Chairman of the Port Commissioners of Calcutta.
The Port Officer of Calcutta.
The Chief Engineer, Government Dockyard, Kidderpore.
The Master Builder, ditto ditto.

2. The Board will proceed without delay to take up the duty entrusted to them, giving due and separate notice to all Ship Surveyors whom they may know to be now practising in the Port, and inserting a general notice to such candidates in the Calcutta Gazette and in the three leading daily newspapers of the Presidency. They will make their own arrangements as to the time and place at which their sittings shall be held.

3. No test examination of the knowledge of any such candidate shall be necessary, but the Board shall accept, as sufficient evidence of qualification, proof that such candidate for a certificate is actually practising as a surveyor to any recognized Register of Shipping, or that he has been practising as surveyor to any Insurance Company for over two years.

4. On being furnished with such proof, the Board shall grant the candidate a certificate in the following terms:—

“Certified, under section 68 of Act VII of 1880, that A B is qualified to practise the profession of a Ship Surveyor in the Port of Calcutta.

Dated

Calcutta

Board of Examiners.”

5. No fee shall be charged for such certificate.

6. The surveyors employed by Lloyd's Register of British and Foreign Shipping and Bureau Veritas are, under section 69 of the Act, specially exempted from the provisions of section 68, but only while “discharging the duties of such employment.” Any such surveyor engaging in private practice is required to take out a certificate under those rules.

7. Enquiries into charges of misconduct or incompetence on the part of surveyors certified under these rules shall be conducted by the Court of Survey appointed under section 13 of the Act, and that Court is hereby authorized to cancel or suspend certificates, submitting its proceedings in such cases for the confirmation of Government. The Port Commissioners or any person interested may prefer such charges before the Court of Survey.

A. MACKENZIE,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

NOTIFICATION.

The 16th February 1881—The following rules for the collection of drift timber in the Sunderbuns forests, under section 51 of the Indian Forest Act, VII of 1878, having been sanctioned by the Lieutenant-Governor, are hereby published for general information :—

I. Interpretation clause.—All words used in these rules and defined in Act VII of 1878 (the Indian Forest Act, 1878) shall be deemed to have the meanings respectively attributed to them by the said Act.

And in these rules 'Drift Timber' shall mean timber of the descriptions mentioned in section 45 of the said Act.

II. Procedure to be used in obtaining permits to collect drift timber.—Any person who, within the area of the Sunderbuns to which section 45 of the Act has been extended by the Government Notification of the 3rd November 1879, published in the Calcutta Gazette of the 19th idem, wishes to save drift timber, shall apply to the officer in charge of the Sunderbuns Forest Division for a written permit specifying the nature of the timber which he wishes to save, and shall register the boat or boats to be used in salving.

Every boat so registered shall have conspicuously painted on it its register number, the date of registration, and a letter indicating the revenue station at which such boat was registered. A fee of Rs. 5 shall be levied for each boat for the first registration, and a fee of one-half this amount for every subsequent registration. Every registration shall hold good for one year from the date thereof. Provided that if any person shall wish to enter the area defined above for the purpose of salving drift timber, the property of himself or of any known owner, a written permit for this special purpose may be granted him by the officer in charge of the Sunderbuns Forest Division on payment of a fee of Rs. 2 only: but such person shall be bound by all the conditions regarding the registration and marking of his boats laid down in this rule.

III. Salved timber to be taken to drift timber depôts.—All timber salved shall be taken, with as little delay as possible, to the nearest drift timber depôt.

IV. Nothing to prevent chance timber being salved.—Nothing in the preceding rules shall be held to prevent any person lawfully plying a boat within the limits of the Sunderbuns reserved and protected forests from salving any drift timber that he may find.

V. Salved timber which may become vested in Government to be sold by auction.—All drift timber salved under these rules, which may become vested in Government under section 48 of the Indian Forest Act, shall be sold by auction within such periods and in such manner as the Conservator of Forests may direct.

VI. Amount of salvage (a).—Any person, whether a Forest Officer or not, who has salved any drift timber, shall be entitled to receive as salvage an amount equivalent to 15 per cent. of the estimated value of such drift timber, as adjudged by the Sunderbuns Divisional Officer or by any subordinate officer specially authorized by the Conservator of Forests in that behalf:

(b) Provided that any person authorized by permit to save drift timber under Rule II shall receive as salvage an amount equivalent to 25 per cent. of the estimated value of the drift timber salved by him, such value being adjudged as above provided.

(c) In special cases the Conservator of Forests may increase the amount of salvage to a sum not exceeding 50 per cent. of the estimated value of the drift timber salved.

(d) When more persons than one are concerned in salving, the amount of salvage shall be paid to them collectively and on their joint receipt.

VII. Payments required when drift timber is proved to be the property of a claimant.—If the drift timber collected shall be shown under section 47 of the Act to be the property of any person other than Government, such person shall be liable to pay to Government, under section 50 of the Act, the following amounts, viz :—

- (1) the actual amount of salvage paid to the salvor;
- (2) the actual cost incurred in moving the timber to the drift depôt;
- (3) such fees as may from time to time, be fixed, with the sanction of Government, for the storing of timber at such depôt.

VIII. Registration of property marks.—Any person holding a permit under Rule II who makes use of any property mark or device for marking drift timber salved by him may register the same in the office of the Sunderbuns Forest Divisional Officer. The fee to be paid for such registration shall be 1 rupee for the first year, and eight annas for each annual renewal. A certificate of registration showing the marks registered shall be given on payment of the prescribed fee.

IX. Penalty clause.—Any person who shall infringe any of these rules shall be punished with imprisonment for a term which may extend to six months, or with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees, or with both.

Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

[Second Publication.]

NOTIFICATION.

Dated 25th February 1881.—The following rules, regarding stamps used to denote fees chargeable in the Calcutta Court of Small Causes, are hereby published under section 27 of Act VII of 1870:—

1. No commission shall be charged on the fractional parts of eight annas, i.e., if a suit be for Rs. 10 and odd annas, being less than eight annas, commission will only be charged on Rs. 10. If the amount claimed be for Rs. 10-8 and upwards, but under Rs. 11, then commission will be charged on Rs. 10-8.

Stamp duty not to be charged on fractional parts of eight annas.

2. The necessary stamps shall be provided by the parties liable to pay the commission and fees, and shall, in respect of the institution of suits, be affixed to the plaint in respect whereof such commission and fees are payable. The costs and fees payable in respect of warrants, subpoenas, second summonses, and all other processes whatsoever, not being original summonses in reference to which it has not been customary to file as part of the record any written or printed document or paper whereon the stamp could be affixed, shall be paid as follows, i.e., the party requiring such process to be issued shall produce an application in writing, and a stamp equal to the amount of costs and fees payable shall be affixed to such application. Such application shall be entitled in the cause or matter to which it relates, and shall specify shortly the object thereof, and shall be filed in the particular office of the court to which it relates.

3. In order that the terms of a document may not be defaced or obscured, the stamp affixed to it shall be of an amount corresponding as nearly as practicable with the amount of the stamp which such document requires.

Stamps to be of the values specified.

Rs.	A.	Rs.	A.	Rs.	A.
0	½	2	0	8	0
0	1	3	0	9	0
0	2	4	0	10	0
0	4	5	0	20	0
0	8	6	0	30	0
1	0	7	0	50	0

4. Stamps of the values noted in the margin will be required for the purposes of the Court. Such stamps shall be obtained by the Court stamp vendor from the office of the Collector of Calcutta direct.

5. No document required to have a stamp shall be received or filed in any proceedings in court until the stamp has been cancelled or defaced. The cancellation shall be effected by punching out the figure-head, so as to leave the amount designated on the stamp untouched, and the part removed by punching shall be burnt or otherwise destroyed.

6. Whenever a stamp is cancelled in the manner required by Rule 5, the date of cancellation shall be marked upon it in writing, or with a stamp to be provided for that purpose.

7. The treasurer of the Court for the time being shall be the stamp vendor, and the stamps shall be sold by him or his assistants in an office or offices situate within the premises of the Court, and nowhere else. The stamp vendor's office shall be open daily for the sale of stamps (except on such days as the Court shall not be sitting), between the hours of 10 A.M. and 2-30 P.M.

8. A register shall be kept by the stamp vendor, in which shall be entered daily the number and denomination of stamps received from the Stamp Office, and the quantity sold; and the Collector shall furnish to the Court, at the close of each month, a memorandum showing the number and value of stamps sold to the vendor on account of the Court during the month.

9. A register shall also be kept in the office of the Clerk of the Court, by an officer to be styled the Compromise Register Writer, in which shall be entered the particulars of cases compromised, and of cases in which costs have been remitted, either in whole or in part, by order of the Judges. It shall also be the duty of the Compromise Register Writer to make out the certificates for the payment of half and remitted costs. It shall be the duty of the accountant to examine the certificates and compare them with the original records, and, if correct, to pass and initial the same for payment. The certificates, after being signed by the Clerk of the Court, shall be paid by the stamp vendor. The stamp vendor shall receive credit for the sums so paid in his account with the Collector of Stamps, who will hold the certificates as his vouchers. The Clerk of the Court will also furnish to the Collector, at the close of each month, a memorandum showing the number of, and the amount for which, certificates have been issued during the month.

10. It shall be the duty of the Superintendent or head officer of the department in which applications are filed, with such aid as may be required, under the immediate superintendence of the Clerk of the Court, to receive all documents and see that the blank space in them is not unnecessarily covered with stamps, and that stamps of the proper description and values are affixed, and to perform the duties required by Rules 5 and 6. The Superintendent shall grant a receipt or memorandum for every application filed; and no money shall be paid out of the Court unless on production of the said receipt or memorandum, or by order of a Judge.

11. In all cases of doubt as to the necessity of imposing a stamp, or the amount thereof, the Superintendent of the department in which the application is to be filed shall refer to the Clerk of the Court, and that officer shall determine all questions so referred to him, subject to the final decision of the First Judge, upon such questions as shall be referred to him under the provisions of section 5, Act VII of 1870.

Rules inapplicable to Counsel and Attorneys, and to costs of references to High Court.

12. These rules do not apply to fees payable to Counsel and Attorneys of the High Court in cases certified, or to the costs of references to the High Court.

IRRIGATION.

The 7th March 1881.

No. 52.—Notification.—In exercise of the powers conferred on him by Section 99 of Act III (B.C.) of 1876, the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to pass the following rules for the Sarun Irrigation Scheme.

A draft of the rules was published, as provided in the aforesaid section of the said Act, in the Calcutta Gazette of the dates noted in the margin.

H. C. LEVINGE,

Jt.-Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal,P. W. Dept., Irrign. Branch.

RULES UNDER ACT III (B.C.) 1876.

Draft Rules for the guidance of the Canal Officers appointed for the management of the Sarun Irrigation Scheme.

1. In Notification No 179, dated 18th August 1879, under the provisions of Part II of Act III of 1876, Government has reserved to itself the rights of property in the water in the following canals and river beds forming part of the Sarun Irrigation Scheme:—

1. The Roopun Chup Sota.
2. The main canal.
3. The Daba river and the water channels in continuation of or in connection with it.
4. The Gunducki river and the water channels in continuation of or in connection with it.
5. The Dhanai river and the water channels in continuation of or in connection with it.
6. The Gangree river and the water channels in continuation of or in connection with it.

These rivers and canals will hereinafter be referred to as the Sarun canals.

2. On and after the 19th November 1880, no person shall take water from the Sarun canals for irrigation or manufacturing purposes without the written permission of a duly authorized person.

Licenses will be required—

- (a) For the construction of temporary dams in the canal beds.
- (b) For the erection of fishing weirs
- (c) For the use of fishing nets.
- (d) For the irrigation of lands by flow or lift.
- (e) For the construction of village channels and distributaries leading from the canals for the irrigation of lands.
- (f) For water used for the purpose of any manufacture.

3. Government reserves at present its right to levy tolls for navigation, and to charge for filling tanks, watering cattle, or for water for other domestic purposes.

4. The Revenue Administration of the Sarun Irrigation Scheme is vested in the Collector, who is ex-officio head of the Canal Revenue Department. The Executive Engineer of the Gunduck Division, as Canal Officer, is his chief executive officer, and his Secretary in the Canal Department. All orders relating to the Canal Revenue will usually be issued by the Collector through the Executive Engineer as Canal Officer, and all correspondence intended for the Collector in this department should be addressed to the office of the Canal Department, Mozufferpore.

5. For administrative purposes, the Sarun district is divided into thirteen sub-districts, corresponding generally with those divisions which Sarun Indigo Planters recognize as factory dehats.

These sub-districts are shown in a map deposited in the Collector's office. The boundaries of the sub-districts and their number may be hereafter modified.

6. The following gentlemen are, till further orders, appointed Canal Managers, and will be in charge of these sub-districts :—

Manager of the Sadawa Concern for the time being.

Ditto	Jogapore	ditto.
Ditto	Burhoga	ditto.
Ditto	Rajaputti	ditto.
Ditto	Burowlee	ditto.
Ditto	Rameola	ditto.
Ditto	Arreah	ditto.
Ditto	Hutwah estate	ditto.

7. The duties of Canal Managers will be—

- 1st.—To receive and register applications for the use of water under sections 74 and 77 of the Irrigation Act.
- 2nd.—To grant permits for the use of water under section 75 of the Act.
- 3rd.—Subject to the instructions of the Canal Officers, to control the water-supply under the provisions of section 76.
- 4th.—To recover and credit to Government the water-rates.
- 5th.—To superintend and maintain such establishment as may be found necessary.

8. Canal Managers have no power under Parts III, IV, and V of the Act; and all claims or remission under section 76 of Part VI should be referred to the Canal Officer or his Deputy for disposal. Complaints regarding unauthorized use of canal water under sections 79, 80, and 81 are also to be referred to the Canal Officer for decision. All proceedings connected with the recovery of water-rates by distraint, or other compulsory process, will be undertaken by the Collector.

9. Persons desiring the construction of a temporary dam on the Sarun canals must prefer a written application to the Canal Manager in whose jurisdiction the proposed dam lies, specifying the object of the work, and the length of the time for which it is required. The application will be submitted to the Canal Officer, with the opinion of the Canal Manager. If the Canal Officer considers the construction of such temporary dam expedient, he shall call upon the applicant, or applicants, to deposit a sum of money sufficient to cover the cost of construction and maintenance of the dam, and of removing the same when no longer required.

On the completion of the dam, the Canal Officer shall give the applicant, or applicants, notice thereof, and also of any further sum payable by him, or them, on account of its construction. The Canal Officer shall not permit irrigation with water raised by the dam until the whole sum thus demanded shall have been paid. Rates for such irrigation will be charged as fixed in rule 12.

10. If one or more of the riparian proprietors desire to have a permanent dam erected in any river bed, he or they shall present an application to that effect to the Collector who will decide, in communication with the Canal Officer, on the advisability of constructing such a dam. Should he deem it desirable, he shall cause plans and estimates to be prepared, and shall then call on the applicants to give a guarantee, securing interest at 4½ per cent. on the amount of the estimates, provided that, if the cost of the work should, through unforeseen causes, exceed the original estimate, the Guarantor or Guarantors shall pay interest on the total cost of the work. The construction of the dam will be carried out by the Canal Officer. A register shall be kept of the Guarantors of the cost of dam, and any person may, at any time, apply to the Canal Officer to be made a part owner thereof on payment to the co-sharers

(g) Peremptory receipts, i.e., witnesses' expenses, prisoners' diet money, boat-hire, amens' travelling allowance, fees payable to Commissioners for taking evidence, postage and other peremptory receipts.

6. From the list of headings in rule 5 it will appear that the rules apply only to moneys received by an officer in his judicial capacity. They do not apply to Local Fund receipts and payments, nor to money received by way of permanent advance, or upon establishment or contingent bills (see rule 35). As regards Local Funds, there is a separate system of rules; and as regards other items, a judicial officer should deal with them under the rules applicable to other officers.

General Principles.

7. All receipts and payments under heads (a) to (e) above must appear in the court's accounts and in the treasury accounts in detail. An account in detail of all receipts under head (f) must be kept in the court, but only the daily totals of each kind of receipts will appear in the treasury books. All receipts and payments under head (g) will be made on the responsibility of the cashier, whose security must be sufficient to cover any amount in his hands. They will not appear at all in the treasury accounts, but the balance in the hands of the cashier must be noted daily in the Cash Book, as well as the balances of any other moneys which he may be entrusted with (e.g., permanent advance pay of establishment, &c.).

8. An exception to rule 7 is allowed in cases where money has to be paid by one person to another, and both are present in court. In such cases the money may be passed direct from the one to the other under the sanction of the court, the fact being noted in the record of the case. Such transactions are not to appear in the accounts at all. Care must, however, be taken to see that no officer of the court receives or becomes in any way responsible for the money, and that no receipt for it is given by the court or any officer of Government. This procedure may conveniently be followed in cases where judgment-debtors are prepared to satisfy the claims of judgment-creditors, where costs of the day are allowed by the court, where compensation is awarded to accused persons, or costs to complainants by the criminal courts.

9. Judges will, as far as possible, in their transactions with the public, avoid the direct receipt and payment of money under head (a) of rule 5. Cash must, however, be received (a) when the court is bound by law to accept payment either absolutely or up to a given time (vide sections 306, 307, and 336, Act X of 1877), and in every such case the money shall be received even although tendered after the hour prescribed by rule 15; (b) when the proceeds of movable property sold in execution (section 297, Act X of 1877) are realized after the hour prescribed in rule 15; (c) at out-stations, in the case of rent deposits under section 46, Act VIII (B.C.) of 1869.

10. At out-stations cash transactions under head (a) of rule 5 are allowed. Money should, however, be received in cash only when, having regard to the balance in hand (which should not exceed Rs. 500), this can conveniently be done. Payments of small sums should ordinarily be made out of cash in hand, but large payments should be made in cash, only if this can be done conveniently, and if it is better thus to disburse the balance of cash in hand than to remit it to the treasury.

11. Judges of Small Cause Courts, and Moonsiffs exercising Small Cause Court powers, though their courts are situated within daily reach of a treasury, may, by special order of the High Court, be empowered to receive and pay in cash small sums coming under head (a) of rule 5. The sums so paid shall not in any case exceed Rs. 100 in amount.

12. Money under heads (b), (c), (d), (e), (f), and (g) of rule 5 may ordinarily be received in cash in all courts. As explained in the notes to that rule, repayments under heads (b), (c), (d), (e), and (f), should ordinarily only be made through the treasury. Under head (g), payments will ordinarily be made in cash by the cashier on his own responsibility.

13. Except in the case of courts at out-stations, the whole cash balance must be remitted to the treasury, as provided by rule 55 below, at the close of each day. At out-stations the entire cash balance must be so remitted on the last day of the month, and from time to time on such other days in the course of the month as may be convenient. Under no circumstances shall the balance of cash in hand be allowed to exceed Rs. 500.

14. If after a remittance, and before further cash has come in, payments in cash are necessary, they should be made from the permanent advance.

15. For the purposes of these rules in all courts, the "day" must be taken to close at 2 P.M., and the next "day" to extend from that hour to 2 P.M. of the following calendar day. Between 2 and 3 P.M. the accounts shall be made up, and no transactions shall take place in court. If, under exceptional circumstances, any transactions have to be allowed after 3 P.M., they must be entered in the court's accounts, bearing date the next open day.

On the last working day of each month, or when the treasury closes at 1 P.M., it is necessary that the accounts be closed at noon, and in this case the next day shall extend from noon till 2 P.M., of the following calendar day.

16. The "month" for the purposes of these rules, shall be taken to close, in courts at district head-quarters, at the end of the last account day of the month; in courts at sub-treasuries, at 2 P.M. on the day on which the accounts of the sub-divisional treasury are finally closed for the month; and at out-stations, at 2 P.M. of the last day of which the accounts can reach the treasury in time for incorporation with the treasury accounts for the last day of the month.

17. For the purposes of these rules, the "year" in all courts shall be taken to begin on the 1st April and to close on the 31st March.

SECTION II.—RECEIPT OF MONEY.

Heads (a to (e))—		Receipt of Money by Cashier	27—31
Chalans required ...	18—20	Peremptory Cash Book ...	32
Registry of Chalans ...	21	General Cash Book ...	33
Approval by Judge in charge ...	22—24	Accountant's check ...	34
Heads (f) and (g) ...	25—26	Daily Balance ...	35

Heads (a) to (e) of Rule 5.

18. Payment of sums falling under heads (a) to (e) of rule 5 cannot be accepted either in court or at the treasury, unless the money be tendered with a chalan in duplicate, signed by the chief ministerial officer of the court under whose decree or order the money is tendered, and also by the accountant of the court or group of courts.

19. Any person desirous of paying money into court, or, in the case of collections made by any officer of the court, the officer who has realized the money, shall be furnished, free of cost, with two forms of chalan (form No. 1), in each of which he must enter in the vernacular or English the particulars required from him. One of the chalans, herein called the original chalan, shall bear the court-fee stamp (if any) required by law.¹

In the case of deposit chalans care must be taken to enter fully the nature of the deposit, the number of the suit or execution case (if any), the name of the person on whose behalf the money is paid in, and of the person to whom it is to be paid over, &c., &c.

20. The person desirous of paying in the money, having filled up the forms of chalan, shall present them to the chief ministerial officer of the court mentioned in rule 18. The latter shall then ascertain that the amount tendered is correct and is due from the person on whose account it is tendered to the person to whom it is stated to be payable, and, after correcting the forms of chalan, if necessary, shall sign part I, and pass the forms on to the accountant of the court or set of courts, who, having filled up part II, shall number and register them in a Register of Chalans (form No. 2). In column 3 he shall enter the name of the person actually tendering the money, and of the person on whose behalf it is tendered. In column 4 he shall enter the name of the person (if any) to whom the money is payable, and all the other particulars stated in the chalan and necessary for subsequently posting up the Register of Deposit Receipts.

When courts are combined for the purposes of accounts (see rule 4), there shall be only one accountant and one cashier for all the courts so combined.

21. A separate index number shall be given to each chalan. The numbers in a consecutive series shall be entered both in the chalan and in the register. The accountant shall be careful to enter in the chalan the particular heading under rule 5, to which the receipt belongs.

Approval by Judge in Charge.

22. The register and the chalans shall then be laid before the Judge in charge, and he shall initial each entry as he passes the chalans. The two chalans shall then be returned to the party tendering the money, and shall be his authority to pay the same into the court or into the treasury.

A Judge in charge may, with the previous sanction of the District Judge, delegate to the chief ministerial officer of his court the duty of passing chalans.

23. No person is required to take out a chalan till he is actually ready to pay in the money for which he takes it, nor, after a person has taken a chalan, can he be permitted to defer using it. The order to the Treasury Officer must therefore be limited in its operation to the day upon which the chalan is made over to the applicant, or, if the transaction occurs after the accounts are closed (rule 15), to the next open day. This is distinctly provided for in the form of order. In case of failure to tender the money at the treasury within the time limited, the tenderer must obtain by written application an order from the court extending the time.

24. In the case of out-stations, the order to the Treasury Officer shall grant for the payment in of the money such time only as is indispensable to enable it to be taken to the treasury.

Heads (f) and (g) of Rule 5.

25. Petty receipts under head (f) of rule 5—searching, copying, or comparing fees, &c.—when payable in cash, shall be tendered in the first place to the accountant, and noted by him in a special register (form 3). The accountant shall enter the name of the tenderer, the amount to be paid, and the number and date in the foil and counterfoil of the register, shall then detach the right-hand portion, and make it over to the tenderer for presentation with the money to the cashier.

26. Peremptory receipts under head (g) of rule 5 shall be tendered to the cashier direct without the intervention of the accountant. A chalan is not required in respect of such.

¹ No stamp is required for a tender of money which a party is bound to pay into court in the progress of a suit, or to complete a purchase, as the court cannot refuse the tender.

In cases where the payment is voluntary, such as deposits made on account of rent, or by a mortgagor and the like, a stamp should be required; but if the application or petition be duly stamped, a second fee should not be exacted for the chalan (G. O. No. 14, dated 12th May 1877).

Receipt of Money by Cashier.

27. The cashier on receiving a chalan in duplicate addressed to him under rule 20, or a payment slip issued by the accountant under rule 25, or a tender of money under rule 26, shall accept the money, and at once enter the amount as a receipt in the appropriate cash-book (rules 32 and 33).

28. When chalans have so been passed, he shall keep one copy, and return the other with his receipt enfaced upon it. This receipt shall be produced in court by the person paying the money, when it is necessary for him to have satisfaction entered upon the record of the case to which he is a party.

In the same way, on presentation of the chalan in duplicate at the treasury, as prescribed above in rule 23, and on payment of the money, the payer shall receive, as an acknowledgment, one of the two chalans signed—by the Treasury Officer if the amount be Rs. 500 or more, by the Accountant and Treasurer if less than that sum.

29. When, under clauses (a) and (b) of rule 9 above, a tender is made of money which must by law be received, the payment shall be made direct into court in cash, but only under the express order of the presiding officer, who shall himself sign the chalans, and see that the money is duly entered in the accounts in the manner prescribed in rule 15.

30. In the case of payment slips the cashier shall countersign the slip, which the applicant is to retain as a voucher, and when a copy has been applied for, his authority to take delivery of the same when ready.

31. When money is tendered under rule 26, the cashier shall enter the amount in the foil and counterfoil of a bound book (form No. 4) of receipts numbered in serial order. He shall then tear off the counterfoil, sign it, and give it to the payer as his voucher.

Peremptory Cash-book.

32. To exhibit the peremptory receipts and payments,—head (g) of Rule 5,—for which the cashier is responsible, and of which the accountant keeps no record, the former officer shall maintain a register in form No. 5, in which each class of such receipts and payments shall be separately exhibited in appropriate columns, and a balance shall be struck at the close of each day.

General Cash-book.

33. The cashier's General Cash-book shall be maintained in form No. 6, and shall exhibit in detail all receipts and repayments under heads (a) to (f). Receipts and payments under head (g) shall not be carried to the General Cash-book in gross, but the balances of the Peremptory Cash-book shall be exhibited therein as directed below.

Accountant's check on Petty Receipts.

34. At the close of each day the cashier shall submit to the accountant his General Cash-book, and the accountant shall check the entries of petty receipts with those on the counterfoil of his register. The accountant shall then prepare a chalan in form 1 for the whole amount received by the cashier, distinguishing each kind of receipt separately, and shall enter it in the Register of Chalans (form 2) as an amount received in court. The amount in the Register of Chalans must tally with the cashier's receipts under heads (a) to (f).

Daily Balance.

35. The cashier shall then strike a balance in his General Cash-book, and enter below it in separate entries the balances struck in the Peremptory Cash-book. It is advisable, for purposes of record, that he should be required also to enter here a note of the money held by him upon any other account, such as for contingent expenditure or for salaries of establishment. These form no substantive part of the judicial accounts, but the Judge ought to have in a single view a statement of all the money in the cashier's possession. This statement may be made as follows:—

Balance of General Cash-book as above—

	Rs.
General balance
Peremptory balance
Balance of Permanent Advance, as per Contingent Register	...
Establishment pay, undistributed
Other amounts (which should be explained)
TOTAL MONEY IN CASHIER'S POSSESSION

Being restricted to transactions in actual cash, the General Abstract Cash-book is not to show receipts in the form of court-fee labels, or refunds of the value of these, which, as explained above (rule 5), are ordinarily payable only at the treasury.

As regards postage stamps received by way of remittance, an account should be kept separately in the form of a plus and minus memo, and the balance in hand should be entered as directed above, in the General Cash-book.

SECTION III.—PAYMENT OF MONEY.

Application for Payment ...	36	Lapse of Order ...	42
Audit ...	37—38	Lapsed Deposits ...	43
Payment Order ...	39	Miscellaneous Refunds ...	44—46
Approval by Judge ...	40—41	Payments by Cashier ...	47

Application for Payment.

36. Persons desiring to draw money deposited in court and payable to them shall submit to the chief ministerial officer of the court mentioned in rule 18 an application in form No. 7, or in the case of a rent deposit, in form No. 8. One copy of such form shall be supplied free of charge. In this form the applicant shall enter all particulars necessary for the identification of the credit. If it is intended to withdraw more than a single item of deposit by one application, the amount of each item and the number of each deposit must be distinctly stated.

If the party entitled to the money does not appear in person, the applicant must satisfy the court that he is duly authorized, by an instrument in writing, to draw the money for the person so entitled.

The applicant must comply strictly with the terms of the order under which the money is claimed. Thus, one of a number of joint decree-holders cannot be allowed to take out what he calls his share in the decretal amount; they must all join in the application unless there has been an order for distribution.

Audit of Application.

37. The chief ministerial officer shall compare the application with the record of the case, and carefully test the validity of the claim. If he finds that the name of the payee has been correctly given, and that there is no objection to the payment of the money on the ground of attachment or otherwise, he shall make enquiry as to the identity of the applicant, and if satisfied of such identity, shall sign the certificate at the foot of part I of the application, and pass on the application so signed to the accountant of the court or group of courts. Such accountant shall compare the contents of the application with the Register of Deposit Receipts, and shall satisfy himself that the amount as shown has been received and is still unpaid, and that the name on the claimant corresponds with the name of the payee entered in the register, and that no order for the attachment of the money is in force.

If the deposit has been transferred to an Account Particulars (Rules 98—99,) such Account Particulars shall be deemed to be the Register of Deposit Receipts within the meaning of this and the next four rules.

38. If the application for payment is found to be incorrect or defective, the accountant shall note the error or defect, and return it to the applicant for correction by him, or for reference by the applicant to the court.

Payment Order and Registry.

39. If the application is found to be correct, and the deposit has not lapsed, the accountant shall fill up the second part of the application form, post the transaction in the Registry of Payment Orders (from No. 13), numbered with its proper index number, and make the requisite entry in the Registry of Deposit Receipts. Finally, the application, with the Register of Payment Orders and the Register of Deposit Receipts, shall be laid before the Judge in charge.

Approval by Judge in charge.

40. Before passing the application for payment, the Judge in charge is required to satisfy himself, in the first instance, that the requirements of rule 37 have been complied with. He shall further satisfy himself by personal inspection of his Register of Deposits that the balance at credit of the particular deposit is sufficient to meet the repayment, and that no order for the attachment of the money has been noted. If the result of his scrutiny is satisfactory, he may sign the order for payment of the amount either from the local treasury or from his court, as prescribed above in rules 9 to 12, and shall attest with his initials the note of the order of repayment made in the Register of Deposit Receipts. He shall also initial the entries in the Register of Payment Orders (form No. 13). The payment order shall then be made over to the applicant for presentation to the cashier if the money is to be paid in court, or to the Treasury Officer if to be paid by such officer.

41. When the money sought to be drawn out of court is in deposit, not in the court ~~to which~~ the application is made, but in another court, as, for example, where two or more courts at one station are combined for the purposes of accounts, in every such case the duty of the court to which the application is made shall be merely to receive such an application and forward it to the court of the Judge in charge, with a certificate, made after examination of the record, that the applicant is the proper party to receive payment of the amount claimed. In any case in which the amount has been transferred from the credit of the original payee to that of the claimant, this fact should be stated. This certificate shall be compared with the Deposit Register in the office of the Judge in charge. Such register, if the sum is shown therein to be in deposit, will inform the Judge whether there is any bar to payment. If there is no such bar, the payment order may be issued by the Judge in charge, and the fact of its issue shall be communicated to the subordinate court, in order to enable it to enter satisfaction for the amount upon the record of the case.

Lapse of Order.

42. (a)—An order for payment from the local treasury is valid for ten days only, and may not be cashed after the expiry of ten clear days subsequent to the date thereof. An order which has not been paid within ten days as aforesaid, may be presented to the court which issued it, and such court may re-enface thereupon a new payment order, which shall remain valid for ten clear days immediately after the date thereof. When the last day of any such period of ten days is a day on which the treasury is closed, the order may be cashed on the day on which such treasury reopens.

(b).—When the treasury accounts are closed on the 31st day of March in each year, every order for payment issued on or before that date shall lapse absolutely; and Treasury Officers are forbidden to cash after the 31st March, orders issued on or before that date. An order which has lapsed under this clause cannot be renewed, but a new order may be obtained upon delivering up the old order and making a fresh application under rule 36.

Judges should warn persons who apply for orders at the end of March of the effect of this rule, and tell them to wait till 1st April, unless they mean to cash immediately any order that they may obtain.

(c).—Immediately after the 31st day of March in each year, the Judge in charge shall ascertain what payment orders issued on or before that date are still uncashed, and shall mark them off under his initial in the Registers (1) of Payment Orders, and (2) Deposit Receipts, as "cancelled under the rule 42 (b)."

Lapsed Deposits.

43. When an application is made to draw money at credit under a deposit which has lapsed under rule 95, but the payment of which is otherwise unobjectionable, the accountant shall prepare a special form of application (form 9), which, when passed by the Judge in charge after the examination prescribed by rule 40, shall be dealt with under rule 98.

Miscellaneous Refunds.

44. When an application is made for the refund of a fine or a miscellaneous receipt (heads (b) to (f) of rule 5), the payment order shall be prepared by the accountant in Form 10, after checking the application by a reference to the Fine Register or Miscellaneous Receipt Register (rule 102); and the Judge in charge, at the time of passing the refund order, shall note the repayment against the entry of the receipt in such Register. The payment order shall also be noted in the Register of Payment Orders (Form 13), and initialed by the Judge in charge.

45. Application for the refund of the value of court-fee stamps is to be made to the chief ministerial officer, who shall compare the application with the record, and if he finds that a refund is due, shall draft and sign an order on the back of the paper to which the court-fee stamps are affixed. The papers must then be passed on to the accountant, who shall prepare a payment order in Form No. 11 or 12, as the case may require, and shall enter the particulars in the Register of Payment Orders. The application with the other papers and the Register shall then be laid before the judicial officer, who, if satisfied that the proceedings are in order, may sign the order of refund on the back of the stamped paper and the payment order, and initial the entry in the Register. The payment order shall then be made over to the applicant for presentation at the treasury, or if the amount do not exceed Rs. 5, to the cashier of the court.

Petty refunds of the value of court-fees may be paid out of cash in the court on vouchers in Form 12 and charged in the Cash Book.

46. In so far as concerns the accounts system, it is invariably necessary to trace each item of payment under the court's orders back to its corresponding item of receipt; in other words, to connect each item of a court's debit in the treasury with the corresponding item of credit, however far in time the two may be separated from each other. Accordingly the court must take care to furnish itself and the treasury with the necessary particulars for this purpose.

Payments by Cashier.

47. In the case of payment orders directed to the cashier, the payment must be entered by the cashier in the General Cash Book, the payment order being retained by the cashier as his voucher.

The cashier should cancel the vouchers, as soon as he pays them, by writing on the face "Paid" with his initials. A "paid" stamp should not be used, as that indicates the subsequent discharge at the treasury.

SECTION IV.—SETTLEMENT IN COURT.

Simultaneous Receipt and Payment ... 48 | Compensation to Plaintiff ... 49-50
Simultaneous Receipt and Payment.

48. When payer and payee are both before the court, the receipt and payment may be made, as provided in rule 8 above, by the money being passed directly between the parties, a note of the transaction being entered on the record of the case. Such transactions are not to appear in the court's accounts at all. Payment of compensation to plaintiffs must not be made under this rule; such transactions must pass through the books, as directed in the following rule:—

The procedure laid down in the above rule may be applied by a criminal court in cases of the award of compensation to the accused under section 209 of the Criminal Procedure Code, or of the refund of fees by the accused to complainants under section 31 of Act VII of 1870.

Payment of compensation to plaintiffs in presence of the accused.

49. The application of the plaintiff in form 10, and the chalan for the fine paid in by the accused, shall be drawn up and passed through the books in the ordinary way, and the receipt and payment are to be made independently of each other.¹ The order on the chalan shall, however, be signed by the judicial officer, and shall be an order to the Court Inspector to receive the amount; and the order on the application (form 10) shall be an order also directed to that officer to pay, but must contain the words “after the amount has been realized from A.B.”

50. In cases dealt with under the last rule, the duplicate chalan shall be returned to the payer duly endorsed with the certificate of the Court Inspector's transfer of the money, and the payment order, duly receipted, shall be retained in the custody of the court.

SECTION V.—ACCOUNT-KEEPING AND REMITTANCE TO TREASURY.

Courts near Treasuries ...	51-52	Adjustment with Treasury ...	58
Examination by Judge ...	53	Rules regarding Remittances ...	59-61
Daily Remittance ...	54-55	Treasury Advice List ...	62
Courts not near Treasuries ...	56	Comparison by Judge ...	64-65
Periodical Remittance ...	57

Courts near Treasuries.

51. In courts situated within daily reach of a treasury, the accountant shall, after the close of business each day, make the proper entries in the Treasury Pass Book (form 14), showing in detail the sums received from and paid to the public in cash. The receipts shall be entered on the right-hand side, and are to consist of the sums entered in column 5 of the register of chalans (form No. 2), headed “amount received in court.” The payments shall be entered on the left-hand side, and are to consist of the sums shown in column 5 of the register of payment orders (form No. 13), headed “Amount paid in court.”

52. Every chalan and payment order for money received or paid at court under heads (a) to (f) shall be shown in detail in the Pass Book, and the head of account shall be noted against each, so as to enable the treasury officer to bring the transactions in detail upon his books, and classify them correctly.

It is necessary to show in the pass book the totals only of each chalan and payment order. Each chalan may contain any number of items, provided they belong to the same head of account.

Examination by Judge in charge.

53. The Judge in charge shall examine the accounts by comparing (1) the Registers of Chalans and Payment Orders (amounts received and paid in court) with the Cashier's General Cash-Book; (2) the Treasury Pass-Book, with both; and (3) the balances shown in the Peremptory Cash Book, with those shown in the General Abstract Cash-Book.

Daily remittance.

54. The balances of the cashier's account in respect of diet money should be observed every day in passing the general cash book. To prevent excessive accumulations under this head, the Judge in charge should transfer to deposits such portions of the balance as he may consider advisable. Amounts so transferred, if subsequently required, shall be withdrawn from deposits in the manner described above, and credited in the Peremptory Cash Book. If such sums remain in deposit for three years, they must be carried to credit of Government under rule 95, relating to lapsed deposits.

55. Having initialed the accounts of the day and signed the Cash Book, the Judge in charge shall send the Pass Book to the treasury, together with the net amount in cash and all the chalans and payment orders. This remittance must be entered in the Cash Book as a payment of the day upon which it is made.

It is important that this be done before the business of the new day commences, and the cashier should have in hand after each such remittance, only the balance of the peremptory cash transactions and the other balances referred to in rule 35.

The total of chalans of the day for money received in cash by the court, minus the total of payment orders cashed at the court, will represent the balance of cash to be remitted to the treasury. The amount so remitted will be noted on the back of the last chalan entered in the Pass Book (Form No. 14), in order to avoid the separate chalan which otherwise would be required by the Treasury Officer.

Courts not near Treasuries.

56. At out-stations the Cash Book shall be balanced as prescribed above, and the balances, both that of the receipts and payments under heads (a) to (f), and that of peremptory transactions, shall be carried forward to the next day's account. The accounts shall be balanced, compared, and signed every day in the manner prescribed in rule 53, save that, instead of comparing the Treasury Pass Book with the accounts, the Judge in charge shall see that the court balances are brought forward, and shall at least once a week ascertain that the money is actually in possession of the cashier.

Periodical Remittance.

57. On the last day of the month, and from time to time as provided by rule 13, the treasury Pass Book shall be made up, showing all receipts and payments at the court since the last remittance to the treasury. Its accuracy having been tested, it shall be forwarded to the treasury with all chaulans and payment orders. If the receipts have exceeded the payments, the cash excess shall be sent to the treasury; if the contrary, the cash deficit shall be received from the treasury: in either case the cashier will have, after the completion of the transaction, in addition to the balance of peremptory cash transactions, only the Permanent Advance allowed to the court for carrying on its payments at a distance from the treasury.

Adjustment with Treasury.

58. The last day for remittance in each month must be so fixed that the final payment or receipt of money at the treasury may just come within the month's accounts at the treasury or sub-treasury (see rule 71), as otherwise the monthly accounts of the Judge in charge and those of the treasury will not agree. Any transactions at the court after this remittance is made, although shown under their proper dates, should be treated as if they belonged to the ensuing month's accounts, registers, and returns.

Rules regarding Remittances.

59. It is the duty of the Judge in charge to see that money remitted from his court actually reaches the treasury, and is acknowledged by the Treasury Officer in the Pass Book.

60. In making such remittances, the Police rules, as to sending an escort with the money, must be duly observed.

61. During the absence on tour of Sub-divisional Officers and the consequent closing of their treasuries, Moonsiffs must be guided by the preceding rules applicable to officers at stations where there are no treasuries, and must make remittances of surplus cash if necessary to the district treasury. They will take advantage of the periodical return of Sub-divisional Officers to head-quarters to reduce the cash balances in their hands as much as possible, due regard being had to their probable requirements.

Treasury Advice List.

62. At the close of business each day the Treasury Officer, whether Sudder or Sub-divisional, shall prepare Advice Lists in form No. 15 of all such chaulans and payment orders of each Judge in charge as have been brought upon the treasury accounts in the course of the day, and shall forward them to such Judges in charge respectively. In these lists shall be entered in detail such chaulans and payment orders as have been received or paid at the treasury or sub-treasury in cash, while those brought into the treasury account from the Pass-book (Rule 55) shall be included in a single total on each side, with the description "As per your Pass-book dated ..."

If the District Magistrate's court is close to the treasury, so that the Magistrate's registers referred to in Rule 64 can be sent daily to be compared and initiated by the Treasury Officer, this procedure may be adopted in lieu of the daily Advice List, if found more convenient.

63. The list prepared at the Sudder Treasury for the District Judge shall include, besides the moneys received and paid on account of the Judge's own court, those transactions also which belong to his subordinate courts. These amounts, however, need not be entered in detail, but may be included in a single total of receipts and of payments for each court, including Pass-book transactions brought into account.

Comparison by Judge.

64. On receipt of this Advice List the Judge in charge shall cause the particulars of the chaulans and payment orders shown in it to be compared with the details recorded in his Registers of Chaulans and Payment Orders (forms 2 and 13), and shall further cause the date of actual credit and payment, as certified by the Treasury Officer, to be entered in the column prescribed for that purpose.

65. These entries must be initiated by the Judge in charge when he checks the posting in the Deposit Registers, as prescribed in Rule 68 below.

SECTION VI.—DEPOSIT REGISTERS.

Separation of Petty Deposits ...	66	Notes of Claims ...	69
Posting ...	67	Register of Repayments ...	70
Registers of Receipts ...	68	Closing for the month ...	71

Separation of Petty Deposits.

66. Two Registers of Deposit Receipts shall be kept in form No. 16, and two of Deposit Repayments in form No. 17. One of these shall be termed the Register of A Deposits, and there shall be entered therein all deposits originally exceeding Rs. 5. The other shall be termed the Register of B Deposits, and there shall be entered therein all deposits not originally exceeding Rs. 5. Both Registers shall be kept in the same form and shall be posted in the same manner, but with separate series of number (see next rule, distinguished by the initial letters A and B respectively.

Posting.

67. As soon as the treasury Advice List is received (rule 62), the Deposit Register will be posted in the following manner for the date to which it refers. In the first place, all cash transactions in court on that date shall be posted, the receipts being copied from the Register of Challans (column 5), and the payments from the Register of Payment Orders (column 5). Transactions at the treasury shall then be written up from the Advice List, the entries in this list being compared with those in Registers 2 and 13.

Registers of receipts.

68. All items of deposit in these registers must, as directed above, be numbered in an annual consecutive series of numbers commencing on 1st April, and ending with the last day of March in each official year. Only the first eight columns shall be filled in at first, the other columns being intended for the record of subsequent repayments.

Notes of Claims, &c.

69. As it is important that the Deposit Registers in the Accountant's Department should set forth in respect of each item all information necessary in order to deal at once with applications to draw money, all attachment processes and transfer orders relating to decrees, and all orders as to the substitution of parties which affect decretal and other moneys in deposit, shall be noted at the time in the Deposit Register. The Sheristadar or some other specified subordinate under his supervision shall be made responsible for this duty.

Whether the Sheristadar's responsibility is or is not to end with the communication to the Accountant or Accountant's mohurir is a matter left to the discretion of each court, but some specific order should be recorded.

Registers of Repayments.

70. The Registers of Deposit Repayments (form 17) shall be posted from the Treasury Advice List and the Payment Order Registers, as directed above.

Closing for the month.

71. The Registers of Deposit Receipts and Deposit Repayments in courts at a sudder station shall be totalled and closed on the last day of each month upon which the sudder treasury remains open, and in sub-divisional stations on the day on which the accounts of the sub-divisional treasury are finally closed for the month in such a way that the period and the transactions included in the court's books and returns may correspond exactly with those included in the treasury books and returns.

Care must be taken to make the final remittance to the treasury in such time that it may be entered in the accounts of the treasury for the month to which it belongs.

In each of the Registers of Deposit Receipts (prescribed by rule 66), a plus and minus memorandum must be drawn up at the end of the month's entries in the following form:—

			Rs.
Balance of deposits from last month
Received during the month, as per register		...
	Total	...
Repayments, as per register
Balance of deposits at end of month

SECTION VII.—CONTROL OVER SUBORDINATE COURTS.

Responsibility ...	72	Posting Repayments ...	79
Daily Returns ...	73—74	Monthly Return ...	80
Verification by Judge in charge	75	Plus and Minus Memorandum ...	81
Examination by Judge ...	76	Examination by District Judge	82
Register of Totals ...	77—78	Posting Receipts ...	83—84

Responsibility.

72. Every Judge is responsible for all payments of deposits made on his certificate or under his orders. In the case of receipts and payments of petty or B Deposits, no detailed check is exercised over his proceedings, the accounts which he is required to render of these showing totals only. In the case of A Deposits, however, all sums received, and not paid out during the month in which they have been received, and the balance of such of these deposits as have been partly paid out, must be reported to the District Judge, and must be included in that officer's accounts, and in his return to the Accountant-General.

Daily Return of Subordinate Courts.

73. Every day after the Treasury Advice has been received, and the Deposit and other Registers have been written up and checked with it, two statements showing the transactions of the date to which it refers shall be prepared by the Judge in charge, and forwarded to the District Judge. The first of these statements (form No. 18) shall show the total amount of the entries in the Deposit Registers and the totals of all other transactions brought on the registers (see rules 108, 109). The second shall be an extract from part I of the Register of Deposits Repaid (form 17), giving the particulars of repayments on account of deposits received during previous months. At the foot of the first statement the Judge in charge shall certify that his Registers of B Deposits are written up to date and are in order.

It will be observed that these returns are intended to exhibit actual receipts and payments, and that they are therefore to be compiled from the Deposit Register, and not from the Registers of Challans and Payment Orders.

74. At out-stations some delay in submitting the daily returns is unavoidable, but this delay should not exceed the time necessary for the Treasury Advice List to reach the Court. The date on which the returns are actually signed should be noted on them by the Judge in charge.

Verification by Judge in Charge.

75. At the time of signing the returns, the Judge in charge should have before him the Registers of Challans and Payment Orders, the Registers of Receipts and Payments of Deposits, and the Treasury Advice List; and after comparison he should attest the entries in column 8 of Registers 2 and 13 by placing his initials in column 9, and the entries in the Registers of Deposit Receipts and Payments by placing his initials in columns 7 and 13 respectively.

Examination by District Judge.

76. The statements furnished by the subordinate courts shall, when received in the District Judge's office, be compared with the corresponding Advice Lists supplied to him by the Treasury Officers under rule 63. In the case of out-stations, the totals for the whole month supplied by the Judge in charge must agree with the totals for the whole month supplied by the Treasury Officer, if only attention have been paid to the rules regarding periodical remittances. In the course of the month the former totals will ordinarily exceed the latter, and the difference must be taken to represent cash transactions advised by the court, but not yet brought on the treasury books. In the case of courts near treasuries, no such discrepancies should occur if the rules are properly observed. When any such are noticed, immediate steps must be taken under the District Judge's orders to reconcile them.

Judge's Register of Totals.

77. After examination, the totals of deposits received and paid shall be posted into a register to be kept by the District Judge in form No. 19. This register contains two sets of columns—one set relating to A Deposits, and the other to B Deposits. Separate portions of the register for the month must be allotted to each subordinate court,—that is, for each subordinate court a number of pages, according to the probable work, must be assigned in the leaves devoted to that particular month. The entries in respect of each subordinate court will thus come continuously and in order of date, and they must be totalled at the end of the month.

78. In the portion of the register which relates to B Deposits, a column has been provided for a daily balance, which must be struck by adding together the preceding day's balance and receipts, and deducting the payments. The object of the daily balance is to afford the District Judge a ready means of controlling subordinate courts in the receipt and payment of small deposits, as any excess of payments over receipts will be at once detected.

Posting Repayments of A Deposits.

79. Taking up next the detailed Daily Register of Deposits Repaid (form No. 17), the repayments must be posted against the corresponding entries in the Judge's Daily Register of Deposits Received (form No. 16), and must be initialled by the District Judge, or under his orders by the Chief Ministerial Officer of his Court, in the same manner as repayments authorized by himself. They must also, at the same time, be copied into his Register of Deposit Repayments (form No. 17).

As each payment is noted in the Judge's Register, the district number (rule 83) against which the payment is charged must be noted in the subordinate court's return.

In noting the repayments, care should be taken to see that the amounts thus reported as repaid are actually repayable, and that amounts which should be credited to Government are not repaid to individuals.

Monthly Return.

80. (a)—At the end of the month there shall be furnished by the subordinate courts to the District Judge a statement of all A Deposits received, but not wholly repaid during the month. This statement will be an extract from the Register of Deposit Receipts (form No. 16), omitting the items which have been wholly repaid during the same month. Of deposits received and partially repaid in the same month, the unpaid balance only is to be shown in this statement. The dates of despatch from the subordinate court and of receipt by the district court shall be noted on this statement.

Explanation.—An A Deposit, the balance of which has been reduced below Rs. 5 by a payment made in the same month, is to be included among the A, and not among the B, Deposits.

(b)—On the 31st March of each year the subordinate courts shall in addition submit to the District Court a certificate that all uncashed orders to be cancelled under Rule 42 (b) have been marked off in their registers.

Plus and Minus Memorandum.

81. There shall be appended to the monthly statement of deposit receipts a plus and minus memorandum in the following form:—

				Rs.
Balance of last month
Amount of A Deposits received	{	Repaid during the month
during the month.		Not repaid ditto
Amount of B Deposits received during the month
		Total
Amount of A Deposits repaid	{	Received during the month
during the month.		Received during previous month
Amount of B Deposits repaid during the month
		BALANCE OF DEPOSITS OUTSTANDING

Certificate.

Certified that on a comparison of Treasury Advances with postings therefrom in the Registers of Chalang of Payment Orders, of Deposit Receipts, and of Miscellaneous Receipts, the amounts entered above as received and paid are correct.

Examination by District Judge.

82. On receipt of the monthly statement and the plus and minus memorandum, the register (form No. 19) shall be compared therewith. First, as regards A Deposits, the total of the column headed "Repaid on account of current month" should agree with the amount shown in the plus and minus memorandum; and when this amount is deducted from the total of the column headed "Total amount received," the balance ought to agree exactly with the total of the statement of outstanding A Deposits received from the court to which the figures relate. Second, as regards B Deposits, the balance itself can be tested in detail only once a year, when the yearly statement under Rule 92 is received; but every month the difference between the opening and the closing balance should be equal to the difference between the receipts and payments reported in the plus and minus memorandum.

Posting Receipts of A Deposits.

83. The figures in the subordinate courts' monthly detailed statement of A Deposits received shall be entered by the District Judge in his own register of deposits received, and shall be numbered in continuation of his own series, their original numbers being also noted below the district numbers for subsequent reference.

The Judge should examine the receipts so as to see that no item has been improperly held in deposit and if he finds amounts so held which should be credited to Government, he should direct the subordinate court accordingly.

84. The District Judge's Registers of Deposits exceeding Rs. 5 received and repaid thus include each month not only those of his own court, but also of all subordinate courts, excepting only the sums received and repaid in such courts during the same month.

SECTION VIII.—DISTRICT MONTHLY RETURN.

Deposit Received	85	Plus and Minus Memorandum	87
Deposit Repaid	86

Returns of Deposits Received.

85. On the 12th of each month, an extract Register of Deposit Receipts exceeding Rs. 5 shall be prepared by the District Judge in form No. 20, and forwarded to the Treasury Officer for transmission, after comparison with his cash accounts, to the Accountant-General. This Extract Register will be a copy of the entries made during the month in his register (form No. 16), and will contain all such items of more than Rs. 5 each as were deposited in his own court and in courts subordinate to him, omitting all those which were wholly repaid during the month, and showing, in the case of those partially repaid during the month, the unpaid balance only. At the foot of this register, deposits received and repaid during the month, and deposits received for sums of Rs. 5 each and less, are to be shown in totals without details. This Extract Register should be despatched punctually on the 12th of the month, unless in the case of the larger districts a later date is fixed.

Returns of Deposits Repaid.

86. A monthly extract from his Register of Deposit Payments (form No. 17) of sums above Rs. 5 shall be forwarded in the same form by the Judge to the Treasury Officer for transmission, after comparison with his lists of payments, to the Accountant-General. The District Judge shall include in this extract (1) the details of repayments on account of deposits of previous months, whether made in his own court or entered by him from the statements of subordinate courts—rule 79; (2) a single total of the repayments of the current month's deposits, whether made at the district or subordinate court, which must agree with the total of receipts on the same account; (3) the total of the repayments on account of deposits of Rs. 5 and less.

Plus and Minus Memorandum.

87. A plus and minus memorandum in the form prescribed in rule 81, but including the figures of the subordinate courts, as well as those of the District Judge's own court, shall be appended to the Statement of Deposit Receipts.

This plus and minus memorandum is to show as repayments the actual repayments at the treasury, and is further to show the treasury balance outstanding.

It will be found convenient to keep in a separate register a copy of this plus and minus memorandum, with further memoranda of the details from which the figures have been arrived at. It is important that there should be no difficulty at any time in reconciling the figures of the court with those of the treasury.

SECTION IX.—ANNUAL ACCOUNT PARTICULARS.

Account Particulars	... 88-89	Verification of Petty
Subordinate courts	... 90	Deposit Balance	... 92-44
District Judge	... 91

Account Particulars.

88. At the end of each year the Registers of A Deposits received in the next preceding year shall be closed by transcribing into the last column, headed "Transferred to Account Particulars," every balance which exceeds Rs. 5. An annual Account Particulars shall then be drawn up in form No. 20 with the alterations noted below, showing all these balances against their original numbers; showing, in other words, all the unpaid balances of A Deposits of the preceding account year next but one. For example, the account particulars of April 1-80 will show all unpaid balances of A Deposits received in 1878-79.

Of balances which do not exceed Rs. 5, a separate list shall be made out under rule 95 below.

The changes necessary to adapt form No. 20 for use as an Account Particulars are as follow:—

Account Particulars of Deposits received by the ... of ... in 187 -7 , still outstanding on 1st April 187

In column 6, for amount substitute balance of each deposit.

In column 7, for in the year of receipt substitute in the second year after receipt; for in the following year substitute in the third year after receipt.

In the last column, for transferred to Account particulars substitute lapsed and credited to Government.

89. The items in this account having been carefully compared with the corresponding balances in the original Register of Deposits Received (form No. 16), the last-named document shall be laid aside, and future repayments recorded only on the Account Particulars.

If against any of the items transferred to Account Particulars a repayment order has been issued and cancelled under Rule 42 (b), a note to that effect must be made in the Account Particulars, so that if application for payment is again made, an order may not be issued without recalling the original cancelled one.

Return by Subordinate Courts.

90. A copy of the Account Particulars shall be sent by the subordinate courts to the District Judge, and by him carefully compared with the entries in his Register of Receipts. Any discrepancies found must be investigated and corrected.

Return by District Judge.

91. The Account Particulars of the District Judge necessarily includes the items in the several Account Particulars of the subordinate courts, and a copy of it shall be sent to the Accountant-General. The due date for its despatch shall be the 30th April, by which time the Judge should have received and compared the Account Particulars of his subordinate courts.

Verification of Petty Deposit Balance.

92. In order to verify the balance of B Deposits, each court shall make a list of the unpaid balances of receipts of the past twelve months, and by actual summation of these balances, find the total amount outstanding on account of the past year's deposits. Each court is required to submit, along with the Account Particulars of A Deposits, a certificate that the balance of B Deposits of the past year has been found by actual summation to be Rs

93. The balance found under the last rule, together with the total of the list prepared under Rule 95 (2), must equal the total balance of petty deposits on March 31st, and must be so verified—

(1)—By each court with the forward balance in the plus and minus memorandum.

(2)—By the District Judge with the balances of the subordinate court brought forward in the Register No. 19.

94. The District Judge having verified the balance certificates of the subordinate courts, shall endorse each with the certificate "Examined and found correct," and shall certify the fact of having done so upon the Lists of Lapsed Deposits sent to the Accountant-General under the next rule.

SECTION X.—LAPSE OF DEPOSITS.

Lapse of Deposits	95	Correction of Balance	97
Lists	96	Refunds	98-99

Lapse of Deposits

95. On 31st March of each year the following unpaid balances of deposits lapse to Government, and are to be so written off in the Account Particulars and Registers of Receipts respectively:—

(1) of A Deposits, first, all balances of deposits of the last account year but one which do not exceed Rs. 5, and are therefore not carried forward under rule 88 into the Account Particulars; these balances should be marked "Lapsed" in the Register of Receipts; secondly, all balances of deposits outstanding over three complete years, that is, all balances in the Account Particulars prepared two years before; these are to be marked off in the last column of the Account Particulars.

(2) of B Deposits, the balances of all deposits outstanding over one complete year, that is, the balances which in the case of deposits over Rs. 5 are transferred to Account Particulars under rule 88; these are to be marked off in the last column of the Registers of Receipts.

[Example.—The balances which lapse on 31st March 1880 are—

- (a) all balances not exceeding Rs. 5 of A deposits received in 1878-79.
- (b) all balances of A Deposits received in 1876-77
- (c) all balances of B Deposits received in 1878-79.

Lists of Lapsed Deposits.

96. Three lists of the balances to be written off shall be prepared in form 21, one for each of the three classes (a), (b), and (c), specified in the Example under rule 95. These Lists shall be submitted along with the Account Particulars. Those of the subordinate courts must be compared by the District Judge with his own Registers, and discrepancies, if found, must be reconciled. Those of the District Judge must include under the District Judge's numbers, the lapsed balances of A Deposits of the subordinate courts.

As regards B Deposits, the Lists received from the subordinate courts must be copied into the District Judge's List, with a separate total for each court, the originals being filed for future reference.

The note under rule 89 applies to these Lists of Lapsed Deposits also.

Correction of Balance.

97. These Lists must be submitted during all April, and the totals thereof must be deducted by a separate entry from the plus and minus memorandum drawn up at the end of April, so that the plus and minus memorandum may show only the balance actually outstanding upon the Registers of the court concerned.

Refund of Lapsed Deposits.

98. When payment of a deposit lapsed under rule 95 is required by a person entitled thereto, application shall be made through the District Judge, who shall examine the claim, and, if he find it correct, shall forward an application in form No. 9 to the Accountant-General. Several deposit numbers may be included in a single application, if they are payable to the same person. The Accountant-General's letter of authority, when received, shall be noted against the items in the Account Particulars (or original Register in the case of a B Deposit), so as to prevent a second application. This letter shall then be passed for payment at the treasury, as prescribed in the form. No other record of these refunds is necessary; and such payments are not to be shown in the plus and minus memorandum.

99. If the letter of authority received from the Accountant-General is not claimed by the payee within twelve months from the date thereof, it shall be returned to that officer.

SECTION XI.—MISCELLANEOUS RECEIPTS.

Fines ...	100—1	Rules regarding Receipts	104—7
Registers ...	102	Control ...	108
Credits to Government ...	103	Monthly Returns ...	109

Fines.

100. The procedure for Magistrates' courts in respect of the realization of fines is prescribed by the orders of the Bengal Government published in March 1867 and May 1876, and produced in appendix C annexed to these rules. The rules of the Account Code, which prescribe a monthly statement to be sent by Subordinate Magistrates to the District Magistrate, and by the District Magistrate to the Accountant-General, are also reproduced in the same appendix.

101. When a fine is paid into a civil court, the receipt shall be dealt with under the next following rule.

Registers.

102. Every Judge in charge shall maintain (1) a Register of Judicial Fines in form 22; (2) a Register of Stamp Duty and Penalties in form 23; (3) a Register of the Refund of the value of court-fee stamps in form 24; and (4) a Register of Miscellaneous Receipts in form 25. In the 1st, 2nd, and 4th of these registers all receipts are to be posted which do not come under head (a) (Deposits) or head (b) (Peremptory Receipts) of rule 5. The entries shall be made and checked in the same way as the entries in Register of Deposit Receipts of the subordinate courts. The amount of petty receipts under head (f) are to be shown only in a single total for each day.

It is not necessary to maintain in Magistrates' courts the Fine Register here prescribed, as another register is prescribed by rule 100.

Credits to Government.

103. It is the duty of every Judge to see that sums which are in deposit, but which under any rule or law are forfeited, or become the property of Government—(e.g., earnest money forfeited, or intestate property unclaimed)—are duly credited to Government. In every such case there shall be prepared simultaneously (1) a payment order addressed to the cashier and directing payment of the deposit "by transfer as per chalan No. of this date," and (2) a chalan crediting it to the proper head. Such payment order and chalan shall be registered and dealt with in every way as if cash were paid out of and received into court.

Rules for Miscellaneous Receipts.

104. With regard to stamp penalties, attention should be given to sections 31, 39, and the other sections in Chapter IV of the Indian Stamp Act (1 of 1879). The penalty and the duty must always be separately credited. Form 10 shall be used for Certificates for Refund.

105. With regard to unclaimed property of intestates or others, it will be seen from the form that Register No. 25 deals only with receipts under this head which have remained in deposit for the prescribed period. A register showing the property in detail must be kept in civil courts in form 26, and in criminal courts in the form prescribed in the rules for Court Inspectors.

106. Under head (e) (Miscellaneous) of rule 5 shall be comprised all receipts not falling within any of the other principal heads of receipt;—e.g., forfeiture of earnest-money, &c., sale proceeds of old stores of furniture, &c.

107. Receipts under the head of account mentioned in rule 106 are at once credited at the treasury to Government. They are not to be retained intermediately in deposit either at the court or at the treasury.

Control of Subordinate Courts.

108. The miscellaneous receipts of subordinate courts are included in the Daily Statement sent to the District Judge under rule 73, and are also included in the Daily Advice from the treasury received by the District Judge under rule 63. The Judge must effect a comparison between these two, and see that in each month the total amount advised as paid into the treasury agrees with the total amount realized by the subordinate courts.

Monthly Returns.

109. At the close of the month every Judge in charge shall prepare lists in forms 22, 23, and 25 of all the miscellaneous receipts, &c., paid by him into the treasury. Subordinate courts shall forward their lists in duplicate to the District Judge, and the District Judge shall add the totals of these lists at the foot of his own list, and, appending one of the copies received by him from each subordinate court, shall forward the whole to the Accountant-General for check against the treasury accounts.

So far as regards fines in Magistrate's courts, this is done under a separate set of rules, quoted in Appendix C.

SECTION XII.—MISCELLANEOUS RULES.

Accountant and Cashier	110	}	Forms	112
Language	111		Daily Accounts	113

Accountant and Cashier.

110. In carrying out these rules, care must be taken by all Judicial Officers that in respect of cash transactions in court distinct officers are employed as accountant and cashier. In other words, the same officer shall not keep the registers of Chaldans and Payment Orders, Deposit Registers, &c., and also receive and pay the money.

Language of Record.

111. Judges who are acquainted with English and have a clerk acquainted with English, should keep their accounts in English. Those who cannot do so must keep their books and submit their accounts in the vernacular. In either case it must be distinctly recorded by each Judicial Officer whether the sheristadar is or is not responsible for a general control and supervision over the accountant.

Forms.

112. The whole of the necessary forms and account books are to be obtained through the Superintendent of Stationery, and each court is responsible for maintaining a proper printed stock of all the forms herein prescribed, and for submitting timely indents according to the rules in force from time to time. The forms intended for non-English offices shall be printed in biglot form, with English and Bengali, or English and Hindi headings. Manuscript forms are prohibited.

Daily Examination of Accounts.

113. The accounts and registers, of which a list is given in appendix A, must be compared daily by the Judge in charge; and this rule is on no account to be neglected, as its observance is essential to the integrity of the transactions and the correctness of the books. The notes at foot of the forms indicate how the verification is to be made.

Of the 2,350 chests of the opium manufactured at the Gazeepore Factory, 229 are of a consistence of 75°. The usual consistence of the opium manufactured at the Gazeepore Factory is 70°. These 229 chests are numbered 19947 to 20175, and are marked with a red X on each end.

2. The general conditions of the sale now advertized will be the same as usual. They may be ascertained by reference to the Notification issued on the 4th December 1880, and published in the Government and Exchange Gazettes, or on personal application at the office of the Board of Revenue.

3. The latest dates for deposit and clearance will be the 9th and 19th April 1881, respectively,—that is to say, no Bank of Bengal Receipts, Government Promissory Notes, or other public securities that may be tendered for deposit in redemption of Promissory Notes given by purchasers in the sale-room will be received after 1-30 P.M. of Saturday, the 9th April 1881, and no Bank of Bengal Receipts in full payment of lots will be accepted after 3-30 P.M. of Tuesday, the 19th April 1881.

4. The following table shows the quantity of opium that will be brought to sale in the next twelve months. The Board of Revenue, however, reserve to themselves the right of altering these dates should circumstances render it expedient to do so.

AMENDMENT OF THE CALCUTTA PORT IMPROVEMENT ACT.

THE Hon'ble the Advocate-General, in moving for leave to introduce a Bill to amend "The Calcutta Port Improvement Act Amendment Act, 1880," said that Act IV of 1880 empowered the Port Commissioners to borrow money by the issue of debentures under the provisions of sections 9 and 10, subject to certain conditions which were imposed by sections 17, 18, and 19 of the Act. These conditions were that, if interest upon any loan was not paid according to the conditions of the loan, the Lieutenant-Governor might of his own motion, and should on the application of lend...

value of the total of the loan in respect of the payment of interest on which default had been committed, attach the tolls, duties, rates, fund or property on the security of which the loan was made, and appoint a receiver. The section further provided that no default in payment of interest should render the loan repayable. Sections 18 and 19 worked out that procedure, section 19 giving the Lieutenant-Governor certain power over the accounts to be kept in case of attachment. This was considered by the Council, he presumed, an inexpensive and expeditious method of recovering in case of default in the payment of interest, and it was thought that the facilities thus offered would be readily accepted. But advertisements having been issued under section 9 of the Act, calling for loans, the Port Commissioners represented to the Government that they were unable to raise loans in the open market under the restrictions imposed under section 17 of the Act. Upon that matter being represented to Government, together with two or three minor matters which he should presently notice, it was deemed advisable to remove the restrictions imposed by the Act in the way of effecting loans, and to give persons lending money the full benefit of any independent action which any debenture-holder might be entitled to under the law. He believed it was not the intention of the Government or of the Legislature in any way to reduce the security on which money was to be advanced, but it was thought that the simple and inexpensive method of obtaining payment in case of default, which was provided under sections 17 to 19—a method which it was hoped, in the flourishing state of the Port Commissioners, would never come into operation—would give to the debenture-holders sufficient security. However, as a matter of fact, objections were taken, and it was immediately conceded by the Government that those restrictions should be removed. This was one of the purposes for which he moved for leave to introduce this Bill. In the Bill he proposed to repeal sections 17, 18, and 19 of the Act, and then in sections 7 and 8 to introduce a few words to make the subject-matter of the previous sections clear, and to substitute amended sections for them. Then in order to remove the other difficulty that no default of payment of interest should render the loan repayable, it was provided in the form of debentures to be issued that if default be made for two consecutive half-years, either in the payment of interest or in making the necessary investments on account of the Sinking Fund, the loan should become repayable; and in order to remove any difficulty as regards the question of registration, he had drawn a form of debenture which he thought would be entirely free from any such objection. The difficulties having been removed, he had every confidence that the loan would be immediately subscribed for. Opportunity had also been taken to raise the maximum number of the Commissioners to 13, to enable the Lieutenant-Governor to add a Commissioner to represent the growing interests of Howrah. A section had been added for that purpose. Further, opportunity had been taken to empower the Lieutenant-Governor to make bye-laws regulating the hours of employment of European seamen on board ships lying in the port in work necessitating exposure to the sun. The subject had attracted considerable public attention, and it was not necessary to enlarge upon it. But it was clear to every one who had thought on the subject that exposure to the sun in the very hot months was detrimental to the health and injurious to the lives of seamen and others employed on board vessels in Calcutta. It was known to the Council that, however hard and injurious the work might be, it was lawful for the master of a vessel to order any member of his crew to do work which exposed him to the sun in the hot months, and disobedience to such order was punishable very severely. It was thought necessary to protect persons so situated, and to give persons employed in vessels lying in the port special protection of a law reasonably limiting the hours of employment. The Port Commissioners had made a recommendation to that effect, and the subject had been referred for the opinion of the Chamber of Commerce. Their answer had not yet been received; but he had no doubt it would affirm the recommendation of the Port Commissioners.

The motion was agreed to.

On the application of the Advocate-General, the Rules were suspended and the Bill was read in Council and referred to a Select Committee, consisting of the Hon'ble Mr. Mackenzie, the Hon'ble Mr. Prestage, and the mover, with instructions to report at the next meeting of the Council.

COURT OF WARDS ACT AMENDMENT.

THE HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER moved for leave to introduce a Bill to amend "The Court of Wards Act, 1879." He said, the reason for the introduction of this Bill was a question relating to pensions. Under the impression that the law allowed it, small pensions had hitherto been paid out of the Wards' Fund to persons employed under the Court of Wards, and no objection had been raised. But the question had now arisen in connection with a gentleman of distinguished abilities, who had done great service to the public, besides those which he had rendered to the Court of Wards. It was now considered right to give him a pension in recognition of his services. Mr. DAMPIER believed that the Government proposed to give from the general revenues such part of the pension as would represent this gentleman's services to the public at large, and it was right that the part which represented his services to the Court of Wards should be derived from the funds of the Court of Wards. But the Government of India was now advised that the wording of the existing law did not admit of pensions being charged against the Court of Wards Funds. The original object of the Bill was to remedy this defect.

Then, as his hon'ble and learned friend had just said, the opportunity was taken to amend the law in other points. Some of these were important points, relating to the protection of wards' estates from sale for arrears of revenue. There was a section of the Sale Law, Act XI of 1859, section 17, which protected these estates from sale. The existence of that section was obviously overlooked when the Wards Act of 1870 was passed, and, again, when the existing Act of 1879, which followed the Act of 1870, was enacted. What was meant to be a corresponding provision was then enacted. But unfortunately the corresponding section did not correspond. The Bill was not yet ready, but with it would be circulated some papers which would show hon'ble members the difference between the two Acts. It was now obviously necessary to amend the law. The provision in the Act of 1859 would be repealed, and the existing law would be so amended as to embody what the Council might consider to be a proper provision on the subject.

The next point was that, under the provision of section 17 of Act XI of 1859, which it would be proposed to the Council to re-enact, the estates of wards were protected from sale for arrears of revenue accruing due while such estates were under the Court of Wards; that is to say, if an arrear accrued a day before a ward attained his majority—if there happened to be an arrear outstanding on the day on which charge of the property was given up by the Court—it could not be recovered by sale of the estate on which the arrear was due. That was well enough, but unfortunately no other means were provided for realizing the arrears. Obviously, provision should be made for the recovery of such arrears in some way. It was proposed to provide that when an arrear was due at the time when a ward's property was released from the charge of the Court of Wards, the Collector might recover the arrear by attachment of the estate in the same manner as he was allowed to do in respect of an arrear of revenue accruing due from the inherited estate of a minor which had not been taken under charge of the Court of Wards.

The third point in connection with this protection to wards' estates was this: At present an estate could not be sold for arrears of revenue while under the charge of the Court of Wards. Mr. DAMPIER was able to show hon'ble members of Council, from the papers which would be circulated with the Bill, that it was sometimes absolutely necessary, in the interests of the ward himself, that an estate should be so sold. When an estate was so deteriorated that it could not pay the revenue for which it was liable, any private zemindar would, as a matter of course, relieve himself of the liability to pay the revenue by letting the estate go to sale; but the law did not admit of a ward's estate being got rid of in this way. The answer which suggested itself at first sight was "so much the better for the ward; the manager has only got to leave the revenue unpaid; the Government cannot sell the estate." But it was not so. Unfortunately for the ward, there was another section of the law which required that all funds which came into the hands of the manager of a ward's estate must be applied in the first instance to the payment of revenue as long as any arrear was outstanding, so that if any one particular estate belonging to a ward could not pay its own revenue demand, the manager was bound to make up the deficiency from the other funds in his hands. It was proposed, therefore, to modify the section which absolutely prohibited the sale of an estate for arrears of revenue, guarding the modification strictly by the condition that no estate would be sold unless the Board of Revenue should be thoroughly satisfied in each case that it was for the interest of the ward that the estate should be sold.

There were no other provisions in the Bill which Mr. DAMPIER thought of sufficient importance to bring to the notice of the Council at this stage.

The motion was agreed to.

AMENDMENT OF THE CESS ACT, 1880.

The HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER moved for leave to introduce a Bill to amend "The Cess Act, 1880," and in doing so he said that his remarks would consist in reading to the Council the statement of objects and reasons which accompanied the Bill, and which was as follows:—

"The object of this Bill is to correct certain errors which are found to have crept into the edition of the Bill to repeal the previous Cess Acts, which was ultimately passed by this Council and assented to by the Governor General, and so became law as Act IX of 1880.

The opportunity is taken to make one or two amendments in the Act, which the working of it has shown to be desirable."

He would, however, add, by way of personal explanation, that the Bill into which the errors had crept was not the Bill which was passed by the Council when he was in charge of it. That Bill did not contain these errors, which he might state were first brought to light in a circular issued by the Board of Revenue. He did not know how the errors crept in when the second Bill was introduced and passed in consequence of the Viceroy having withheld his assent to the Bill which was originally passed.

The motion was agreed to.

AMENDMENT OF THE CALCUTTA MUNICIPAL ACT.

The HON'BLE KRISTODAS PAL moved for leave to introduce a Bill to amend the Calcutta Municipal Consolidation Act, 1876, and in doing so he said he had been invited to take charge of the Bill, and he did so with pleasure. He should state at the outset that there was no intention whatever to touch the Municipal Constitution. The Lieutenant-Governor, he was permitted to say, was quite willing to give a full and fair trial to the present system of municipal government in Calcutta. The object of the Bill was partly to give legal effect to the loan arrangements lately entered into between the Government of India and the Calcutta Municipality; also to provide for the repayment of municipal loans which might be advanced by the public by extending the term of repayment from 30 to 60 years, or reducing the contribution to the Sinking Fund from 2 to 1 per cent; to extend the power of the Corporation with regard to the reclamation of bustees; and to make such other amendments in the provisions of the existing law as had suggested themselves by practical experience. With regard to the first point, he might mention that the Corporation of Calcutta owed to the Government a debt of Rs. 78,81,000. These loans were raised at different rates, namely 4, 4½, and 5 per cent. It was proposed that, if these loans were consolidated, and 60 half-yearly payments of interest and Sinking Fund were made at the rate of 4½ per cent, the Municipality might be able to save a considerable amount of money in the way of annual contribution to the Sinking Fund, provided that they would agree to make over to the Government the accumulations of the Sinking Fund up to the date of such arrangement. The Municipality accepted the proposal of the Government, and it had since been carried out. The arrangements made were thus summarised in the last administration report of the Commissioners:—

"The Government of India is prepared to close the transaction if the Municipality will surrender its present Sinking Funds, and agree to discharge the rest of the debt by 60 equal half-yearly payments of principal and interest, calculated at 4½ per cent. It seems probable that neither the Government nor the Municipality would either lose or gain by this arrangement, and that it would be convenient to the Municipality, whose yearly payments would be reduced from Rs. 5,94,378 to Rs. 1,27,089."

By this arrangement the Municipality had been able to save about Rs. 1,25,000 per annum, which was equal to about 1 per centum of the house-rate, and he desired to acknowledge, on behalf of the Corporation, the substantial concession which the Government had made. The next important point was to reduce the contribution to the Sinking Fund from 2 to 1 per centum on loans raised from the public. The principle involved in this contribution was that the present generation was practically made to bear the whole cost of improvements; it was proposed that the cost of improvements of a permanent character should be equally divided between the present generation and posterity, and with that view it was proposed to reduce the contribution to the Sinking Fund. He would also observe that, while on the one hand the concession of Government he referred to had proved beneficial, it had on the other hand placed the Municipality at some disadvantage, because the minimum interest which the Corporation had now to pay for their loans was 5 per centum, whereas the rate of interest on Government loans seldom exceeded 4½. The main object he had in asking for the reduction of the contribution to the Sinking Fund was to help the Corporation in carrying out the doubling of the water-supply; and that object, as the Council was aware, was uppermost in the minds of the Corporation; but owing to financial difficulties and other considerations, they had not yet been able to carry it out. The most important point in the water extension scheme was the 62" main, objection to which was raised on financial grounds; but if the contribution to the Sinking Fund were reduced as proposed, there would not, he apprehended, be any difficulty on that ground. It was not his intention, nor did he think this the place, to discuss the question of the main; but if a 62" main was provided, it would not only meet the wants of Calcutta, but, he was told by competent men, would also suffice for a supply of water to the suburbs.

The third point in the Bill was the subject of bustee reclamation. He believed that the Government here, as well as the Home Government, were particularly anxious that active measures should be taken for the reclamation of bustees in the town. When the Municipal Act was amended in 1876, it was considered necessary to vest the Municipal Commissioners with extensive powers in this respect. There was, however, one defect which was unfortunately not remedied at that time. The procedure laid down by the Act of 1876 was as follows:—That if the Commissioners should find certain bustees or blocks of huts injurious to the health of the locality, they should serve notice on the owner, specifying the necessary improvements, and calling upon him to make them at his own expense. But should the owner neglect to do so, the Commissioners were empowered to carry out the improvements at the cost of the Municipality and recover the expenditure from him. The result would be that the owner of a bustee would be deprived of his property for the sake of improvements wholly beyond his means. When the Bill of 1876 was before the Council, BABOO KRISTODAS PAL had pointed out that that provision was not sufficient, and that it would press very severely on poor proprietors, and he drew attention to Mr. Cross's Artizans' Lodgings' Bill, which was then before Parliament, under which the Town Councils and Commissioners in the United Kingdom were empowered to take up lands by paying compensation to owners to make the necessary improvements, and to let or re-sell the lands. This Council, however, did not accept that view, but passed the Act without the equitable provision which he took the liberty of suggesting. In reviewing the first administration report of the present Corporation, His Honor the present Lieutenant-Governor directed attention to this most important point, and recorded a resolution from which BABOO KRISTODAS PAL would read a few lines:—

"Mr. Eden believes that the proper way of dealing with these bustees is for the Municipality to set aside a certain amount of money every year, and to buy up block after block of bustees, clear it, drain it, lay it out with roads, fill in all dirty tanks and hollows, and then sell the land thus reclaimed in convenient lots for the erection of houses for the people on plans to be approved by the Municipality. The owners of these bustees are frequently not in a condition to pay for their improvement, even though it be shown to them beyond question that the value of the land is enormously improved by the removal of nuisances and the levelling of the land. If the matter were taken up systematically by the Municipality, they would probably find that the profit of reclamation was so certain as to warrant their raising special loans for the subject, and thus, in a few years, getting rid of these sources of disease."

BABOO KRISTODAS PAL might mention that the late Municipal Commissioners followed the plan which His Honor suggested in this Resolution, and he held in his hands a list of the bustees which were reclaimed by them, by purchasing entire blocks of land and selling them in building lots. The first of these was Dunkin Bustee—a very large piece of land, which was a great nuisance to the neighbourhood, but the character of which was now entirely changed; in the place of dirty, stinking, miserable hovels, there were now palatial residences. In the same way Money Bustee was reclaimed, and another known as Peterson's Bustee. These were the three great bustees in the southern division of the town which were reclaimed in the way he had described. The present Municipal Commissioners had not lost sight of the question, but they were divided in opinion on the subject. He, and his friend Dr. RAJENDRA LALA MITTRA, held that, under the law, municipal money could be applied to the purchase of bustees, that being one of the objects to which the municipal funds were applicable. Other Commissioners, however, held a different opinion, and at last the question was submitted to the learned Advocate-General, who was of opinion that, under the Act, it was not competent for the Commissioners to purchase land for the reclamation of bustees. He would read the following extract from that opinion:—

"The expression 'reclamation of unhealthy localities' in the 26th section, does not in my opinion apply to or justify the purchase of lands and the construction of necessary works of sanitation in bustees. The works referred to in the section in which the words 'reclamation of unhealthy localities' occur, are all works in which the public generally, and not private individuals, are interested; but assuming section 26 and the sections commencing with 280 in Part V of the Act to apply to the same class of subjects, and that the reclamation of unhealthy localities is an expression tantamount to taking sanitary measures with regard to blocks of huts, still I do not think that the effect of sections 26 and 280, 281 and 282 read together, is to allow the Commissioners the choice of one of two alternatives."

This being the opinion of the highest legal authority, the Commissioners were unable to move in the matter, and it was now thought desirable to take power from the Legislature to apply the municipal funds to this purpose.

Another object of the Bill was to give practical effect to the provisions of the present law for the regulation of druggists' shops. It would be in the recollection of those members who were in the Council in 1876, that power was given to the Health Officer to inspect dispensaries where European medicines were sold, but unfortunately the law did not give him power to seize or condemn drugs which might have become inert or noxious through deterioration by reason of time or climate. The Health Officer of the Corporation thought that such power ought to have been given to him, and it was also considered advisable to apply to the Council for power to require the proprietors of druggists' shops to employ certificated compounders. Fatal accidents not unfrequently occurred through the ignorance or neglect of compounders. At present these compounders, or the majority of them, had no professional training whatever, and it rested with the employers to engage the services of such persons as they thought fit. The Government some time ago drew the attention of the British Indian Association to this subject, and suggested a system of certificating compounders, and the Bill accordingly proposed to empower the Government to make rules on the subject. If such a system were introduced, the students of the Campbell Medical School, and of the Dacca and Patna schools, would find a large field for employment. At present this measure would be confined to Calcutta, but if it should work well, it might be extended to the mofussil hereafter.

The last point in the Bill to which he would refer was the question of allowing pensions to persons partly paid by the Government and partly by the Corporation. On this subject there had been considerable correspondence between the Government and the Corporation. The latter did not agree in the view taken by the former, viz., that the Corporation should pay the pensions of such persons, on the ground that they were in no sense servants of the Municipality, but a part of whose salaries was borne by the municipal fund under a special legal obligation. He must frankly state that he did not accept the decision of the Government in this matter, but, as he had been put in charge of the Bill, he considered it his duty to introduce a provision on the subject in deference to the wishes of Government. It would be for the Council to say whether the power sought should be given to Government to compel the Corporation to pay the pensions of persons who were not servants of the Corporation, because their appointment and dismissal did not rest with it, but a part of whose salaries was met from contributions made by it.

There were a few other minor points in the Bill in respect of which he would not make any observations at present.

HIS HONOR THE PRESIDENT, in supporting the motion, said that, before putting the question for leave to introduce the Bill to amend the Calcutta Municipal Consolidation Act, he wished to say how glad he was that it had been brought forward by a gentleman who had shown himself, by his many years of hard and earnest service, to be a most able and zealous representative of municipal interests. He was quite sure that, while the Bill was in the hon'ble mover's hands, nothing would be done which would in any way interfere with the well-being of the Corporation. He would just say, in passing, with reference to the proposal to defer the time for the extinction of the Government Consolidated Loan by extending the period for repayment and decreasing payments towards the Sinking Fund, that it had his entire support, and had been recommended for the sanction of the Government of India on the distinct understanding that, in consideration of what was now being done to assist and relieve them, the Municipality would take sufficient measures to increase the water supply of the town in such a manner as would give a complete and thoroughly efficient supply not only to the town, but enable the Commissioners to meet the demands which would probably be made on them by the Suburbs. His Honor understood that these views were now accepted by the majority of the Commissioners, and he supported the Bill on the understanding that the Corporation would be prepared to meet the Government so far.

As regards bustees, His Honor thought the town never would be what it ought to be until the power for taking up lands, reclaiming them, and letting them out, was conferred on the Municipality. He himself had been under the impression that that body had this power. He very well recollected that in old days great results had been obtained by the Town Commissioners by taking up bustee lands in this way, and he thought it very desirable that measures should be taken to regulate the construction of buildings, whether European or native, and other schemes for drainage and ventilation, on plans to be approved by the Commissioners. He was not sure how far the Municipality were to blame in this matter, but he had observed that some lands which had been reclaimed and made healthy and clean had now been allowed to pass away into filthy bustees again. He might mention that the land in the neighbourhood of Theatre Road, known as Baman Bustee, which had been taken up by the old Commissioners, was now rapidly retrograding into a bad native bustee.

As regards compounders, it was sad to think of the amount of mischief and loss of life which had been caused by the gross ignorance of the persons in charge of the many petty druggists' shops scattered all over the town. The subject had been forced upon the attention of Government very frequently in several ways, and not unfrequently by the proceedings of the Coroner's Court, and His Honor thought the time had arrived when it was the bounden duty of the Corporation to see that arrangements were made to protect the lives of people, by prohibiting these shops being placed in the hands of men who had little or no training or knowledge in the use of drugs; and he was willing to co-operate with the Municipality in this matter, by establishing in the Government Medical Schools and Colleges cheap classes for compounders entirely distinct from the Government medical classes now in existence, the pupils of which would be fit to be employed by the owners of drug shops with a certain amount of reliance as compounders.

As regards pensions, His Honor was sorry his hon'ble friend was unable to support that part of his own Bill. It seemed to him most unreasonable that the Corporation should dispute their liability to pay the usual proportion of the pensions of men who were lent to them by Government, and whose salaries they distinctly recognized their liability to pay so long as they had the benefit of their service. He did not understand the distinction made by the hon'ble mover that these persons, though employed under the Municipality, were not their servants. They were lent by the Government to the Municipality, and all payments to them should be chargeable to that body. He felt reason to hope that on a full consideration of the subject the hon'ble mover would be able to give this part of the Bill also his support.

The motion was agreed to.

The Council was adjourned to Saturday, the 26th February.

AMENDMENT OF THE CESS ACT.

THE HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER moved that the Bill to amend the Cess Act, 1880, be read in Council. He said that, in asking for leave to introduce this Bill, he explained that the object of it was to correct certain errors which had been made in the edition of the Bill which was finally passed as Act IX of 1880. He would first mention the main error, out of which arose the necessity for this Bill. Under the old Cess Act, the interest payable on arrears of cess was 12 per cent, whether the cess was payable to Government by the zemindar, or to the zemindar from his ryots. The Council agreed after full discussion, both in Select Committee and when the Bill was being passed, that the rate of interest should, merely for facility of calculation, be raised to $12\frac{1}{2}$ from 12 per cent, $12\frac{1}{2}$ per cent being exactly two annas on each rupee. All the sections of the Bill which were affected were altered accordingly, and so the Bill was originally passed by this Council, and submitted for the approval of the Governor-General. Hon'ble members were aware that the Bill as first submitted was vetoed. Two lakhiraj sections were then omitted, and the Bill as so amended was again passed by this Council. In the Bill as it was finally passed by the Council, while the sections providing that the rate of interest on arrears payable by the ryot to the zemindar should be twelve and a half per cent were correctly reprinted, in the section determining the rate of interest on arrears payable to Government, the rate was by some unaccountable error reduced again to twelve per cent, the words "and a half" having dropped out. That was the substantial error for which it became necessary to introduce a Bill.

The other amendments of the Act were such as the critical perusal which accompanied the working of an Act had brought to light.

The first of these was embodied in section 2 of the Bill. As the Act stood, the words in section 10 seemed to imply that interest on the Public Works Cess should be credited to the Road Cess Fund of the district. That of course was not intended.

Then came the proposed section 40A, to make which thoroughly intelligible to the Council Mr. Dampier should have to enter into a lecture on the minutiae of administration which would be out of place. He had tried to explain the matter as fully as he could in the papers which had been circulated to the Council. Briefly, it was this—In Chittagong, there was a vast estate, called the Noabad Estate, of which the Government was proprietor. The tenures in this estate, amounting to some 37,000, were scattered all over the district, and in some of these the amount of rent payable was most trifling, and the amount of cess was also extremely small, ranging down to items of less than one rupee. As they now stood, the different laws which regulated the collection of rent and cesses, required the collection of the cesses and of the rent on these 37,000 holdings by separate establishments and under different processes. In Chittagong, say fifty per cent of the payers never thought of paying their dues until compulsory processes of some sort were taken out against them. Why should they? On the one hand some thirty per cent interest would be obtained for the use of money—on the other, arrears of Government revenue carried no interest, and a man would indeed be blind to his own interests if he did not withhold the money due as revenue, and use it profitably and productively until the last moment.

As the law stood then, if a man fell into arrears of rent to the amount of one rupee, and of road cess to the amount of four annas on one of these 37,000 Noabad talooks, the rent and the cess must be collected by two different establishments and by two different processes. The Road Cess Committee, through their agent, the Collector, and his cess establishment, must collect the four annas of cess; whereas the one rupee rent must be collected through the revenue tehsildary establishment of the Collector by another process. This would necessitate the issue of some 37,000 processes instead of some 19,000, which only would be required if the rent and the cess were collected together under one and the same process. The advantage of collecting both together by the same establishment and the same process was obvious, and he hoped the Council would therefore accept the section which was proposed to effect this object.

The last amendment which it was necessary for him to notice was that contained in section 9 of the Bill. The British Indian Association had brought to notice that the heading of the section there mentioned required zemindars to give certain details which very often they could not give as to the lands contained in their zemindaries; it was therefore proposed to relieve them of the obligation by adding to the heading of column 4 of that schedule the words "if known," after the words "area occupied."

The HON'BLE KRISTODAS PAL said, following the lines laid down by the Hon'ble Mover of the Bill he wished to draw attention to Part I of Schedule A, annexed to the Cess Act. This Part of the schedule required the owner to give details of lands in the actual occupation or cultivation of the person submitting the return, and a "Note" to that Part said that only nij-jote lands and unculturable unlet lands should be included in this part. BAROO KRISTODAS PAL did not observe that Note when the Act was passed, and he did not understand the object of it. The principle of the cess was that all lands paying rent or yielding profit in some shape or other were to be assessed; but under this schedule the landlord was required to make a return of unculturable and unlet lands, and as in another column the probable annual value of the land was required to be given, although no rent or profit was derived from it, the result would be that lands which yielded no profit would be brought under assessment. Then, again, many zemindars were not in a position to give a correct return of unculturable and unlet land in their possession: auction purchasers in particular would experience great difficulty in giving the information required. The provision in question was not correct in the Road Cess Act of 1871; why it was introduced in the amending Bill he could not say, but as it was in contravention of the principle of the cess, he hoped the Hon'ble Mover would take the matter into his consideration in Select Committee.

The HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER remarked that the Select Committee to which the Bill would be referred, would no doubt consider the suggestion made by the Hon'ble Member, granting the premises that it was against the principle of the Act to assess the lands to which he had referred.

The motion was then agreed to, and the Bill referred to a Select Committee consisting of the Hon'ble Mr. Reynolds, the Hon'ble Kristodas Pal, the Hon'ble Peary Mohun Mookerjee, and the Mover, with instructions to report within seven days.

CALCUTTA PORT IMPROVEMENT ACT AMENDMENT.

THE HON'BLE THE ADVOCATE-GENERAL moved that the report of the Select Committee on the Bill to amend the Calcutta Port Improvement Act Amendment Act, 1880, be taken into consideration, in order to the settlement of the clauses of the Bill. He had on this occasion to observe that the Select Committee had substituted a new section for section 10 of the Act, to make it clearly understood. Since the last meeting of the Council a letter had been received by the Government of Bengal from the Chamber of Commerce, expressing their concurrence in the recommendation made by the Port Commissioners, and expressing a hope that the power vested in the Port Commissioners would be exercised with caution and due regard to the public convenience. The ADVOCATE-GENERAL thought he might safely say that the desire of the Chamber of Commerce would be fully met, bearing in mind that the rules to be passed under the Act were to be made by the Lieutenant-Governor on the recommendation of the Port Commissioners. A slight mistake had crept into the form of debenture which he would wish to have corrected before the Bill was passed. Four-and-a-half per cent. was mentioned, in the form of debenture, as the rate of interest to be paid. That was a mistake; the rate of interest should be left blank, to be determined at the time when a loan was about to be contracted.

The motion was agreed to.

On the motion of the ADVOCATE-GENERAL the clauses of the Bill were considered for settlement in the form recommended by the Select Committee, and the Bill was then passed with the correction above referred to.

The Council was adjourned to Saturday, the 12th March.

in the work, of such sums as may be fixed by the Collector. Shares will generally be distributed in proportion to the area of the estates concerned. The privileges of an owner are (1) exemption from any higher rate than Re. 1 per acre per annum, and (2) prior claim to irrigation from the dam. Other persons irrigating from the dam may be charged any rate, not above Rs. 2, which may be fixed by Government. The maintenance of the permanent dam shall be a charge against the owner. The Canal Officer shall have power to stop all supplies of water if the dam is not maintained in proper repair.

11. The Collector shall make arrangements for the disposal of the fisheries, and the sale-proceeds of the rights of the same shall be an asset to be taken into account in determining the Guarantor's liabilities for any portion of the guarantee in any year.

12. Persons desiring to irrigate their fields with canal water by flow or lift must submit a written application in the form (Appendix A) to be obtained by himself or by his agent from the Canal Manager, whereupon the latter shall issue a permit, in form Appendix B, to irrigate. The right to irrigate without extra charge extends up to 15th February following the date on which the permit was issued. The rate charged shall not exceed Re. 1 per acre irrespective of the crops grown, except in special cases to be determined by Government.

13. Any person desirous of taking water for manufacture of indigo must apply to the Canal Officer through the Canal Manager, stating the area of cultivation, the area which he has leased for irrigation, and promising that he will on the 1st of October declare the quantity he has manufactured.

14. Licenses will be granted on the following terms:—

- (a) To persons irrigating an area of not less than half their cultivation, one rupee per maund.
- (b) To persons irrigating an area of less than half their cultivation, two rupees per maund.

Provided that, as Guarantors are, under the terms of their guarantees, entitled to water for manufacture free of charge, the sums leviable from them under the above conditions shall be set off against the guarantee, and, on consideration of the payment of the latter, be written off the account.

15. The privileges of Guarantors are as follows:—

- (1) A prior claim to a supply of water for irrigation and manufacture during the continuance of their guarantee.
- (2) Each Guarantor to have a sub-district within which he shall act as the agent of Government in managing the affairs of the canal, receiving a commission on his collection of 20 per cent.
- (3) The right to use water for manufacturing purposes free of charge.

16. Any person may apply to the Collector to become a Guarantor. If the Collector accept the application, which at his discretion he may or may not do, he shall proceed, in communication with the Canal Officer, to determine whether the new guarantee shall be utilized towards extending the canals, providing distributaries or embankments, or towards reducing the responsibility of the original Guarantor. If the original Guarantor (within whose dehat the applicant's property or interest is situated) claims a reduction in his guarantee and can at the same time show that the application of the new Guarantor towards an extension of the canal would operate to reduce his collections below the amount of his guarantee, his claims to have his guarantee reduced shall be approved; otherwise, the new guarantee may be applied towards extending the canals, and an area corresponding to the applicant's property or interest be marked off to him, within which he shall exercise the rights and privileges now exercised in their dehals by the Guarantors mentioned in paragraph 5 of these rules.

If the applicant's interest or property be not situated within any dehat as specified in paragraph 5, then the Collector shall apply the guarantee towards extending the benefits of the canal system.

17. Canal Managers or Guarantors requiring water for the irrigation of their own fields, or for manufacture, will apply for the requisite permit to the Collector through the Canal Officer. In the license for the use of water for irrigation and manufacture, the rates to be charged shall be stated. In accordance with rules 12, 13, and 14 the following rates will be charged, subject to the proviso in paragraph 14:—

					Rs. a.
Irrigation per acre	1 0
Manufacture.					Per md.
					Rs. a.
To persons irrigating one-half of their cultivation	1 0
To persons irrigating less than one-half	2 0

18. The irrigation year will commence on the 1st of April, and as soon after the 15th January and 15th September of each year as possible, the Canal Manager shall present bills for water-rates based on the actual area irrigated, and deliver them to the irrigators before the 15th February and 15th October. If these bills are not paid to the Canal Manager before the 1st of March and 1st of November, he shall prepare a list of unpaid claims, and submit the same to the Collector through the Canal Officer, who will put in force the powers vested in him for their recovery in accordance with sections 83, 84, and 85 of the irrigation Act.

19. It will be the duty of Canal Managers to see—

1st.—That all applications for water are made in the forms supplied to them. These applications must be filed for reference, and will be issued to applicants free of charge.

2nd.—That all licenses for the use of water be issued in the prescribed form, and a copy be kept in counterfoil in books supplied for the purpose.

3rd.—That a monthly return of applications received and issued be submitted to the Collector in a form to be supplied by the Canal Officer.

4th.—That copies of bills presented for payment be kept in the counterfoils supplied for record.

5th.—That a cash-book of all receipts of water-rates be kept in forms supplied for the purpose.

6th.—That a weekly rainfall statement, and irrigation notes be sent to the Canal Officer and be kept in duplicate for record.

7th.—That for all cash received, receipts be granted in the form supplied by the Canal Officer which will be kept in counterfoil.

8th.—That all cash received be paid monthly into the sub-divisional or district treasury without deduction, and that the treasury receipts be filed with the cash-book as vouchers.

9th.—That monthly advices of cash paid to the treasury be sent to the Canal Officer in forms to be supplied by him.

10th.—That bills for commission on the collections at 20 per cent. be submitted when requisite to the Canal Officer who will issue cheques for their payment on the order of the Collector.

20. On the 1st April of each year, or as soon after as practicable, the Canal Officer will prepare a statement showing—

(a) The sum guaranteed.

(b) The total collection.

(c) The total payments into the treasury.

(d) The excess of (b) over (a) on which bills for the 20 per cent. allowance are to be drawn.

All correspondence and accounts may be kept in Kaithi, if the Canal Manager desires it. Forms, as detailed in previous paragraphs of these rules, will be supplied by Government, together with service stamps free of charge; all other charges for stationery must be met by the Managers and defrayed from their commission. All accounts and records relating to canal matters must be open to the inspection of the Collector, the Canal Officers, and their Deputies. All expenses for Water-guards, Patrols, and Ameens must be defrayed from the commission of 20 per cent. allowed by Government on the collections.

BURIAL BOARDS (CALCUTTA AND ITS SUBURBS).

THE HON'BLE MR. MACKENZIE moved for leave to introduce a Bill to provide for the appointment of a Burial Board in Calcutta and its suburbs.

He said that the condition of the older Calcutta burial-grounds had frequently of late years attracted the notice of Government, and been unfavourably commented on by the public. The two cemeteries in the neighbourhood of Park-street had long since ceased to be used for purposes of general interment, and were fast lapsing into a state of ruin and disrepair. The monuments, consisting chiefly of those vast masses of brickwork which our predecessors were wont to pile over the remains of their departed friends, were falling in many cases to pieces, and there was no authority at present vested with power to deal with them. Even in the Circular Road grounds, though matters were of course not so bad, there was still in the older portions of the cemetery much disorder and untidiness from the want of a controlling authority competent to direct the repair, removal, or alteration of broken-down tombs. At the same time, owing to the fact that this cemetery was used by three different sections of the community—the Church of England, the Roman Catholic body, and the Non-Conformists—there was a want of uniformity and neatness in the manner in which the grounds were kept, the monuments put up, and other work done. The establishments were, moreover, under no proper control. It was proposed therefore to provide by law for the appointment of a Burial Board, in which should be represented the Calcutta Corporation, the Health Department of the Town, the Public Works Department of Government, and, as far as possible, the clergy and laity of the different religious bodies using the cemeteries. To this board would be made over the control and management of all the Government cemeteries. Power was also taken to enable those interested in private cemeteries to make them over to the management of the Board on such terms as regards the defrayal of expenses and the like as the Lieutenant-Governor might approve.

The motion was put and agreed to.

The HON'BLE MR. MACKENZIE said the Bill had already been published under the authority contained in Rule 15 of the Rules for the Conduct of Business, and although much public attention had not been drawn to the subject, the matter was a simple one, and there could, he believed, be no possible objection to the Bill being at once read in Council and referred to a Select Committee for consideration. He therefore applied to His Honor the President to suspend the rules in order that the Bill might be read in Council.

The President having declared the rules suspended—

The HON'BLE MR. MACKENZIE moved that the Bill be read in Council. The Bill, he said, provided for the appointment of a Burial Board, in which the Calcutta Corporation and its Health Department would be represented, as well as the Public Works Department of the Government, and the three Christian bodies now using the cemeteries—viz the Church of England, the Roman Catholic Church, and the Non-Conformists; the Chairman of the Board being appointed by the Government. The Bill gave power to bring under the control of the Board all or so many of the Government burial-grounds (not being military burial-grounds) situated in the town or suburbs of Calcutta, as might seem fit to the Lieutenant-Governor. The Board would receive and account for fees paid for the use of burial-grounds and the erection of monuments therein, and for any Government grants placed at their disposal. They were empowered to appoint and control their own subordinate establishment. The Bill also provided for the making of bye-laws; for regulating the conduct of business; for securing the preservation, repair, or removal of existing monuments, and for regulating the dimensions and erection of new monuments; for regulating the mode of payment of fees and charges, and the expenditure of the same; and for controlling the execution of all works within burial-grounds. These last were the most important provisions of the Bill, which were intended to give the Burial Board full power and control over the working of cemeteries. There was also inserted in the Bill a provision to meet cases like the following: There were several minor burial-grounds belonging to small communities—for instance, the Scotch, Armenian, Greek, and other cemeteries—which were at present managed by the communities to which they belonged. These communities might perhaps sometime or other wish to have their burial-grounds placed under the control of the Board, which they might consider, with the experience it would possess in the management of cemeteries, would be better able to administer the trust than private bodies liable to frequent changes and having no legal powers. Accordingly power was taken under the Bill to bring such private grounds under the control of the Board on the application of those interested, on such terms and conditions as the Lieutenant-Governor might approve.

AMENDMENT OF THE EXCISE ACT.

THE HON'BLE MR REYNOLDS moved for leave to bring in a Bill to amend "The Bengal Excise Act, 1878," and in doing so, he said that the amendment of the Excise Act had been urged upon the Government from two different quarters. First the Board of Revenue reported that they found a practical difficulty in the working of section 58 of the Act. Section 9 authorized the Collector to fix the limits within which liquors, not manufactured at a licensed distillery, should not be introduced or sold without a pass, but section 58, the corresponding section which provided a penalty for breach of an offence against section 9, declared that whoever introduced or attempted to introduce for sale any spirituous liquors manufactured at another place, into the limits fixed for the consumption of such liquors manufactured at such distillery, without a special pass, should be liable to a fine. The Board pointed out that a great practical difficulty had arisen from the insertion in section 58 of the words "for sale." The difficulty was that when liquor was found in transit, or in the act of being introduced from one circle to another, it was impossible to show that it was intended for sale, while in the case of an actual sale it was difficult to prove that the liquor which was sold was the very liquor which had been introduced from another circle.

The other quarter from which reference was made to the Government for the amendment of the Act was the Chief Commissioner of Assam, who urged that the Act did not meet some cases of what might be termed "foreign exciseable articles." These were dealt with by section 19 of the Act, which provided that spirituous liquor, manufactured beyond the limits of British India, should, on passing the limits of the territories to which the Act applied, be charged with duty, and the corresponding section which provided a penalty was section 64, which declared that any person found in illicit possession of spirituous liquors, manufactured beyond the limits of British India, should be liable to fine. It appeared, however, that in Assam there were certain parts of the province which were not beyond the limits of British India, but in which no excise law was in force, for instance, the Jynteah Hills, and in consequence that section did not apply to those territories, and liquor had been introduced from the Jynteah Hills where it was not subject to the payment of duty on manufacture, and the section did not admit of the levy of duty on such liquor. Section 64 was also imperfect in another particular, inasmuch as it applied only to spirituous liquors and not to intoxicating drugs. It appeared that gunja grew plentifully in the hills in a wild state, and under section 61 and section 64, as they stood, no one was liable to any penalty for being in possession of such gunja as long as it was held in quantities not exceeding a quarter of a seer. It was represented by the Chief Commissioner that there was a considerable illicit traffic in gunja which was brought from the hills beyond British territory into Assam, and it was desired that measures should be taken to put a stop to this.

As MR. REYNOLDS was at present only moving for leave to introduce a Bill, it was not necessary for him to explain in detail the provisions which the Bill would contain.

The motion was agreed to.

AMENDMENT OF THE COURT OF WARDS ACT.

THE HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER moved that the Bill to amend "The Court of Wards Act, 1879," be read in Council. He said that in asking permission to introduce this Bill, he made some remarks on points which now stood embodied in sections 2 and 3 of the Bill, and it would not be necessary for him to touch on those points again. He should therefore proceed at once to section 4 which contained a re-arrangement of sections 48 and 49 of the present Act. Those sections provided that the funds which came into the hands of a Manager should be expended for certain purposes in a certain order of priority. Hon'ble Members, who had read the annexures to the Bill, would see that it was found impossible to adhere to that order of priority in practice; for instance, the Manager of the Narail Estate reported that a good Hindu would not take his food until the family idols were worshipped, but according to law, the Manager was not authorized to pay for pooja expenses until certain other things were provided for, and if the law was to be obeyed, he would, in certain cases, be obliged to starve his ward. Managers of wards' estates had a right to ask for such protection as could, by reasonable forethought, be devised against the necessity of breaking the law in such cases. MR. DAMPIER had accordingly endeavoured to recast those sections so that they should be ~~more~~ workable. He believed that the Council would consider the really important point in these sections to be the limit that was put on the expenditure of not more than 10 per cent. of the surplus proceeds of the estate on purposes of general benefit and improvement of the ward and his estate. MR. DAMPIER had defined the restriction and limitation more precisely than it was defined in the Act. It was necessary under the existing law to obtain the special permission of the Lieutenant-Governor in such cases before a larger proportion than 10 per cent. of the surplus was so used: in that respect it was not proposed to weaken the check which the law imposed on the action of the Court of Wards.

Then, in the section which was substituted for section 49, MR. DAMPIER had tried also to express the meaning of the law more precisely, but he had put in a new proviso for the protection of the Court. According to the existing law, the surplus funds of an estate, belonging to a female who was of sound mind, and above the age of 21, was to be paid to her without question: as the law stood, she could claim the surplus at any moment. But it was obvious that the Collector, before handing over the accumulated surplus, must keep a working balance in his hands, and it was reasonable that he should also keep a sufficient balance to meet any considerable expenditure of which the necessity could be foreseen and which could not probably be met out of the profits of the following year. These provisions were therefore introduced for the protection of the officers who had the management of the estate.

The next provision to which MR. DAMPIER would refer, was contained in section 7 of the Bill, and related to suits instituted by female wards who had attained the age of 21 years. This was a new provision, and he did not know whether it would meet with the approval of the Council. It had been suggested by a practical difficulty in the working of the Act, and he hoped to get the opinion of the learned Advocate-General on it before the Bill was passed.

The next section was section 8 of the Bill, which was intended to meet the difficulty of getting accounts from farmers in wards' estates: the section was taken from a provision in the Land Registration Act, which was accepted by the Council as the best possible procedure. It was provided that the Collector could impose a daily fine on a farmer until he produced the accounts.

Section 10 of the Bill was to remedy a defect in the Public Demands Recovery Act. As the Act stood, the application of the Manager of a ward's estate to the Collector for a certificate for the recovery of arrears of rent must be on stamped paper. It had been discovered that, by an oversight, the Act did not provide for the recovery of the interest on the arrears, or of the cost of the stamp, or of the costs of executing the certificate, so that if the ward's Manager elected to proceed for recovery of arrears of rent due by the certificate procedure, he must either give up the interest due and the costs, or proceed to recover them by the separate procedure of a civil suit. The section by which it was proposed to remedy this omission would stand as section 63 of the Wards Act of 1879, taking the place of the section of the Act on the same subject which originally bore the same number, and which had been repealed by the Public Demands Recovery Act.

The last section of the Bill provided for the recovery from those into whose hands any portion of the ward's property had passed from the charge of the Collector, after its release, of any expenses which had been incurred by the Court on account of the property, in cases in which, in consequence of want of funds, oversight, or any other cause, such expenses had not been paid out of the funds of the ward's property before it was released from the charge of the Court.

The HON'BLE AMEER ALI said there was one point which he thought it proper and convenient to bring to the notice of the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill at this stage. It was a point which had struck several practical lawyers, and could be discussed in Select Committee, and, if thought proper, could be included in the amended Bill which the Committee would submit for the consideration of the Council. It was a difficulty which had arisen with reference to section 27 of Act IX of 1879, which provided as follows:—

“Whenever any Collector has reason to believe that any person residing in his district, or being the proprietor of an estate borne on the revenue-roll of his district, should be declared or adjudged to be a disqualified proprietor under section 6, he shall make such enquiry as he may deem necessary, and, if satisfied, that such person should be so declared or adjudged, shall make a report of the same to the court; and the court shall, on receipt of such report, make such order consistent with this Act as may seem to it expedient.”

Thus it would be seen that it lay in the hands of the Collector to make a report, and the Court of Wards made an order with reference to the person so reported to be disqualified as might be consistent with this Act. Section 6 defined who the disqualified proprietors were, one class of such persons being minors, and a minor was defined by the Act to mean a person who had not completed the age of twenty-one. It appeared to Mr. AMEER ALI that these provisions of the Court of Wards Act involved some degree of inconsistency with the Indian Majority Act IX of 1875. That Act declared that a person who was not a Ward of Court, or for whom a guardian was not appointed by a Court of Justice, should be considered a major on the completion of his eighteenth year; but the Court of Wards Act provided that a person was a minor who had not completed his twenty-first year; so that under the lastmentioned Act a person who had under the Indian Majority Act entered into the enjoyment of all his legal rights, and had become vested with all the legal capacities of a major, might, on the report of a Collector, be deprived of those capacities, and be declared disqualified and incompetent to enter into any legal transaction. Mr. AMEER ALI thought that the inconsistency to which he had called attention might, if possible, be removed, and therefore mentioned the point for the consideration of the Select Committee. The conflict existing between the two Acts was likely to occasion much hardship to people who entered bona fide into transactions with a person who was a major under Act IX of 1875, but who, under the Court of Wards Act, was declared a disqualified proprietor.

THE HON'BLE KRISTODAS PAL said he could not allow this occasion to pass without acknowledging the liberality of Government in recognizing and rewarding the eminent services of Dr. RAJENDRALALA MITRA to the cause of literature to his country, as well as to the State. Those services were well known and highly appreciated not only in this country but also in Europe. The object of the Bill was primarily to give validity to the pension which the Government had been kind enough to grant to him, and BABOO KRISTODAS PAL felt sure that the native public would hail with pleasure and gratitude this generous recognition of the distinguished services of this illustrious man.

With regard to the remarks which had fallen from the Hon'ble Member on his right (Mr. AMEER ALI), he could not concur with his Hon'ble Friend as to the propriety of re-opening the question of the age of minors under the Court of Wards. He must say that that question had been discussed threadbare and settled after long and mature deliberation. He thought it was to the advantage of the proprietors of estates that the period of the nonage of minors under the Court of Wards had been extended to twenty-one years. It had not unfrequently been found that young men suddenly coming into the possession of large properties without having their character properly formed and their judgment matured, fell into the hands of intriguers around them, and he thought the provision of law which enabled the Court of Wards to keep charge of an estate until the proprietor had attained the age of twenty-one years was calculated to prove highly beneficial to him.

The HON'BLE Mr. MACKENZIE, in reference to the question of the age of majority, said that in spite of what had fallen from his hon'ble friend opposite (BABOO KRISTODAS PAL), he thought it advisable that the matter should be considered by the Select Committee. It was not proposed by the hon'ble member who spoke first (Mr. AMEER ALI), as he understood him, to reduce the age of majority, but to draw attention to the fact that when a person who might come under the Court of Wards had attained the age of 18, it was uncertain, as the law stands, whether he was a minor or a major. Apparently the Court of Wards could take charge of his estates at any time up to his reaching the age of 21. There was nothing in the Act compelling the Court to come to a final decision about taking over the estate on the first occasion of its becoming aware of the disability. In a recent case, where a large proprietor had entered into the possession of his estate at the age of 18 years, it had been found useful by Government to have the power of check given, by its being apparently able to direct the interference of the Court of Wards at any time, although so long as the property was well managed, Government did not wish to interfere. There might, however, be some question of the legal effect of such a course of action, and some difficulty in defining the position of such a minor-major, and it was just as well that the Select Committee should look into the matter in order to see whether any further definition or explanation of minority or majority was desirable.

His Honor the President said that before putting the question he wished to say, with reference to the remarks which had fallen from the Hon'ble Member on the left (Mr. AMIR ALI), that he was very much averse to any such alteration in the age of majority under the Court of Wards Act, which should have the effect of preventing the Government from interfering for the protection of an estate the proprietor of which had not attained the age of twenty-one years. The case which had been cited by the Hon'ble Member on the right (Mr. MACKENZIE) was a very well known case. While it was very desirable that the Government should have power to interfere, it was very often unnecessary to do so provided proper arrangements were made for the management of the estate by the family. The case which had been mentioned exemplified the working of the section. It was the case of the proprietor of a large estate, who died suddenly leaving an heir between the ages of 18 and 21. The proprietor had before his death made arrangements for the management of his estate which worked exceedingly well, and it was considered very desirable that those arrangements should continue. But soon after the death of the proprietor, it came to the notice of His Honor that endeavours had been made to upset the system of management which the deceased proprietor had established, and he only succeeded in having the then existing arrangements continued by threatening to exercise the power vested in the Government to interfere in the management of the estate if any change was made. He believed that in this way one of the most valuable estates in Bengal had been saved from ruin. The power, although it might only be necessary to exercise it by way of influencing the action of the heir, was a very valuable one, and therefore he would wish that the power be retained. The subject had already been brought to the notice of Government by the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill, and it was one well worthy the consideration of the Select Committee, not with the view of altering the principle of the law, but getting rid of apparent inconsistencies, and of making it perfectly certain that the Government should have power to interfere in cases in which it might be desirable to do so. The Hon'ble Member who had raised this question would no doubt be placed upon the Select Committee, and the subject could then be carefully considered.

The motion was then agreed to, and the Bill referred to a Select Committee consisting of the Hon'ble MESSRS. REYNOLDS, ALLEN, AMIR ALI, PEARY MOHUN MOOKERJEE, KRISTODAS PAL, and the MOVER with instructions to report within a fortnight.

AMENDMENT OF "THE CALCUTTA MUNICIPAL ACT."

THE HON'BLE KRISTODAS PAL moved that the Bill to amend "The Calcutta Municipal Consolidation Act, 1876," be read in Council, and in doing so he said he should endeavour to give a brief analysis of the provisions of the Bill. In the first part of the Bill, provision had been made to legalize the consolidation of the loans borrowed from the Government, and with respect to this point, it might be open to question whether it was at all necessary to make legal provision of this kind, because he found, on reference to the Municipal Act of 1876, that the Government loans were contracted outside the Act. It had, however, been found desirable to give legal effect to the consolidation of the Government loans, and the provisions of sections 2 and 3 had accordingly been inserted in the Bill. The opportunity had also been taken to indemnify the Trustees in charge of the Sinking Fund for making over to the Government the Government portion of the accumulations of the fund up to date, in order to carry out the terms of the consolidation of the Government loans. The whole transaction had been completed—it was now a fait accompli, but the sections had been drawn on the lines of the Port Commissioners Amendment Act, in order that the Commissioners might at a meeting, other than an ordinary meeting, give effect to the transaction.

Power was given by another section to the Commissioners to set apart annually, in respect of future loans for the drainage and water-supply of the town, one per cent. on the total amount of the loans as a Sinking Fund for the repayment of the loans. He had explained to the Council that, under the existing law, the Commissioners were required to assign two per cent. as a contribution to the Sinking Fund, but that contribution necessitated increased taxation, and unnecessarily threw a heavy burden on the present generation of rate-payers. The Commissioners therefore represented to the Government that it would be both reasonable and equitable that the liability should be divided between the present generation and posterity, and that the contribution to the Sinking Fund should therefore be reduced from two to one per cent. The Government of Bengal had acceded to that representation of the Municipal Commissioners, and supported it in a letter to the Government of India on the subject. With His Honour the PRESIDENT'S permission, he would read an extract from that letter. After alluding to the consolidation of the Government loans, and the relief afforded to the town by the arrangements made, the Secretary to the Government of Bengal remarked—

“The Corporation are now considering a scheme for largely increasing the supply of water, and extending it to the suburbs, and the Lieutenant-Governor proposes to amend Act V (B. C.) of 1876 so as to give the Suburban Commissioners power to levy a water-rate to cover the expenses incurred on their behalf by the Calcutta Municipality. The work in contemplation will be of such a nature as to last long beyond the present generation. The drainage works, too, are essentially of a permanent nature, and their benefits will extend to posterity. On the other hand, there is no ground for apprehending any decline in the prosperity of Calcutta, within any period to which reasonable anticipation can extend. Municipal taxation in Calcutta is very high, and the Lieutenant-Governor believes that any increase in the rates would seriously interfere with the progress of the town. Only once during the ten years, from 1870 to 1879, did the aggregate rate fall below 16 per cent., and in four of these years it was 18 or 18½ per cent. It is a question whether, even now, the population of the town is not less than it would be if the rate of Municipal taxation were lighter. In the suburbs taxation is also high, and it is represented that, if the rate to be levied is to include provision for a two per cent. Sinking Fund contribution, the scheme will probably have to be abandoned. Under these circumstances, the Lieutenant-Governor proposes to make provision in the amending Act for a Sinking Fund contribution of one per cent. only on all public loans raised for water-supply, on the understanding that the Municipal Commissioners of Calcutta determine to lay a new 62 inch main conduit from Pultah, and he would make a similar provision in regard to loans for drainage works. He trusts the Government of India will signify their approval of this measure.”

BABOO KRISTODAS PAL did not know whether any reply had been received to that letter, but he hoped the recommendation of the Government of Bengal would be accepted by the Government of India. The rate-payers of Calcutta ought to be grateful to Government for relieving them from so heavy a charge on the Town Fund, which was dictated by a sense of justice to the present generation. Whilst on this subject, he might advert to the provision made in section 12 of the Bill for the extension of the water-supply to the suburbs. He considered it his duty to point out that it was no part of the obligation of the Municipal Commissioners of Calcutta to supply water to the suburbs—that their sole duty was to supply water to their own rate-payers. But if the Commissioners of the suburbs desired to avail themselves of the Calcutta supply, and would pay for it, the Calcutta Commissioners would certainly assist them. At present, the law did not authorize the Commissioners of Calcutta to extend the water-supply to the suburbs, nor to levy a rate for the purpose; it was therefore proposed to give them power to extend the supply to the suburbs on the application of the Suburban Municipality and the consent of the local Government, and to impose a water-rate on the suburbs, sufficient to cover interest on the capital for the extension works, contribution to the Sinking Fund, and the cost of maintenance and supervision, and the necessary renewal of works. Accordingly, section 12 had been introduced, but he hoped it would be distinctly understood that it was not the object to throw an undue burden on the Calcutta rate-payers. If the people of the suburbs wished to drink the water of Calcutta, they must pay for it—unless they consented to pay the price, they could not justly be held entitled to the water.

He now came to some of the detailed provisions of the Bill. Section 5 legalized the designation "Town Council." It might be in the recollection of the Council that when the Municipal Act of 1876 was passed, there was no provision in that Act for the constitution of a Town Council, but Mr. Metcalfe, who officiated for some time as Chairman of the Corporation, gave the name "Town Council" to the General Committee of the Commissioners. The business of the Municipality was carried on partly by the Chairman and partly by Committees of the Commissioners—there was the General Committee, which met every week—sometimes more than once a week—there were Special Committees which sat on special subjects, and made reports, and these reports were considered by the Commissioners in meeting. The General Committee performed the functions of the body, which, in Bombay and other places, was called the Town Council, and it was desired that that designation should be legalized, but it was not intended in any way to change the constitution of the Committees or their present procedure.

Then, some practical inconvenience had resulted under the present provision of the law which required that the budget should be laid before the Town Commissioners at their quarterly meeting in October, when the Doorga Pooja holidays intervened. It was proposed to alter the time for the submission of the budget from October to November.

He now came to section 14 of the Bill which related to pensions. He did not wish to discuss this subject at length, as he stated, when he applied for leave to introduce the Bill, that he was not responsible for the introduction of this section. He believed there had been some correspondence between the Government of India and the Government of Bengal on the subject, and it might probably be arranged hereafter that the section should be omitted, but he could not give any positive information to the Council regarding it—he would leave it to His Honour the President to explain the position in which the question now stood. But he repeated that, in his opinion, it was not fair and equitable to throw any charge for these pensions on the Municipal Fund, for the officers concerned were in no sense servants of the Municipality—they were not appointed by the Corporation—they were not liable to the control of the Commissioners, nor to dismissal by them. The Municipality paid a lump sum for the maintenance of the police under an Act of the Legislature, and it was never intended or declared that the funds of the Municipality should be burdened with the pensionary allowances of persons who were all-along considered to be Government servants. From 1867, to the present time, the Municipality had only been called upon to pay a certain portion of the cost of the police, but they were now for the first time asked to make a contribution towards their pensions as well. He hoped that the Municipality would be exempted from that burden.

He would now advert to what was known as the bustee question. The sections in the Bill had been drawn on the lines of The English Artisans Dwelling Act, and in framing the sections, care had been taken that no land should be acquired arbitrarily or hastily. First of all, any land or area which might be considered to be in a state dangerous to health would be reported upon by two competent medical men in addition to the Health Officer of the Town. After receiving the report of such medical men, the Commissioners would consider what improvements should be made. They might, if they thought it necessary, report to the Government, recommending that the land be acquired under the Land Acquisition Act, and they might then reclaim the land and carry out the improvements at their own expense, or re-sell the land to private individuals under certain conditions as to building, drainage, and other sanitary requirements. Compensation should of course be paid according to the Land Acquisition Act, and the Commissioners were authorized to borrow money for this purpose.

The next subject which BABOO KRISTODAS PAL would notice was the registration of shops for the sale of European drugs. There were some defects in the existing law as to registration, which it was now proposed to remedy by giving full power to the Health Officer. For instance, the present law did not give power to the Health Officer to seize any medicines which had become deteriorated by reason of climate or age, or to require the proprietor of any shop to employ a competent compounder. Section 21 gave power to the Municipal Commissioners to require the proprietors of drug shops to employ persons duly certified, under such rules as the Government might from time to time provide on the subject. His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor was pleased to say, at the last sitting of the Council, that he would be happy to co-operate with the Municipality by instituting a compounder's class in the Campbell Medical School, and lay down certain conditions to test the professional qualifications and capacity of men to be employed in druggists' shops.

The next provision in the Bill gave power to the Commissioners to license fuel shops near burning grounds. This subject was perhaps not thoroughly known to Hon'ble Members of the Council. They were doubtless aware that, near the burning ground, shops were kept for the sale of fuel and other articles for cremation—great abuses at one time existed in respect of these shops, and his friend, Baboo Chunder Mohun Chatterjee moved Mr. Wauchope, who was then Commissioner of Police for Calcutta, to put a stop to those abuses by licensing one or two shops for the sale of fuel. The abuses were so great that Mr. Wauchope, though not having the support of the law, considered it necessary by a stretch of executive authority to regulate the sale of fuel at these shops by licensing one or two of them. That arrangement continued when the late Justices came into existence. Sir Stuart Hogg examined the question, and he was also satisfied that, unless some hold was had on the sale of fuel at the burning ghats, great abuses would again arise, and he therefore continued the arrangements made by Mr. Wauchope, and those arrangements have since been in force. But lately, owing to a new interpretation of the law by a Bench of Magistrates in Calcutta, rival shops had sprung up, and some police cases had resulted in consequence. It was therefore proposed to give power to the Commissioners to license fuel shops with a view to put down disputes and litigation, and to check abuses. Section 24 of the Bill provided for that purpose.

These were the main provisions of the Bill; the other sections covered minor amendments, which did not call for particular remarks. But there was one point deserving of notice, which was at present outside the Bill. He meant whether the Municipal year should be brought into harmony with the Financial year of the Government. Hon'ble Members had seen amongst the papers circulated with the Bill, a letter from Mr. Secretary Macaulay in which reference was made to this subject. The Municipal year in Calcutta corresponded with the calendar year, but the Secretary of State urged that the Municipal year in all the Presidency towns should be made to correspond with the Official year. This question was referred to the Commissioners sometime ago, and BABOO KRISTODAS PAL found that it was reserved for consideration till the time when the Municipal Act might need amendment. The question had therefore been now again urged for consideration. He, for his own part, thought it would entail great practical inconvenience on the Municipality if the Municipal year were made to correspond with the Official year. All the Municipal licenses corresponded with the calendar year, and if the Financial year were made the Municipal year, then the year of such licenses must be altered, the books of the Municipality must also be altered, and at least for one year the tax-payers, who had to take out these licenses, would have to pay license fees for a year and a quarter, and great practical inconvenience would thus arise. The object of the Government was, he believed, to have the Municipal accounts made up according to the Financial year, and he understood that there was an executive order in existence under which the Municipal accounts were furnished to Government according to the Financial year, so that the primary object of the Government, he ventured to think, had already been attained by the executive arrangements already in force. But if the Government should insist on the change of the Municipal year, it would be for the Select Committee to consider how far the wishes of Government might be met.

The HON'BLE AMER ALI said he thought advantage should be taken of the present opportunity to do away with the anomalous position of the Municipal Commissioners of Calcutta, who were also Justices of the Peace, in trying cases in which the Municipality was a party. He believed doubts had suggested themselves in several quarters as to the legality of their proceedings, and he believed that such doubts existed in Bombay also: He had mentioned the matter to His Hon'ble friend on his left (BABOO KRISTODAS PAL), and he thought it right that attention should be drawn to it in Council, that measures might be taken to solve the difficulty referred to. The Bombay Government was about to introduce a Bill to empower Presidency Magistrates, who were also Municipal Commissioners, to try cases in which the Municipality was a party; and as there was no special provision in the Calcutta Municipal Act giving such authority to them, he would urge upon the Hon'ble Member to introduce a provision in the Bill by which the question might be settled in a satisfactory manner one way or the other.

THE HON'BLE PEARY MOHUN MOOKERJEE said there was one portion of the Bill regarding which too much care could not be taken in settling its provisions—he meant the sections of the Bill relating to the sale of drugs. It was certainly not intended that a grocer's or bunniah's shop should be required to be registered, or that such shops should employ certificated compounders to superintend the sale of such innocuous substances as ginger, cinnamon, or aniseed, which, to use the words of the Bill, were “drugs enumerated in the British Pharmacopœia.” It would operate as a great hardship if the wording of the section was not altered so as to exclude the sort of shops to which he had referred. He thought that abkarry shops, or shops for the sale exciseable articles, should also be expressly excluded, because the section as it stood would include these shops also.

THE HON'BLE MR. MACKENZIE said, perhaps it was desirable that he should say a word with reference to the sections bearing on the Government municipal loans. It was doubtful whether they were really required in the shape in which they appeared in the Bill. It would be remembered that the Calcutta Municipality had made repeated efforts to get some reduction of the burden imposed on the present generation of tax-payers on account of the drainage and water-supply of the town, and the Government of Bengal had consistently supported the Municipality in those endeavours. The consolidation of the Government loans was one of the measures of relief which the Government of India, on representations made, had been good enough to grant. The Government had lent the Municipality 52 lakhs of rupees on account of water-supply at the low rate of interest of 4 per cent., and various other sums for drainage, markets, Municipal offices, and the like, at $4\frac{1}{2}$ per cent., subject to certain stipulations regarding sinking funds and repayments. The Municipal Act took, however, no direct cognizance of such loans, which were simply matters of contract between the Government and the Municipality. The Government made its own terms with the Municipality, and if it became necessary to enforce compliance with those terms, the Government knew where to find its remedy. When, therefore, in 1878 the Municipality applied for some modification of the terms of repayment, the Government of Bengal made certain proposals to the Government of India, and the Government of India took these into consideration and passed orders regarding them. No special need for legislative sanction was apparent. What the Government of India proposed was that the Municipality should hand over to the Government the Sinking Fund which had been held as against the Government loans, and that the whole of the balances of the loans should then be consolidated into one loan at $4\frac{1}{4}$ per cent., to be repaid in sixty equal half-yearly instalments. This proposal was believed to be advantageous to the Municipality, and was accepted. It was then, however, found that the Trustees of the Municipality held not only the Sinking Fund accruing against the Municipal Debentures, but also the Sinking Fund accruing against the Government $4\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. loans in one and the same account. A separation of accounts became necessary, and was easily effected. But a doubt arose whether, looking to the fact that section 337 of the Act bound the Trustees to hold all moneys in their possession when the Act was passed—when held for the purpose of paying off any sum borrowed by them—subject to the trusts declared in that section, some legislation was not required to show that the section was not intended to apply to, or affect in any way, the arrangements regarding the Government loans. This doubt might be fanciful perhaps, but it was the only matter in connection with the consolidation of the Government loans which seemed to him to call for legislation at all. There was again a point in connection with the Public Debenture loans which might or might not require legislation. In the Municipal Act provision was made that the sum of 2 per cent. on the total sum borrowed by the Commissioners, for purposes of any enactment thereby repealed, and exclusive of the Government loans, was to be held as a Sinking Fund. The Government of India suggested that the Municipality should, in respect of future loans, instead of setting aside a sum of 2 per cent. on the gross amount of the loan, set apart 2 per cent. only on its net amount as it might stand at the beginning of each year—that is to say, after deducting the amount of Sinking Fund held against the loan. That was a matter for the Municipality to consider, and so far they had not come up officially for any amendment of the law to enable them to take advantage of the proposal; but he observed that in the Bill effect was apparently sought to be given to it. The second clause of section 4 of the Bill provided that in respect of loans contracted after the passing of the Act, a sum of not less than 1 per cent. on the total sum borrowed by the Commissioners, after deducting the total amount previously set apart as a Sinking Fund in respect of such loans, should be set aside yearly towards the discharge of the loans. This proposed a double concession to the present generation of tax-payers. The Hon'ble Mover of the Bill had only referred to one—the reduction of the rate of payment to the Sinking Fund; but it would be seen there was a further modification, in that this percentage was to be calculated only on net, and not on gross, indebtedness. He might further remark that if the Sinking Fund was to be calculated on the net debt, there was perhaps no necessity for a Sinking Fund at all. It would be sufficient to provide that the sum of 1 or 2 per cent., as the case might be, should be appropriated annually to buying up and cancelling Municipal debentures. After all, however, it was doubtful whether legislation was required to meet the case of these future loans, seeing that under section 334 of the Act the terms of loan and repayment had to be settled in each case by Government and the Commissioners. Section 337 was only designed to protect the status quo at the time of passing the Act in 1876.

MR. MACKENZIE thought it desirable to make this explanation, because the object of the sections to which he had referred might not be understood. He would not follow the hon'ble member through the other remarks which he had made, except to say shortly, in respect to the extension of the water-supply to the suburbs, that it would be wise policy to recognize something like solidarity between the town and suburbs. According to the provision as it now stood in the Bill, the Calcutta Municipality might carry out in the suburbs any scheme of water-supply they pleased, at any cost they pleased, and charge the rate-payers of the suburbs any amount they pleased: the rate of interest to be charged not being even mentioned in the Bill. He did not think that this was an arrangement that either the inhabitants of the suburbs or the Government could contemplate with satisfaction.

HIS HONOUR the President said that before putting the motion he wished to make one or two remarks on the subjects which had just been alluded to; and first, in answer to what had fallen from the Hon'ble Mover, HIS HONOUR thought that the section relating to the supply of water to the suburbs required very careful consideration by the Select Committee. It seemed to him that this section, as worded, would impose upon the suburbs a liability very much in excess of what he believed was right. He was sorry to see a tendency on the part of the Municipal Commissioners of Calcutta to treat the Suburban Municipality with a sort of jealousy. There seemed to be some objection on the part of the Calcutta Municipality to recognize that the suburbs were, as a matter of fact, part of Calcutta, and an inclination to shut them out from the advantages which the people of Calcutta enjoyed chiefly from the assistance of Government. The Calcutta water-works, as he and Hon'ble Members well know, had been carried out by the Calcutta Municipality, but they could never have carried them out unless they had received very marked assistance from the Government. They ought to be willing to let the suburbs share in the advantages thus derived, if they could do so without any extra expenditure to themselves. The water-works were carried out by a loan of half a million from the Government, and the Municipality had every facility in the way of the services of engineering officers from the Government, and they were allowed to construct the work a distance of 14 miles along a Government road. This being so, HIS HONOUR thought they should recognize the fact that the health of Calcutta and its prosperity were to a great extent wrapped up in the health and prosperity of the suburbs. There were many people who resided all day in Calcutta, but who lived in the suburbs, and who came here every day to do their work. Calcutta was dependent to a great extent on the suburbs for labour and other conditions which made life and trade in Calcutta possible. He thought that instead of grudging the suburbs aid in the matter of water-supply, they should allow them ungrudgingly such benefit as they could enjoy from the existing head works and mains of the Calcutta service without detriment to Calcutta. It was, of course, quite fair that if the water-service was extended to the suburbs, the residents of the suburbs should pay such a rate as would entirely relieve Calcutta of any extra cost bona fide incurred for that purpose, but they should not be called upon to pay any charges which Calcutta would have to incur if the water-supply was not so extended. It seemed to him that the section, as now drawn, left it open to the Calcutta Municipality to assess the people of the suburbs to a degree which would involve a prohibitory charge by making them pay something in excess of what was the fair cost of laying down the water in the suburbs. He quite agreed that all extra expense involved in extending the works to the suburbs would be a fair charge upon the suburbs, but he strongly protested against throwing upon them the cost of works which were not rendered necessary exclusively by that extension, and he hoped that the Select Committee would give their careful consideration and see that some proper control was provided, so that the suburbs might not be shut out altogether by a prohibitory rate or that the rate imposed upon them was not made unreasonably heavy.

He would now come to the question of pension. Hon'ble Members had just been told that the Municipal Commissioners objected to pay anything towards pensions of Police officers, because they neither appointed nor controlled the Police: he must remind them that the payment of the Police was a duty which was thrown upon them by law just as much as drainage, water, and other rates; they had to prepare a budget which was to receive the sanction of Government, and after the budget had been received, the local Government determined, year by year, how much it would give towards the maintenance of the Police as a contribution to Municipal Funds. The Municipality had to find the pay of the Police by law, less only such amount as Government saw fit to contribute, year by year: and pension was really only a form of deferred pay. Although we all had great respect for the Municipal Commissioners, and the way in which they managed their work, he did not think that the detailed control of the Police was a matter which could in any way be advantageously vested in the Corporation. As a matter of fact, particularly as regards pension, the Government had always behaved with great liberality to the Municipality. About two years ago, His Honour received a proposal from the Government of India calling upon the Municipality to pay a contribution towards the pension of the Commissioner of Police. He pointed out that the Municipality paid a very heavy sum for the maintenance of the Police, that the Municipal rates were very high, and that the Municipality should, therefore, in his opinion, not be called upon to make any contribution for such purpose. The Government of India replied that although they claimed the principle to be correct, they were willing, in consideration of what the Municipality was doing, to make the pension a part of the contribution from the Government, and that claim had been withdrawn. Since then, about the beginning of this year, he received a letter from the Government of India, directing him to take measures for the amendment of the Municipal Act in order to make the Municipality bear a share of the pensions and gratuities granted to servants who were partly paid by the Government and partly by the Municipality. He must say that that principle seemed to him to be perfectly fair and justifiable, but as he had before said he was willing to recognize the fact that the Municipality had very heavy charges to meet, that taxation was very high, and though the charge for pensions was not a heavy item, he desired to save them as much as he could from further expenditure for Police; he accordingly wrote to the Government of India as follows:—

The proposal to require the Calcutta Municipality to contribute for pensions has been more than once discussed. The circumstances have materially altered since Mr. Dampier's letter No. 530, dated 31st January 1868, was written, and Sir Ashley Eden is of opinion that the validity of the claim of Government to these contributions is indisputable; but he thinks that the present time is not opportune for enforcing this claim. As has already been stated in my letter No. 143, dated 23rd ultimo, to the Financial Department, on the subject of the Sinking Fund contribution on future public loans for water-supply and drainage, taxation in Calcutta is extremely high, and any considerable increase in the burdens thrown on the rate-payers must affect the prosperity of the town. The Commissioners are about to incur very heavy expenditure in increasing the supply of filtered water—a measure absolutely indispensable to sanitary progress. Government have unceasingly urged upon them the necessity of pushing forward vigorously the work of filling up filthy tanks and improving the condition of bustees in the town. The extension of the water-supply will remove one obstacle to the prosecution of the first measure; while the provision about to be made in the amending Act, enabling the Commissioners to acquire bustee land for the purpose of reclaiming and building on it, or letting it for building sites, will give the Municipality ample powers to deal with the second question. But while the way will now be open to the execution of those essential sanitary reforms, it is most important that no avoidable financial difficulties should be allowed to arise. The Lieutenant-Governor believes that it would have a very good effect, and would greatly strengthen the hands of Government, in insisting on the systematic prosecution of these reforms, if the Government of India were to postpone for the present the enforcement of their claim to pensionary contributions, and to declare, as was done in the case of the Chairman's contribution for leave and pension allowances, that the exemption, so long as it is permitted, must be held to be a substantial contribution by Government to the Municipal revenue of the town."

He had this morning received a reply from the Government of India to that letter, in which they said:

"I am directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No. 175, dated the 7th instant, and in reply to say that, under the circumstances represented, the Governor-General in Council is pleased to sanction the recommendation of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, that the Government should, for the present, forego the enforcement of its claim for pensionary contributions from the Calcutta and Mofussil Municipalities.

"The principle that such contributions are claimable should, however, be definitely asserted in the Municipal Acts now under amendment in Beugal; and it would, in the opinion of the Governor-General in Council, facilitate the settlement of the question, and prevent risk of future misapprehension, if the obligation were at once imposed in the legislation at present under consideration of the Government of Bengal, power being reserved to the local Government, with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council, to exempt the Calcutta or other Municipality at any particular time from the payment of contribution, in the event of sufficient reasons being shown for such temporary exemption."

That was how the matter now stood. The Government of India had consented to forego its demand for contribution to pension, but they wished to have the principle asserted in the Act. His Honour himself must say that he saw no great object in inserting the principle in the Act if it was the intention to forego payment, and he would take an opportunity of making a further representation, and point out that the liability having been declared by the Government, it would be better to leave the whole question to be settled hereafter, the Act being amended when necessary for this purpose, rather than to disfigure the Act in the way in which it was proposed by putting in a provision which was not to be enforced. Whether the Government of India would consent to that proposal, he could not say; but in the mean time the Select Committee should consider the orders of the Government of India, and endeavour to frame a section which would meet the views of the Government of India.

He did not think that there was anything further in the Bill which called for remark in this stage, but he had no doubt that its provisions would receive the careful consideration of the Committee, and that they would also consider the suggestion which had been made by the Hon'ble Member on the left (Mr. AMIR ALI.)

THE HON'BLE KRISTODAS PAL explained that it was not intended that the Municipality should have the arbitrary power of imposing a water-rate on the suburbs. Specifications and estimates of works necessary for the extension of water to the suburbs would be submitted to the Government, and as no such extension could be carried out without the sanction of the Lieutenant-Governor, the determination of the rate would ultimately rest with His Honour. It was provided in the Bill that the Municipality should have power to levy such a rate as would cover all costs of construction, establishment, and maintenance; but if the rate were fixed by law, it might prove insufficient and embarrassing. The determination of the rate ought therefore to be left to the Commissioners subject to the sanction of the local Government.

The motion was then agreed to, and the Bill referred to a Select Committee consisting of the Hon'ble the Advocate-General and the Hon'ble Messrs. Cockerell, Mackenzie, Allen, Ameer Ali, and the Mover, with instructions to report in a fortnight.

AMENDMENT OF "THE CESS ACT, 1880."

THE HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER moved that the report of the Select Committee, on the Bill to amend "The Cess Act, 1880," be taken into consideration in order to the settlement of the clauses of the Bill, and that the clauses of the Bill be considered for settlement in the form recommended by the Select Committee.

The motion was agreed to.

THE HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER moved that the following note be substituted for the note which stood below Part I of Schedule A :

"NOTE.—In the body of this statement should be entered only nijjote lands and such uncultivated lands in the use and occupation of the maker of the return as are capable of assessment on their annual value."

This amendment, he said, was the result of the opinion expressed by the Hon'ble Member opposite when the Bill was read in Council, and also in Select Committee. A communication had since been received by the Lieutenant-Governor from the British Indian Association on the subject. It turned on the point whether uncultivated nijjote lands were to be entered in the return as liable to assessment or not. There had been a good deal of discussion on the matter informally, and the Government had ultimately accepted the amendment which MR. DAMPIER now moved, and which he hoped would meet with the approval of the Council.

THE HON'BLE KRISTODAS PAL said he was willing to accept the amendment if it was worked out in the spirit in which it was moved. He hoped that the Board's instructions to Collectors would be sufficiently explicit so as not to give rise to complications in future. As far as he understood the object of the Cess law, it was that the cess should be calculated on the rental or profit derived in some shape or other, and the definition of "annual value" in the Act of 1880, although somewhat vaguely worded, implied that only land capable of valuation in some form or other, that was to say, land yielding profit or some advantage to the owner, was liable to assessment.

THE HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER observed, in reply, that it was impossible that any pledge should be given in this Council on behalf of an institution so proverbially irresponsible and intangible as a Board, but he would express a confident hope that the Board of Revenue would endeavour to do full justice to the intention which actuated the introduction of this amendment.

THE HON'BLE MR. MACKENZIE remarked that it was not the principle of the original Road Cess Act that the assessment should fall only on actual rental or profits; possible profits had also to be considered. Under section 4 of the Act, all "immovable property" was liable to pay road cess; and the term "immovable property" was defined in section 3 to include land. But "land" meant "land, whether cultivated, uncultivated, or covered with water." Land falling under the last part of that definition might very well be land yielding no actual profit. It was not, however, apparently the intention of the Act that land which was absolutely worthless should pay cess, for that on which the assessment was calculated, namely, the "annual value of the land," was defined to be the "total rent paid or, if no rent was actually paid, the rent which would be reasonably expected to be payable during the year by all the cultivating ryots thereof, or by other persons in actual use and occupation thereof." These last words led to the inference that waste lands which were absolutely unculturable, or capable of yielding no return of any kind, were not to be assessed, but where land might be made capable of yielding a rent under any circumstances it must pay road cess, whether the owner chose to utilize it or not. He believed, however, that in practice only lands returning actual profits were included in the returns.

The motion was put and agreed to.

THE HON'BLE AMEER ALI moved that the proviso in clause 3, section 44 of Bengal Act IX of 1880, commencing with the words "subject however" and concluding with the words "the holders of such share" be omitted. He said that the great hardship which was entailed upon the co-sharers of a mehal by the insertion of this proviso in section 44 was the reason which induced him to bring forward the motion. He had received several communications on the subject from zemindars in Behar, one of which he forwarded to the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill. The Hon'ble Member was good enough to consider the suggestion, which however he thought to be impracticable. Mr. AMEER ALI himself was of the same opinion. The suggestion was to the effect that the cesses should be required to be paid with the Government jumma; but it appeared to him that it would be hardly possible to do so, unless the cesses were consolidated with the Government revenue. The only remedy seemed to him to be the omission of the proviso mentioned in the amendment. It occurred only in clause 3, and presumably applied only to such co-sharers as were mentioned in that clause. There appeared to him therefore to be no difficulty in omitting it. Mr. AMEER ALI did not see the justice of making co-sharers, who were in every respect separate, who paid their jummas separately, who had separate accounts with the Collector for Government revenue, liable for the laches of a co-sharer, who was a co-sharer only in name and by a fiction of the law. He would read, with the Hon'ble President's permission, a passage from the communication already referred to by him, to show the great hardship which was caused by the joint-liability clause in section 44 of the Cess Act. It was as follows:—

"In the province of Behar, the mehals, generally speaking, consist of ten or twenty mouzahs, each owned by numerous and different co-sharers, so much so that the malik of one mouzah is not acquainted with the maliks of the other mouzahs, nor is he aware of the different shares in the remaining mouzahs held by the respective maliks. As there is only one and same torjih number for the mehal, a joint assessment is made in respect of the same. And when the Road and Public Works Cesses run into arrears, the shareholders of the mehal cannot possibly know which particular sharer is liable for such arrears, and whether the debt in reality is due or not and if due, how much it amounts to. The payment consequently is impossible. The co-sharers and the shareholding proprietors of larger shares do not allow Road and Public Works Cesses to fall into arrears. The holders of small shares generally allow the cesses to remain unpaid, so that in the event of the same being paid by the large shareholders, it is difficult for them to reimburse themselves. Under these circumstances many mehals would be put up to sale, and innocent parties deprived of their estate along with the defaulters."

The provision in the Revenue law by which the entire body of co-sharers were made liable for default committed by one of them in the payment of the Government cess, was a traditional rule handed down from former Governments, who not unfrequently visited the sins of the fathers on the heads of the sons. It appeared to Mr. AMEER ALI, however, that the circumstances connected with the separate payment of revenue by co-sharers did not apply to the separate payment of cesses. He could understand the reason for the Revenue authorities placing the payment of Government revenue on a different basis from the payment of cesses, which was a due of quite a different nature—cesses, as a matter of fact, were not payable in such large amounts as the Government revenue. It was possible that when default was committed in the payment of revenue, and the specific share in default was set up for sale, the highest offer might not be equal to the amount of revenue due; but it could hardly ever happen that when a specific share of an estate was set up for sale for arrears of cess due, the highest offer would not suffice to meet the amount due. He therefore thought that there was no sufficient reason for the insertion of the proviso in clause 3, section 44 of the Cess Act, and he knew that it caused a great deal of hardship on persons who were co-sharers in a mehal, and therefore the only means of remedying that hardship was to strike out the proviso in clause 3 altogether. He did not see that the omission of the proviso could do any harm in respect of the recovery of the cesses; the section remained intact and the specific share remained primarily liable for recovery of the arrears. The whole mehal would remain liable for the Government revenue as before, but the other co-sharers would not suffer for the laches of one co-sharer, generally a small shareholder, in the payment of cesses. In view of the hardship and vexation occasioned by the law as it stood at present, he hoped the Council would agree to the amendment proposed by him, or the Bill might be referred back to the Select Committee, with instructions to devise a clause calculated to obviate the evils to which he had referred.

THE HON'BLE PEARY MOHUN MOOKERJEE said he entirely agreed in this amendment. If the objectionable passage contained in clause 3 of section 41 of the Cess Act were expunged, he thought the security for recovering arrears of cess would not be in the least jeopardized: arrears of cess were ordinarily so small in amount, that he thought there was no fear of the Government incurring any loss by reason of not being able to recover those arrears if the provision to which objection had been raised was struck out. He thought that the considerations affecting cess and revenue were so different that there could be no comparison whatever as to the means to be provided for the recovery of arrears of cess in the one case and of revenue in the other. He perfectly agreed with the Hon'ble Member in thinking that great hardship was experienced by shareholders from the operation of the proviso which he now sought to remove from the Act: they were not only liable to be sold out, if the revenue of a co-sharer had not been paid, but they ran a similar risk if a small arrear of cess were due on account of a small fractional share of an estate in which they had no interest whatever.

THE HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER said the hardships arising from joint liability for the payment of cesses were, he presumed, the same in character and very much less in degree than those which arose out of joint liability for the payment of Government revenue. The Hon'ble Gentleman, the Mover of this amendment, in speaking of the Government enforcing that joint liability for revenue, likened it to the visiting of the sins of the father upon the children. It was not for MR. DAMPIER to give the Hon'ble Gentleman a lecture on the law of contract, but he would ask him to remember that an estate when created was created as a whole—the engagement with the Government was for the estate as a whole. One condition above all others was attached, that, without the consent of the Government to the division of an estate, and the assessment of the revenue in proportion to the shares into which it was divided, there should be no disruption of the joint liability for the payment of revenue. The process which the law afforded to proprietors for getting rid of this joint liability was well known as the Butwarrah law, and those joint proprietors who wished to take advantage of that law, could do so without asking for any favour from the executive Government.

If they did not choose to do this, certainly the sons had so far to suffer for the sins of their fathers, that they inherited their estates with precisely the liabilities which their fathers had attached to them, or subject to which the fathers had voluntarily acquired them. It was not unusual for sons to suffer for the sins of fathers to this extent in matters of property.

MR. DAMPIER would next notice the last remark which the Hon'ble Mover of the amendment had made. He said that where the Government revenue was in arrear, it might perhaps happen that the sale of the share in default would not yield sufficient to cover the arrear, but that the amount of cesses payable was so small, in proportion to the market value of an estate, that that was not a possible contingency where arrears of cess and not revenue were due, and that therefore it was practically unnecessary to keep alive the ultimate joint responsibility of all the co-sharers in an estate for arrears of cess due on a share of the estate, to be enforced only in case the arrear was not realized by sale of the share only. In answer to the communications to which the Hon'ble Gentleman referred, MR. DAMPIER had pointed out that the proposal was founded upon the misconception that the liability for payment of cess followed the land. That was not the case—it followed the person. After putting in force the certificate procedure, the share of the estate belonging to the defaulter might be sold just as his interest in any other land, unconnected with the cess in arrear, might be sold for the debt—but not otherwise.

These remarks arose directly out of what had fallen from the Hon'ble Member in moving this amendment, but the proposed amendment raised so important a question, that MR. DAMPIER had considered it very thoroughly before coming into the Council-room. The argument which had been advanced was a specious one in no bad sense, but in the sense that the advantages of the proposed measure were patent and lay on the surface, whereas the objections were latent—hidden under a mass of rubbish and details, from which to exhumate them required the pickaxe of an expert. This particular question of relieving the joint sharers in an estate from liability on account of the default of a co-sharer was a matter of such importance, the benefit which this proposal would confer on the individual tax-payer was so great, it was in a direction in which Mr. DAMPIER was so often pressed to go, and the measure was one of which he would be so glad to advise the adoption if it were possible, that he thought it due to the Council to explain as fully as possible why it was impossible in the general interests of the public to accept this amendment or any other in the same direction.

But in order to make the reasons intelligible, he was obliged once more to ask the Council to allow him to give them one of those homilies on revenue details for which he was so often obliged to ask their indulgence.

"The difficulty of accepting the amendment lies in the fact that the sections of Act XI of 1859, which treat of the opening of separate accounts for shares of the sudder jumma, do not require that the share of the sudder jumma, in respect of which the separate account is opened, shall bear the same proportion to the entire sudder jumma of the estate as the assets or value of the fractional share, or of the land in respect of which the separate account is opened, bear to the entire assets or value of the estate.

If it were otherwise, if the law insisted, as the Butwarah law does, on a proper proportion being kept up between assets and sudder jumma, it might be possible for the Government to entertain the Hon'ble Member's proposed amendment, for it might, with reasonable safety, be assumed, that when a share in an estate, for which a separate account has been opened by the Collector, is brought to sale for arrears of revenue, the sale will yield a surplus over the arrear of land revenue on which the Collector might lay hands in payment of any arrear of cess due from the same proprietor. But as the law stands, there is nothing to prevent a joint proprietor in an estate from having a separate account opened in respect of 12 annas of the entire sudder jumma, that is, accepting for himself the liability to pay 12 annas of the entire sudder jumma, while declaring himself to be the proprietor of a very small fraction only of the estate, of which fraction the assets are, say, not more than one-eighth of the entire assets of the estate, and insufficient even to pay the share of the sudder jumma for which he causes a separate account to be opened in his name.

Under these circumstances, the Hon'ble Member's amendment, if adopted, would leave open the door for collusion to defraud the Government and the District Committees of the cesses due. Taking for illustration the case of an estate in which the recorded joint proprietors are A and B—the former a man of substance—the latter a man of straw, and A's creature.

Immediately a separate account for a share of sudder jumma is opened, A and B will, under clauses 2 and 3, section 44 of the Cess Act, become liable for the cess assessed in respect of the entire estate "in proportion to the amount of Government revenue, for the payment of which their respective shares remain liable." Let us suppose that B has caused a separate account to be opened in his name, accepting a liability for 12 annas of the entire sudder jumma. Then, immediately, on the account being opened, A will be liable, say, for Rs. 250 only, and B for the remaining Rs. 750 out of a thousand, which is the entire amount of cess on the estate. B having defaulted for land revenue, the share, in respect of which the separate account is open in his name, is put up to sale; as it is encumbered with a higher amount of land revenue than it can pay, no outsider will buy it, and of course A, the substantial joint proprietor in the estate will buy the share in, either in his own name, or benamed in that of some other man of straw—say C, so as to save the entire estate from being put up to sale for the arrear, but he will only bid the exact amount of arrears due—there will be no surplus profits of the sale to be paid to B, from which the Collector could deduct the Rs. 750 of cess due from B.

So the Collector must proceed to realize the cess from B by the certificate procedure. But B is a man of straw, and long before the certificate is issued, he has made over his moveable property to his sisters and his cousins and his aunts. He has no other immoveable property, and the nazir makes his return—"No assets can be discovered." At this stage, as the section which the Hon'ble Mover of the amendment wishes to alter now stands, the Collector would enforce the joint liability of A, and proceed to recover the Rs. 750 of cess from him. But if the section is mutilated as the Hon'ble Member proposes, "the general responsibility of the holders of the entire estate," i.e. of A, will have absolutely ceased from the date on which the separate account of land revenue was opened, and the amount of cesses due will be irretrievably lost to the Public Exchequer and the District Committees, and this game might be played over and over again with perfect safety to A.

The case of collusion between A and B has been here taken as the best for the purposes of illustration, but Mr. DAMPIER could assure the Council that a similar danger would exist in cases in which there is no collusion, but in which (B being a man with no other property) the share of the estate, which, bond fide, belongs to him, has by private arrangement among the proprietors of the estate, been burdened with an undue share of the land revenue demand."

The HON'BLE AMEER ALI said, in reply, that he thought the difficulty suggested by the Hon'ble Member (MR. DAMPIER) might easily be obviated by adding some clause to cover such special and hypothetical cases. Such cases were extremely unlikely to occur in actual practice, and with the safeguards which the law provided against collusion and fraud, it was impossible to suppose they could occur with impunity. At all events, the great boon which would be conferred on the large mass of proprietors by the omission of the clause in question would compensate for any mischief which in some rare instances, according to the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill, was likely to arise if Mr. AMEER ALI's suggestion was adopted. That suggestion was offered from the practical level of those who had to suffer from the working of the Act, and he hoped that it would meet with the approval of Hon'ble Members. Some portion of the hardship at present entailed upon proprietors would be removed by requiring the Collector to give some distinct notice to the entire body of shareholders in a mehal, so as to enable them to know who the defaulting co-sharers were and what the amount of the cess in arrears was. He might mention one instance in which, if such a course had been adopted, much hardship would have been avoided. There was one mehal in the Patna district, which had been put up for sale for default committed by certain co-sharers in the payment of the cess. This mehal consisted of 12 mouzalis, and was in possession of 20 maliks, and though the property was put up for sale, the majority of the co-sharers were not aware up to this time who the defaulting co-sharers were.

His Honour the President said he thought the question which had been raised was a very important one, but it hardly came in properly in connection with the Bill now before the Council. The object of this Bill was not to reconsider and to revise all questions relating to the assessment and recovery of cess, but to correct certain obvious errors in the Act which had been discovered in the course of its administration. The question which had been raised was one which had possibly not been considered before, it involved important principles, and could only be decided after careful enquiry from local officers. Acts, such as the Cess Act, were very frequently amended, and another opportunity would no doubt occur for proposing the change suggested. In the mean time the point could be noted and enquiries could be made from the revenue officers in Behar on the subject. He would therefore suggest the propriety of the Hon'ble Member withdrawing his amendment on the present occasion, leaving it for consideration on the occasion of some subsequent amendment of the Act.

The amendment was then by leave withdrawn.

The HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER postponed the motion which stood in the list of Business that the Bill be passed.

The Council was adjourned to Saturday the 19th March.

Proceedings of the Council of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations.

Saturday, the 19th March 1881.

PRESENT :

HIS HONOUR THE LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR OF BENGAL, Presiding,
The HON'BLE H. L. DAMPIER,
The HON'BLE H. J. REYNOLDS,
The HON'BLE H. A. COCKERELL,
The HON'BLE A. MACKENZIE,
The HON'BLE T. T. ALLEN,
The HON'BLE PEARY MOHUN MOOKERJEE,
The HON'BLE KRISTODAS PAI, C.I.E., RAI BAHADOOR, and
The HON'BLE AMEER ALI.

BURIAL BOARD (CALCUTTA AND ITS SUBURBS).

THE HON'BLE MR. MACKENZIE moved that the report of the Select Committee on the Bill to provide for the appointment of a Burial Board in Calcutta and its Suburbs be taken into consideration in order to the settlement of the clauses of the Bill. He said that the Select Committee had not found it necessary to make any material amendments in the Bill. They had inserted a clause providing for the resignation of Members of the Board by enabling the Lieutenant-Governor from time to time to relieve any Member of the Board nominated by him of his functions as a Member of such Board. The other amendments which the Committee had made in the Bill were merely of a verbal nature.

The motion was put and agreed to.

The HON'BLE MR. MACKENZIE asked leave to postpone the remaining two motions which stood in his name. Finding that no criticisms—in fact no notice—of the Bill had appeared in the public press, he had sent copies to all the leading dissenting clergy in town, and had received from a few of them replies. Briefly, he might say, as far as the replies went, they all approved of the principle of the Bill, and the chief point on which suggestions had been made was that of the constitution of the Board. Some of those consulted thought that the Bill ought to provide for a larger proportion of the clerical element on the Board, while one gentleman thought that no clergymen at all ought to be appointed. As these suggestions did not go to the principle of the Bill, the Council would probably find it unnecessary to make any change in its provisions; but he should like to wait another week for further replies to the circular which had been issued.

The motions were by leave postponed.

AMENDMENT OF "THE EXCISE ACT."

THE HON'BLE MR. REYNOLDS moved that the Bill to amend "The Bengal Excise Act, 1878," be read in Council. He said that at the last meeting he explained the grounds upon which legislation was necessary; the Bill had since been printed and circulated, and he need only briefly refer to its provisions. The third section of the Bill contained a definition of "foreign excisable article," which was drawn up in accordance with a representation which had been made by the Chief Commissioner of Assam. MR. REYNOLDS mentioned at the last meeting that these foreign excisable articles were of two kinds—first, spirituous liquors, which were imported into Assam from places in British India in which no excise law was in force; and, secondly, wild ganja, which grew on the hills beyond British India, and was surreptitiously brought into Assam across the frontier. The 4th section of the Bill provided for the regulation of the traffic in such articles in accordance with the wish of the Chief Commissioner. Power was given to the Board of Revenue absolutely to prohibit the possession of such foreign exciseable articles in any quantity whatsoever in the districts or tracts specified in the notification, or to limit their possession to certain specified quantities. The 5th section provided for the difficulty which had been raised by the Board, by omitting the words "for sale" from section 58 of the Act.

THE HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER said he observed in the Bill a provision to substitute, for the definition of "spirituous liquor" under the Act, the following words:—

"Spirituous liquor" includes any spirituous liquor imported into India by sea or manufactured in India by any process of "distillation." The only difference between this definition and that for which it was substituted, lay in the introduction of the words "by sea," which had a restricting and not an extending effect, excluding from the definition all liquors imported otherwise than by sea. Perhaps the Hon'ble Mover of the Bill would explain the object of this change in the definition, which was not apparent to Mr. DAMPIER.

THE HON'BLE MR. REYNOLDS remarked that he did not remember at that time the exact reason why the words "by sea" were introduced in the amendment, but the point might be reserved for consideration in Select Committee.

HIS HONOR the PRESIDENT said he thought the idea probably was to exclude spirituous liquors imported into British India from Native States. Liquors so manufactured and imported would be included in the definition of "foreign exciseable article" contained in the previous paragraph of the section, foreign exciseable article being there defined to mean any article manufactured or produced at any place beyond the limits of British India.

THE HON'BLE MR. MACKENZIE said he believed that the reason for the introduction of the words "by sea" lay in the construction of the later penalty sections. The point could best be considered in Committee.

The motion was put and agreed to, and the Bill referred to a Select Committee consisting of the Hon'ble MESSRS. MACKENZIE, ALLEN, PEARY MOHUN MUKHERJEE, and the MOVER.

AMENDMENT OF "THE CESS ACT, 1880."

THE HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER moved that the Bill to amend "The Cess Act, 1880," be further considered in order to the settlement of its clauses.

The motion was agreed to.

THE HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER said that since the last meeting of the Council two points had been brought to his notice. The first was in connection with the 42nd section of the Act. That section provided that cess might be paid at the time when rent was payable. He should not himself have suggested the introduction of the explanatory words contained in his first amendment, but that the necessity for such explanation had been suggested to him from two independent quarters. The revenue was due according to the instalments mentioned in the engagement, but, although the revenue was then due, payment of it was not required until a certain last date of payment which was fixed under the provisions of Act XI of 1859: all instalments which had become due before that last day of payment were bound to be paid by that last day, and not before, on penalty of sale of the estate. It was suggested that section 42 of the Cess Act was ambiguous, and that a question might rise whether payment of cess was bound to be made according to the periods fixed in the engagement for the payment of revenue, or by the latest day fixed by the Board of Revenue under Act XI of 1859. The object of the amendment was to declare that the latest day for the payment of cess was the date fixed "under the provisions of section 3 of Act XI of 1859, or of any similar Act at the time being in force for the payment of arrears." His motion therefore was to substitute these words for the words "for the payment of the instalments" in clause (1) of section 42.

The motion was agreed to.

THE HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER said that his second amendment was suggested from the discussion which took place on his hon'ble friend Mr. AMER ALI's amendment in section 44 of the Cess Act as to the separation of liability for payment of cess. As the Act stood, when a separate account was open for the payment of revenue, there was a corresponding separation of liability in regard to the payment of cess also. But, although the law provided for the closing of a separate account as regards the payment of revenue, the Cess Act did not provide for closing the corresponding account for the payment of cess in the same manner, and therefore MR. DAMPIER moved the addition to the Bill of the following section :—

“5A. To section 44, the following clause shall be added :—

‘(5.) Whenever the separate account of the revenue payable in respect of any share or portion of an estate, as mentioned in clause 1 of this section, shall be closed, the provisions of this section shall cease to have effect in respect of such share’ ”

The HON'BLE AMER AJI said he thought the introduction of the proposed clause unnecessary. As long as a person continued to enjoy the privilege given him by Act XI of 1859 of separate liability for the payment of revenue, he would retain the similar privilege in respect to the payment of cesses conferred upon him by the first clause of section 44 of the Cess Act, but when the separate account for the payment of revenue was closed, the privilege as to separate payment of cess must cease.

The HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER replied that the Hon'ble Member himself had in Select Committee let fall a remark to the effect that as he read the law, when once a separate account had been opened as provided in clause 4 of the section, joint liability of the proprietors of the whole estate could never be resuscitated, and it was that remark which suggested the amendment now proposed of providing expressly for the closing of a separate account for the payment of cess.

The HON'BLE MR. REYNOLDS thought that, though the words might not be absolutely necessary, the addition of the proposed clause was desirable—it seemed to him to make the intention more unmistakeable.

HIS HONOUR the PRESIDENT observed that the proposed amendment would not make any alteration in the law. If there was room for doubt in the mind of Hon'ble Members, there was probably room for doubt elsewhere.

The motion was put and agreed to.

On the motion of the HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER the Bill was then passed.

The Council was adjourned to Saturday, the 26th instant.

RUNGPORE DRAINAGE WORKS.

MEDICAL AND MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT—MUNICIPAL.

Dated Calcutta, the 22nd March 1881.

RESOLUTION.

RUNGPORE has for many years been notorious for endemic fever of a severe type. The town lies between marshes on the north, and the stagnant bed of the river Ghoghat on the south, and the drainage has been exceedingly defective. A scheme to improve the drainage was taken in hand by the Municipality in 1878, and Government sanctioned the acquisition of lands required for the purpose. The Government also offered to place convict labour at the disposal of the Municipality free of charge as a contribution in aid of the scheme.

2. The scheme comprised the following works:—

- (1.) The cutting of a drainage channel from the marshes on the north of the town to the bed of the Ghoghat river at Mahigunge.
- (2.) The clearing out of the old bed of the dead Ghoghat on the south of the station to within half a mile of its junction with the running stream, and the construction of a cut to connect it with the swamp behind the jail.
- (3.) The clearing out of the silted-up beds of the Kanchna and Ichamutty nullahs on the east of the town. This work is important, as those nullahs when cleared out will receive a considerable portion of the drainage of the old town, Mahigunge.
- (4.) The construction of subsidiary channels to carry off the surface drainage of the town.

3. The second and fourth works have been nearly completed, and considerable progress has been made with the first. But though the scheme is still incomplete, its partial execution has been already attended by beneficial results. The Sanitary Commissioner, at the time of his last inspection of the Municipality in July 1880, observed: "Much improvement has * * * already been brought about by the scheme. The mortuary returns of the last year and the first-half of this year show a distinct reduction in the fever mortality within the limits of the Municipality as compared with previous years. The level of the water in the great beels to the north and north-east of the station has been reduced to about the natural level of January, and there is hardly any water lodging anywhere throughout the civil station." The Vice-Chairman, who is the Medical Officer of the station, says:—

The beels, as a matter of fact, have been quickly relieved of their floods during the last two rains, and simultaneously with it there has been a fall in the death-rate of the town, as will be seen from the following table:—

Year.	Deaths from cholera.	Deaths from small-pox.	Deaths from fevers.	Deaths from bowel complaints.	Deaths from all other causes.	Total deaths.	Deaths per 1,000 of population.
1876	6	2	425	33	57	523	36.23
1877	410	30	90	578	34.83
1878	93	2	290	45	53	483	34.83
1879	6	18	182	43	92	340	24.82
1880	1	2	253	33	67	356	25.95

In the above table, the last five years of which accurate statistics are available, have been taken for comparison—viz. three preceding and two following the commencement of the scheme. It will be observed that although the last season was a notoriously unhealthy one in Bengal, still the number of deaths from fever during the year in Rungpore was less than that registered during the healthiest of the three years before the commencement of the works, and the total death-rate was nearly ten less per thousand of population. It should be remembered, when considering the figures in the above table, that the death-rate has been calculated upon a population enumerated long before the construction of the railway, which must have considerably increased the number of inhabitants in the town.

4. Up to the end of January last a sum of Rs. 18,538 had been expended on the scheme, of which Rs. 3,921 came from the Municipal funds and Rs. 14,617 from private subscriptions. A further expenditure of Rs. 7,600 is required for the completion of the works. Baboo Mohima Runjun Roy Chowdhry, zemindar of Kakina, has liberally subscribed Rs. 7,500, and the balance will be met from the Municipal funds. Thus of the total sum of Rs. 26,138, Rs. 22,117 will come from private subscriptions, and Rs. 4,021 from the funds of the Municipality.

5. The Commissioners are at the same time anxious to acquire all the lands to be reclaimed by the drainage works. They represent that the ordinary income of the Municipality will not be sufficient to bear the cost of maintaining the works in good order, and they desire to secure the reclaimed lands, which, it is expected, will soon become a valuable source of income. Some of the proprietors have given their lands as free gifts to the Municipality. The cost of acquiring the remaining lands is estimated at Rs. 14,000. To enable them to meet this expenditure, the Municipality now ask the Government for a grant of Rs. 7,000, and a loan of Rs. 7,000 at a low rate of interest.

6. When the scheme was originally considered, it was, as already stated, contemplated to provide convict labour free of charge. But the requirements of the Jail Department have been such that all the available convicts have been for some time employed on the construction of the jail buildings at Rungpore, Julpigoree, Bogra, and Pubna, and it has not been found possible to tell off prisoners to the drainage works in Rungpore. Under these circumstances, and in the hope that the inhabitants of other Municipalities may be encouraged to come forward with subscriptions for similar works of local improvement, the Lieutenant-Governor sanctions a grant from the Provincial Revenues of the whole sum of Rs. 14,000 required by the Municipality.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Commissioner of the Rajshahye and Cooch Behar Division, and the Accountant General; also that it be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

COLMAN MACAULAY,

Offg. Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

Rainfall, Weather, and State and Prospects of the Crops.

Statement showing Rainfall, Weather, and State and Prospects of the Crops in the different Districts of Bengal, as reported to Government during the week ending the 19th March 1881.

Eastern Districts.—(Continued.)
CHITTAGONG DIVN.	21 Chittagong, Mar 22 '81	38	Weather—seasonable; more rain is wanted for the spring crops. Small-pox and cattle disease still reported.
	22 Noakhally „ 18 „	78	Weather—stormy. Ploughing being pushed on.
	23 Tipperah, „ 18 „	3.92	Weather—abnormal, resembling the bursting of the monsoon. State and prospects of the crops very good.
	Brahmunbermah „ „	Nil
	Chandpur „ „	30
CHITTAGONG HILL TRACTS.	24 Chittagong Hill Tracts, „ 15 „	5	Weather getting warmer daily. Foggy this morning. The hill people are busily engaged in cutting jouns. The prospects of tobacco, chilli, and other crops have been much improved by the shower of rain of last week.
	Hill Tipperah, „ 16 „	Nil	Weather—unsettled, and for the season unusually cool. Cold-weather crops fully gathered. Outturn fair. Public health good.
BEHAR.
PATNA DIVN.	25 Patna, Mar. 19 '81	Nil	Weather—cloudy during the latter part of the week. The rubbee harvest is going on, and a good outturn is expected. Prices favourable. Public health good.
	26 Gaya „ 19 „	06	Weather—cloudy in the latter part of the week; slight rain fell only in the jurisdiction of the Peraya outpost and Sudder. Maximum reading in shade 95.3°. Prospects of crops good throughout the district. Public health generally good. Small-pox reported in some villages in Peraya outpost.
	27 Shahabad, „ 19 „	Nil	Weather—cloudy, with east wind (raining on the 19th). Rubbee harvest progressing; cheena is being sown. General health good.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c. are deduced from the traces of the barograph and thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h and 22h.

2.41

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction of the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

P. W. Dept., Irrigation Branch.

The 11th March 1881.

Remarks on Traffic of the East Indian Railway for four weeks and 1 day ending 29th January 1881.

The approximate figures for the period are as follow:—

	Coaching.		Goods.		Total.	Material carried on revenue account, including maintenance.
	No.	Rs.	Mds.	Rs.		Mds.	Rs.
1881	655,841	10,74,568	66,351,000	28,91,074	Rs. 39,14,602	13,76,681	Rs. 84,747
1880	625,374	10,07,640	68,11,728	28,60,483	39,18,083	17,04,083	1,18,855
Increase	28,530
Decrease	16,533	13,002	175,728	41,601	...	9,7402	34,101

The periods to which these figures refer are—29 days in 1881 and 31 " " 1880.

were it not so, the public traffic this year would exhibit a fair increase over that for 1880 both in passengers and goods.

The details of the increases and decreases of the passenger traffic are given in the following table.

While the 3rd class traffic proper has increased, that in troops and Government servants has decreased on account of cessation of operations on the frontier.

Coaching Traffic during four weeks and 1 day ending 29th January 1881.

In goods traffic there is a large decrease in weight, but the earnings have not been affected in a similar way; this is owing to the rice traffic, which, though less in quantity, having been carried longer distances, thereby resulting in increased receipts.

The staples in which increases and decreases are shown are principally—

Increases.
Coal, up.
Grain.
Jaggree
Opium.
Piece goods.

Decreases.
Coal, down.
Government stores.
Hides.
Railway materials, foreign.
Salt.
Sugar.

Coal, up Mds. 1,58,450 Rs. 1,06,290
This is doubtless attributable to the reduced rate of freight now quoted to the public, viz. one-sixth of a pie a maund mile for distances over 300 miles.

The rice traffic this year has been carried from Bengal to the North-West, where a demand existed owing to threatened scarcity. The receipts from this flow of traffic, which took an unusual direction, have largely increased.

The decrease in weight is chiefly via Allyghur in rice which was exported from Outh to the Punjab last year for the troops; the falling off on this account is Mds. 1,57,220 and Rs. 19,040.

Wheat for export from Calcutta has been despatched from Patna City and Ghât chiefly, and there is an increase at that station of maunds 1,40,490 and Rs. 54,260 via Allyghur, and an increase is shown of maunds 33,400 and Rs. 2,836, but this was in wheat earned into Rajputana.

In other grains and pulses the traffic is normal and evenly local.

Jaggree Mds. 89,290 Rs. 12,080

A fair demand has sprung up for this article in Central India, and despatches from Arrah and stations above have increased.

Opium Mds. 11,740 Rs. 11,220

This trade depends upon the operations of the Revenue authorities.

Piece goods Mds. 18,010 Rs. 22,880

Up-country dealers in Bengal and the North West are reported to have dealt largely in the Calcutta market after the Christmas and New Year's holidays.

DECREASES.

Coal, down	Mds. 2,01,120	Rs. 25,780
Decreases are shown at nearly all the coal-despatching stations, and this appears to be owing to the continued importation of large quantities of English coal
Government stores	Mds. 18,810	Rs. 39,170
Frontier operations having ceased, the despatches of Government stores have been reduced.
Hides	Mds. 78,610	Rs. 56,770
The importation of hides into the Calcutta market has been small during January.
Railway materials, Foreign	Mds. 1,340	Rs. 42,130
The falling off is not large and is to be attributed mostly to the absence this year of despatches of rolling-stock for the State Railways.
Salt	Mds. 4,28,610	Rs. 98,240
The salt traffic has fallen off on all sides. I give below a table of decreases at various points.—

TABLES, etc. 11th March 1881.

N. S. L. CARR, Traffic Manager.

Report on the Fluctuations in Traffic on the Northern Bengal State Railway for the month of February 1881.

GENERAL REMARKS.

The most notable feature in the traffic of the month is the large increase in the up traffic under the head of "All other goods". In January 1880, 33,955 maunds were carried, whereas for the month now under review the figures stand at 68,851 maunds.

Managers and Agents of tea-gardens are no doubt looking ahead and making a push to get all garden-stores, &c. up before the rains set in.

Increases.

Food-grain ... Mds. 9,416
There has been more enquiry at the Port for all kinds of rice for export during the month, and the opportunity to sell has eagerly been taken advantage of by holders of stocks in this district.

Ginger ... Mds. 374
After many months of depression the traffic in this article appears to be reviving.

Gunny-bags ... Mds. 4,390
The low rate for jute this season, as compared with last, is still affecting this traffic, and will continue to do so until it pays the holders of the raw staple to send it forward in its unmanufactured state.

Jute ... Mds. 3,253
Early in the month, the jute traffic gave promise of keeping up, but a sudden decline, coupled with a weak market, even at the lower rate, again checked despatches, or it is anticipated the increase would have been much greater.

Sugar ... Mds. 602

The total weight carried under this head during the month stands at 2,412 maunds, out of which only 4 maunds passed downwards. The increase is due to purchasers taking advantage of the slightly easier rates to stock the local marts, and will, in all probability result in a corresponding falling-off some months hence.

Tea ... Mds. 302

The increased weight carried under this head, thus late in the season, can only be accounted for on the assumption that stocks have been kept back in the hope of better prices being realized.

All other goods ... Mds. 40,781

This large increase is dealt with in general remarks.

Decreases.

Ale ... Mds. 763

Commissariat despatches, which go to make up the bulk of the weight carried under this head are still withheld.

Railway material ... Mds. 22,228

The reasons given in last month's report for the decrease in this staple apply here, and until some new work is started a revival cannot be looked for

Salt ... Mds. 2,447

The price of this article at the port has advanced about Rs. 2 a maund, and this no doubt had the effect of checking despatches.

Tobacco ... Mds. 753

The continued heavy despatches of this article during the whole of last year have no doubt worked off the last season's crop. The increased weight carried for the 12 months ending 31st December 1880, as compared with the year 1879 being no less than 116,598 maunds.

TRAFFIC SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE, Saidpur, the 14th March 1881.

G. M. DUTY. Traffic Superintendent.

Report of Fluctuation of Traffic on the Tirhoot State Railway for the month of February 1881.

The total quantity of goods carried during the month of February 1881 aggregated 2,07,849 maunds, as compared with 1,95,392 maunds carried during the corresponding period of 1880, and 2,11,331 maunds as carried during the previous month, showing an increase of 12,457 maunds in the one case, and a decrease of 3,182 maunds in the other. 2,232 maunds of railway materials, carried during the month of February 1881, have not been taken into account.

Of the several increases and decreases, the following are the prominent ones and worthy of separate explanation:—

INCREASES.		Mds.
Coal. —Coal is fast supplying the place of firewood in the district for brick-burning purposes, and the increase is attributable to the large supplies of bricks in demand for the Government Durbhunga offices under construction and the Maharaja's palace, and also for Road Cess both at Durbhunga and Mozufferpore	...	30,432
Lime and Kunkur. —This depends on works under construction in the district, and is gathered by the contractor at Sonastipur from the river Gunduck	...	15,604
Iron. —This depends on the local requirements, being imported by several Indigo-concerns, the Road Cess, the Raj, and the Public Works Department	...	1,470
Oil-cake. —This is outward traffic and the increase is satisfactory	...	1,928
Piece-goods. —This traffic is gradually improving and is recovering from the temporary check it received from the want of ready money among the dealers. The season of the Hindoo marriages is at hand, and the requirements will be greater	...	1,120
Potatoes. —This traffic is temporary	...	1,118
Indigo seeds. —This traffic has improved much and the increase is most satisfactory. The reduction of rate was not out of place; almost all the concerns availed themselves of the railway, which had hitherto got their seed by boat through Hajipore	...	2,311
Sundries. —This increase is also steady and very satisfactory	...	1,080
DECREASES.
Chillies. —This is due to the season for the new crop being at hand and the old stock exhausted	...	4,162
Food-grains. —Owing to the abundant harvest everywhere the prices of food-grains have fallen very much, and the markets everywhere are overstocked. This is a great bar to export traffic	...	11,421
Hides and Horns. —This depends upon the local collection, and the decrease is due to the improved health of cattle in the district	...	6,535
Salt. —The traffic in this staple has fallen owing to failure of several native firms and the consequent stoppage to the issue of hundees (cheques). Salt cannot be had on credit, and hence the decrease	...	7,097
Saltpetre. —Previous explanations will suffice to explain this	...	3,763
Seeds other than food-grains. —This traffic fluctuates as necessity arises for import and export	...	3,058
Stoneballast and ware. —This fluctuates according to the requirements of the Road Cess and other Engineering works	...	1,423
Seeds, oil. —The new crops have not been harvested as yet	...	3,627

Report of Fluctuation of Traffic on the Patna and Gya State Railway for the month of February 1881.

The total quantity of goods carried during the month of February 1881 aggregated 1,13,921 maunds as compared with 1,18,560 maunds carried during the corresponding period of 1880, and 1,53,861 maunds carried during the previous month showing an increase of 4,639 maunds in the one case, and 39,940 maunds in the other. Three hundred maunds of railway materials carried during the month of February 1880 have not been taken into account.

Of the several increases and decreases, the following are the prominent ones and worthy of separate explanations:—

INCREASES.

Coal .—This depends entirely on Engineering works requiring bricks, in the burning of which the coal is used	Mds.
Jaggree .—This for the most part consists of outward traffic, and is exported to Bombay and other stations on the Great Indian Peninsula Railway	13,482
Salt .—This is an inward traffic, imported from Howrah, Patna, and other stations for consumption in the interior of the district	19,778
Seeds, oil .—This is chiefly exported to Howrah. The increase is satisfactory, considering the poor demand in outside markets	4,733
Sundries .—This increase is also steady	1,580
	2,384

DECREASES.

Food-grains .—The decrease is due to the abundant crops everywhere and the prices having fallen	24,827
Saltpetre .—Previous remarks will suffice for this	3,098
Stone, stone-ballast and wares .—This depends upon the requirements of the Road Cess and Engineering works	7,721
Sugar .—On account of high prices, transactions in sugar are dull	10,410

[Third Publication.]

NOTIFICATION.

The 3rd March 1881.—The Lieutenant-Governor is pleased, under Section 4 of Act VII (B.C.) of 1873, to direct the substitution of the following rules regulating the transport of labour to the Tea Districts of Assam for the corresponding rules at present in force.

Rule 79.—The master of any vessel intending to apply for a license to carry more than twenty emigrant passengers, shall provide the permanent fittings as prescribed in the rules; and shall thereafter apply in writing to the Superintendent of Emigration at Calcutta, or other officer duly empowered by the local Government, for an inspection of such fittings, and of the legal capacity of the deck space for the accommodation of such passengers.

Rule 80.—The Superintendent or other officer shall thereupon examine the fittings, and after satisfying himself that the requirements of the rules have been complied with, shall grant a certificate of approval specifying the number of emigrant passengers that the vessel may carry.

Rule 81.—The master of any vessel intending to carry labourers as emigrant passengers under his license, shall provide the following :—

- (a) Stores, medicines, medical comforts, and cooking utensils in accordance with the requirements of Schedules B, C, and D.
- (b) A medical officer licensed by the Medical Inspector or other officer so empowered.
- (c) The establishment of attendants as prescribed in Schedule E.

Rule 82.—On arrival at the place of embarkation, the master desiring a license shall make a written application to the Embarkation Agent, or other officer duly empowered by the local Government, and shall be prepared for survey by clearing the whole or such portion of the deck space as may be intended for the accommodation of emigrant passengers; and, if labourers are to be carried, by having the prescribed provisions and other stores arranged conveniently for examination.

Rule 83.—The Embarkation Agent or other officer as aforesaid, on receipt of the application for license, shall, in consultation with the Medical Inspector, hold the survey of the vessel's fittings and available space, and, if labourers are to be carried, of the requisite stores, at which both master and medical officer are to be present. The certificate of approval granted under Rule 80 shall be produced by the master at such survey, and the Embarkation Agent or other officer as aforesaid shall accept the permanent fittings as therein described on satisfying himself that they have not since been altered or damaged; and shall also, in the event of the entire deck space being reserved for emigrant passengers, accept and enter in the license, which he may in his discretion grant to the master, the number such space is stated in the certificate to be capable of accommodating; but, if only a part of such space be reserved, he shall, after ascertaining the number that may be accommodated therein, specify in the license such number only.

Rule 84.—The medical officer of every licensed vessel shall, in conjunction with the master, be responsible for the proper discharge of the duties to be performed by the establishment, and shall, in case of misconduct or neglect of his duties or of the requirements of the rules regulating transport, be liable to dismissal on the requisition of any Medical Inspector.

Rule 87.—After everything has been examined and approved of, the master or manjee, and the doctor or sirdar in charge, shall sign the provision lists; and when the Embarkation Agent is satisfied that all is correct, and that the master of the steamer, or head manjee in charge of the flotilla, has a copy of the Act and Rules, he shall license the vessels.

Rule 90.—Hospital space shall be provided for 5 per cent. of the total number of statute adults to be carried; but such space shall be allotted at double the rate allowed for healthy adults, viz. 20, or 24 superficial feet to each statute adult, according to season, making reasonable allowance for space occupied by medical stores.

Rule 97.—Four four hundred gallon iron water-tanks, each fitted with at least three large taps of simple construction, and capable of being secured against use when desirable and with a padlocked iron cover, besides a canvas over all to exclude dust, &c., shall be conveniently placed and filled, before the arrival of the steamer at the place of embarkation, with the best water available, for the exclusive use of the emigrants. Two of the tanks only shall be in use at the same time, the others being reserved as settling tanks.

Rule 98.—One or two fire-proof cabooses, fitted inside with brick and plaster, to accommodate the full number of boilers according to scale, shall be firmly secured in the after-part of the vessel, and so placed as to prevent risk of contamination from the hospital.

Rule 99.—Latrines with canvas screens in front shall be securely fitted as far aft as possible, and at some distance from the deck space for emigrants, their drinking water, and cooking places, &c.; and in every compartment a metal vessel, secured by a chain, shall be provided for drawing river water for washing purposes.

Rule 100.—There shall be two separate sets of latrines for males and females respectively, placed, if possible, on opposite sides of the deck: and each set shall consist of at least three compartments, for the use of the first 200 statute adults and under on board, and of one additional compartment for every 100 statute adults in excess of 200.

Rule 101.—Every vessel licensed to carry emigrants shall be provided with a covered trough, fitted with at least six large and simple taps placed at such distances apart as to admit of six persons abreast washing their clothes at the same time, and connected with a fixed pump for the constant supply of water therein. Two such troughs shall be provided if the number of emigrants to be carried exceeds 300 statute adults.

Rule 102.—A sufficiently large and well-protected space for bathing in shall be set apart for the use of the emigrants, and shall be fitted with a suitable shower-bath of simple construction and capable of distributing the shower over a large area, and a moveable canvas screen, to be invariably used when women are bathing. A ship's force-pump with hoses complete shall also be provided for the exclusive purpose of supplying water to the shower-bath and to the drinking water-tanks, and shall on no pretext whatever, excepting on an outbreak of fire on board, be otherwise used.

Rule 107.—A suitable compartment, approved by the Medical Inspector, shall be set apart for a dispensary, and bamboos shall be fastened, fore and aft, along the central stanchions near the emigrants' deck space to enable the emigrants to hang up their bundles and blankets for the day.

Rule 122.—Emigrant passengers other than labourers may be accommodated on board the same vessel with labourers and on the same deck, provided that the total number under conveyance does not exceed the maximum number specified in the license.

Rule 150.—All extra food and any change in diet shall be regulated by the medical officer only on his own responsibility.

Rule 151.—A constant supply of good drinking water shall be kept in the tanks. These shall be used alternately, the water in each being allowed to settle, after the addition of alum in the proportion of six grains to the gallon. The water shall be pumped directly into the tanks from the river in mid stream, and clear from all possible risk of pollution from latrines and other sources.

Rule 152.—A register shall be kept by the medical officer of the daily issue of stores which shall be filled in regularly every day and submitted for inspection to the inspecting officers when they visit the vessel at the close of the passage. This register shall be delivered by the medical officer to the Embarkation Agent.

Rule 154.—The topases shall sweep the decks morning and evening, and after every meal; and shall keep them always clean and dry. They shall also keep the latrines and bed-places constantly clean and sprinkled with disinfecting powder or carbolic acid.

Rule 162.—Masters of vessels shall report their arrival at each inspecting station to the senior magisterial officer and to the civil medical officer; omission to do so shall entail prosecution or forfeiture of license for the future.

Rule 165.—At the end of the voyage, after the last official inspection at the place of final disembarkation, the master or medical officer in charge shall forward the way-bill in original to the Embarkation Agent at the last place of embarkation for his remarks, and for transmission to any other Embarkation Agent concerned in the shipment for his remarks and for its ultimate submission to Government through the Superintendent of Emigration at Calcutta.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA—MARINE BRANCH—MILITARY DEPARTMENT

NOTICE TO MARINERS—(No. 5.)

BAY OF BENGAL—BRITISH BURMA.—AKYAB

Beacon on Table-land of Borongo Island.

As a guide to vessels approaching the port of Akyab, and in order to distinguish Table-land from the other hills on Western Borongo, a basket beacon has been erected on the top of the old light-tower.

The tower is painted white, and, in the afternoon, shows up well against the trees in the background. The beacon is eight feet in diameter, is painted black and yellow in perpendicular stripes, and, in clear weather, can be seen above the trees from a distance of nearly 10 miles.

By direction of the Government of India.

A. DUNDAS TAYLOR, Comdr. (late I.N.),
Superintendent, Marine Survey of India.

MARINE SURVEY DEPARTMENT, CALCUTTA, 24th February 1881.

Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

[First Publication.]

NOTIFICATION.

The 28th March 1881.—With the sanction of the Governor-General in Council, the Port of False Point, in the district of Cuttack, was declared, by the Notification of the 14th of September 1875, published in the Calcutta Gazette of the 15th September 1875, to be subject to Act XII of 1875 (The Indian Ports Act, 1875).

BOUNDARIES.

Under section 6 of that Act, the Lieutenant-Governor is now pleased, with the sanction of the Governor-General in Council, to declare that the limits of the Port of False Point are as follow :—

On the north.—A line drawn from Temple Tree through and beyond the fairway buoy to meet the eastern limit.

On the south.—A line drawn from Prince Arthur Beacon through Plowden's Beacon to Black Point.

On the east.—A line drawn from Prince Arthur Beacon through and beyond the Tripod Beacon to meet the north limit.

On the west.—The right bank of the Jumbho river as far northward as the canal lock, and thence in a line to Temple Tree, including the river and creek banks to within 50 yards above high-water mark.

LEVY OF PORT DUES.

With the sanction of the Governor-General in Council, it is further declared, under section 45 of the Act—

First.—That a port due, at a rate not exceeding four annas per ton, shall be charged on every sea-going vessel of the burden of 20 tons and upwards which shall enter False Point Port. But if such vessel does not discharge or take in cargo or passengers, the port due shall be chargeable at a rate equal to one-half the ordinary rate.

Second.—That the port due chargeable on dhonis and country vessels employed in the coasting trade shall be at a rate not exceeding one-half the rate for other vessels.

Third.—That in the case of sea-going vessels, the due shall be leviable whenever a vessel enters the port, and that in the case of dhonis and country vessels employed in the coasting trade, the due shall be chargeable once in sixty days. But in the case of the British Indian Steam Navigation Company's weekly mail steamers plying between Calcutta and Bombay, half dues will be charged on the outward and half dues on the inward voyage. Only one charge will be made on these steamers for entry into all or any of the Cuttack group of ports on the same outward or inward voyage.

Fourth.—That no port due shall be charged on vessels compelled by stress of weather to re-enter the port.

Fifth.—That the present rate of port due shall be fixed at two annas per ton for sea-going vessels of the burden of 20 tons and upwards, and at three annas per 100 maunds for dhonis and country vessels employed in the coasting trade.

The Lieutenant-Governor is also pleased, under section 7 of the Act, to make the following

PORT RULES FOR THE PORT OF FALSE POINT.

1. All vessels requiring to discharge ballast must apply to the Port Officer, who will give them instructions as to the place where it may be discharged.

2. Ballast, rubbish, or engine-room ashes shall not be thrown overboard within the limits of the port.

3. All applications for the use of the harbour lighters to discharge ballast, or for any other purpose, should be made to the Port Officer or his assistant, and all costs thereby entailed shall be chargeable to the applicant.

4. All vessels in port shall anchor in a line with jibbooms rigged in, so as to leave a channel open for vessels entering or going out.

5. All vessels anchored in the port shall exhibit between sunset and sunrise, where it can best be seen, but at a height not exceeding twenty feet above the hull of the vessel, a white light in a globular lantern of eight inches in diameter, and so constructed as to show a clear, uniform, and unbroken light, visible all round the horizon, and at a distance of at least one mile.

6. All coasting vessels, cargo-boats, bhurs, and badgerows, when under weigh after dark within the limits of the port, shall carry a white light in a lantern in the forepart of the vessel where it can be distinctly seen.

7. All commanders of vessels lying at the port, whether wind-bound through stress of weather, or loading or discharging cargo, shall be subject to the orders of the Port Officer or his assistant as to taking up berths or anchorage, and in all matters of harbour discipline.

8. All vessels lying at the port shall be moored with two anchors, and shall remove any anchor or spar or other substance projecting from their sides, when required to do so by the Port Officer.

9. Water can be supplied from the Government wells to ships lying at the port. For the purpose of keeping the pump in order and the wells clean, a charge of Re. 1-8 for each ship, and Re. 1 for each dhoni, taking water from the wells where a pump is used to raise the water, shall be made once during each visit to the port.

10. No passenger or other boat, and no catamaran, shall ply for hire within the limits of the port unless licensed so to do by the Port Officer. The Port Officer, before granting any such license, shall satisfy himself that the boat is safe, and the license shall in all cases specify the minimum number of the crew to be carried, and the maximum number of passengers and amount of baggage or goods to be allowed on each boat. The license shall be in force for one year from date, and the number of the license shall be painted in a conspicuous manner on the bow of each boat. Nothing in this rule shall be held to apply to cargo-boats licensed in accordance with any rules passed under the Customs Act.

A. MACKENZIE,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

NOTIFICATION.

The 28th March 1881.—With the sanction of the Governor-General in Council, Act XII of 1875 (The Indian Ports Act, 1875), was extended to the Port of Pooree, in the district of Pooree, in the province of Orissa, by the Notification of the 6th December 1875, published in the Calcutta Gazette of the 8th December 1875.

BOUNDARIES.

The boundaries of the port, as fixed by that Notification, are as follow:—

To the north-east.—A pillar erected between the building known as the Chuker Tirth and the Bay of Bengal

To the south-west.—A pillar erected 100 yards north of the temple known as Swergadwar.

To the south.—A line drawn parallel to the coast between the said pillars, so as to include the Bay of Bengal within ten fathoms of water.

The limits of the port include so much of the shore between the two said pillars as are within 50 yards of high-water mark at spring tides.

LEVY OF PORT DUES.

With the sanction of the Governor-General in Council, it was further declared under section 45 of the Act—

1. That a port due at a rate not exceeding four annas per ton shall be charged on every sea-going vessel of the burden of 20 tons and upwards which shall enter Pooree port.

2. That the port due chargeable on dhonis and country vessels employed in the coasting trade shall be at a rate not exceeding one-half the rate of other vessels.

3. That in the case of sea-going vessels, the due shall be leviable whenever a vessel enters the port, and that in the case of dhonis and country vessels employed in the coasting trade, the due shall be chargeable once in sixty days.

4. That no port dues shall be charged on vessels compelled by stress of weather to re-enter the port.

5. That the present rate of port dues shall be fixed at two annas per ton for sea-going vessels of the burden of 20 tons and upwards, and at three annas per 100 maunds for dhonis and country vessels employed in the coasting trade.

The Lieutenant Governor is now pleased, under section 7 of the Act, to make the following

PORT RULES FOR THE PORT OF POOREE.

1. All vessels anchored in the port shall exhibit between sunset and sunrise, where it can best be seen, but at a height not exceeding 20 feet above the hull of the vessel, a white light in a globular lantern of eight inches in diameter, and so constructed as to show a clear, uniform, and unbroken light, visible all round the horizon and at a distance of at least one mile.

2. All coasting vessels, cargo-boats, bhurs, and budgerows, when under weigh after dark within the limits of the port, shall carry a white light in a lantern in the forepart of the vessel where it can be distinctly seen.

3. No ballast of any kind shall be thrown overboard within the limits of the port, or in less than eleven fathoms of water.

4. No passenger or other boat, and no catamaran, shall ply for hire within the limits of the port unless licensed so to do by the Port Officer. The Port Officer, before granting any such license, shall satisfy himself that the boat is safe, and the license shall in all cases specify the minimum number of the crew to be carried, and the maximum number of passengers and amount of baggage or goods to be allowed on each boat. The license shall be in force for one year from date, and the number of the license shall be painted in a conspicuous manner on the bow of each boat. Nothing in this rule shall be held to apply to cargo-boats licensed in accordance with any rules passed under the Customs Act.

All parts of the river Laichhunpore between the said limits and below high-water mark at spring tides are subject to the said Act.

PORT DUES.

By a Notification of the 6th December 1875, it was declared that a port due should be levied in the ports of Subarnarekha, Chanua, Sartha, Balasore, Churaman, and Laichhunpore at a uniform rate of six annas per hundred maunds upon every sea-going vessel of the burthen of three hundred maunds and upwards which should enter the said ports.

The following modification of this rule has since been sanctioned by the Lieutenant-Governor in orders No. 1527, dated the 27th May 1876 :—

In the case of coasting steamers visiting the ports of Dhamra, Chandbally, and the Balasore river, port dues shall not be levied on the same vessel oftener than once in thirty days.

The Lieutenant-Governor is now pleased, under section 7 of the Act, to make the following

PORT RULES FOR THE PORTS OF SUBARNAREKHA, CHANUA, SARTHA, BALASORE, CHURAMAN, AND LAICHHUNPORE.

1. All vessels entering any of these ports shall anchor in a line, and shall moor in such a position as the Port Officer may direct, so as to leave a passage open for vessels passing in or out, and no vessel shall be removed from such position without the Port Officer's permission.

2. No master of any steamer or sailing vessel shall attempt to move his vessel in port until he has made both anchors ready for immediate use, with a clear range of 20 fathoms for each cable.

3. All masters of vessels lying in port shall strike their top-gallant masts, yards, and any other portion of their vessels' gear, as a precaution against bad weather, when requested to do so by the Port Officer.

4. All vessels anchored in port shall exhibit between sunset and sunrise, where it can best be seen, but at a height not exceeding twenty feet above the hull of the vessel, a white light in a globular lantern of eight inches in diameter, and so constructed as to show a clear, uniform, and unbroken light, visible all round the horizon, and at a distance of at least one mile.

5. All coasting vessels, cargo-boats, bhurs, and budgerows, when under weigh after dark within the limits of the port, shall carry a white light in a lantern in the forepart of the vessel where it can be distinctly seen.

6. No passenger or other boat, and no catamaran, shall ply for hire within the limits of the port unless licensed so to do by the Port Officer. The Port Officer, before granting any such license, shall satisfy himself that the boat is safe, and the license shall in all cases specify the minimum number of the crew to be carried, and the maximum number of passengers and amount of baggage or goods to be allowed on each boat. The license shall be in force for one year from date, and the number of the license shall be painted in a conspicuous manner on the bow of each boat. Nothing in this rule shall be held to apply to cargo-boats licensed in accordance with any rules passed under the Customs Act.

NOTIFICATION.

The 28th March 1881 — In supersession of previous notifications defining the limits of the Port of Dhamra (Chandbally), on the Orissa Coast, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased, with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council, to alter the limits of the said port, and to declare, under section 6 of Act XII of 1875 (The Indian Ports Act, 1875), the extent of such limits to be as follows :—

The limits of the port, from the mouth of the Dhamra westward, include the following rivers and their banks within fifty yards of high-water mark at ordinary spring tides: the Dhamra; the Brahminee as far as its junction with the Chota Brahminee at Pattamundai; the Kursoca to a distance of one mile beyond A1; the Byturnee as far as a creek named Kairajor beyond Mohurigaon; and the Metai as far as the Government ferry at Baliapal. Eastward of the mouth of the Dhamra the boundaries of the port are defined by: (a) a line drawn from the bank, opposite the Chandpal tree, on the north side of the river, through the Kanaka buoy, to a depth of seven fathoms; (b) a line drawn from the palm tree on the south side of the river (about two miles east-by-south of the east end of Kalibang Island) through Shorts' Tripod Beacon, to a depth of seven fathoms; and (c) a line drawn through the soundings of seven fathoms to join lines (a) and (b).

With the sanction of the Governor-General of India in Council, it is hereby declared that the Port of Dhamra (Chandbally), as now defined, is subject to the provisions of section 38 of Act XII of 1875.

PORT DUES.

By a notification of the 6th December 1875, it was declared that a port due should be levied in the Port of Dhamra at a uniform rate of six annas per hundred maunds upon every sea-going vessel of the burden of three hundred maunds and upwards which should enter the said port.

The following modification of this rule has since been sanctioned by the Lieutenant-Governor in orders No. 1527, dated the 27th May 1876 :—

In the case of coasting steamers visiting the Port of Dhamra, port dues shall not be levied on the same vessel oftener than once in thirty days.

The Lieutenant-Governor is now pleased, under section 7 of the Act, to make the following

PORT RULES FOR THE PORT OF DHAMRA (CHANDBALLY).

1. All vessels entering the port shall anchor in a line, and shall moor in such a position as the Port Officer may direct, so as to leave a passage open for vessels passing in or out, and no vessel shall be removed from such position without the Port Officer's permission.

2. No master of any steamer or sailing vessel shall attempt to move his vessel in port until he has made both anchors ready for immediate use, with a clear range of 20 fathoms for each cable.

3. All masters of vessels lying in port shall strike their top-gallant masts, yards, and any other portion of their vessels' gear, as a precaution against bad weather, when requested to do so by the Port Officer.

4. All vessels anchored in the port shall exhibit between sunset and sunrise, where it can best be seen, but at a height not exceeding 20 feet above the hull of the vessel, a white light in a globular lantern of eight inches in diameter, and so constructed as to show a clear, uniform, and unbroken light, visible all round the horizon, and at a distance of at least one mile.

5. All coasting vessels, cargo-boats, bhurs, and budgerows, when under weigh after dark within the limits of the port, shall carry a white light in a lantern in the forepart of the vessel where it can be distinctly seen.

6. Masters of vessels entering the river should have a stream anchor over the stern with a good stout hawser attached, for the purpose of anchoring the vessel by the stern if there should not be swinging room.

7. Masters of vessels who may have arrived off Dhamra without being able to procure a pilot shall anchor abreast the Dhamra Custom House in mid-channel, and shall there await a pilot, communicating for that purpose, if necessary, with the Port Officer at Chandbally.

8. Masters of sailing vessels, on taking on board a native pilot, shall not give up the entire command, but, while the pilot is looking after the steering, shall attend to the trimming and setting of their sails, and shall have the crew properly stationed, and everything in good working order.

9. The Port Officer shall himself personally pilot out to sea all vessels leaving the port with a draught exceeding 15 feet, unless prevented by physical incapacity, and no master of a vessel drawing more than 15 feet shall place his vessel in charge of a native pilot without first applying to the Port Officer.

10. No passenger or other boat, and no catamaran, shall ply for hire within the limits of the port unless licensed so to do by the Port Officer. The Port Officer, before granting any such license, shall satisfy himself that the boat is safe, and the license shall in all cases specify the minimum number of the crew to be carried, and the maximum number of passengers and amount of baggage or goods to be allowed on each boat. The license shall be in force for one year from date, and the number of the license shall be painted in a conspicuous manner on the bow of each boat. Nothing in this rule shall be held to apply to cargo-boats licensed in accordance with any rules passed under the Customs Act.
